

think different be different we are different
why shout we limit
ourselves

beauty is in the eye of the beholder

I wanted to portray this idea of our educational system and how in our culture, we all believe that education is the key to success. We push students to strive to be the best social they can be that we forget they are just children.

We sometimes forget that these kids are young, they're not meant to stay in one classroom for a tremendous long time and expect them to stay focused every second. Idealistically, that's impossible to do because as kids, we love to move around and have fun.

In our society we have this robotic view where we follow the mindset of everyone else and that's what I want to change because "beauty is in the eye of the beholder". Why should we limit ourselves due to what others may perceive; we should care less and capture what we believe is beautiful without limitations.

IMACHISIMO IMATA

Porque me vale vale vale
Me vale todo
Me vale vale vale
Me vale todo
Si no me entienden o
comprenden
Pues ya ni modo!
Porque me vale vale vale
Me vale todo
Porque me vale vale vale
Me vale todo
Me vale todo
Si no me entienden o
comprenden
Pues ya ni modo!
Porque me vale vale vale
Me vale todo

Nunca me vas a querer
Me vas a extrañar
Pero cuando me vas a aceptar

How can I be human?

“We love your brother but he has fallen”

My mother says

We pray for my brother’s lifestyle

A lifestyle that doesn’t match the machismo that runs deep in our culture

I am sorry he is gay, and esnt meet your expectations but I am also apologizing for me

Because my identity isn’t a lifestyle that you hoped it can be prayed away

A part of me I hid for so many years to fit the mold you set

But it is part of who I am, it is my identity, it is me.

Why couldn’t you see before that we are human.

WE ARE HUMAN

AN APOLOGY

Sorry if I don't find incensitive

Sorry if I pursue higher education and take "your rightful" place
(Abigail Fisher)

Sorry if all my actions are seen as threats

Sorry if my culture isn't for sale

SORRY NOT SORRY

SIN COLOR

LISTEN

Latin pop duo, Sin Color has burst onto the Los Angeles music scene, transforming traditional styles of music into pop soundscapes. Lead singer Crisia Regalado (19), trained in opera singing since she was ten years old. Combined with Aquino's (19) deft guitar and keyboard chops, the two of them create their own unique sound. Sin Color mixes bossa nova, cumbia, and disco into indie pop songs. Because of the paucity of recorded music, Sin Color fans, who are growing, have to enjoy them live, which is getting easier as Sin Color is working their way through the hot spots for all genres of music in LA, and beyond. They have mesmerized audiences at events and venues such as "Dark Nights" at L.A. Live, "Día de Los Muertos Festival" at Hollywood Forever Cemetery, Eagle Rock Music Festival, and The Levitt Pavilion Pasadena. The act is polished and tight, even with a fresh backing band.

IT WAS BASED OFF OF MATTS FRIEND, A STRONG CHICANX HE KNEW. SHE OVERCAME MANY OBSTACLES TO GET HER SHIT DONE AND WE HAVE ALWAYS ADMIRED HER. HER NAME IS WENDY AND SHE HAD THAT PHRASE TATTOOED ON HER FOREARM.

