2017-2018 Grand Lodge Mission Statement, Values, Goals & Objectives

Every well-run lodge has or should have a written Mission and Vision Statement as well as a written set of Goals and Objectives for the current Masonic year to serve as a guide of what is expected to be accomplished and in what direction the lodge wants to move. To that effect, the Grand Line Officers have been working to establish a Mission and Vision Statement and identifying Goals and Objectives for the current Masonic year as a guide for their efforts.

Mission Statement

Freemasonry is a voluntary organization promoting a way of life that binds men together in a worldwide brotherhood. It transcends all religious, ethnic, cultural, social and educational differences in order to promote positive changes in Arizona Freemasonry and the world. We strive to make good men better men.

Vision Statement

To be a relevant and well-respected organization that makes a difference, thereby improving the world for future Masonic generations.

A Message from the Grand Lecturer

We are pleased to announce that Arizona Grand Lodge is looking for the best Chaplain!

Yes, we are having a ritual competition for 2018, for a single position, namely that of Chaplain. Regional competition will be held at various locations around the state in January through March, 2018. As the information becomes available, the date and location will be posted. Rules will be announced in the near future, but I can tell you now that the competitors will be called upon to give some of the following parts at the regional competition:

- Opening prayer
- First degree prayer at center of lodge
- First and second degrees circumambulation scriptures
- First degree scripture immediately following obligation
- Third degree graveside prayer
- Closing prayer

The top two winners will be asked to be present on Saturday, March 24, 2018 at the Holiday Inn in Casa Grande, Arizona. Specific time will be announced at a later date, but will either be in the morning (around 10:00 a.m.) or in the early afternoon (around 1:30p.m.). In addition to the foregoing material, the contestants may also be asked to perform the following: • Alternate opening prayer • Third degree circumambulation scripture • Third degree second section altar prayer • Master's closing prayer while lodge on the level

So, if you're interested, please review these parts and plan to come to your local competition.

We earlier considered limiting the competition to a certain number of competitors per lodge, but we have since decided (so currently effective) that any number of members from a lodge may compete.

A Message from the Grand Lecturer

We are pleased to announce that Arizona Grand Lodge is looking for the best Chaplain!

Basic rules: The competition is open to Arizona master masons in good standing. Therefore, the competition is open not only to current and former appointed Chaplains, but anyone else who is an Arizona master mason in good standing, with the following exceptions (these people can't compete):

- Grand Lodge line officers
- District Deputy Grand Masters (DDGM)
- District Deputy Grand Lecturers (DDGL)
- Judges cannot compete if they are judging in their own district (but can compete if they are only judging in other districts)
- Members with plural membership can only compete in one district. We leave it to the competitors to be honest with this requirement.
- The Grand Lecturer

Other rules:

- You MUST have your current dues card with you in order to compete.
- Competitors will be graded on how close they deliver to the ritual, and on presentation, but presentation will not include walking around or knocks of the gavel (no points will be awarded for walking around the lodge while delivering a part). The statewide winner will be announced during the Grand Lodge communication. Again, the specific dates are still being determined, so check with the Grand Lodge website or check with the Deputy Grand Lecturer for your district for the date, time and location of your competition. Thanks for your interest, and I look forward to seeing you at the competition.

New Museum at the Grand Lodge Offices

Brethren,

A quick reminder of MWGM Scott Thomas' communication of the formation of the AZ Grand Lodge Museum and the request for each Lodge to contribute an item from their archives for display. We would like to have the Museum ready for public viewing by the Christmas Party so lets get those items in!

We are working with a space limitation, so please contact me before your submission.

I look forward to working with each Lodge to find an archive that displays their individual character or history.

