

OPENING RECESSIVE GENETIC MALFUNCTION

The American Anthropological Association (AAA) asserts the US Government phase out the term “race” in collecting Federal data because the concept has no scientific justification in human biology. The analysis of genetics (DNA) indicates 94% of all physical variations remain within “racial groups.” Conventional geographic “racial” groupings differ from one another at only six percent (6%). Larger variations exist within “racial” groups than between them. In bordering populations throughout the global world there are OVERLAPPING genes and phenotypic expressions. If the origin of humanity started in Africa, mankind came from Black Africans – ONE global Negroid Race. Members of the AAA know that continuing to use the term “race” demonstrates a further division and alteration of the recessive gene. The term “race” is being used as a CAMOUFLAGE to squelch the changing phenotypes of mankind blending together? Scientists are trying to form one BIG “Caucasian Cluster” to stop White genetic annihilation. The term “race” continues to imply inequality.

Scientific American recently featured an article about the ALU Chromosome. The Chromosome is referred to as the “Jumping Gene” and reproduces by copying and inserting itself into new chromosome locations. The latest Genome Project confirms Africans are the purest race on Earth with 95% of the gene. Europeans have 75% of the ALU Chromosome, while 60% of Asians have the same chromosome. Europeans and Asians have 50% each of the chromosomes found in each other. On the other hand, only five percent of Negroid/Africans have a chromosome found in Europeans and Asians. Scientific American records ONE global Negroid Race?

TABLE OF CONTENTS

		PAGE
Opening	Recessive Genetic Malfunction.....	3
Chapter 1:	Survival Tactics vs. Massive Die-Off.....	5
Chapter 2:	Changing the Color of History.....	27
Chapter 3:	White World Division Against Itself.....	39
Chapter 4:	Producers of The Psychological White Dominance Center.....	57
Chapter 5:	Invisible Men.....	77
Chapter 6:	Theology Tethers: The Whitewashed Whoring Of Christianity.....	91
Chapter 7:	The Millennium's Vanishing Masters....	122
Chapter 8:	Warren Harding's Death Warrant: Blackness.....	135
Chapter 9:	The Caucasian Origin Of Mankind.....	145
Chapter 10:	Biological Assimilation & Global Racial Cleansing.....	163
Chapter 11:	Arsenals Of Mass Annihilation.....	179
Conclusion	190
Afterthought	205

CHAPTER 1

SURVIVAL TACTICS VS. MASSIVE DIE-OFF

The Federal Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Directive 15 designates which racial and ethnic categories are used in the US Census and in other innumerable public and private research projects. According to the AAA, the US Government should phase out use of the term “race” because the concept has no scientific justification in human biology.

For the past 400 years Americans have been distinguished by race, classified by color, and separated by color piloting a national Color Assault Psychosis in the subconscious of all Americans. Presently, there is an unparalleled remodeling by Euro-American physical anthropologists to genetically bombard Negroid DNA. Black and brown people are being formulated as members of the Caucasian Race. The new term is to distinguish people by “ethnic groups.” The former classified “Colored” People of the world now live as “ethnic groups” minus the term “race.” The measure points to survival of the recessive gene.

Have you ever heard of a person whose race is Puerto Rican or Cuban? That is the country of national origin – not race but culture. I know what nationality means. I also know that race is being hidden behind the country of origin. Over 70% of Cubans have visible Black/ African ancestry (Negroid DNA) but are classified as White or Hispanic in the US. This appropriates another bona fide superiority fallacy. Many Black people in the US are being reclassified as multiracial and positioned on the Caucasian Bandwagon. Disappearance of the White recessive gene is a reality unless scientists can scurry to reclassify and catalogue the dominant Black gene pool to expand recessive White Race numbers. Take note of the disappearing recessive DNA.

The number of Germans has declined by 3.2 million; the population of Berlin over the last 30 years, but demographers' concerns has mostly been ignored until recently. German leaders have lifted the birth rate to the top of the political agenda for the first time since the Nazi Era, and the two ruling parties are trying to outdo each other with pro-family measures. Germans are at risk of dying out if the trend continues. The German population will shrink from 75 million to 50 million by 2050 and further after that (Kirschbaum, 2006).

Russia's population is: 125,000,000 and has the largest loss of people, more so, than any other European country. It is currently in a demographic crisis. Russia loses 950,000 people a year. If population trends continue, Russia will exist as massive Tundra minus the human population in less than 100 years. Maybe the Orca Whales will flourish once again unless they too are driven to extinction.

Birth rates have been below replacement rates for 35 years—what a lethal development! Germans have long had one of the lowest birth rates in the European Union at 1.3 children per woman—far below the “replacement rate” of 2.1 needed to keep the population stable. The rate is about half of what it was 40 years ago. More than 30% of East and West Germans born from 1960 to 1967 are childless. Among Germans with higher education, the childless rate is even higher at 38%. Each generation is being reduced by a third.

The blending of dominant and recessive genes has caused the subsequent camouflages. If a person is brown or black in color but has straight “European” looking hair, he has been classified as Caucasian in Europe. If a person has light skin and wavy or tightly curled Negroid hair, he is Caucasian. The Europeans follow a reversed “One-drop Rule.” One-drop of Caucasian blood makes a person Caucasian. Anthropologists have wholeheartedly grasped the model to classify black/brown groups within the white cluster. Here are some of the obscure concepts physical anthropologists have presented.

- ◆ People who have parents from two different races cannot be fairly classified in only one race.
- ◆ People in the United States who are African-American are placed in a subordinated hypothetical race.
- ◆ A person might display features that point to African Ancestry, thus labeling the person Black regardless of whether such a race exists in nature.
- ◆ Ethnic identities are folk taxonomies – whether race or religion; they are not scientific; they are cultural classifications that arise from experience of people in groups.
- ◆ Observable physical features – skin color, nasal width, and hair texture are irrelevant in determining race.
- ◆ Different physical characteristics in humans correspond to where their ancestors come from but does not define race.

Many European populations are experiencing more deaths than births annually, a phenomenon that is not occurring in any other global regions. The Ukraine and Russia have the largest gaps between birth rates and death rates. The population of Ukraine is losing about 340,000 people each year or more deaths than births. In the absence of offsetting international migration, the population of these countries will decline in size. In addition to very low birth rates, a chief cause for surplus European deaths is the relatively high proportion of the region's older age population where death rates are higher. Fifteen percent (15%) of Europe's population is age 65 or older, compared with 7% for the global world.

UNITED NATIONS (IPS) - The UN has warned projected declines in European and American populations over the next half century may force some of these industrialized nations to actively seek migrants to replace their deteriorating numbers. Italy, Bulgaria and Estonia will lose one quarter to one third of its population. "Population aging will be pervasive, bringing the median age of population to historically unprecedented high levels."

In Italy, for instance, the median age rose from 41 years in 2000 to 53 years in 2050. The potential support ratio - the number of persons at working age (15 to 64 years) per older person - will be halved, from four or five to two. In Italy and Spain there was an invasion of the Moors lasting 800 years (AD 711 - 1492). When Spain invaded Mexico, the same African Spanish Moors peopled Mexico (Cortés 1519-1521). The study released by the UN's Population Division focuses on eight low fertility countries - France, Germany, Italy, Japan, South Korea, Russia, UK and the United States - and two regions (Europe and the 15-member European Union). Declining and ageing populations will require a comprehensive reassessment of many established policies.

World's Largest Populated Countries
(CIA World Factbook)

Rank	Country	Population
1	China	1,343,239,923
2	India	1,205,073,612
3	United States	313,847,465
4	Indonesia	248,645,008
5	Brazil	199,321,413
6	Pakistan	190,291,129
7	Nigeria	170,123,740
8	Bangladesh	161,083,804
9	Russia	142,517,670
10	Japan	127,368,088

World's Countries
Population Over 65
(CIA World Factbook)

Rank	Country	Population % Over 65
1	Monaco	22.80
2	Japan	21.60
3	Germany	20
4	Italy	20
5	Greece	19.10
6	Sweden	18.30
7	Spain	17.90
8	Austria	17.60
9	Bulgaria	17.60
10	Estonia	17.60

Sickle Cell Hemoglobin in Sicilian Ancestry

As an approach to investigating the origin of sickle cell hemoglobin (hemoglobin S) in “assumed white” people of Sicilian ancestry, two groups of native Sicilians were tested for blood group evidence of African admixture. Among 100 unrelated Sicilians, the phenotypes cDe(Rho) and Fy(a-b-), and the antigens V(hrv) and Jsa, which are African genetic markers, were detected in 12 individuals. Among 64 individuals from 21 families with at least one known hemoglobin S carrier, African blood group markers were detected in 7 (11%). The findings indicate hemoglobin S the multiple African gene is present in contemporary Sicilian populations. The occurrence of hemoglobin S in "assumed white" people of Sicilian ancestry is a manifestation of the continuing dissemination of the original African mutation. (Taken from the Race Archives).

A combination of declining birth rates and increasing longevity around the world is resulting in a boom for the over 60 population. By 2050, the UN estimates the number of older persons will triple to approximately two billion, or 22% of the world's population of six billion. Complementing the issue of ageing populations is the fact that fertility rates are declining rapidly. According to figures released by the UN Population Fund (UNFPA) fertility rates in the developed world have declined from 2.8 children per woman to 1.6 children per woman since 1950, and in the developing world from 6.2 to 3 in the same period.

Declining birth rates and ageing populations will force western and industrialized nations, who have traditionally attempted to limit immigration from developing nations, to relax these immigration restrictions. The report emphasizes that it is unlikely replacement migration alone will be able to maintain support ratios at current levels, due to the extraordinarily large numbers of migrants that would be required.

Germany and Italy need, relative to their population sizes, the largest number of migrants to maintain the size of their working-age populations. Germany would require 500,000 migrants per year and Italy 350,000 per year, according to Population Division estimates. The status and integration of recent migrant workers and their descendants, often subjected to dangerous working conditions, low pay, and few or no employment benefits will become an increasingly compelling issue as the ranks of migrant workers continue to swell. The report estimates that post-1995 migrants and their descendants will be between 26 and 39% of the population in 2050.

According to the report, the number of migrants needed to offset population decline in the United States is less than recent past immigration experience - implying the United States can maintain its present potential support ratio without significant policy change about immigration. The UN article stresses: "Some immigration is needed to prevent population decline in all the countries and regions examined." There are three other options besides replacement migration that may remedy the problems associated with declining and ageing populations.

The first is a fiscal solution, which involves raising taxes "20% - 40% over current levels" to supplement social security. Second, the government could encourage citizens to have more children, as has been done in Sweden, to keep the labor force stable. Finally, the government could require that people work longer hours, for more years, while individually saving for retirement. (Sandrasagra, Mithre J., Population: UN Warns of Falling Population in Europe)

So, if "race" no longer exists, how can forensic anthropologists classify accurately 80%+ to which race a person belongs? If races do not exist, why are forensic anthropologists so good at identifying cranial shape, nose shape, dental projection, etc. and then placing that person in a racial category?

Forensic anthropologists attain a high degree of accuracy in determining geographic racial affinities (white, black, American Indian, etc.) by utilizing both new and traditional methods of bone analysis. Numerous individual methods involving mid-facial measurements, femur traits, and so on are over 80% accurate alone, and in combination produce very high levels of accuracy. No forensic anthropologist would make a racial assessment based upon just one of these methods. In combination, they can make very reliable assessments in determining sex or age.

Forensic anthropologists identify skeletons to racial origins but physical anthropologists do not believe in race. The “reality of race” therefore depends more on the definition of reality than on the definition of race. Forensic anthropologists ask: “If we choose to accept the system of racial taxonomy that physical anthropologists have traditionally established major races: black, white, etc. One can classify human skeletons within it just as well as one can living humans.” The bony traits of the nose, mouth, femur, and cranium are just as revealing to a good osteologist as skin color, hair and nose form, and lips to the perceptive observer of humanity. Forensic anthropologists know the skeleton reflects race, whether “real” or not, just as well if not better than superficial soft tissue does. The idea race is “only skin deep” is simply not true, as any experienced forensic anthropologist will affirm.

In an article by Sally Satel, “I am a Racially Profiling Doctor,” she writes. In practicing medicine, I am not colorblind. I always take note of my patient’s race. So, do many of my colleagues. We do it because certain diseases and treatment responses cluster by ethnicity. Recognizing these patterns can help us diagnose disease more efficiently and prescribe medications more effectively because when it comes to practicing medicine, race stereotyping works.

When the preliminary sequence of the human genome was announced in June 2000, many felt the verdict was conclusive and concluded that race was an arbitrary, nefarious biological fiction. Scholars heralded the finding of the Human Genome Project 99.9% of the human genetic complement is the same in everyone, regardless of race, as proof that race is biologically meaningless. J Craig Venter, the geneticist whose company played a key role in mapping the human genome, proclaimed, "There is no basis in the genetic code for race."

Not surprisingly, many human genetic variations tend to cluster by racial groups, or by people whose ancestors came from a geographic region. Skin color itself is not what is at issue. It's the evolutionary history indicated by skin color. In Africa, for example, the genetic variant for sickle cell anemia cropped up at some point in the gene pool and was passed on to descendants; as a result, the disease is more common among Blacks than Whites. Similarly, Caucasians are far more likely to carry the gene mutations that cause multiple sclerosis and cystic fibrosis.

Skin color and other physical features can be a diagnostic surrogate for the genetic differences influencing disease and response to treatment. "Physical appearance, including skin color, is now the only way to distinguish populations for study," he says. "You'd have to use a blindfold to keep a physician from paying attention to obvious differences that may and should influence diagnosis and treatment!" Drugs can stay in the body longer when their metabolism in the liver is slower. We know this can vary by race, and doctors should keep it in mind.

The public is wrong. As rough a biological classification as race may be, doctors must not be blind to its clinical implications. So much of medicine is a guessing game—and race sometimes provides an invaluable clue. As doctors and patients, though, it must be realized it is not in patients' best interests to deny the reality of differences.

