Grand Master's Message

J. Michael Atchley

I was very honored and proud to be your Grand Master this past year. You are the Grand Lodge – not the officers. Without you working in the quarries every day, Masonry would not exist. Thank you – all of you – for your work “Strengthening Masonry, Brother by Brother, Lodge by Lodge”. Let us all begin again to get to know one another. After all we call each other Brother, but are we friends?

If you missed the Leadership Conference in Casa Grande, you missed a great event. Forty percent of our 60 lodges were represented. This was the largest number of lodges ever to attend. It was a perfect event to renew all friendships and make new ones, to experience fellowship and Brotherhood first hand.

As the year is winding down, I look back to see what we have accomplished. The Grand Lecturer was able to get the Lodge of Instruction program off the ground and under his leadership the Ritual Review Committee revisited the Spanish ritual word-by-word and will be presenting a new and improved Spanish ritual for us to vote on at our upcoming Grand Communication. A special thanks to his entire committee for a job well done.

Our Technology Committee, led by Brother Eric Hannah, PM, produced a new Grand Lodge “user friendly” web page, Face book page and a Twitter account. All of these electronic media accounts are updated daily. A great accomplishment! To the Technology Committee – we are indebted to each of you. Keep up the good work.

To WB Phillip Shulsky who took over the job of Grand Editor, you have done a much better job than I had ever hoped for. Thank You!

As with any new program, without support they will never be successful. Every year something new comes out and if it works fine, if not, do not give up. Come up with ideas to make the program better. If it does work, find something which will.

Become the future of Masonry in Arizona – it is in all of our hands. Let's go to work!

Deputy Grand Master's Message

RWB Bob Bradfield

As I look forward to the incoming years, my goals are many. My motto is “Brothers Helping Brothers, Lodges Helping Other Lodges”. We need to see in our lodge brothers helping other brothers succeed and our lodges extending help to others where it is needed without question.

Communication is an important part of making our Lodges successful. We need communication with our Grand Lodge Officers, our Lodge Officers, and between Lodges and their members. Communication is the first step to make Masonry successful.

I hope the Education and Leadership Programs presented to the members throughout this Grand Lodge will continue. To do this we need to encourage our members to take the time to attend these events, when planned for their benefit.

During the next year, I will always be available for any member of this state to contact. I would hope that any member who has a question would not hesitate to call or email. When we open up communication, we will continue to grow in our state.

I am looking forward to seeing all the members at the Grand Communication this June in Tucson.

Calling All Masonic Ladies!

By Rachel Hannah & Andrea Wimmer

George Bernard Shaw said, “The single biggest problem in communication is the illusion that it has taken place.” In our time as Masonic wives, we have often found that the train of communication from the event planner, to the Lodge, to our husbands, and eventually, to us, is quite frequently derailed (sometimes multiple times...). We repeatedly find ourselves begging for a shred of information at the last minute to figure out when to be somewhere, what to bring, what to wear, or just generally - what to expect. Since we often are as busy as our men (if not busier) and don’t always have the time to chase them around to find out details, we are implementing a social media campaign for us to eliminate the middlemen and streamline everyone’s communication!

Our efforts have begun with a Facebook group where Masonic ladies (wives, fiancés, girlfriends, life partners, or other “Masonic Cheerleaders”) can communicate directly with one another. The group belongs to all Masonic ladies in Arizona who desire a place to communicate about Masonic happenings that pertain to us. It is not limited to a particular lodge, town, county, or organization. The only requirement is that you have to be a Mason or the significant other of a Mason to join (no - we are not precluding the guys from joining the group - in fact - we encourage it so they can spread the word to their ladies about it).

Masonic Ladies of Arizona provides a space to discuss upcoming events including planned programs, hospitality rooms, and what to pack. By bringing information straight to you, the page will provide timely and comprehensive information about the goings on around Arizona in which you are welcome to take part. The page is community run - the administrators will do their best to keep all of the information up to date but we, like the rest of you, depend on the Mason in our life for up to date information. So - if you know of a particular event that is coming up, or have other information that might be helpful for the rest of us to have - please do not hesitate to join the conversation and post updates directly to the group!

Joining is easy:

- While logged in to Facebook, search “Masonic Ladies of Arizona”.
- Go to the group page and click the link to “join group”.
- An administrator will approve your request, and you are ready to join the conversation!