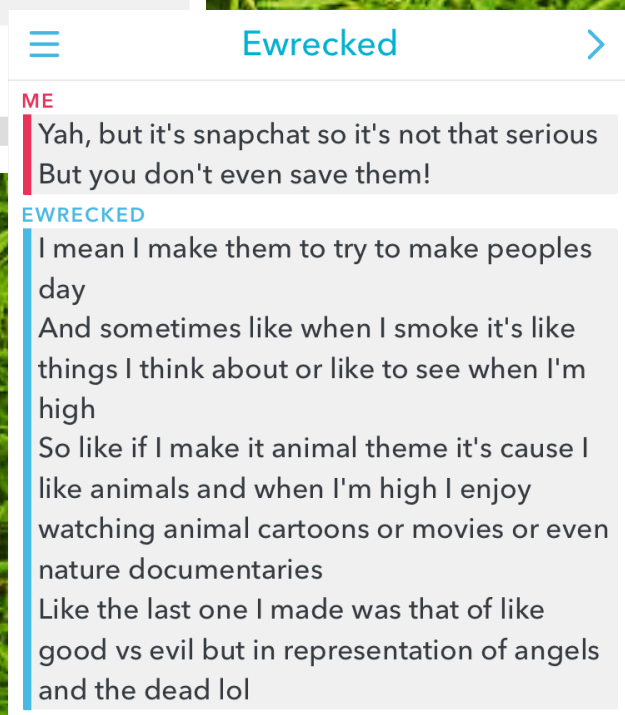

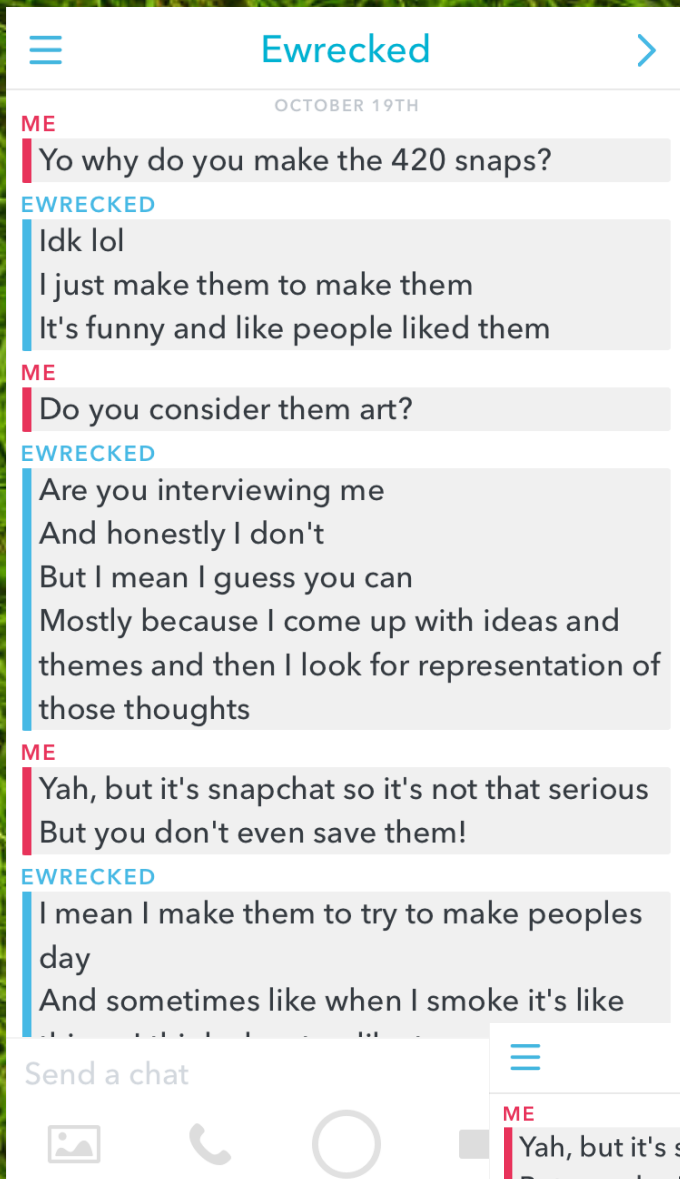

WE THINK IT'S BEAUTIFUL AND AN EASY ENOUGH NAME TO DELIVER OUR SIMPLE MESSAGE OF LOVE AND EXISTENCE AS RESISTANCE

HMM I THINK THAT BY CATEGORIZING OURSELVES IN TO GENRES KIND OF WARDS OFF PEOPLE WHO MIGHT BE INTERESTED IN OUR MUSIC. WE FALL UNDER MANY CATEGORIES, IT CAN STRETCH FROM MOTOWN TO SPANISH ROCK, BUT MOSTLY WE LIKE TO SAY WE DO CHICANX JAZZ

WE DO THE SAME WHEN WE DO COVERS TO DIONE WARWICK OR THE DOORS OR HERBIE HANCOCK. WE IDENTIFY AS CHICANX AND THEREFORE OUR MUSIC AND LYRICS WILL INHERENTLY APPROPRIATE THE DIVERSE CULTURES THAT WOULD BE CONSIDERED "LATINX".