Whites have become victims of their own misinformation while professing: "We will amount to 50% of the US population by the year 2050 because of illegal immigrants from Mexico"—not realizing that Hispanics have already been classified as White by the AAA and OMB. US Whites feel they are a majority but have become a global minority emended by a lack of common sense.

The most recent DNA research validates what authors like Cheikh Diop, JA Rogers, Ivan Van Sertima, and Frances Cress Welsing confirmed 50 years ago—the black origin of civilization started in Africa. In the 1950's and 1960's Diop used documentary and physical evidence to prove an African Origin of Civilization. Diop proved that Biblical Texts were Egyptian Moral Texts. Oh, the Author forgot, Egyptians have been classified as white. Diop used linguistics, skulls, mummies, masks, and hieroglyphics to prove an African origin.

The French Army led by Napoleon Bonaparte in the 18th Century destroyed as much of the physical proof as his army could marshal at the Battle of the Pyramids. Whites found fault with the physical evidence presented by Diop in the 1970's and banned his books. Let's see what they do with the modern evidence of DNA research. According to the Associated Press, scientists from the University of Padua in Italy examined hereditary material in cells found that modern humans followed a migration wave from Africa to Asia more than 50,000 years ago after an earlier exodus to the Mediterranean and Greece. Blood samples of people from east Africa and India showed close genetic similarities indicating a common African ancestor. The Italian study was reported in the December 1998 issue of the Journal Nature Genetics.

The researchers examined Mitochondria DNA, units outside of the cell's nucleus that act as a cell's energy source. The mother passes it from generation to generation, which lets scientists trace ancestry between geographically distant human populations. In the Italian study, researchers reported that closely related genetic sequences were found in high frequency blood samples from people in Ethiopia, the Arabian Peninsula and India. The first, and older, human migration route out of Africa is believed to have extended northward around the eastern Mediterranean and Greece more than 100,000 years ago. Tool-making human ancestors are believed to have left Africa and spread to Asia and Europe.

It is recorded in history books the first group of people to populate North and South America crossed over from Siberia by way of the Bering Strait on a land-ice bridge. Research by authors like Van Sertima and Rogers have already confirmed what is now considered a NEW REVELATION set forth by Euro-American scientists. Here we go again, VALIDATION by Euro-America. After examining a collection of South American skulls, research indicates a different population crossed the bridge to America 3,000 years before that first crossing from Siberia.

Euro-American Scientists have DISCOVERED skulls in South America that look like indigenous Australians, Melanesians and Sub-Saharan Africans more so than Northern Asians – THE GIANT OLEMEC HEADS (1,000 BC) came from Black Africa! Scientists compared 81 skulls from the Lagoa Santa Region of Brazil to worldwide data on human variation. The information indicates the skulls, dating between 7,500 and 11,000 years ago, was not an anomaly but supports the hypothesis that two distinct populations colonized the Americas. The skulls of Native Americans and Northern Asians generally feature short, wide craniums, a broader face and high, narrow eye sockets and noses. This collection is remarkably different. The skulls belonging to the earliest known South Americans, the Paleo-Indians had long, narrow craniums, projecting jaws and low, broad eye sockets and noses. Drastically different from American Indians, these skulls appear more like modern Australians, Melanesians and Sub-Saharan Africans (National Academy of Sciences).

Over 200,000 ancient pyramids and huge mounds of the Earth in the shape of cones, animals and geometric designs can still be found from the southern coast of America to Canada. People we know as "The Mound Builders" erected the structures. They were dark-skinned woolly-haired blacks that were indigenous (native) to North America and kin to the Olmecs of South America.

During Pangea, the African and American continents were joined. The black mound builders were the Washitaw-Muurs (Ouachita-Moors), the ORIGINAL inhabitants of North and South America. Columbus was not entirely wrong in calling these people "Indians"! The true meaning of word "Indian" is "INDI" meaning black, as in INDIa ink, hINDU and INDIgo the darkest color of the color spectrum. The massive remains of this ancient BLACK civilization/empire still stand in both North and South America.

Ivan Van Sertima writes about the reported: "Evidence for black-skinned natives in the Americas long before the arrival of Columbus" (Ancient American Magazine, Issue 17). From the distinctly Negroid features of colossal Olmec sculpted heads and a pre-Aztec obsidian bowl being upheld by a figure with unmistakably black characteristics, to the bones of Negroid persons excavated from a 2,000-year-old mound in northern Wisconsin, a wealth of material exists to establish the certainty of non-white, non-Indian population living in pre-Columbian America along with these other groups. Many Mound Builders were huge; their ancient skeletons were often 7 to 8 feet. The only other living people on Earth this tall are another group of blacks, the Massai of Afrika.

Many details are available in Return of the Ancient Ones, a book by the Empress of the Washitaw, Verdiacee 'Tiari' Washitaw-Turner Goston El-Bey. She is the Empress and Head of the present-day Washitaw Nation in Louisiana, which is recognized by the United Nations. The earliest people in the Americas were people of the Negritic African Race, who entered the Americas by way of the Bering Straight. About 30,000 years ago a worldwide maritime undertaking included journeys from the Sahara towards the Indian Ocean and the Pacific and from West Africa across the Atlantic Ocean towards the Americas. According to the Gladwin Thesis, (<http://RaceandHistory.com>) this ancient journey occurred; particularly about 75,000 years ago and included so called Black Pygmies, Black Negritic peoples and black Australoids like the Aboriginal black people of Australia and parts of Asia, including India.

Because of Euro-American propaganda, whites feel they are a majority worldwide. The US Government has classified Hispanics as Caucasian, even though there were three-quarters more African slaves taken to the Caribbean and South America in the second arrival to the so-called "New World" than to the United States. The Hispanic population was not officially counted in the USA until 1980. Ninety percent (90%) checked the box "white" in the last US Census.

The US has classified people from the Middle East and Northern Africa – including Ethiopians as Caucasian. The US has classified American Indians as Caucasian. The US has classified Jews as Caucasian. The US has classified Bangladeshi, Pakistani, Afghanistan, and Asian Indians as Caucasian even though a large percentage of the population uses Fair and Lovely Skin Bleaching Cream—a multi-million-dollar industry in the foregoing countries mentioned. The US has classified Polynesians, Hawaiians and Australian Aborigines Caucasian. Psychological white slip-ups emerge globally by Caucasian anthropologists. It is a continual survival measure to avoid being eradicated—or reclassified!

Mostafa Hefny (Egyptian) sued the US Federal government in March 1997, through US District Court in Detroit, Michigan, to have his racial classification changed from White to Black. He is specifically taking aim at the Federal Office of Management and Budget (OMB) that sets racial categories for federal recordkeeping. The following is a letter Mr. Hefny received to change his racial classification to “White,” or face repercussions.

Dear Mr. Hefny:

Be advised that the Michigan Department of Education collects racial and ethnic data as prescribed in Directive No. 15, “Race and Ethnic Standards for Federal Statistics and Administrative Reporting.” This directive provides standard classification for recordkeeping, collection, and presentations of data on race and ethnicity in Federal program administrative reporting and statistical activities.

According to this Directive a white person is a person having origins in any of the original peoples of Europe, North Africa, or the Middle East. Since you come from Egypt (a North African and Middle Eastern country) you are white, not black.

You are directed to change your classification on the Race/Ethnic Identification Card. Be advised that failure to do so will have serious repercussions for your career, and will constitute insubordination, which may result in suspension and discharge.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Teresa D. Myers
Director, Human Resources

In 1977, the OMB implemented Directive No. 15, which defines immigrants from North Africa as white, while immigrants from other parts of the continent have been classified as Black. Hefny looks like any other Black American (black/brown skin-frizzy/curly hair) and cannot understand the concept of being classified as white since he has been black his entire life. He blamed the US government for using the concept "White" as an honor badge for North Africans.

A study by the University of Chicago found Arab populations, including Palestinians, Jordanians, Syrians, Iraqis, and Bedouin carried sub-Saharan African genes. The proximity of the Arabian Peninsula to the Black African nations was the explanation. Yemenite Arabs have 35 percent black African genes in their mtDNA. In Encyclopedias published during the 1970's the Yemen population are classified as "mulattos." Arabs who have Arab ancestors stretching beyond the last 1,400 years - are 35% Black African in their mtDNA from the Arabian Peninsula.

According to several other studies, Palestinians and Jews are genetically closer to each other than either is to the Arabs of Arabia or to Europeans. A study of congenital deafness identified an allele limited to Palestinian and Jews of Ashkenazi origin (those who lived in Europe in recent centuries), suggesting a common origin. Furthermore, Y-chromosome polymorphism is very similar among Palestinians and Sephardic Jews.

The 8 percenters continue to use psychological and biological assimilation maneuvers towards the dominant to instigate the "Mother of all Campaigns" and combat their very own extinction. They are using a racially cleansing detergent to wash the Negroid out of Negroid or by white for white.

I have written about reclassification of global Negroid stock in previous books. Universally, Caucasians have used the stratagem for centuries to purge the blackness factor. Racial cleansing procedures have taken place in Africa, Spain, Italy, the Middle East, Australia, South America, the Oceanic Islands and the Caribbean Islands. The same thing has taken place in Mexico.

In the final analysis: "Mexico's Missing Blacks," include hieroglyphics, linguistics and sculptures that have turned out to be typically African. The strict laws prohibiting interracial marriage were enforced in the United States, even though it was okay for the Master to bastardize his slaves. In Mexico, the practice of miscegenation resulted in a rigid caste system based on color and in turn upon the ideology of white racial superiority. Those with the darkest complexions remained at the bottom of the socioeconomic pyramid. Social status, therefore, came to depend upon how "Caucasians" once appeared.

Many Blacks have been able to effectively disappear into the larger "near white" societies of Latin America. The practice of color castes is often thought to have developed from the unique experiences of race mixing in the "New World." However, the practice of classifying populations by color and mixture was also practiced in Spain and Portugal after the Invasion of the Moors (AD 711). The Moors were African of Ethiopic and Berber origin.

More than 10% of the Mexican population once looked markedly more African. The nearly complete absorption of Mexico's identifiably African people offers an intriguing contrast to the persistence of a rather distinct Black race in the United States. At least 200,000 slaves were imported into Mexico from Africa. By 1810, African members of the population accounted for more than 10% of the population. Don't forget the Olmecs (1000 BC) or the Moors who invaded Spain. The Moors ended up in Mexico too. That is how mankind in North America, Mexico, and South America probably got to be a shade of brown in the first place.

Mexican music, for example, has deep roots in West Africa. "La Bamba," the famous Mexican folk song that was given a rock beat by Ritchie Valens and a classic interpretation by Los Lobos, has been traced back to the Bamba district of Angola. What's especially ironic about Mexico's "racial amnesia"—a term coined by African-American historian Ted Vincent—is that during Mexico's first century of independence, more than a few of its most famous leaders were visibly part black.

Nevertheless, the official ideology of Mexico has been that the Mexicans are simply a "mestizo" people—a mixture of Spaniards and Indians—officially referred to as "La Raza" or "The Race." Since 1928, Mexico has celebrated October 12 as "The Day of The Race." On October 12, 1946, Mexican politician José Vasconcelos famously declared Mestizos to be "The Cosmic Race."

The Mexican populace's African "third root" is occasionally honored, but Mexican officials have generally ignored it. University of Minnesota demographer Robert McCaa wrote, "Afro-Mexicans, who numbered one-half million in 1810, more or less vanished, thoroughly intermingled and unidentifiable by 1895 if the official discourse is accepted at face value."

African-Mexican communities on the Gulf of Mexico near Vera Cruz exist today. Heavily Black-skinned people live in villages on the Costa Chica on the Pacific, although the residents tend to see themselves as simply Mexicans with dark skin. One confusing factor is that Mexico imported slaves from across the Pacific, including some African-looking New Guineans and Negritos from the Philippines and Hawaii – the ancient Sea People.

Inter-marriage continued steadily until African genes had widely diffused into the population. Yet, there is a definite sense in which societies construct their own genetic makeup. America's color line and "One Drop" Rule have kept the genes of Black Africans relatively isolated. In contrast, Mexico's color continuum and openness to interracial marriage have spread them so widely there are few conspicuously African looking Mexicans left. They are obviously brown with Negroid features.

The Euro-American community is no longer homogeneously White as you have been led to believe. Society as we know it should be titled White Mythology. Scientists find themselves in a quandary and must be weary after c-r-e-a-t-i-n-g daily visionaries of whites by whites for media display. The United States, Canada, Europe, and Australia are still predominantly White, a legacy from their squatters. Those parts of the globe provide a nostalgic longing by whites for a white homogeneous global world – for whites by whites.

Keep that in mind, and you will know why scientists and anthropologists feel the urgent need to create a white global identity within the heterogeneous black and brown planet Earth. Euro-American physical anthropologists are reclassifying, racially cleansing and then recapturing Caucasian through artificial means. Imagined is artificial. Don't be brainwashed.

The Federal Office of Management and Budget (OMB) defined the whiteness factor in the US. Universally, Caucasians have used the stratagem for centuries to purge “The Blackness Factor.” Astonishment is the word to ponder after coming face-to-face with coal black Singhalese and Dravidians from Pakistan, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka only to find out that they have been classified Caucasian.

Racial cleansing has taken place in Africa, Spain, Italy, the Middle East, Australia, South America, the Oceanic Islands and the Caribbean Islands. According to the Population Reference Bureau in Nigeria childbirth rates equal 6.3 per female. The rate is 4.5 times higher than the combined European nations of Russia, Denmark, Germany, Hungary and Austria. Caucasian females worldwide have childbirth rates of less than two percent (2%) per female.

Physical anthropologists profess the following: The frequency of Hbs genes in a geographic area is a continuous variation, and those who carry the Hb Gene resist malaria; therefore, Africans, Greeks, Spaniards, and Middle Easterners are the SAME RACE.

White Global Identity Scene 101: It has come to the basic citation of Population Reference Bureau Statistics. It’s so elementary even anthropologists seem dazed from the shock of having to present daily visionaries of White people for media display. Overlapping gene pools have created a non-white reality. People of color live every day within the realization of being categorized as inconvenient counter-examples of America and Europe’s central doctrines – trigger-happy – shoot to kill policies. Whites overreact and target people who do not look the way they look because they live in a world of psychological isolation and are confused and terrified when more than one or 2 people of color are in a room with them. The “lily white” world is closing in on them because the global mirrors show a brown reality.