We look forward to getting to know all of you a little bit better as we strengthen the Fraternity and unify the entire Masonic family by ensuring communication arrives at its intended destination!

Grand Editor's Message

WB Phillip Shulsky

There are few things that are more important to me than communication. In my experiences as a Soldier, a civilian, and as a Mason lack of communication has been the primary cause of problems. This is exacerbated in our case by the state wide distance between Brothers and Lodges.

When I joined Huachuca Lodge 53, my first contribution was to create a Lodge newsletter. Since that time, the Huachuca 53 Newsletter has been adopted by others and I initiated a newsletter for King Solomon 5. I talk the talk and walk the walk when it comes to communication. It was for this reason that I accepted the responsibilities of Grand Editor for Arizona Masonry. A position I am grateful to have had the opportunity to fill!

I am grateful for the numerous positive comments made by members of Arizona Lodges and for the contributions by Grand Lodge Officers, Masons, and our youth organizations. Our publication needed a purpose, and I think we are getting there.

What is now needed are contributions from Lodge level brothers. Arizona Masonry is YOUR newsletter. I hope that many of you will contribute articles to whomever the next Grand Master appoints as the Grand Editor. Please submit articles to azglmasonry@gmail.com. Articles should be in Microsoft Word format and not more than 800 words in length. Consider adding an image of yourself, or your event with your submission. Shorter articles are always welcome, as I often have small bits of space that need filled.

Again, Arizona Masonry is a State wide communication mode and belongs to you – Use it!

Meet Our Grand Lodge Attorney!

Our Arizona Grand Lodge Attorney, William Wilkinson, Esq., from Tucson Lodge No. 4, received the highest High Twelve International honor possible, the High Twelve International President's All Star Award in 2015 and "For Exemplifying Our Motto: In Service to Freemasonry" from the High Twelve International President at the 95th Annual Mid-Year Conference in New Orleans on Jan. 26, 2016, for his work as their High Twelve International General Counsel.

Back to Basics

By WB Craig Gross,
Junior Grand Warden Pro Tem

In today's fast paced society I often find myself yearning for those "Good Ole Days" when everything seemed simpler and life was easy and slower paced. Today it seems like things are moving so quickly that we miss out on the real things in life. So much is expected of us that we lose track of the important things and we tend to want to modify everything to fit our hectic lifestyles. Everything is so fast paced; transportation, communication, education, and relationships. But there has always been one constant thing in my life and that is Freemasonry. Something that I can lean on that I know has been around since "time immemorial" and still has the same great concepts and ideas of my forefathers that remains true and solid and will still be here long after I am gone. That is a comforting thought that helps me get through each day of my hectic life.

I really am just a regular guy who believes in the basic concepts of God, My Country and My Fellow Man. Masonry has helped me be a better man, a father, a husband and a friend. There have been many times in my life where I have reached a fork in the road and not been sure which path to travel, but the tenants of Freemasonry have always helped me make that right choice. It is the Basics of Freemasonry that help us through our lives and keep us from teetering on that precipice of darkness that accosts all men.

As a proud Mason in the Grand Lodge of Arizona and a Grand Lodge Officer, I value these principles tremendously and say to you that Freemasonry is needed more today than in may have ever been in the history of our World. We need to exam what has made Freemasonry the greatest fraternal organization that the world has ever seen. It begins on the concepts of Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth; on Wisdom, Strength and Beauty; and on a steadfast belief in our Supreme Being, Ourselves and our Fellow Man. A common definition of Freemasonry is "a beautiful system of morality, veiled in allegory, and illustrated by symbols". But I submit to you that this definition is not the correct one for our Craft. This definition only explains how we teach Freemasonry, not how we live it. To me, a better definition is "Freemasonry is an organized society of men symbolically applying the principles of operative masonry and architecture to the science and art of character building". This definition leads one to understand that the true purpose of Freemasonry is to WORK.

To be a true Freemason we need to work every day at teaching the concepts of the craft, to ourselves and to others, and to do so we need to start with the basics.

