

Dale Sorensen

PEI trombonist Dale Sorensen is a solo recitalist, chamber and orchestral musician, educator and adjudicator. A passionate performer and promoter of Canadian music, Dale has premiered more than 20 solo trombone pieces and dozens of chamber works, and recorded an all-Canadian CD of music for trombone.

As an orchestral musician, Dale performs regularly with Symphony Nova Scotia, the Charlottetown Festival Orchestra, and the PEI Symphony, has held positions with the Windsor (ON) Symphony and Hamilton Philharmonic Orchestra, and has freelanced with many other orchestras, including the Toronto Symphony, Tafelmusik, Winnipeg Symphony, National Ballet, and Opera Atelier (including a tour of Japan).

A dedicated teacher, Dale maintains a private teaching studio (www.islandbrass.com) and serves as an adjudicator and clinician at music festivals and workshops throughout the Maritimes and Ontario. He has taught at four Atlantic Canadian universities (UPEI, Dalhousie, MUN, and Mount Allison), and the University of Toronto.

Dale holds music degrees from UPEI (B.Mus.), Northwestern University (M.Mus.), and the University of Toronto (DMA). His doctoral dissertation and several other educational resources and articles are available on his website: www.islandtrombone.com.