We are in a struggle against the recessive white gene pool before it is completely wiped away. Read books written by Cheikh Anta Diop, JA Rogers, Ivan Van Sertima and Chancellor Williams to find about the erroneous information, beliefs, and fallacies of Caucasian History. The color of history has changed. Physical anthropologists are busy reclassifying global black/brown people to make one big "Caucasian Cluster." Steadfast is the key. Lookout! One day we will wake up to be classified as White Negroes!!!

Wars are not won on the battlefield. Wars are won in the minds of the people. (Unknown)

References

- "Australians, Melanesians and Sub-Saharan Africans," National Academy of Sciences, Dec 2005.
- Kirschbaum, Eric, "Are Germans an endangered species," 23 Jan 2006.
- Orwell, George., 1984, New York: Signet, 1981.
- Sailer, Steve, "Analysis: Mexico's Missing Blacks," From the Washington Politics & Policy Desk - Published 8 May 2002.

Storobin, David, Esq., "Palestinian Genes Show Arab, Jewish, European and Black-African Ancestry," Global Population, 16 Dec 2004.

CHAPTER 2

CHANGING THE COLOR OF HISTORY

Eight percent refers to the European (Scandinavian/ Slavic/ Nordic) White Race whose numbers have fallen from 30% 100 years ago to its present meager status of 8%. Do a quick examination for yourself. Go to the Population Reference Bureau Website and add the figures together. Take the numbers given for Europe, North America and Australia, divide by the numbers given for Africa, Asia, South America and Oceania and calculate a rough percentage. By 2050 the percentages will be between 6 – 8%. Europe’s population is declining. Keep in mind: Many people with African Ancestry live in Europe, North America and Australia. People of color dominate the global regions.

The following countries show a minus (-) not a plus (+) next to population figures: Italy, Portugal, Greece, Croatia, Ukraine, Russia, Slovakia, Romania, Poland, Hungary, Czech Republic, Bulgaria, Germany and Belgium. Biological Homogeneity presents a quandary for anthropologists who are categorizing the races of mankind to advertently minimize the dominant gene. Anthropologists have made it an opinion felony to think the recessives of Europe are vanishing. Remember, race is no longer a relevant term.

This book will convey to you the contrived steps leading to a “white man camouflaged majority,” even though white remains the global dinky. How many times do you hear yourself being labeled “minority group member?” It will unravel the mind-set touting a majority Caucasian world. With all the efforts being made to eliminate people of color physically and mentally, it reverses itself out. Tackle the central big lie here and now. Self-censor your ancestral thought status and halt the mind contradictions loaded with false facts. The biggest propagated WHITE MAJORITY lie ever told today has been deactivated. You are a victim of European History.

The color of history has been changed. As Europeans entered Africa to become slave catchers and colonialists, they realized historical proof was already sitting in the living room. Archeological artifacts were destroyed and hidden to contaminate the evidence of Negroid origins. No matter what shade of Black skin surrounds the body, if the mind-set can be changed to believe the psychological makeup is white, then black skin cycles white. Americans have become victims of their own propaganda, or have they? The mindset remains at a status quo position so the world continues to believe in a mentally seized majority White? Remember, if a man thinks it, so is he! We are hypnotized to mimic rather than argue the evidence and deactivate the perception of a fragment claiming the whole. Black folks have been taught slavery is freedom.

The following is double-dealing at its best. Do you believe the people of New Orleans were ignored for a week after Hurricane Katrina because of color, social class, or just plain neglect? Were you lobotomized enough to believe our Washington leaders? They said the lack of response to people trapped in New Orleans was not a race issue? Just five months before Hurricane Katrina's punch a different situation unraveled before America. President Bush dashed from his Texas ranch in the middle of the night still clothed in pajamas. The US saw him in swift pursuit to get on Air Force #1, fly to Washington DC, and sign legislation forcing doctors to reinsert Terri Schiavo's feeding tube. Bush made the statement that he appreciated the actions of those in Congress who were working to defend life. Did he realize "Feed-tube Woman" had been declared brain-dead 15 years before?

The US Senate Majority Leader said: "The Senate and the House remain dedicated to saving Terri Schiavo's life."

While discussions over possible legislative remedies continued, the Senate and the House acted to keep Schiavo alive. Bush said, "Removal of the tube would be an act of barbarism." Lawyers from the US House of Representatives went to Florida and delivered subpoenas to several individuals involved in the controversial case. Which situation do you believe was more momentous—New Orleans or the Schiavo Case? Apparently, President Bush's jolt during the wee hours of the morning proved to America the brain dead "Feed-tube Woman's" case far out weighed saving 700,000 people.

The Government's lack of preparation and inadequate response to Hurricane Katrina is a prime example of the Washington Administration's effectiveness with security measures. It shows this country's non-preparedness and a lack of response to dying people. Remember, it had nothing to do with race. Have you been brainwashed to the point of believing the explanations? Ignorance is strength. According to the explanations, black leaders, not the media "injected" race into the crisis when it wasn't a racial situation in the first place. It took other countries 24 hours to get food and supplies to New Orleans. How come it took a week for the president of the US to get there?

President Bush called on Congress to appropriate $60 billion in emergency relief for the victims of Katrina, and at the same time outlined a recovery program of $1.6 trillion for the Iraq War. Enough money was spent on the Iraq War to shore up Social Security benefits for 75 years. Bush's solution: Privatize Social Security because the fund is broke—yeah after taking money from Social Security to fund the Iraq War. He turned around and called on America to "erase this legacy of racism" exposed by those abandoned in Katrina's wake. "Katrina was a failure of initiative and leadership" and exposed the enormous level of social inequality in the United States. Even Africans were shocked to find they lived in better conditions than many black Americans.

Even after it was clear New Orleans would suffer massive flooding, the Federal government did not respond, leaving thousands of residents trapped in their homes or in the squalid conditions of the Superdome and Convention Center. More than 24 hours after the hurricane hit, Bush said, “New Orleans dodged a bullet” as water, continued to rise, engulfing thousands of homes. Not until two days after the hurricane hit was there a federal order to evacuate the city.

During the Bush administration’s time in office, there were three catastrophes of historic proportions leading to the deaths of thousands of people: the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001; the invasion of Iraq based on the false claims of weapons capable of causing global mass destruction (2003); and Hurricane Katrina (2005) (“Congressional report condemns government response to Hurricane Katrina,” Joe Kay 14 Feb 2006 wsws.org).

Will the US go the way of Rome and cease to exist because of pretend religious stances and governmental policies lamenting, “Caucasians in-charge?” Look from left to right! The major US economic policy relies on the “dependency of war” to maintain employment. There is continual withering of once great cities, deterioration of infrastructures, mass layoffs as US manufacturing and trade as jobs go offshore to India, Mexico, and China – 3,000,000 at last count, loss of citizen unity, in-fighting of people at the top of the government and costly wars the US economy cannot sustain.

When Europeans landed on the American Continent and butchered most of the indigenous natives – bleeding them like stuck hogs, while putting the remainder in reservation prison camps. America assembled itself along side Europe as COLONIALISM swept the world. Its pilgrim pillage policies are still in place and have been adopted and implemented by the US Founders and/or Dixiecrats who have been running the US Government for the past 100 years.

The target of this book is to encompass impartiality. All authors live in a catalogued world labeled “communication and words.” The following printed words have evolved from published conversations. African History is snubbed while European Christian Theology, history and anthropology are accredited as factual published dialogue ranked in FIRST PLACE, even though African History has a prior 6,000 beginning point. Researched discoveries are now being summoned to the forefront because the Author’s objective is to vouch for authenticity. Euro-American History is based on imagery and other counterfeit concepts that are bogus and counterfeit.

The average person does not express aloud the way he really feels and as a rule does not question the global color hierarchy because he has no conscious clue. American birthright ordains Caucasians as illusory idols, whereas, people of color have been taught the “Rejection Disconnection” and ingest the indignities of bondage. Mentioning slavery singles out the person with black ethnicity and places him in a shanty on the back 40. Servitude in the form of slavery automatically separated the “American Birthright” into mainstream and outcast. Proof: The need for Civil Rights Legislation corroborates the existence of inequality. Civil Rights Legislation guides African-Americans to put on the boxing gloves and “kick ass” to be considered part of the whole.

The Whore of Christianity – the Roman Church ran a diversion game on mankind. Everything from recorded history, Biblical inserts, Biblical characters, history books, maps, race classification, linguistics, constitutions, and mental perspectives project CAUCASIAN CONCEPTS which is the very foundation of Euro-America’s existence and ruling power. The enslavement of black Africans for their conversion to Christianity and for acquisition in the labor market as chattel property was done in God's name by the Roman Church, but we isn't slaves anymore!

When we fall into the degradation of wanting to be arranged alongside whites, it is merely a ploy by the WHITE-MORE auxiliary. Slavery is freedom. The desire to be accepted by white America stems from a psyche—inbred. Aspiring to live in a white neighborhood, attend a white suburban school, marry white, acknowledge the mixture Caucasian blood, and play stool pigeon roles to separate inherited ethnicity “thy black-self” from the “rest of the crew” measure up to indictment of fellow black race members. Our commonality is color regardless of hue. It amounts to a lack of self-dignity. White remains the mirage to purity and cleanliness; next to Godliness—the “All American Concept.”

America still lives under the mask of the “Slave Codes.” During slavery, it was against the law for slaves to learn how to read. The result: reading at the palpitation of a “White Standardized System.” Education forces the standardized educational system to perpetrate impermissible blacks into a tailor-made pattern fitting “Enlightened Euro Wisdom” that is absorbed into the cerebral brain matter. White mimicry is the BIG AMERICAN payoff. American History books start with the exploration of Christopher Columbus, Tudor England, the founding of Virginia and New England, the Emerging American Mind, Independence, Federalists versus Republicans, the courageous white Pilgrims and the first Thanksgiving. There is no mention of American Natives who fought against Euro-American Colonialism. Red Cloud, Little Big Man and Sitting Bull were in military resistance against the American settlers but have been shelved and neglected. American History books mention “Slavery History” leading the reader to believe that black servitude shaped the nucleus of African American History. African American History recorded in US History textbooks amounts to “Slavery History.”

Good examples of curricula taught in the American Public School System are the philosophies of classical English and American writers—Julius Caesar, William Shakespeare, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson. All are part of the white educational infrastructure crammed down the throats of school-aged children. Since historical truth is not a part of the standardized system of education, it is safe to say that the PSYCHO-SOCIAL TREATMENT in American Education for people of color is “black-omission” turned inside out creating the “self-hatred psyche” seen currently. Mind control typically has reinforced the European Colonial Policies. We have a generation of young black scholars who amaze the world by mouthing the doctrines and viewpoints of their white teachers. White mimicry is the payoff—UNIFORMITY.

Here there were internal wars when the State Governments of Illinois and Michigan seized Both Chicago and Detroit Public Schools. The school systems were perfect examples of a continuous crusade by the Governors to control the largest Black maintained state school payrolls in the mid 1990’s. The Governor of Michigan unseated the “publicly elected” Detroit Board of Education and put in its place a “Reform Board.” Officials argued this was in direct violation of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The Michigan State Board of Education maintained provisions for intervening in districts with financial or educational deficiencies. There was a change in the distribution of power among officials, a change “which has no direct relation to, or impact, on voting;” and therefore, no implications under the Voting Rights Act. In Florida, Georgia, Ohio, and Texas blatant moves were made that purged blacks from voting rolls.

In Detroit, Public Act 10 transferred all powers and duties of an 11-member school Board (seven elected from districts and four elected at-large) to a Reform Board comprising seven (7) members, six (6) were appointed by the Mayor of the City for four-year terms (staggered initially), without consent or approval of the City Council, plus the State Superintendent as seventh member for the first five years. The Mayor designated a chairperson of the Reform Board from among its members. Members served at the will of the Mayor. It wasn't until 10 years later when Detroit was able to elect its own Board of Education. Under the guise of "Reform" the Governor broke up the Detroit School System with the intent to put every child in a charter school. He was triumphant. Thousands of students fled the system, and thousands of Detroit employees were laid off. The same thing happened when the media ran several "bash black Detroit" related media series. People fled the city in search of whiter suburbs. Detroit remains the poorest city in the Nation. In 50 years Detroit has lost half of its population with 33.6 percent of its residents living at or below the federal poverty line.

In place of the traditional Detroit Public School System there are now several cheaper run charter schools with inadequate facilities and uncertified teachers. Charter schools do not have to meet the same standards as traditional public schools for passing the standardized state MEAP test. After giving the charters five years to "come up to" or "meet" the same competencies as traditional public schools, if the charters don't make the grade, they simply close their doors and reopen under a new name. This was done to privatize and break up the majority black school system in Detroit. As the ying yang continues in the City, "freedom of choice for parents," is echoed on radio and television commercials. Black parents were once again duped into believing charters provided a better education for their children because they had the chance to remove their child from the "black school system and place them in an academy." People are still impressed by titles. The word academy suggests "conservatory" or "private" school.

In Michigan, anybody can open a charter school. Very few students enrolled in Detroit Metropolitan area charter schools pass the "State Standardized Test (M-STEP)." Most of the charter schoolteachers are not teacher certified. Charter schools can obtain "emergency certification" for people who are not certified. Charter schools do not pay into the State Teacher Retirement System. Charter teacher salaries are low and turnover enormous, but millions of dollars are saved by the State annually. The underlying goal is to get "like" students and teachers together under one roof. The rudimentary aim is to have African-American schools, Spanish schools, Arab schools and white schools, like it was before Brown vs. Board of Education (1954). Michigan will then have plural school systems under ONE title, "Michigan Public Education."