We teach these basics by a firm belief in the laws, rules and regulations of our Fraternity. These are taught through our Masonic Code, our ritual and our everyday actions. The ritual is a tried and true document that gives the old and new Mason a reason and a purpose for being a Mason. We learn from those that come before us and are taught that the ritual is as important today as it has been from the beginning. We should all strive to learn the ritual and to portray it positively and correctly to others in the best possible light. We are here to learn and to utilize the teachings in the ritual in our everyday lives, but we cannot teach it to others if we cannot express it correctly ourselves. Etiquette is another important part of Freemasonry. It is part of the ritual and should be exercised at all times, both inside and outside the Lodge. Masonic etiquette is something that we all need to work on at all times in our lives. Giving the proper signs when appropriate, addressing our Brothers by the proper titles, acting like Brothers and Gentlemen when we are in Lodge and giving the proper respect to those in positions of authority and to all others. We are all Brothers on the level and we should treat everyone with the respect that we ourselves expect to be given.

We need to get back to the basics of being a Freemason and return to those roots. They have sustained the Craft for millenniums and will do so for many more to come. We should be asking ourselves on a daily basis: "What can I do to improve myself in Masonry?" and "What can I do to help improve the Craft? The basics of the craft will never fail you and are as relevant to us today as they were in the beginning. If you take the time to learn the basics and practice them on a daily basis, you will never fail as a Man and a Mason. Look well to yourselves my brothers and govern yourselves accordingly. Let us Set the Craft to Work!

Grand Lecturer's Message

WB John Nichols

I cannot believe how fast this year has gone by. With so much already achieved and yet so much more to do, I can only hope that this year has been as fulfilling for you as it has been for me.

This year the Office of the Grand Lecturer worked diligently on improving the Lodge of Instruction programs to which I am happy to say that there were ten conducted in total around the state; which is more than double from the previous year. More so, we have also been developing an administrative class in the form of an Operations Management program that focuses on the business of the Lodge which has proven to be a valuable counterpart to the programs dedicated to ritual improvement. I would like to thank all of the Lodges that hosted these events throughout the Masonic year. We learned just as much from you as you did from us and it was a clear illustration that we learn best together; by sharing ideas, having discussions and revealing new opportunities. The learning process is a team effort and I sincerely appreciate the willingness to participate and eagerness to contribute from all those that attended these programs.

When I was appointed Grand Lecturer I was charged with two important tasks: continue to evolve the Lodge of Instruction program and review the Spanish Ritual. I am very proud to say that with the help of my dedicated Deputy Grand Lecturers and the Spanish Ritual Review Committee, we have done just that. Without the tireless effort of the Deputy Grand Lecturers and the Spanish Ritual Review Committee, these two tasks would have fractured, crumbled and ultimately been neglected into oblivion. I cannot commend these Brothers enough for their hard work and selflessness when it came to undertaking these projects. Every success was unquestionably theirs and every shortcoming was unequivocally mine. Their admirable work ethic was a striking inspiration to me and it was an honor and privilege to work with each of them.

I would like to thank Most Worshipful Brother J. Michael Atchley for giving me the opportunity to serve this Grand Lodge as its Grand Lecturer. When I was appointed I knew full well the shoes that I had to fill and the precedent set by our former Grand Lecturers, most especially

Most Worshipful Brother Mike Manning, who truly set a standard for me to work by when it came to ritual performance and proficiency. I only hope that I performed my duties to meet expectation and that we have lit a gentle fire in the hearts of the Brethren in Arizona to realize the importance of our ritual and to continually work towards its excellence in execution.

I have never been so honored and humbled than I was when asked to serve this jurisdiction as its Grand Lecturer. It was a responsibility I did not take lightly and one that I learned a lot from. It will be an experience that I wish cherish for the rest of my life and for that I will always be indebted to those who made this year such a positive impact on the Craft. The future of this jurisdiction is bright indeed and I look forward to our progress in the years to come.

Thank you and safe travels, Brethren.

Member Retention: Keeping Them Coming Instead of Going

By WB Todd E. Creason, Past Master, Ogden Lodge No. 754 (IL)

So let's say I own a business that sells office supplies, and I begin losing customers. I would immediately realize there's a problem. Something changed and I need to figure out what that is. If I'm a smart business owner, I'm not going to spend a bunch of money in advertising to try to attract new customers until I figure out why I can't hang onto my old customers. Right? It's probably one of two things — I'm doing something wrong, or somebody else is doing something better than I am. So why do Masonic Lodges have such a difficult time understanding that?

