WOMAN'S CLUB OF SEAL BEACH

President's Message

We had such a lovely May Meeting. Thank you to Carla Watson and her committee for visually preparing us for our annual tea by fixing the cutest spring table decorations. Did you see a picture of yourself and friends enjoying one of our past teas on the little boxes? And thank you to Karen Russell for again setting up the McGaugh Poetry winners program. We all look forward to that delightful program every year.

And what a grand time we had at our annual tea and fashion-show this year. The entryway was outstanding. Each table was set so individually beautiful and unique. The food was delicious, the models charmingly dressed and some very lucky and thrilled participants won the gorgeous baskets and door prizes. Thank you to each and every one of our dedicated members. Because of your time, energy and planning, our tea was again a success and spectacular occasion.

As your passing President. I'd like to express my humble thanks for all your kind words of appreciation and gentle encouragement throughout the past two years. In reality, it is the amazing support of our incredible Executive Board, Chairmen, Lunch Committees and all the extraordinary members of this incredible club that make the Presidents job such a joy. I want to thank the entire membership for making my role as President such a wonderful and smooth experience. I send my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to all. And though I shall miss this position, I can truly say I pass the gavel to a more than polished leader, Twyla Karkut. I'm looking forward to a wonderful year with Twyla as our President.

Have a safe and fabulous summer and remember...

"The most important trip you may take in life is meeting people halfway."

With love and admiration,

Becky Williams

The story follows Monsieur Jean Perdu, he owns the 'Literary Apothecary' which is a book barge on Seine river in Paris. This 'Literary Apothecary' which Jean Perdu has is special, as he prescribes his customers books, choosing the books which they need as his insight guides him - it appears as if he is looking into the souls of the customer, choosing the books which will make them better versions of themselves. However despite his ability to mend others' hearts, he seems to be unable to heal his own, left with a broken soul when his true love left him with his book barge and a departing letter. We begin the novel twenty years after these events and we see Perdu almost opening himself up to the world once more.

June is one of only two months that has three birthstones associated with it, giving the lucky people born in June a choice of gemstones between pearl, alexandrite and moonstone.

Sunshine & Raindrops

Condolences were sent to Beverly Endsley on the passing of her mother. May her mother rest in peace.

Sent a card to Pat McNerney who had a scare with her health. Libby just had a long conversation with her and she seems to be back to her old self with her great sense of humor and as usual making jokes about growing old.

Yvonne Whalley was sent a wish for a speedy recovery card for the fall she had.