"Fight them over there so we don't have to fight them here." The wars elsewhere amounted to world power organizations looking the other way when racial cleansing takes place in America just as it does when racial cleansing takes place in Africa. The United Nations Assistance Mission for Rwanda pulled out of the country at the height of the massacre and left defenseless women and children as "the hostages of the killers." The United Nations proclaimed they could not send soldiers to die without a good reason. Why didn't the UN consider the people of Rwanda to be part of a humanity they are bound to protect? The same stance abounded in the US when Hurricane Katrina hit. During the Kosovo Crisis, just at the turn of the millennium, Jesse Jackson obtained the freedom of three American Prisoners of War. President William Clinton and Congress were upset with him because he interfered with "the world peace allegiance." Black men can travel worldwide with acceptance. White men cannot travel globally without fear of danger to their lives – they are outnumbered. Oh, those 8 percenters!

Kosovo is the size of Connecticut, but the US and NATO could not beat Kosovo into submission. The media ensured and reinforced its audience the masses of Albanian refugees were real (white) faces – not numbers being tortured daily through ethnic cleansing. Example: the media never humanized the African story in Rwanda or Sierra Leone. The difference between how the media and the Clinton WHITE House treated Rwanda and Sierra Leona versus Kosovo presented a mocking question. The National news programs (Dixiespeak) siphon US foreign policy measures on intervention into so-called “humanitarian subjective.” NATO and the US are positioned in a Global Cop position. Psychologically, the Big-Bad WHITE House is the Global Gubernator.

In the mid 1990’s, 300 people in Rwanda were killed every hour for 100 days. Between 500,000 and one million died in the space of only three months. Yet the response from the US and the United Nations did not help prevent the massacre of hundreds of thousands of Tutsis and Hutus. Rwanda was at the Colonial hand of the Belgians who helped lay the foundation for ethnic hatred between the Tutsis and Hutus. The Belgium government favored one group over another because of looks. One group was taller and lighter, and the other group was short, squatty, and darker. The Tutsis were considered elite because of color. Therefore, their rule was extended under Colonial Regime.

One of the biggest problems confronting the USA is immigration. As Mexicans cross the border into the US, they have already been classified as “Hispanic white.” It seems perplexing since many the people crossing the border are darker than US citizens who are African Americans. In 1810, Mexico’s Census showed 10% of the population was considered “Afro-Mexican.” Beware of studies like this. What about the Spanish who invaded Mexico in the 1500’s? In the year 711, armies of Moors invaded southern Spain from Africa. Christian and African Muslim elements were carried to New Spain (Mexico) and eventually to New Mexico in 1519.

What about the Indians/Aboriginals who were already in Mexico? Mende Script was discovered on some of the ancient Olmec monuments of Mexico and identical to the script used by the Mende people of West Africa and the Sahara today. The oral history of the Washitaw People cites seafaring between the Americas and Africa. The ancient Washitaw were “black mound builders” and original inhabitants of the Mississippi Valley Region, the former Louisiana Territories and parts of the Southern United States (Barton, Paul, Black Civilizations of Ancient America (MUU-LAN, Mexico, XI).

And then there are people like Tiger Woods who has been brainwashed to say he is part “Thai” labeling himself “Caublinasian.” He was praised for fighting the “One Drop Rule.” Apparently, he like most Americans, do not know that Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, Malaysia, The Philippines, and other island nations were peopled by the indigenous Negrito Pygmies. It is important to know history. Become aware of articles titled: How White Are Blacks? How Black Are Whites (mix-up to slip-up)? Right now, white is being defined with varying degrees of skin color. People who were once classified “colored” because of Negro ancestry. These same non-white people are being classified as Caucasian globally.

Trapped in the “white race” 8%-pod Americans are oblivious to what’s happening in the world outside their own isolated neighborhood. White Americanism – or “our way of life” struggles against the faceless hordes of Muslim savages parading across Continents to destroy the world through the coined term of “terrorism.” Most white Americans function daily in a dazed and confused state. The US and Europe have made it a “Global badge of honor” to be just like them! Jump on the bandwagon to become “white like us,” they say--class-collaboration. There is an American obsession with “white benevolence” through US opinionated imaginary.

“Race” is a social construct erected by Europeans. Phenotype itself is real, and physical appearance is a reality. Four hundred years ago there were noticeable polar extremes of people—black and white. Today the agglomeration is less noticeable. One hundred years ago the agglomeration was titled “Colored.” Today the agglomeration has been assigned to stand on a corner while Europeans who erected the term in the first place determine what constitutes “race.” I guess Charles Darwin’s “Survival of the Fittest Theory” is coming to light. What group has turned out to be the “super?”

His-Story is the lie agreed upon. (Napoleon Bonaparte)

CHAPTER 3

WHITE WORLD DIVISION AGAINST ITSELF

In 1914 the world was 32 percent white, and the rest of the world was “colored.” Whites were considered the slowest breeders in 1914. A hundred years later, less than 2 percent of white women are of breeding age. Currently, all European countries are below replacement levels for white children. World War I (1914) was primarily a struggle between white people who bore the brunt of the conflict and suffered most of the losses. Nine million white (9,000,000) people died.

To understand the present, it is important to study the past. The following passages were written in the early 1900’s. There is an interesting spin on world population and demographics. History truly repeats itself or is it a CONTINUATION? The following three statements stand out in a book written by Lothrop Stoddard, who is considered a scientific racist. He is quoted frequently by the “White Stormfront Website.” Anything that can be explained scientifically by Caucasians holds big water.

The Rising Tide of Color Against White World-Supremacy (1920) presents a view of the world situation pertaining to races of mankind. It focuses on the coming population explosion among “Colored” people of the world, and the way in which “white world-supremacy” was lessened after World War I and the collapse of colonialism. The book utilizes the following positions:

- ◆ 32% of the Global world was white in 1914. The global population was 1,700,000,000. Of these 550,000,000 were white, while 1,150,000,000 were colored. The great bulk of the white race was concentrated in the European continent. In 1914, the population of Europe was approximately 450,000,000. That means only 10,000,000 whites lived outside of Europe.

- ◆ Four-fifths of the entire white race was concentrated on less than one-fifth of the white world's territorial area (Europe), while the remaining one-fifth of the race (some 110,000,000), were scattered to the ends of the Earth. It was supposed 100 years ago that the white race had to protect four-fifths of the white territorial heritage against the pressure of colored races eleven times its numerical strength.
- ◆ Whites were the slowest breeders. In 1914 France reached the extreme of a stationary population. Today all European nations are at a minus or below replenishing levels.

Regions under non-white governance were small in 1914. In eastern Asia, China, Japan, and Siam; in western Asia, Turkey, Afghanistan, and Persia; in Africa, Abyssinia, and Liberia; and in the Americas the minute state of Haiti accounted for the brief list of lands under non-white rule. In other words, of the 53,000,000 square miles that (excluding the Polar Regions) constitute the land area of the globe, only 6,000,000 square miles had non-white governments, and nearly two-thirds of this relatively modest remainder was represented by China and its dependencies.

Since 1914 the world has been shuddered by World War I that was primarily a struggle between white people who bore the brunt of the conflict and suffered most of the losses. Nine million white (9,000,000) people died. One of the war's results was a further whittling down of the areas standing outside white political control. Turkey was an Anglo-French Condominium. Persia was virtually a protectorate of the British Empire, while the United States has thrown over the endemic anarchy of Haiti the aegis of the Pax Americana. Study of the political map of that era would lead one to conclude that white world-predominance is absolute since the war's ordeal has still further broadened the territorial basis of its authority.

West-central Asia in the dawn of history was predominantly white man's country. Today it is racially a brown man's land in which white blood survives only as vestigial traces of vanishing significance. This portion of Asia, the former seat of mighty white empires and possibly the very homeland of the white race itself, has entirely changed its ethnic character.

The respective areas of these two racially contrasted worlds are 22,000,000 square miles for whites and 31,000,000 square miles for the "Colored Races." Furthermore, it must be remembered that one-third of the white area (notably Australasia and Siberia) is very thinly inhabited and is thus held by a very slender racial tenure—the only tenure which counts in the long run.

World War I caused an absolute decrease of many millions of white souls. Nevertheless, the basic fact remains that some four-fifths of the entire white race is concentrated on less than one-fifth of the white world's territorial area (Europe), while the remaining one-fifth of the race (some 110,000,000), scattered to the ends of the Earth, must protect four-fifths of the white territorial heritage against the pressure of "Colored Races" eleven times its numerical strength.

The 1,150,000,000 come from the colored world. They are divided, as already stated, into four primary categories: yellows, browns, blacks, and reds. The yellows are the most numerous of the colored races, numbering over 500,000,000. Their habitat is eastern Asia. As numerous and much more widespread than the yellows, are the browns numbering 450,000,000. The browns spread in a broad belt from the Pacific Ocean westward across southern Asia and northern Africa to the Atlantic Ocean.

Blacks totaled about 150,000,000. Their center is Africa south of the Sahara Desert, but besides the African continent there are vestigial black traces across southern Asia to the Pacific and strong black outposts in the Americas. Least numerous of the colored race-stocks are the reds-the "Indians" of the western hemisphere who muster a total of less than 40,000,000. The reds are almost all located south of the Rio Grande in "Latin America."

Such is the ethnic make-up of that world of color outnumbered the white world two to one. It is a formidable ratio, and its significance is heightened by the fact that this ratio seems destined to shift still further in favor of color. There is no doubt the colored races are increasing much faster than white. Treating the primary race-stocks as units, it would appear whites tend to double in eighty years, yellows and browns in sixty years, blacks in forty years.

On the other hand, none of the "colored races" show perceptible signs of declining birth rate. All tend to breed up to the limits of available subsistence. Such checks as now limit the increase of colored populations are wholly external, like famine, disease, and tribal warfare. But by a curious irony of fate, the white man has long been busy removing these checks to colored multiplication. The greater part of the colored world is today under white political control. There was the consequence of a portentous increase of population in nearly every portion of the colored world under white political sway. In fact, even those colored countries that have maintained their independence, such as China and Japan, are adopting the white man's life-conserving methods and are experiencing the same accelerated increase of population.

The colored world, long restive under white political domination, is being welded by the most fundamental of instincts, the instinct of self-preservation, into a common solidarity of feeling against the dominant white man, and in the fire of a common purpose internecine differences tend, for the time at least, to be burned away.

The bitter resentment of white predominance and exclusiveness awakened in many colored beasts is typified by the following lines penned by a brown man—a British-educated Afghan, shortly before World War I. He predicted a coming struggle between Asia against Europe and America. You are heaping up material for a Jihad, a Pan-Islam, a Pan-Asia Holy War, a gigantic day of reckoning, an invasion of a new Attila and Tamerlane who will use rifles and bullets, instead of lances and spears. You are deaf to the voice of reason and fairness, and so you must be taught with the whirring swish of the sword when it is red (Achmet, Abdullah, “Seen Through Mohammedan Spectacles,” FORUM, October 1914).

World War I started. The white world was tearing itself to pieces. White solidarity was raven and shattered. And fear of white power and respect for white civilization together dropped away like garments outworn. Through the bazaars of Asia ran the sibilant whisper: “The East will see the West to bed!”

The chorus of mingled exultation, hates, and scorn sounded from every portion of the colored world. Chinese scholars, Japanese professors, Hindu pundits, Turkish journalists, and Afro-American editors, one and all voiced drastic criticisms of white civilization and hailed the war as a well-merited Nemesis on white arrogance and greed. This is how the Constantinople TANINE, the most serious Turkish newspaper, characterized the European Powers: “They would not look at the evils in their own countries or elsewhere, but interfered at the slightest incident in our borders; every day they would gnaw at some part of our rights and our sovereignty; they would perform vivisection on our quivering flesh and cut off great pieces of it. Whites, with a forcibly controlled spirit of rebellion in their hearts and with clinched but powerless fists, silent and depressed, will murmur as the fire burns within (Quoted from THE LITERARY DIGEST, October 24, 1914, p. 784.).

The Afro-American author, WE Burghardt Dubois, wrote of the colored world: "These nations and races, composing as they do a clear majority of humanity, are going to endure this treatment just as long as they must and not a moment longer. Then they are going to fight, and the War of the Color Line will outdo in savage inhumanity any war this world has yet seen. For colored folk have much to remember and they will not forget" (WE Burghardt Dubois "The African Roots of War," ATLANTIC MONTHLY, May 1915).

Had the white race and civilization been spared the terrific material and moral losses involved in WW I, the process of racial readjustment would have been far more gradual and fought with far fewer disastrous possibilities. The coming modification of the world's racial equilibrium was so graduated that it seemed more an evolution than a revolution. Such violent breaches occurred and like a general race-cataclysm would be almost impossible.

The heart of the white world was divided against itself, and on the fateful 1st of August 1914, the white race, forgetting ties of blood and culture, heedless of the growing pressure of the colored world without, locked in a battle to the death. An ominous cycle opened whose end no man can foresee so says Lothrop Stoddard.

The foregoing statements were made 100 years ago. Today, Homo (man) Occidentals from the European or Western Hemisphere are being threatened as a biological identity. Fertility rates are well below replacement levels in Europe and the United States. Cries ring out from my country tis a fee sweet land of liberty to control population growth in countries outside of Europe and North America because of the ominous Western disappearance through infertility situation. Sperm counts have dropped by almost a third in 10 years according to the Associated Press in 2004.

LONDON (AFP) - Male sperm counts have fallen by almost a third since 1989. A survey of 7,500 men who attended the Aberdeen Fertility Centre in northern Scotland between 1989 and 2002 brought with them alarming findings. Analysis of sperm samples showed men with what is considered a "normal" concentration of sperm defined as over 20 million sperm per milliliter of semen. The average sperm count fell by 29 percent. There has been an increase in men seeking treatment for male infertility, but whether this is due to a significant increase in this condition, or men are more aware of new techniques that have been developed to help them.

Blonde Hair People are Disappearing and will be extinct in 200 Years. (There is still Clairol Hair Coloring.) New research suggests that people with blonde hair will be completely extinct in 200 years. Blonde hair occurs only in people from northern Europe. The gene that causes blonde hair color must be on both sides of the family, and according to the World Health Organization, there is now too few people who carry it. Professor Jonathan Rees from Edinburgh University is leading a two-year study into the genetics of blondes. Scientists say blondes will survive longest in Scandinavia where they are most concentrated, and they predict the last one alive will be from Finland.

