

Katherine Moller

Katherine Moller is one of New Brunswick's most versatile musicians. Whether she is playing classic fiddle tunes in a crowded pub or the music of Bach on a concert stage, her love and respect for the instrument and its wide-spread appeal have brought her considerable acclaim as one of the province's true fiddle ambassadors.

Winner of the "Classical Musician of the Year" (2012) award by Music NB, Katherine performs regularly with Symphony NB and Atlantic Sinfonia, as well as plays baroque violin with Collegium Musicum and Ensemble 18C. She plays fiddle with the Celtic band Different Folk and can be heard in any combination of solo/duo/trio acts in her "spare time". She has released 5 solo CD's, and is currently in the process of recording with one of her many other groups. So far she is a 3 time Music NB Award winner, as well as an ECMA nominee and has been ranked as Canada's number two Celtic musician by Reverb Nation several years running.

As an educator Katherine not only has a thriving private studio, but also runs several successful school programs in the Fredericton and Nackawic areas.

With ever-rising popularity, Katherine shows without a doubt, she truly is the master of four strings and a bow.