Traveling as a Mason

As a Junior Warden in my home Lodge, I can't help but sit here and chuckle while I write this, because I am physically in the South right now visiting family in Athens, Georgia. I have been out here for almost a month now and have had the opportunity to visit a couple local lodges. I have traveled to Statham Lodge No. 634 and Rockwell Lodge No. 191. At Statham Lodge, I had the privilege of seeing two brothers raised to the Sublime Degree of Master Mason. They even put me to work during the degree. First, I want to let you all know that I have been to several MM Degrees in a few different states, from the Southwest to the Northeast and now the South. With that being said, while the core elements remain the same among the degree work, it is always interesting to see the differences from lodge to lodge. I also must say, if you are ever out in the Georgia area, try and make it to a MM Degree. It was very interesting and entertaining. I have never seen anything like it and I would recommend it to any brother.

Next stop along my travels was Rockwell Lodge, where I had the honor of meeting and sitting in lodge with the Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons in Georgia. He was traveling as well, making his official visit to Rockwell that night. During the meeting, he had a few different stories to share with us. There was one, in particular, that stuck with me. He talked to us about a lodge that was having trouble with membership and was in danger of going dark. So, he began attending the lodge, called on other brothers to attend lodge, brought in new ideas to increase membership and is now the current Master of the lodge, as well as being the MWGM of Georgia. The point made by this story, is that it is our duty as Masons to help our fellow brothers and lodges. We all know of lodges that may not be doing well or brothers that just don't come to lodge anymore

It's up to us to do what we can to reach out to these brothers and invite them back to lodge. It's up to us to visit nearby lodges, especially those that need assistance, and help however possible. Lastly, while traveling and working in a foreign jurisdiction, I met and spoke with brothers ranging from the most recently initiated EA to a 65-year mason. I visited with the very newest MM in Georgia to the MWGM of Georgia. So, if I had one piece of advice to offer, it would be: Travel, Travel, Travel. It is amazing the caliber of brothers we have all over the place. I also find it amazing that any other person traveling outside of our mystic circle, might stop by one of these lodges and see nothing but a bunch of strangers. Yet, I show up and find nothing but brothers and am greeted like a friend they have known their whole lives. This fraternity of ours is truly awe inspiring and I thank the GAOTU every day for placing it on my path through life.

Best wishes on your travels and I hope to see you all in lodge soon.

Looking Back... MWB Oscar Lyon

EVER HEAR that old saying, “those who turn dirt with the tallest shovels are destined for great reward”?

Probably not, because it's totally made up. However, if the adage actually were authentic, it might help explain this photo op from 1977. As it stands, we're not entirely sure why the fire department bucket truck and long-handled shovels were necessary for a simple groundbreaking ceremony. The props make for a good picture, though. What we do know is that the photo was printed, courtesy of the Mesa Tribune, in the November 1977 issue of Newsbeat, ADOT's employee newsletter from that time. According to Newsbeat, ground was being broken on a new $10.6 million, 2.5-mile stretch of the Superstition Freeway in Mesa. Newsbeat also tells us that Oscar T. Lyon, Jr., assistant director of ADOT's Highways Division, is the person shown third from left inside the bucket on Mesa Fire Department's truck, and that he is joined by officials from the city of Mesa and M.M. Sundt Construction Company. Newsbeat doesn't mention it, but Lyon was known for quite a bit more than just using novelty shovels at ceremonial groundbreakings... According to Arizona's Transportation History, a 179-page publication from 2011 that details the role transportation has played in the state's growth, Lyon came to work for the state's highway department after World War II and served as the district engineer for three districts. He went on to lead the construction of a major part of the state's interstate highway system and was in charge of the Flagstaff District during construction of the challenging Virgin River

Looking Back

Gorge section of Interstate 15 in northwestern Arizona, before eventually becoming assistant director of the agency. Newsbeat also didn't say which stretch of the Superstition Freeway Lyon and crew were breaking ground on back in 1977, although we're guessing this was taken near Dobson Road since the building on the far right side of the photo looks a whole lot like the medical offices currently sitting near Dobson and Southern roads adjacent to Banner Desert Medical Center, known in the '70s as Good Samaritan Hospital. The freeway's timeline, as noted in Arizona's Transportation History, gives a few more clues... According to the report, the very first section of the Superstition Freeway was completed six years earlier in 1971. But at that time, it didn't go too far — after branching east off I-10, it ended just at Mill Avenue. It's safe to say that by 1977, efforts to expand the freeway were well underway. ADOT continued to work its way east until the Superstition Freeway was completed in 1991 — that's when it reached its present-day junction with US Route 60 east of Apache Junction, bringing to a close more than two decades of construction work.