The West is under-reproducing and is incontrovertible. Fertility rates are historically low and below replacement levels, looking much like what economists call a "low equilibrium trap." Cultural mechanisms that ensure the survival of a group are more fragile than anyone at present seems to realize. Once they are shattered, they cannot be replaced with cash subsidies for child bearing or better day care facilities, or banning abortion and the distribution of contraceptives.

The West Germans and Danes, brought out in previously, have total fertility rates (approaching 1.3, where 2.1 children per woman will ultimately be required to keep the population from shrinking). Indeed, many of the North European nations are already shrinking absolutely - notably, the West Germans, the Swedes, the North Italians, and the Danes. In the United States, the Northeast exhibits North-European-style Total Fertility Rates, and the TFRs of Connecticut and Massachusetts approach the lowest national TFRs so far observed, i.e., those of Denmark and West Germany.

There is the passing of the Caucasoid – those of Nordic or Northwest European origins. Michael Bradley opens his book on the Caucasoid problem (The Iceman Inheritance, Warner Books, 1981) like this: Let's see if we can better understand the preceding paragraph. Even if abortion and contraceptives were banned in Europe and the US, the white birth rate would remain below replacement levels. Starting with the new millennium, the US gives a tax credit for all children under the age of one. With that in mind, I ran across an article that appeared in the (Ritter, Malcolm, Detroit News, Oct 30, 2000, "Y chromosome under scope," 4A). "The work on the DNA sequence of the Y chromosome should help researchers learn about causes of male infertility because it will help them identify genes that men need to make sperm." We know they are talking about WHITE men.

Chromosomes make genes and gene families and genes help make sperm – a key to the disappearance of the Caucasian gene. Scurrying and scampering like albino rats to schematically study the "Y" and save the white gene swim tank is the hottest Caucasian Recipe for making white babies.

Johann Friedrich Blumenbach invented the title "Caucasian" in 1795 in the third edition of his – On the Natural Variety of Mankind. He took the name Caucasian from Mount Caucasus. It was in that region he presumed was the original forms of mankind. So, does “Caucasian” currently refer exclusively to people who are from the Caucasus? White today means people of European descent. Is that a misnomer? Regions and countries that are predominantly white, or of mainly European ancestry or Western culture, include Europe, Russia, the US, Canada, Argentina, Uruguay, Australia and New Zealand.

The reason the Caucasus had such an attraction to Blumenbach and other contemporaries of the 18th and 19th centuries were because of its proximity to Mount Ararat, where according to Biblical legend, Noah’s Ark eventually landed after the Deluge. Blumenbach believed the original humans were light-skinned Caucasians who had retained whiteness as a constant. Darkness of skin was a sign of change from the original. The concept of Caucasian Race and its stated or implied superiority over other races was often used as a moral excuse for colonialism by Western European countries. He republished the text for general distribution in 1776.

Outside of the United States people with undiscernible African admixture are considered “white,” while those of slight African appearance are often called “colored” or mixed race—a blanket term for people of multiple racial heritage. In Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Brazil, even those of clearly visible partial African ancestry are considered or consider themselves “white.” In Latin America, the color situation is approached from the other end of the scale: A single drop of European blood is seen to inevitably whiten a person with discernible African heritage so that he is not immutably black. By contrast in Europe and Australia, Middle Easterners and North Africans are never regarded or categorized as white. Instead, they are regarded as racial minorities.

Africans are descendants of Noah through Ham, whose sons were Cush (Ethiopia-Nubia), Misraim (Kemet or ancient Egypt), Phut (Somalia) and Canaan (Palestine). The sons of Cush, according to the biblical account settled in Western Asia. The so-called Middle East, bounded east by the eastern branch of the Euphrates and the Persian Gulf, south by Arabia, or the Arabian Sea, west by the Red Sea and Egypt, and north by Canaan and Syria and in Africa itself. Egyptians and the Ethiopians were confederated in the same government and were the same people in politics, literature and peculiarities.

The portion of the Earth which was first peopled, after Adam and Eve left Paradise, was the Land of Ethiopia, on the River Gihon going out of the Garden of Eden, "which compasses the whole land (or country) of Ethiopia," 4003 years before Christ. The children of Ethiopia were from Adam to Noah and through Noah's progeny (James W. C. Pennington, A Textbook of the Origin and History, etc. of the Colored People Hartford, CT: L. Skinner, Printer, 1841; reprint Detroit: Negro History Press).

Americans have been lead to believe that Black History started with slavery in the Americas. Instead of Black History dating back to the origin of man, it has become African-American History or a "full-blown" fascinating tale of dancing and singing happy people in cotton fields. During the 1950's and 1960's revered elders were given the first and last name "boy." Black mothers and grandmothers held the title "gal." The schematic titles specified segments in breeding the black "hate thyself psychic" brainteaser. The puzzle pieces have produced self-satisfied, brainwashed disciples who's a$$es are being served on silver platters in the Benzos, Lexus-is-us, and Hummers who wind up behind metal bars.

Citation of a Sub-human - The Case of Ota Benga: First Strategy, Classify them as subhuman. In 1906, the crowds assembled around the monkey house exhibit at the Bronx Zoo (New York Zoological Park). Here were man's “evolutionary ancestors” - monkeys, chimpanzees, a gorilla named Dinah, an orangutan named Dohung and an African pygmy tribesman named Ota Benga. Ota Benga was brought from the Belgian Congo in 1904 by African explorer Samuel Verner, along with other pygmies and displayed in an exhibit in the 1904 St. Louis World’s Fair. Benga was born in 1881, had a height of 4’ 11” and weighed 103 lbs. After the St. Louis exhibit, Ota found himself at the Bronx Zoo under the direction of Dr. William T. Hornaday. He believed animals had nearly human thoughts and personalities, and he could read the thoughts of zoo animals. He “apparently saw no difference between a wild beast and the little black man.” (Jerry Bergman, Creation Ex Nihilo, Vol. 16, No 1 Dec 1993-Feb 1994 p 49, quoting Carl Sifakis, “Benga, Ota: The Zoo Man”, in American Eccentrics, Facts on File, New York, 1984, p. 253). The exhibit was immensely popular and controversial. The black community was outraged. Some churchmen feared that it would convince people of Darwin’s Theory of Evolution. Hornaday had Ota Benga leave his cage and circulate around the zoo in a white suit, but he returned to the monkey house to sleep (Creation Ex Nihilo, quoting Phillip V. Bradford & Harvey Blume, “Ota Benga: The Pygmy in the Zoo,” St. Martins, 1992, p. 269, “New York Times” Sep 18, 1906).

Look at the cases of Amadou Diallo and Rodney King. Diallo was shot 41 times by the NYPD – “Make Sure the Nigga is Dead Scenario.” King was blamed for the Los Angeles Riots i.e. the “Rodney King Uprising.” The hunt, capture and kill philosophy is on target as the white hunters, capturers, and murders were found – not guilty! As the new Millennium rolled around, whites no longer use the belittling titles “boy” and “gal.” We are gettin’ busy calling ourselves “b!+(h-a$$ hoes.” The lyrics have been reinforced to brainwash youth into feeling they are the “Cool-A$$” scum of the Earth – a title to be reckoned with.

Decode the Caucasian Theory behind Black Race Theorizing. Euro-Americans live with the deception that they are a majority worldwide; yet make up only 8 percent of the global population—your baby’s data. White Nationalist groups are in fear of annihilation. Go to the Aryan Nation’s Website and read warnings about the future of the white race being in the wombs of 2 percent of its childbearing age of white females. Globally, the white race risks “genetic color elimination.” Apply what you’ve learned about dominant and recessive genes in Tenth Grade Biology. While Europe has less than a 2 percent birthrate per annum, Caucasoid—8 percenters are presenting the world with a slight-of-hand act “statistical numbers of non-truth.” The statistical maximizing multiplies the dwindling white race numbers.

Psychologically implanted into the minds of an unsuspecting world populous is the idea or maturation of many white races. Whites are divided into racial categories—German White Race, English White Race, French White Race, Russian White Race, etc. While the Counterfeit Caucasian Connection is being communicated, authors like Cheikh Anta Diop, JA Rogers, Ivan Van Sertima and Chancellor Williams have researched the demolition of Black Civilization. By switching and substituting African names with European names of people and things during antiquity, black Hamites, Cushite’s, Hebrews, and Canaanites are no longer black Africans. The titles are forthwith full-blown Caucasian character references. African History became the history of Arabs (a reclassified race with Negroid ancestry) and Europeans—not the history of Africans.

Read Diop’s and William’s researched proof of European civilization being a derivation of African achievement. Diop has proved the lack of archeological Caucasian specimens from antiquity. Our modern written history is a segmented/fragmented version of chronicles about Caucasian human beings who lived on Earth for thousands of years before they learned to record their thoughts in writing. African people are what every man must have been like before he learned to read and write, domesticate animals, cultivate crops and use metal tools. African History is an abandoned/thrown-out footer to research publications.

When people think of the word antiquity, their first thoughts are of the Bible and Garden of Eden. The early books of the Bible weren't fully edited until after 7th Century BC from ancient Hebrew (Negroid) texts. There is no exact portion of biblical text dated earlier than 3rd Century BC. Ancient Hebrew (Negroid) texts were used to write the Christian Bible. Recorded in the "Universal European Legislature" are the "religious" and "scientific" doctrines written for appeasement of the white (inner voice) conscience justifying the "White-First Theory" and the "Get Blackward Theory" of origin and knowledge. The theories are universally embedded in the global psyche. With good reason, Caucasian Theory can be equated to a pristine privy – outhouse.

Caucasian archeologists refuse to give a valid explanation of why blacks are disseminated all over the world outside of black Africa. The answer to every historical proof of worldwide black faces is always "slavery." The Arabs had slaves. The Egyptians had slaves. Spain took slaves to Mexico when it was invaded. The origin of the ancient sea people is mysterious. The Encyclopedias say: "The Sea People were probably part of a great migration of displaced people." Slavery must be the culprit and perpetrator of the African Diaspora. There are probably more arguments to diffuse the appearance of African masks, stone tablets and other artifacts in Mexico and the Americas than to prove the existence of artifacts as far north as Canada. In Illinois at Burrows Cave alone there were 7,000 stone tablets found from Senegal, Egypt, Morocco and Algeria dating 2000 years ago.

Christopher Columbus told the King of Portugal, "We should use the secret trade route Africans have been using since 1310 to travel to the new world." Large populations of blacks can be found in Southern China, Mexico, Formosa, Australia, Malay Peninsula, India, and Indo-China. Caucasian scientists refuse to explain the Negroid finds in early Europe. According to white scientists, the indigenous "black in color" people of India and Oceania have "no known origin."

According to JA Rogers, antiquity illustrates that recorded history was Negroid until Europeans emerged and began to extend themselves into the broader world of Africa and Asia during the 15th and 16th Centuries. It is probably like characters in the Bible who remained black (African) until Rome invaded Egypt in 300 BC.

Europe colonized black and brown mankind and conveniently rewrote history to show that Europeans were the only creators of "civilization." The events took place 700 years before the "fallacious Caucasian discovery" of America. Europeans referred to African Kings as Chiefs to avoid making them equal to European Kings. The Chiefs could trace their lineage back thousands of years when Rome was nowhere to be seen on the map. Sixteen centuries passed before Charlemagne ruled in Europe and Egbert became the first King of England. Seven hundred years still had to pass before the news rang out over the world of the discovery of America. Menalik II "King of Kings," "Lion of Judah" (1923) can be traced to King Solomon in the Bible whose ancestor was Abraham the father of all Jews and its descendent JESUS.

The congressmen controlling Washington DC are descendants of slave-powered cotton plantations. The pro-slavery states of the 1850's conform exactly to the pro-Bush states after the last US Election. America is as polarized as it was during the Civil War 150 years ago. The Bible was used to promote Dixiecrat prejudicial thinking. The Catholic Church used certain Bible texts to justify slavery and represents the genesis of racism. In 1457, the Council of Cardinals met in Holland and sanctioned, as a righteous and progressive idea, the enslavement of black Africans for converting them to Christianity and for acquisition in the labor market as chattel property.

Nations that win the wars write the history books. Caucasoid humans have changed the origin of civilization. They iterate: We have dabbled in racial engineering. We have been successful in wiping out mass numbers of indigenous people. We have classified and reclassified people into different races. We have been successful in changing religious philosophies to meet the needs of the Caucasian Race. We are busy in our scientific labs trying to clone people with blue eyes, blonde hair and white skin. We have instituted biological germ warfare to produce AIDS and wipe out a massive number of blacks globally. Assuredly, and by far the harder fate to us all which may amount to our very own extinction is the feeling that man thinks he can overcome Nature. In the last analysis, we only mock Nature because we are at the point of extinction.

