Included here are some songs that I have written and had in my back pocket for some time. A couple have been recorded successfully by other artists like the Osmond Brothers and the Irish Drovers, the rest have never seen the light of day.

As a songwriter I regard these songs as a kind of snapshot of a special time or feeling that I have recorded, sometimes inspired by things I have observed in my life, or from the times and emotions of others I have witnessed.

Here's hoping dear listener that you also identify with these feelings and enjoy the experience...

With love

Diana
