

THE DIRECT CAPITAL RAISE with FINANCIAL GUARANTEE INSURANCE BONDS

Financing any solid construction project , real estate investment, business acquisition or refinancing is never so much of a money availability question, as it is a question of the quality of presentation , delivered direct to the RIGHT sources who can be COMFORTABLE writing the check on the spot.

The Direct Capital Raise with Guarantee Principal allows you to (finally!)
MAKE THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS WORK FOR BOTH the BORROWER and the LENDER

See the below examples of closed deals using the Direct Capital Raise strategy, that no Bank or even Hard Money Lender could fund under conventional underwriting circumstances .

eShares STARTUP raises $42 million to manage equity compensation and investments

Eshares wants to be the platform for all things equity. From cap table management to secondary transactions, eShares' software helps businesses like Slack, Flexport and Funding Circle keep tabs on their shares. The startup is raising a $42 million Series C, led by Menlo Ventures and Social Capital. Matt Murphy from Menlo Ventures and Arjun Sethi from Social Capital will be joining the board.

Murphy said he invested in eShares because of its "vision about building the ownership graph, which makes it easier to track, value, understand, and ultimately trade/monetize ownership." eShares has a subscription business model for its equity management software and works with 6,000 companies on corporate governance and compliance. It can also issue stock to investors electronically.

And now eShares is hoping to work with companies on the IPO process. CEO Henry Ward told TechCrunch that "our job is to blur the lines of being public and private to make them almost indistinguishable." He hopes that eShares can eventually serve as a replacement for the underwriting bankers.
