I am calling out with no response
You say You're always there but it feels You're not
I am searching but it's so dark
I need your hand to hold, to pull me back

From where I have run
Lord, You're still the One

I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Bring me home to You

Verse 2

You are steady You are strong
You are confident even when I'm not You've always been and You always will be the anchor of my heart, though I'm sinking

You will hold on to me
You're all I need