MWB Oscar Lyon was Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Arizona in 1992. He served as Master of White Mountain Lodge No. 3 in 1956. He was Illustrious Grand Master of Cryptic Masons of Arizona in 1987. He was a member of Phoenix Scottish Rite Bodies and in 1997 he was coronated an Honorary Inspector General. He was a member of El Zaribah Shrine.

HISTORY OF THE GRAND LODGE

SPOTLIGHT ON WILLIS R. PINKERTON 1950 GRAND MASTER OF ARIZONA

Willis R. Pinkerton was born in White Hall, Green County, Illinois, January 15, 1900. Parents and grandparents on both sides of his family had been farmers.

From the age of one year until he was six he lived in Orlando, Florida where his family had moved for his fathers health. After his father's death in 1905, his mother and her three children returned to White Hall, Illinois, where he received his early education, graduating from the White Hall High School.

In 1921 Willis moved with this mother, brother, and sister to Denver, Colorado, in order to place his brother in Fitzsimmons Army hospital. In 1922 he took a job as timekeeper for the Moffat Coal company at Oak Creek, Colorado, and it was here that he petitioned for the degrees of Masonry. His application was accepted by Egeria Lodge No. 106, Yampa, Colorado. However, due to his hasty decision to enter the Denver University, he was unable to receive any of his degrees in his home lodge, but received all three as a courtesy by Union Lodge No. 7, Denver Colorado.

After receiving his DDS degree form the University of Denver in 1927, he entered the practice of dentistry in Denver, where he continued to reside until 1929 when he moved to Douglas, Arizona, where he practiced his profession until 1945 when he moved to Tucson. In 1940 Brother Pinkerton was elected, and served as president of the Arizona State Dental Association. He was a member of the Arizona State Dental Association, a 32 Scottish Rite Mason, a member of affiliation of Mt. Moriah Lodge No. 19, Douglas and a member of Grace Episcopal Church of Tucson.

MASONIC EDUCATION

A Masonic Lodge: its paraphernalia and Symbolism.

Let us first define what a Lodge is. It is in fact three things and if any one of these three is missing then the Lodge is not complete.

The first requirement is the meeting place itself. This is the physical being of the Lodge. It should be referred to as the Lodge room. Common practice calls it the 'Temple' but this can be an unfortunate term as the word does have religious overtones that may not be acceptable to all. Indeed we could ask why is the Lodge room not referred to as a Synagogue or a Mosque? The term 'Temple' really came into use in the early nineteen hundreds. If we look at the various venues used for Lodge meetings throughout the world, we can see that the term Temple is not appropriate viz many Lodges meet in Hotels, above restaurants, in community centres and even private houses.

Our reference to the 'Temple of Solomon' is to allow us to lay out the shape of the Lodge in the way that Solomon's Temple was laid out. The true 'Temple' is in our hearts not the bricks and mortar that we meet in. Our meeting place should be referred to as the Lodge Room.

The second meaning of a Lodge is the number of brothers required to form the Lodge. We know that there must be seven for the Lodge to be perfect and regular from the teachings of the First Degree Tracing Board where there are illustrated the seven stars which are meant to represent the number of masons needed to make the Lodge regular and perfect and without which no candidate can be legally initiated into Freemasonry. The seven brothers are the Master, the two Wardens, the two Deacons, the Inner Guard and the Tyler.

The third part is the summons which convenes the meeting. The summons must state the time, the date and the venue. So, a lodge is not a Lodge until all three parts are present, the venue, the assembled brothers and time and date.

The interior of a Freemasons Lodge is made up of furniture, jewels and ornaments. Once again we take our lead from the First Degree Tracing Board.