Key Terms, Opening, Chapters 1, 2, 3

AAA 3, 15	Brown vs. Board of Education (1954) 35
Adam & Eve 48	Brown, Michael 30
ALU 3	Burrows Cave 52
Ashkenazi Jews 21	Bush, George W. 28, 29
Battle of the Pyramids 15, 16	Caesar, Julius 33
Benga, Ota 49	Civil War 53
Blumenbach, Johann Friedrich 47	Clinton, William Jefferson 34, 36
Bonaparte, Napoleon 16	Columbus, Christopher 18, 33,
Bradley, Michael 46	52

- Constantinople 43
 Cortes 8
 Council of Cardinals 53
 Darwin, Charles 38, 49
 Diallo, Amadou 49
 Diop, Cheika Anta 15, 16, 17, 25, 50, 51
 Dixiecrats 31, 53
 Dubois, WE, Jonathan 44
 Egbert 52, 53
Fair & Lovely Cream 19
 FEMA 30
 Garden of Eden 48, 51
 Hefny, Mostafa 19, 20, 21
 Hornaday, William 49, 50
 Human Genome Project 14
 Hurricane Katrina 28, 29, 30, 36
 Hutus 36, 37
Iceman Inheritance (The) 46
 Iraq War 29, 30
 Jackson, Jessie 36
 Jefferson, Thomas 33
 Jihad 43
Journal Nature Genetics 16
 King Solomon 52, 53
 King, Rodney 49, 50
 Kosovo Crisis 36
 Lion of Judah 52, 53
 Sickle Cell 11
 Sitting Bull 33
 Slave Codes 32, 33
 Stoddard, Lothrop 39, 44
 Tutsis 36, 37
 Valens, Ritchie 23
 VanSertima, Ivan 15, 16, 17, 25, 50, 51
 Vasconcelos, Jose 23
 Venter, J. Craig 14
 Verner, Samuel 49
 Vincent, Ted 23
 Voting Rights Act (1965) 34
 Washington, George 33
 Washitaw-Muurs 18, 37
 Little Big Man 33
 Massai 18
 McCaa, Robert 23
 Mende Script 37
 Menalik 52, 53
 Moors 8, 22
 Mound Builders 18, 37
 Mount Ararat 47
Natural Variety of Mankind 47
 Negrito 23
 Noah's Ark 47
 Office of Management & Budget (OMB) 5, 20, 21, 22, 23
 Olmec 17, 18, 22, 23, 37
 One-Drop Rule 7, 37
 Paleo-Indians 17
 Pangea 17
 Phut 48, 49
 Pygmies 18
 Red Cloud 33
 Rees, Jonathan 45
 Rogers, JA 15, 16, 17, 25, 50, 51, 52
 Satel, Sally 14
 Schiavo, Terri 28, 29
 Sea People 23, 51, 52
 Sephardic Jews 21
 Shakespeare, William 33

Welsing, Frances Cress 15
Williams, Chancellor 25, 50, 51
WWI 39, 40, 41, 43, 44
Woods, Tiger 37
Y chromosome 46

CHAPTER 4

PRODUCERS OF THE PSYCHOLOGICAL WHITE DOMINANCE CENTER

The issue of skin color is a serious matter among black folk. Skin bleaching is still alive and well and has spread into Africa and India. Nothing can compensate for the self-hatred prevalence from people who bleach their skin. The Fair & Lovely line of cosmetics has become a $250 million industry in India. “Angel Food Attitudes” are taught by the media utilizing television, radio and the Internet. Media has the wherewithal to compel its positive Angel Food and to impose its Devil’s Food dehumanized points-of-view to the world. The never-ending Angel Food accent is the predictable outcome. Media produces a psychoanalytical setting to coerce a Brainwashing Persuasion Program. The Angel Food Program is etched directly on the psyche of Americans. Euro-American objectivity laterals are the combat pilots. The world exists through media-mastermind signifiers using the science of signified signs.

Semiological Analysis (the science of signs) is a media analysis technique concerned primarily with how meaning is generated in “tests” (films, television, and other forms of media). It contracts media signs, how the signs function, and the “language” created by the signs. The analysis technique bargains with the signifier (communicator) and the signified (target). Media signifiers can besiege citizens with mind control messages expressing mainstream Angel Food ad hoc attitudes and behaviors. It occurs when television programs portray mostly white actors and news anchors. Psychological Operations convey and/or deny selected information used as indicators to its audiences. It influences emotions, motives and objective reasoning.

Fracturing of the human psyche occurs from the onset. Alienation from the mainstream transpires when Devils' Food and Marble bodies are grouped and labeled. Psychological Operations propagandize minds. Music is a universal language, and a good example to show how things are grouped and labeled. You can call it breaking up the Ghetto Culture of Defiance (Rap Music), or promotion of High Idealized American Religious Standards – Battle Hymn of the Republic – fire and brimstone. Magnificent media-perpetrated Angel Food aesthetic characters have appended its psychological operations.

The fracturing has caused urban versus suburban thinkers exemplifying white-without-exception and black-left-out. The outcome generates conflicting white/black segments that prove to be a Psychological Subliminal Combat Operation. In most cases, it causes love-white, hate-thy-black self-concept. Everybody wants to be associated with white any way he can, whether pseudo or otherwise. There are millions of “Mocking White Man Symbolizers” – Tiger (Negrito) Woods, Paula Abdul and Michael Jackson who reject black ethnicity for the selection of white authenticity.

The Coercive Persuasion Program uses behavioral change technology to cause the learning and adoption of a set of behaviors and ideologies – the white lie. The techniques of environmental and interpersonal manipulation suppress attitudes and train behaviors. Over time coercive persuasion is MORE effective than pain, torture, physical force and legal threats. The black psyche in this country started its process of alteration 400 years ago when slavery was legalized. Strategy #1: the “White Coercive Lobotomy” and the “Psychological Dominance Center” was designed by Euro-America.

The individual is prepared for thought reform through increased suggestibility. Lengthened audio, visual, verbal, or tactile fixation drills laying straight up on top of another body in piled high feces and streaming yellow-brown urine; excessive exact repetition of routine activities—laying in the outdoor toilet for 40 days and nights; decreased sleep and nutritional restriction plus “kicking that black ass,” were a few of the alteration tactics used by slavers.

Frantically, black bodies were caught up in The Middle Passage. “Brand that Nigger for identification, put him in leg irons, and beat his ass until he gets in the stall.” “The slaver is a ‘tight packer,’” but we will ‘dance you Niggras.’” “Don’t think about escape or suicide.” “If you survive the scurvy, flux and small-pox, you’ll be ‘Black Ivory’ in the new world.”

Name-calling (Nigger/Niggras) can be considered Step One in propaganda techniques and has played powerful roles in the history of the world and in individual “black” degradation and decline. Name-calling has ruined reputations but again has stirred men and women to outstanding accomplishments, sent others to prison cells, and made men mad enough to enter battlefields and slaughter fellowmen. Name-calling has been and is applied to people, groups, gangs, tribes, colleges, political parties, neighborhoods, different states and sections of the country, nations and races (Institute for Propaganda Analysis, 1938).

The name-calling technique (code words) links a person, or idea to an American transpired negative symbol: Black, Colored, Negro and Nigger. The propagandist uses the technique hoping the audience will reject the person or the idea based on the negative symbol after looking at the ingrained negative evidence made available by him—the signifier.

Black men, women and children were separated from families and restrained in chains. They endured beatings and murder, totally on the receiving end of the hunt, the capture and the kill. Human beings were placed on slave ships and brought to the Americas to be sold into slavery. The tactics worked. The human beings who left Africa as Kings, Queens and Knights became beasts of the field in America. The schemes were defined and upheld by the US Constitution and enforced by law. Black women were deemed heads-of-households. That is where matriarchal-baby producer originated. Black men were stripped and deprived of their manhood and consecrated to a "learned helplessness" state of mind.

Efforts were made to establish considerable control over a person's social environment, time, and sources of social support. Social isolation was promoted. Contact with family and friends were abandoned. The slave was nurtured so that he depended on the Master for mere economic means.

The forerunner to forcible persuasion and brainwashing was easy to achieve through slave ship imprisonment. Currently there is a correlation between the Slave Ship of 400 years ago and the current "Ghetto Jailer Battleship." The Slaver still stipulates the stockade. Both methods use the "beat down system" and "bias law system" for incarceration purposes. Currently, the "black List" penal institutions provide the same slave ship replica compartments. Black men enter the institutions at the tune of 35 percent for drug possession, 55 percent of all convictions and 74 percent of prison sentences because of an inequality of Federal sentencing rules for drug policies (Freedman, 35).

In the US, human qualities of black men, women and babies were reduced to beasts of the field. Language, traditions and cultural traits were wiped away. Probably most devastating was the lawful commonality of denying a birth name. The slave child was listed as part of the livestock—first name only. Group identity was abolished, history destroyed and isolation induced. What kind of psychological degeneration developed (Thomas, 1+)?

Each slave state had Slave Codes designed to keep slaves ignorant and in fear of white power. Example: Apartheid was condemned in South Africa by America and the rest of the world but a glance over the shoulder shows that Apartheid is staunchly laden right here in the US of A. The “White Lie:” slaves had to carry passes, and Africans ruled by the infamous Apartheid in South Africa had to carry passes. The passes are becoming much like racial profiling in the US: “Driving While Black.”

Slaves were forbidden to assemble in groups of more than five or seven while away from their home plantation. They were forbidden to leave plantations without passes. They were not allowed to marry, could not blow horns, beat drums or read books. Slaves were forbidden to hold religious meetings without white witnesses. Black children were nurtured and molded to become matriarchal baby producers and career slaves. Other provisions forbid slaves to raise their hands against whites and give every white person police power over all blacks—free or slave. If a white person challenged a free black man, he was obliged to produce papers proving his freedom.

This staunchly entrenched thought reform is best understood as a coordinated system of graduated persuasive influence and behavior. Blacks have been taught to hate their own ethnicity. The control was also designed for white people to also hate black ethnicity. Deception and manipulation are continuously used to influence global citizens, both black and white, to deny an African origin of civilization.

The public will not accept researched proof that all races evolved from black. One proof that comes to mind is the direct tracing of the Neanderthal to Bushmen of Africa. The proof has been researched, recorded, and documented. Euro-Americans have no idea of the documented proof, and those who are aware of the proof have filed the information away in a racial closet just like the quarter of the US population who have black ethnicity and now are passing for white/evolved white.

The essential strategy used by those operating such programs is to systematically select sequence and coordinate numerous persuasion tactics over continuous periods of time. The “whitewashed” coercive persuasion program used by the US Founding Fathers, the framers of the US Constitution, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison and Alexander Hamilton has been quite effective. Intense humiliation, loss of privilege, social isolation, social status changes, intense guilt, anxiety, manipulation and other techniques for creating strong aversive emotional arousals are examples of non-physical punishments used to abolish group identity.

One way to abolish group identity in a political system is to set an agenda. Example: American History is based on myths. Textbooks make references to the primitive man as Caucasian; Jews and Jesus Christ as Caucasian. Christopher Columbus discovered America. Napoleon Bonaparte conquered the world. The US won the Vietnamese War, and Martin Luther King, Jr. and the “Black Power Movement” were nothing more than Communist movements.

The American Aboriginal believes Christopher Columbus and Adolf Hitler are synonymous – flip the script synchronization of thinking. People who have their native-born structure broken down are agents for White Supremacy! African American minds have been psychoanalyzed to the point of making sure certain thought patterns, actions, and feelings were created to synchronize with the American way. Black people are the BESTEST tools that white men have in their possession to destroy the “black balled” black community. Non-whites still have doubts and are misguided about their own abilities, identity, and cultural intolerance unless they have assimilated into the accepted “Pseudo White Identity” realm. Blacks imitate everybody but their own African American self. The white man made sure of that. He planted his seed while stealing black legacy and civilization.

Blacks have ended up responding to the structure defined by someone other than themselves. What you are is defined and/or given. It is defined in ritual. It is defined in interaction. If the Native American Society has been shattered and social control defined in cues. Tribal people will do whatever is most pleasurable to them under the circumstances.

Not only is there a white majority being professed globally by Euro-Americans, there is also a denial of the African origin of civilization. Whites will never accept researched proof that all races evolved from black. The proof has been researched, recorded and documented. Most Euro-Americans have no idea of the proof, and those who are aware of the proof have filed the information away in a refusal racial closet. One-fourth of the “so-called white” US population have black ethnicity but have crossed the color line to become authentically white.

Euro-American scientists are scurrying around in their scientific labs mixing up fertility drugs, experimenting with cloning and developing bacterial eugenics to keep the Caucasian color line mortal. Even the International Union of Anthropology and Ethnological Scientists have gotten into the act to re-classify black/brown people to make them

Caucasoid. Scientists declare there is no such thing as race. The strategy is entrenched and upheld by the US legal system. Certain secular psychological threats are used or are present: failure to adopt the approved attitude, belief, or consequent behavior still leads to severe punishment (e.g. physical or mental illness), (AIDS in the black community) drug dependence (Crack is being dumped for the “crack stars”), economic collapse (loss of jobs or no jobs), social failure and disintegration, etc.

Boyd Ed Graves, J.D. discovered the United States’ secret 1971 Special ‘AIDS’ Virus Flow Chart in 1999. Black and brown people have a gene called CCR5 Delta 32+. On the opposite end of the spectrum is CCR5 Delta 32-. The CCR5 Delta 32- is a mutation of the original CCR5 Delta 32+. The only people who have the Delta 32- gene are white people – Nordic Europeans. The 32- allele must be inherited from both parents to be immune from the test tube created HIV and AIDS. The mutation does not have the required receptacles needed to “hold on” to the HIV and AIDS Disease. The gene furnishes credence to the HIV/AIDS Disease being racially designed to eliminate “people of color.”

About 10 percent of Europeans carry the CCR5 Delta 32- mutation. The incidence is only 2 percent in central Asia, and the mutation is completely absent among East Asians, Africans, and American Indians. THAT SHOULD TELL YOU SOMETHING. The HIV/AIDS enzyme is the product of many steps in the laboratory according to all scientific criteria in every independent ‘de novo’ review that has been conducted to date. Science history shows ‘Aryan obsession’ with development of ethnic biological weapons targeting people of Negroid descent. At present, it is unclear exactly when the genociders learned there was an exploitable difference within the blood of people with African Ancestry.

The American (Euro) scientists who created AIDS believed the Euro-American anthropology textbooks stating indigenous groups of people inhabiting all parts of the global world are Caucasian. The scientists, therefore, felt safe to develop a disease that would wipe out all people with Negroid Ancestry. Many of the indigenous people (now classified as white) are dying of AIDS because their "brown" skin contains the CCR5 Δ 32 gene. In effect, Caucasians have become victims of their own propaganda!!!

Shortly after the United States Congress appropriated money for offensive biological weapons to the CIA and US military in 1957, Negroid children on the Continent of Africa became afflicted with a "new" cancer (Burkitt's Lymphoma). In 2002, a new disease was killing African children that utilized the CCR5 Δ 32 positive genes or indigenous to all people of color. It became clear there was an obvious master plan to debilitate, incapacitate, eradicate and eliminate the populations of the world with African ancestry.