I was at a meeting a couple weeks ago, and there was a discussion about membership retention. Some of the comments went as follows: Our old members aren't active. We get new members, and they come for a few meetings and then we never see them again. The Shrine and the Scottish Rite are poaching our members.

I didn't say it, but it's obvious what the problem is. It's the Lodge! If your old members aren't coming, it's because they aren't getting anything out of it — or at least enough to keep them coming back. Same with your new members. And if appendant bodies are able to get your members involved in their organization, it's because they are getting something there they aren't getting from the Lodge.

And how do lodges typically counter this problem with retention. In my opinion — in the wrong way. They work to recruit MORE MEMBERS without ever considering why they can't keep the members they already have — and the cycle repeats.

If you want your Lodge to thrive, there's no reason to add one single new member until you figure out why you can't keep the ones you have. Doesn't that make sense? Take a break. Talk about it. Talk to a few of those guys that aren't coming anymore. Look at your meetings — are they boring? Do your active members look forward to the meetings or do they suffer through them? Do you have education at your meetings or invite speakers to come and talk? Do you have social events at your Lodge?

There are all kinds of things you can do to identify the problem your Lodge is having once you recognize the fact that maybe it's not your members, or those pesky appendant bodies — it might just be your Lodge. I think if you take the time to look into the issue, you're going to find that the problem isn't identifying the problems; it's in finding amongst your membership a willingness to change.

Talk about it. Come up with a plan. Start small. Try a few things. See what works, and what doesn't work. And share those successes with other Lodges — as often as this topic comes up, you're not alone.

(Requires a 2/3 majority to approve)

SYNOPSIS: The proponent of this Resolution seeks to provide a $1.00 per Member Donation for the support of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial.

WHEREAS, more than 100 years ago, Masons from throughout the United States had a vision to build a magnificent, durable memorial to forever honor the memory and legacy of the Father of our Country, Brother George Washington; and

WHEREAS, the Memorial was constructed in the 1920's with strong support and leadership from the Grand Lodge of Arizona; and

WHEREAS, the Memorial has become an important destination for Masons as well as the general public; and

WHEREAS, the Memorial operates with the financial support of American Masons whose unified support perpetuates this symbol of veneration for our first and greatest president; and

WHEREAS, approximately half of the Grand Lodges in the United States have adopted resolutions to provide annual contributions to the Memorial of at least $1.00 per year per Mason, many are in addition to candidate contributions; and

WHEREAS, the Masons of Arizona are proud of our past support and leadership of the Memorial and wish to help ensure its future.

RESOLVED: That §7-1.1.1 of the Constitution be amended as follows (additions in bold type).

§7-1.1.1 Contribution Based on Master Mason Membership (Per Capita). Effective with the close of the 2011 Annual Communication, for each Master Mason borne on its roll at the date of its annual report as either a regular member or as a contributing member, an amount to be stated in the most recently adopted budget, rounded up to the nearest whole dollar, payable on January 1 of the following year. ## CARRYOVER RESOLUTION 2015-04

(Requires a 2/3 majority to approve)

Synopsis: No Mason should be suspended or expelled without an opportunity to defend himself against the offense(s) with which he is charged. Some of you were probably surprised last year (2014) to find that our Statutes contain a provision which requires automatic expulsion in the case of failure to appear in response to a summons. This Resolution proposes to amend that provision to make it clear that no suspension or expulsion may be ordered except as a result of a Masonic trial.

RESOLVED: That the definition of Summons in Section 1-101 of the Statutes be amended as follows (additions in bold type, deletions in strikethrough).

Summons - A Summons is an imperative order, issued by the Master or by other competent authority, as hereinbefore provided, to appear at such time and place as may therein be designated. The obligation to obey it is absolute and the penalty for disobedience shall be expulsion, unless it shall be shown that such disobedience was unavoidable or was occasioned by some pressing necessity. Disobedience of a summons may be punished only by trial of the offender as provided by the Constitution and the Statutes. A summons for any purpose other than a trial may be served by mail. A Brother receiving a summons has no right to question its legality or to refuse to obey it.