MASONIC EDUCATION

A Masonic Lodge: its paraphernalia and Symbolism.

The first requirement is the mosaic pavement or the chequered floor. Many Lodge rooms will have a permanently laid floor with its black and white squares framed with a tessellated border. However many Lodge rooms especially those in hotels have to be built and dismantled at every meeting. These will have a carpet or linoleum that can be taken up and stored between 2 meetings. The pavement is usually twice as long as it is wide but the dimensions of the room may determine the actual size. The person responsible for laying out the Lodge room is the Tyler. He will ensure that all the furniture is correctly placed and that aprons and collars and jewels for the officers are laid out.

He is assisted by the Director of Ceremonies whose responsibility is to ensure that the specific items needed for the degree work are in place or available. He ensures the working tools are correct, the Tracing Boards, the gavels, columns and in the case of the Third Degree that the sheet is at hand. He will also ensure that the apron needed for the candidate is ready.

The DC will also check that officers of the Lodge are correctly attired.

The WM is seated in the East and he will have a pedestal or a table alongside him on which will be placed his gavel. He also keeps his copy of the summons here and the Book of Constitution and the Lodge By Laws.

Any Grand Lodge officers that attend will sit on the Masters right in order of seniority.

Past Masters and Visiting Masters will sit behind the front row with visiting Masters on the left of the Master.

A Masonic Lodge: its paraphernalia and Symbolism.

The Master is approached by steps alongside which are two pillars, the one on the left represents Boaz and the one on the right, Jachin.

The Senior Warden is seated in the West and will also have a pedestal or table alongside and on his left, on which are placed the gavel and the column.

On his right stands a pillar or column which supports a candle.

The Junior Warden is seated in the South and has a pedestal or table on his left and on which are placed the gavel and the column.

On his right stands a pillar or column which supports a candle.

In the centre of the Lodge room is the Masters pedestal - it should not be referred to as an altar. The large column supports the VSL which in turn supports the Square and Compass.

The kneeling stool is placed in front of the pedestal.

The VSL is opened in the First Degree at Psalm 133:1 (How good it is for brethren to dwell together): in the Second Degree it is opened at 1 Kings 6:8 (The winding stairs and the middle chamber of the Temple): and in the Third 3

Degree at 1 Kings 8 (the dedication of King Solomon's Temple). Other Lodges may open at different passages.

The VSL should be placed so that the candidate or anyone making an obligation can read it.

In some Lodges the VSL is placed so that the WM only can read it. This puts the candidate at a disadvantage in that he will be taking an obligation on writings that are unintelligible to him.

It is assumed that the WM because of his experience will be conversive with the VSL and therefore does not need to read it. However no-one should question the established practices of a particular Lodge.

The square and compass are laid on the closed book with both points of the compass concealed but pointing towards the Master.

The only VSL that supports the Square and Compass is the one on the Masters pedestal. The other pedestals or tables may well carry VSL's but there will not be a square nor compass on them.

Where a Lodge has VSL's of different faiths more than one VSL of the appropriate faith will be open.

The Rough Ashlar is placed on the column of Boaz which for sake of convenience we call the Entered Apprentice's pillar.

The stone is rough and unused as taken from the quarry until it is worked upon by the EA and rendered fit for the more experienced workman to prepare it for inclusion in the finished building.

This is a symbolic allusion to our own entry into the world and indeed into Freemasonry in that we are innocent, uneducated and not at all knowledgeable.

We are subsequently nurtured and taught by our parents or guardians by being given a liberal and virtuous education so that as the stone is accepted into the building so we are accepted into civilized society.

The Ashlar on the FC pillar shows the progress on the stone as it is being worked and modeled. It also alludes to our own progress through life, our understanding of the liberal arts and sciences, until it becomes the Perfect Ashlar, the finished stone. This shows that we have had a well spent life of virtue and piety as proved by the square and compass and having reached the peak of our perfection so we can meet our maker as is inevitable, with a clear conscience.