Some people do not get AIDS even if they are repeatedly exposed to the virus (HIV) responsible for this usually fatal disease. The people who are immune have inherited two copies of a rare mutant gene known as CCR5- Δ 32. They are homozygous. Those who are heterozygous apparently have a partial immunity or a delay in the onset of AIDS. Approximately 10 percent of Europeans now have the CCR5- Δ 32 gene variants, but it is extremely rare or absent in other populations of the world. Does that mean currently only 10 percent of all white people are Caucasian, and maybe the rest from mixed ancestry?

Abolishment of group identity is resolutely laden. If blacks/browns can't be eradicated physically by governmental biological test tube sickness, there is the mental segment. Being mentally sick will make you physically sick. There are mental weapons being used. Before 1986 there was no such thing as convicting a white person for committing a crime against a black person. Until 1986 lawyers routinely bounced prospective jurors purely based on race. The US Supreme Court ruled that blacks and members of other "cognizable groups" could not be preemptively purged (Close, 28). Because of the divergent experiences whites find police testimony credible, whereas, blacks may not.

In the 1994 State of California vs. Orental James Simpson, the jury of 9 blacks, 2 whites and 1 Hispanic were immediately accused of "jury nullification" ignoring the evidence to send a broader message. White America felt a surge of outrage and refused to accept the juries' findings. White America thought justice was "black magically mocked." The immediate response from the judicial system was to make it difficult for black juries to acquit black defendants. There was an immediate push for a California amendment allowing "non-majority" verdicts of 10-2, as well as new proposals that would limit "peremptory challenges" permitting lawyers to exclude jurors based on race (Close, 28).

White America could hardly wait to rewrite the ending. The civil trial would serve as pay back after the "not guilty" verdict was read in the criminal trial. Simpson would be made liable for compensatory damages of $8.5 million. A rational person asks: "How can he be held liable for a crime from which he has been acquitted?" Only in America can folks rewrite laws to fit the Caucasian Mode and back it up with the Constitution.

On February 4, 1997, the verdict for the Civil Trial was handed down. President William Clinton's "State of the Union" message started at 9 p.m. Eastern time. The President informed the stations he was not going to hold up his "State of the Union" message for a verdict in the Simpson trial. Clinton wouldn't "flip the script." National presidential precedence overshadowed "justice for just us." Clinton reminded America his State of the Union speech was a requirement by the Constitution. Peter Jennings of ABC News kept referring to a Presidential/Simpson network competition.

As the verdicts were read, a whoop of joy went up from the relatives of Nicole Simpson and Ronald Goldman. Fred Goldman commented: "We finally got justice for Ron and Nicole." "This is all we ever wanted." "We have it." "Thank God." Denise Brown commented: "This is justice." The fugitive slave had been captured. The newscasters kept saying: "Now that the case has been solved, we can get on with the business in America and hopefully the 'trial of the century will fade.'"

Continually and perpetually it becomes a crime for blacks to be suspicious of criminal law and the legal system even though one-third 1/3 of all black males between the ages of 20 - 29 in America are within the criminal justice system. In fact, the US penal system is much like slavery of the 1600 and 1700's. Slavery was viewed as a system of controlling and exploiting labor just as it is today where large companies use prison labor to build products at $1.15 an hour in so-called prison industries. "Prison life," offers a better existence than living on the "outside."

Crime provides incarceration-tooling benefits, which are twofold. The first provides a preventative pregnancy measure. There are fewer black men on the streets; thus, creating a decline in the black birth rate. The second is the realization of huge profits for conglomerates like Microsoft Corporation. The modus operandi keeps the American economy strong as prisons account for America's fourth largest growing industry.

Teenage pregnancies much like the Slave Era “Matriarchal System,” create a “Dependency on Welfare Mind-set.” It teaches “learned helplessness” to young black women so they retain and remain in a constructed state of being set forth by Willie Lynch’s forefathers who now represent the majority or the standard US population. Blacks are culturally dual citizens who can survive in all color sectors in the US. Blacks have accepted the key concepts of Western institutions – a continual situation to be “noosed-up.”

Johann Friedrich Blumenbach (1752-1840), a German anatomist and naturalist, was the originator of racial classifications. He named the Caucasian Race in 1795 after the mountain range that straddles Russia and Georgia, Mount Caucasus. He divided all humans into five groups defined by geography and appearance. His writings were done before Darwin’s Evolutionary Theory.

Blumenbach singled out the Caucasians as the group closest to the created ideal and then characterized all other groups by relative degrees of departure from his typical standard. He ended up with a system that places a single race at the pinnacle, and then envisioned two symmetrical lines of departure away from this ideal toward greater and greater degeneration – whites at the top (Angel Food) and Africans at the bottom (Devils’ Food).

Anthropology during the 15th - 18th Centuries is the forerunner of modern anthropology. Anthropologists wrote treatises/lengthy papers trying to explain the origin and distribution of races, languages, and cultures that were brought in the European consciousness by world exploration. By the 18th Century some philosophers viewed groups like the American Indians as living in a state of nature, uncorrupted by civilization, while another school viewed native peoples as the remnants of people who had fallen from a state of civilization into savagery.

Earlier anthropologists looked at the indigenous natives and asked questions different from those being asked today. Where did you come from and how are you related to Christian Cosmology? The answers were equivocal. Some held Natives were noble savages living outside the biblical fall of man, while others concluded that natives were renegades from higher civilizations. Scholars argued whether all races of mankind had had a single origin or multiple origins.

Programs identified with the above-listed strategies have in common the elements to greatly modify a person's self-concept, perceptions of reality, and interpersonal relations. When successful in inducing these changes, thought reform programs create the potential forces necessary for exercising undue influence over a person's independent decision-making ability. It has turned all people into deployable agents for the "White Convincing Psychological Dominance Center" benefit without the individual's knowledge or consent.

Forcible persuasion programs started 400 years ago and are deeply rooted from "sea to shinning sea." The Bible, US Constitution, American history books, and even the soils of grave yards are fortresses used to compel our forefathers as well as our families to the "Star Strangled Banner." Few of us realize that the psychological general practitioner has drilled hatred holes in our heads, so that "hate thyself" is impinged on the brain, and misrepresentation, denial and race theorizing shoot through our skulls like laser beams.

All of us have been lobotomized into an acceptance of a "White Man National Refinement Position" here on Earth. This acceptance has helped blacks justify the self-denial of black merit. Brain surgery is performed in a white sterile environment. The brain nerve fibers have been severed with incisions that P-R-O-D-U-C-E white humanized life where blacks are still “non-human.” Remember what happened in Iraq and Afghanistan. The sutures are an attempt to E-Q-U-A-L-I-Z-E white culture globally. The relationship between the person and the coercive persuasion tactics are DYNAMIC in that while the force of the pressures, rewards, and punishments brought to bear on the person are considerable. The tactics do not lead to a stable, meaningfully SELF-CHOSEN reorganization of beliefs or attitudes. Rather, it leads to a sort of coerced compliance and a situation-ally required elaborate rationalization for the new conduct.

To maintain the new attitudes, sustain the rationalization, and continue to unduly influence a person’s behavior over time, coercive tactics must be CONTINUOUSLY applied. A fiery, hell and damnation guilt-ridden sermon delivered by hypocritical religious right TBN televangelist ministers or several hours with a high-pressure salesman or other single so-called peaceful persuasions are sometimes the necessary orchestration of a SEQUENCED, CONTINUOUS, and carefully selected PROGRAM of surreptitious coercion. The world exists through media-mastermind signifiers using the science of signs.

It took 380 years for a coercive persuasion case to get the courts of law and be interpreted as compelling evidence of its own existence. In the United States vs. Lee 455 US 252, 257-258 (1982), the California Supreme Court found when a person is subjected to coercive persuasion without his knowledge or consent...He may develop serious and sometimes irreversible physical and psychiatric disorders, up to and including schizophrenia, self-mutilation, and suicide. Oh, my goodness gracious!!!

The Host Race has been able to get America to believe the most ludicrous things. Doesn’t anybody ever stop to challenge media reasoning, constitutional democracy and American politics, "Our National Think Tank?" If a lie is repeated enough, people will believe it, especially a big lie. Read the successive intellectual legitimacies with logical contradictions set up by America the Beautiful Establishment.

Situation 1: Misdemeanors Synonymous with Monica: (The Blow Job of the Century). The Republican Party tried to orchestrate the coup de tat' of the century. If the same thing happened in Cuba, India or China, reports would rain down on the global world as: "Overthrow! –Third World Government Attempted Ousting of Its Leadership."

Article I of the US Constitution, the Legislative Article gives the House of Representatives the sole power to impeach, and the Senate the sole power to try all impeachments. Impeachment language is very sparse in the US Constitution. A public official must be found guilty and convicted of Treason, Bribery or other High Crimes and Misdemeanors. Only one president, Andrew Johnson, was impeached in 1868, but the Senate failed by one vote to muster the two-thirds necessary to support the charges. Richard Nixon resigned on August 9, 1974; to avoid impeachment after the House Judiciary committee recommended three articles of impeachment against him.

Our founding fathers, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson, were the presidents who committed Authentic High Crimes and Misdemeanors. They reduced black slaves to the level of chattel on their plantations. The real perjury and obstruction of justice should have been for determining that African slaves were three-fifths of a human being (Three Fifths Compromise).

Eighty-four percent of all blacks supported Clinton. Could this be the real reason for the President's congressional demise? Clinton arouses hatred among the conservative Caucasian media like no other president before him not even the "hoe," John F. Kennedy or the "nefarious Richard Nixon.” Clinton gave blacks access to the presidency and the White House making many heavyweights uncomfortable. Vernon Jordan shared a high-profile friendship with the President and made other black faces personal secretaries—the gatekeepers—one of the most powerful public offices in the world. Clinton appointed a record number of blacks to his cabinet, federal agencies and staff. He took Africa seriously, embarking on a two-week tour to the Continent.

Situation 2: The cost to rebuild Iraq after the Iraq War was $2 trillion dollars. The war in Afghanistan cost Americans $900 Billion to REBUILD after NATO’s PEACEKEEPING (FARCE) Forces bombed bridges, homes, television stations, etc. Reader, do you understand? That is why Japan could surpass the US in manufacturing and steel the automobile industry for the past two decades. After World War II, Japan was rebuilt by the US with the latest technology while the US trucked along with aging manufacturing plants. Japan and now China and India continue to dump cars, steel and electronic devices. US citizens wonder why they no longer have the manufacturing jobs that were available 50 years ago.

Situation 3: Just before the turn of the century Amadou Diallo, a West African immigrant from Guinea was viciously gunned down to the deadly tune of 41 bullets. According to the medical examiners report, Diallo was hit 19 times in New York City. The four New York undercover police officers said they were looking for a serial rapist and wanted to question Diallo. It was reported when the police approached him, Diallo reached inside his pocket. That is when the police fired the 41 shots. Diallo had no weapon or prior criminal record. All they found were a beeper and keys. One year later the four police officers were found not guilty after the trial was moved to Albany, New York.

Situation 4: Rodney King Uprising - The acquittal of two white police officers caused the 1992 Los Angeles Riots. The press reported: "Look at what happens when black racism reacted to perceived white racism?" The riot was referred to as "The Rodney King Uprising." There is failure to see how this can be called the "Rodney King Uprising." King was laying flat on the ground with a bloody battered face and body. Did he rise or was he beaten down? Do you get it?

Situation 5: The bronze coffin that transported the body of President John F. Kennedy was secretly dropped into the Atlantic Ocean more than two years after his assassination to prevent it becoming an object of morbid curiosity. Kennedy was buried at Arlington National Cemetery in a mahogany coffin. There have been lingering questions about what happened to the silk-lined bronze casket seen in countless newsreels that brought the body of the slain president from Parkland Hospital in Dallas to Washington after he was assassinated November 22, 1963. A memo described how a National Archives official removed the padding and bored 42 half-inch holes in the metal casket. Three 80-pound bags of sand were placed inside to make sure it would sink.

Situation 6: Eligible for Massive Ravaging - Black children in Memphis, Tennessee, "eligible" for free vaccines under the Vaccines for Children (VFC) Program were being targeted for mandatory vaccination with the newly licensed high-potency pediatric hepatitis "A" vaccine. A group of Memphis parents, protesting the forced injection of black children without informed consent have filed a $500 million lawsuit against vaccine maker SmithKline Beecham.

In January 1996, SmithKline Beecham sent lobbyists to Tennessee. They persuaded state legislators to support the introduction of a bill in the State House mandating children be fully vaccinated against hepatitis "A" before being allowed to attend kindergarten or nursery school. In the bill an epidemic was defined as 50 cases per 100,000 people. SmithKline Beecham tried to get another "license" from the FDA to market high-potency hepatitis A vaccines for children between two and 18 years old.

The Memphis City School System sent out a memo to "selected principals" of 14 junior high and high schools in Shelby County stating: "The County Health Department has determined that the Hepatitis an Epidemic (which did not exist) has not been stemmed." In cooperation with the health department, "no student aged 17 or under, will be allowed to continue enrollment without documentation of receipt of the Hepatitis A shot." All but two of the targeted 14 schools contained most black students. In the two predominantly white schools, only those black students bused into those schools were required to get the vaccines.

Haiti has been an off-shore drug research laboratory for decades. Now 250,000,000 doses of the EZ Measles vaccine have been administered to what the US has titled "Third World" countries. What does "Third World" mean anyway? It is just another white code word/phrase. It takes from six months to three years for the children to die when death ensues from the vaccine.

Your Last Chance to be Pseudo White: The leaders of this nation who want to regroup are listening to "house niggas" who want to shed the titles "biracial" and "mixed," much like the titles of the slavery era, "quadroon" and "octoroon" and be referred to by the code word "multiracial." You have been charmed and/or hexed. Don't you realize the titles are the same titles blacks received during slavery? It is merely a ploy to categorize "house niggers" and "field niggas" akin to 400 years ago. In the end, you still won't be white. The only place where white color has any legitimacy is in the black neighborhood where psychological outlooks have been altered and the mind-set is lopsided. Master also means leader, teacher, and chief, God, Messiah and Supreme Being. Make your choice wisely not white – ingly. White means WITHOUT.