A square should be placed on the EA's or JW's pedestal and a Compass on the FC's or SW's pedestal. 4

The Tracing Boards are placed in a convenient position so that they can be seen by all. This is not always physically possible but in deciding on their position consideration should be given for anyone entering the Lodge after it has been opened.

The letter 'G' is normally hung in the center of the Lodge room but where a Lodge is dismantled after the meeting a more convenient position may be determined. In some Lodges it is placed above and behind the WM. It can also be placed on the center pedestal.

MASONIC EDUCATION

A Masonic Lodge: its paraphernalia and Symbolism.

The warrant of the Lodge is displayed near the WM usually in front of the Chaplain. The Lodge cannot convene if the warrant is not displayed. It is the DoC's responsibility to ensure that it is in place.

The Working Tools are displayed in a convenient place some where near the East. In some Lodges as each degree is opened the tools of the previous degree are put away but in others the tools of each degree are left on display as the degrees are opened and only the tools of the degree that is closed are put away. This is for each Lodge to determine its usage.

With regard to the wardens. Apart from the gavels which enable the Wardens to assist the Master in the running of the Lodge, the most important item on his pedestal or table is the column. Regretfully very little attention is given to this piece of Lodge furniture which is a shame as it is fundamental to the tenets and principles of our organisation.

It is also incorrectly represented in many Lodges. The most common form of columns are replicas of two of the three columns that support a Freemasons Lodge - the Doric and the Corinthian columns. On top of these columns are two globes - the one represents day and the other night. This set up has become standard in most Lodges but I would contend that they are misguided.

Let me explain.

The Wardens are working masons.

The Senior Warden is placed in the West for two reasons - one to control the work force in that half of the work place as it is too far away for the WM to see what is going on and secondly to mark the setting sun.

The Junior Warden is placed in the South being mid way, to call the brethren from labour to refreshment and from refreshment to labour but also to mark the sun at its meridian ie mid day. 5

So the question arises - how does the warden mark the sun?

The answer is with a surveyors pole or rod or more accurately with an obelisk.

MASONIC EDUCATION

A Masonic Lodge: its paraphernalia and Symbolism.

This is the most important tool in the Masons tool bag. Basically it is a stick with a pointed top.

There was a famous geometrician by the name of Erastothanes. He was the curator of the Museum in Alexandria. Now Erastothanes knew that there was a town some 5,000 stadia away from Alexandria called Syrene (we know it today as Aswan). A stadia is 430 miles. In Syrene there was well and at midday at the Summer Solstice it was noted that the Sun shone directly onto its waters. This was the only time in the year that it happened. It was also noted that at the same time an obelisk or stick when held upright would have no shadow. Erastothanes now noted that if he raised an obelisk at Alexandria at exactly the same time, he would cast a shadow. He then measured this shadow and calculated its angle with respect to Syrene.

He learnt his geometry from studying the ancient Egyptians.

He found the angle to be 7.2 degrees. He also knew that the world was sphere and that it was 360 degrees. So by dividing 7.2 into 360 he found that the distance between Alexandria and Syrene was one fiftieth of the earth's circumference. He determined that the earth must be 50 times 430 (being the distance between the two places) i.e 21,500 miles.

This information has never been challenged nor improved upon.

This same obelisk was used to determine due East and West. Information of great value to the builder. The way they did it was this.

At sunrise on the day of the Spring or Autumn Equinox the builder would place his obelisk on the intended site of his building. He would then align a second obelisk at the point on the horizon where the sun first appeared. By drawing a line between the two a true East / west alignment could be achieved. From this it was easy to calculate North and South and indeed any point on the compass.

The same result can be achieved by using the shadow of the sun cast at mid day (when the sun is at its Meridian). If for several days or weeks prior to the Spring Equinox the shadow from the sun was marked on the ground between mid morning and mid afternoon a series of V shapes will be drawn which would become more discernible as the sun rose higher in the sky with each passing day. By drawing a line through the base of the V to the base of the obelisk the true North South alignment can be drawn. The advantage of marking the sun at its meridian is that the compass can be set for any time of the year. 6

Now if this experiment was repeated for an entire year a pattern would emerge showing the progress of the seasons. A cross reference then with the phase of the moon would establish a calendar. Religious festivals could now be set. Hence the sun would rule the day and the moon would govern the night.

An even more involved calculation based on the information derived from the obelisk would show the signs of the Zodiac. It would also explain why various churches appear to the East in different positions. As the seasons change so the sun rises in a slightly different position every day. So the position of East tends to move. The altar in every church is placed in the East so if a Saint's day fell in say December like St Andrew's then the position of the sun ie East in December would determine where the builder would site the altar. This would be different to the position of the east in July.

So the obelisk in the care of the Warden is a most valuable part of our Lodge. We place the globes of the sun and moon in the obelisk to remind us of their responsibility.

A Freemasons lodge is full of symbolism. Over the years some of it has become distorted or misinterpreted. It is for ever open to discussion. You will agree with some - you will wonder about others. This talk may have helped you to understand a little about your Lodge and I hope will encourage you to investigate more.

Welcome to TOMBSTONE, ARIZONA

Our Lodge was established: JUNE 4TH, 1881, as:

"SOLOMON" LODGE, F&AM, UNDER DISPENSATION
by the Grand Lodge of F&AM of the State of California and Chartered: SEPTEMBER 9TH, 1882 as:

"KING SOLOMON" LODGE, N^o 5, F&AM
by the new Grand Lodge of F&AM (est. 1882) of the Territory of Arizona

Call the City Marshal, someone spray painted red Graffiti on the West Wall

September 9th, 2017, is the 135th Anniversary of our Charter and the Construction of our Lodge Building — Photo by: W. B. Art Montgomery

"SOLOMON" LODGE, UD, F&AM, met in TOMBSTONE in 1881 in the Pomeroy & Greer's Store building situated on Allen Street. The members had come up with a building plan that met the security requirements of the Grand Lodge of California, which required a meeting place on the second floor of a building.

In 1882 Ed Schieffelin had his brother Al construct such a building, made of adobe that would provide adequate space for several activities of the camp. The building became a showplace, the center of social activities for the people of TOMBSTONE, and the newly formed Arizona Grand Lodge issued our Charter.

"KING SOLOMON" LODGE, N^o 5, F&AM, was the first, and is the only continuous occupant of the building, leaving the bottom floor for a dancing area, dining and a small theater. The Lodge met on the third Saturday of each month to conduct its usual business, and continued this practice until 1941.

SCHIEFFELIN HALL is the largest freestanding Adobe structure in the United States.

ARIZONA MASONIC CHARITIES BEING HELPED BY OUR PURCHASES AT AMAZON.COM

Brethren, Friends, and Family,

This year the Masonic Charities of Arizona approved 18 grants totaling $30,000 to organizations throughout Arizona. These 501c3 charitable organizations provide much needed services to their communities. Those services include assistance to our Veterans at the three VA Hospitals in Arizona, Domestic abuse shelters, child learning disabilities, training and assistance for people with special needs, support for soldiers abroad, Adult literacy programs and Personal hygiene kits for the working poor and homeless.

We are able to award these Grants from the income of our investment fund, Lodge and Personal donations and support from Grand Lodge. In order to keep up with the desire to expand our Grant distribution to more organizations and communities around the State we ask for your help.

We have registered with the Amazon Smile Foundation. Amazon Smile will donate 0.5% of the purchase price of eligible products to the charitable organization selected by their customers. For Amazon customers to select the Masonic Charities of Arizona to receive these donations go to <http://smile.amazon.com/ch/94-2746389> to automatically select us. Or you can go to www.smile.amazon.com and you will be prompted to select a charity. Now you are ready to shop and support the Masonic Charities of Arizona.

The Board of Directors of the Masonic Charities of Arizona extends our appreciation to all of you for your support.

Fraternally,

Jim Baker