Black people are thought to be the Parasite Race. The farce situations expose awareness to the human Angel Food psyche. WEB Dubois once said, "Men of America, the problem is plain before you. Here is a race transplanted through the criminal foolishness of your fathers. Whether you like it or not the millions are here, and here they will remain. If you do not lift them up, they will pull you down." And I add: We have liberated ourselves through slavery!

References

- Amick, Marcus, "East African border conflict troubles families abroad." The Michigan Chronicle, June 16-22, 1999, p A-4.
- Belida, Alex. "Angola Crisis" (Correspondent Report #2-249078) Johannesburg: South Africa May 7, 1999.
- Bennett, Lerone Jr. Before the Mayflower: A History of Black America, Chicago: Johnson Publishing Co., Inc. 1982.
- Close, Ellis. "Shuffling the Race Cards," & "Will Race Taint the Jury Pool?" Newsweek, 17 Apr 1995 & 9 Oct 1995.
- Detroit Free Press* Free Press News Services (JFK bronze coffin dropped in sea) 2 Jun 1999, p A-4.
- Freedman, Samuel G. "Is the Drug War Racist?" Rolling Stone, 4 May 1998.
- DuBois, WEB, "The Talented Tenth," (Sep 1903)
- Gould Steven Jay, The Geometer of Race Discover November 1994, pages 65+
- Gorani, Hala & Quest, Richard. CNN, "Companies Battle to Rebuild Iraq," January 14, 2004.

- Griggs, Dr. R A, Burundi: A Forgotten War with Few Easy Solutions <http://www.webpro.co.za/clients/ipt/@iafrica.com>.
- Lifton, Robert Jay, et. al. Psychological Coercion (How Does Mind Control Work)? <http://www.factnet.org> March 23, 1988. Michigan Chronicle, "Color worship not just a foreign fad," 25-31 Aug 1999.
- The Final Call*. "The skin tone of self hate." Chicago Crusader, Chicago, Il 14 Aug 1999.
- Snap Weird News: Morgana's Observatory. "Medical Experiments Through Forced Inoculations," Ameritech.net 1997-98.

CHAPTER 5

INVISIBLE MEN

Fair and unfair may be referents to the topics covered in the following pages, but bygone events are being unfastened in straightforward language for clarity. The following words made into paragraphs are merely outcries of normalcy from every day occurrences in the US of A. Read between the lines and translate the code words.

Patterns of behavior are learned after bringing both positive and negative thought patterns into consciousness. What we perceive to be correct information acts as a catalyst for the human conscious. Most times people are unaware of erroneous information being provided in every day life situations even at the conscious level. Translate the code words. For centuries whites have used benign code words on the surface. Blacks are survivors of a dichotomy world and have always been able to “read between the lines.” The average American fails to see the “cancer” of the codes.

My objective is to present the matched and unmatched parallels that race melodramas play out in this country. Hopefully this book will provide insight to the reader after receiving his/her daily information dosage via the media. It must be noted that the media represents mainstream America. Therefore, normality represents the news, ideas, contents, and concepts generated by the old guard.

The long-time running big screen spectacle Oreo Cookie reversed out Vanilla Wafer is an academy winning full-length feature publicized in this country “twenty-four seven.” Performing black men turn slowly inside out symbolizing a cream filled albino. Their pigment disappears under the radiation of an invisible imp titled “E-Lite.” Gradually they might detect their transparency but continue stupidly to live in the big screen exhibition shining their E-Lites.

Observable behavior and the process of learning go together as we watch what naturally occurs in Euro-America. Ask yourself the following: white America refers to African Americans as black with no differentiation in skin color, while black America is obsessed with skin color. Why do we make the color comparisons – dark, brown-skinned, paper sack tan, redbone, fair, light and bright? What is good and bad hair? What are good and bad neighborhoods? Why do suburban-living blacks expel great pride? Why do black men lust after and covet white women, including the fat, lardy, homely, and low strata judging them to be dazzling and beautiful?

There is a boastful attitude in the black community when making the statements: “My Grandmother had that Indian hair.” “My Granddaddy was a white man?” Why do African American hair care companies make blonde hair dye? Some blacks still use the bleaching cream advertised not-so-long-ago in national African American magazines. Why do Negroid people wear blue/green contact eyes? Why is the urban population in the US a majority black? Why is there a lopsided black majority in US jails and prisons? For everyone (1) black male who attends college, there are 100 who end up in prison. Why is there a disproportionate white majority shown on television programs and in movies? Based on black/white population figures does “large corporate America” employ fewer blacks than whites? Why were the forgotten people who were left to die after Hurricane Katrina in New Orleans a majority black? Is the “Willie Lynch Syndrome” in play here?

At one time only black entertainers and professional athletes married white. Currently, there seems to be a white woman epidemic in America. The toplofty answer: Every thought and action is carried out for Caucasian E-Q-U-A-L-I-Z-A-T-I-O-N to shine never-endingly on harvest E-lites – up in the sky.

We use our eyes to gather information and translate it into a form that communicates with the brain. The brain produces visual perception from the incoming sensory information influenced by way or our memories. We simply see what is there. Some have lost the ability to distinguish between what is real and what is imagined. Specific patterns of behavior become evident after watching people in their natural habitat over a long period of time.

Example: In the past 400 years we have learned a “rapping-order” way of life. The Natural Order – whites killed blacks during slavery. “Nigga Hunting Season” was chosen randomly to humor the “Good Ole Boys” who were upstanding “God Fearing” townspeople. Blacks had better not kill whites; therefore, blacks were inadvertently taught to kill blacks. The guns are turned inward within black neighborhoods. Humans have the amazing ability to adapt to the demands of a totem pole hierarchy way of life.

Why do we cringe when slavery is being discussed? It is because the discussion of slavery is a discussion of race. Most black Americans do not want to be categorized as “black Americans” and fail to consciously realize that we remain “African Americans” among the Americans. Full blood, half blood, what’s the difference bellows American Natives! We’re still Indians. The difference is made when a white mother has black children and cannot psychologically accept what she has done. She inherently assumes her white birthright and proclaims to America that her children are not black.

“My children are many races” Mama White exclaims. Before Mama White yearned to be loved by a black man, her forefathers craved black women. Ask yourself the following question: “What is the urgency to legally recognize “multiracial ethnicity” and a “multiracial category” for the black gene when 73 percent of all blacks in America come from multiracial backgrounds?” The real reason for people being classified within a category that downplays Negroid stock is like “crossing the color line” to white – writ of habeas corpus by the US government. The term “multiracial” brings black ancestry closer to white. Will the “multiracial category” bring back one-quarter of the black population who has crossed the color line in the past 300 years to become white? I wouldn’t hold my breath in anticipation of the curly hair (Negroid stock) coming back to be “multiracial” black.

Have we lost the ability to distinguish between what is imagined and what is real? We see and hear stories of discrimination every day but do not want to be involved because “we aren’t like those other black people they talk about on the news.” Some how we have stepped out of our “psychological black selves” and no longer see black even though our commonality is color. We have evolved into mainstream white America accepting the “NATURAL order” disproportionate allotment for everything in life to which whites are continually given the first choice.

As an author, I know that using slavery, as the focal point for discussions is disturbing to both black/white Americans. America is sick and tired of the topic. The two-line snippet in US history books serves as a complete down play of issues concerning slavery and racial atrocities. “DON’T CALL ME A SLAVE!!!” We should be standing up tall to proclaim the mistreatment but instead fall back into a closet hoping that white America will not realize that our forefathers were “once black slaves.” I iterate the word “black” in this case. Whites weren’t slaves. They were indentured servants. Americans feel there were never atrocities committed against blacks. America will turn around and discuss the behooving issues surrounding the “Great Holocaust” of Jews and Gypsies. Evidence remains that both physical and psychological slavery exists in America. The US populous has come to accept the “black eminent domain” and salvage slavery charity.

Nazi Germany’s atrocities have been played to the theatrical hilt. The histrionic topic given to the brutalities committed against human kind during the 1930’s and 1940’s was the “Great Holocaust,” but “America’s Auschwitz” remains an existent entity. There continues to be human experimentation and deaths equated to people of color by Euro-America. The American Aboriginal equates Christopher Columbus to Adolf Hitler, but the US hasn’t embellished that "Hitler Concept." It still celebrates Columbus Day the second Monday of October.

Columbus thought he had reached the East Indies in his voyage across the Atlantic. Therefore, he named the Natives "Indians." The title is inappropriate but has never been changed. The ancient people who lived in the Americas were called "Anasazi" by the Caucasian media (Reader's Digest, 58). The indigenous people were speakers of Siouan or Algonkian (Micmac) Languages (Encyclopedia Britannica, 52). A more appropriate name for the Natives should have been Siouan or Algonkian not red men, redskins, or INGENS.

In 1492 Indigenous North, Central, and South American people amounted to 100 percent of the population. In the new millennium, they amount to less than 1 percent of the total. In the early 1900's the population of Indigenous people in North America had reached their lowest point. In the US alone this population had declined to some 800,000. In Canada, like the US, Indigenous people have been consigned to largely desolate land areas. The process of assimilation began through the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Residence, schools, and control of political and economic systems were the instruments used to criminalize Native cultures. Native people, like those in Canada, were viewed as obstacles to be crushed in the drive for economic profits.

In both America and Australia an American scholar asserts, smallpox-infected blankets were introduced to "exterminate disgusting indigenous people." Aborigine death in Australia was reduced by 25 percent, followed by "hunting propensities" of the settlers. Flour issued as rations to the Aborigines was poisoned. There was a massive indigenous population loss in central Australia between 1860 and 1895. Forty (40) per cent, of the Aborigine population, were (mostly) shot in what was euphemistically called “dispersal.”

A Native Police lieutenant, giving evidence in 1861, was asked what “dispersing” meant. “Firing at them,” was his reply, but “I gave strict orders not to shoot any “gins” (Aboriginal women). Another euphemism was that troopers were out shooting “kangaroos.” An early observer, EM Curr, writing in The Australian Race in 1886, concluded: “The white race seems destined, not to absorb, but to exterminate the blacks of Australia.”

The US profited from the colonization of the Americas and conducted lavish 500-year celebrations in honor of the “Discovery of the Americas” in 1992. Spain spent billions of dollars for celebrations in conjunction with Expo '92 in Seville. In Columbus, Ohio, a $100 million quincentennial celebration entertained several million tourists. The Association of South America’s Catholic Bishops organized a gathering to celebrate the “fifth century of the evangelization of the Americas” to be presided over by the Pope. There was a wide selection of museum exhibits, films, TV shows, books and many other products and activities focusing on Columbus and the “Discovery.” All presented one interpretation of the 500 years following 1492.

Are Columbus and Hitler synonymous in several ways? In remembrance of the “Great Holocaust,” there are dedicated museums, books and 7,000,000 sites and articles on the Internet to educate Euro-America of the great desolation suffered by Jews. There are many similarities to the carnage of Auschwitz and the tragedies linked to slavery in the Americas that have been ignored by historians or even accepted similarly as atrocities. Adolf Hitler ordered the extermination of Jews and Gypsies between the years of 1942-5. Before eradication the German Government used Jews to perform human medical and chemical research in Dachau. The end of World War II had deliberately killed six (6) million Jews by the Nazis, mostly in Auschwitz.

Hitler ordered the extermination of Jews because they were Negroid. The hematological research of Professor AE Mourant shows all Jews throughout the world, except for some small, semi-barbarous, and insignificant tribes of “converts” here and there, have an admixture of at least 10 percent Congoid (African) blood. The US has always been quick to say: “Jewish is not a race but a religion.” Masking the blackness is the real purpose. This is not a revolutionary concept discovered by Professor Mourant. Revolutionary seems to be the exception and acceptance of Euro-Americans. Just go back to Egypt and the 18th Dynasty. Abraham and Moses were born within this dynasty (The Genetics of Jews, Oxford, Clarendon Press, 1978).

The US is magnanimous, wise, and unconquerable. Americans were lead to believe in the 1950’s, 1960’s, and 1970’s the Nation was powerful enough to protect all free nations from Communist aggression on planet Earth. America still finds the need to prove itself psychologically as a global power. The battles and revolutions in which America has been engaged display an exact pattern. America has beat up and bullied small countries – some the size of Connecticut. The psychological ploys have always been for its citizens to see more when there was less.

In the 1960’s and 1970’s America helped lots of military coups throughout the world. Later, with Ronald Reagan and Bush Daddy, the Washington Consensus has been demolishing the bases of Global economies to make them more and more dependent. Now things have been made much worse. Now there is the Colombia Plan – the exchange of rain forest for pieces of external debt, abandonment of the position of third party in negotiations between IRA and England and between Palestinians and Israel. All those mistakes in US external politics made your country more hatred than before, and, of course, more vulnerable.

“Success feeds the appetite of aggression,” blurted Richard Nixon. Nixon visited Cuba in 1954 and praised competence of the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship, but the CIA overthrew the democratic government in Guatemala. Washington grew obsessed with the expropriation of American property in Cuba. The free world was confronted by a premeditated plan of Chinese expansion, and North Vietnam was the spearhead. With the militant aggression of Asian Communism at its headquarters in Peking, China, the US claimed a “threat to world peace” and the Vietnam War was declared.

In 1969 Nixon initiated secret B-52 raids over Cambodia. He said it was to “clean out major enemy sanctuaries.” The invasion of Cambodia set off the most widespread and intense college protests in American history. In 1970 soldiers in Vietnam were wearing peace symbols and refusing to go into combat. The use of marijuana was common, and 10 - 15 percent of the troops were addicted to heroin. “Fragging” – the use of fragmentation grenades to kill unpopular officers was a common occurrence. On May 4, 1970, four students were killed and 10 wounded by National guardsmen at Kent State University in Ohio as they protested the war.

In the Iran-Contra Affair of 1986 the US used covert action to change policies and regimes in other countries. Late in the century there was the Bosnian and Chechnya Wars. The Kosovo Crisis signified a “white lie” illustration that occurred just at the turn of the millennium. It serves as a good example of “white without exception.” A correspondent report (#2-249078) and UN officials in Angola reported an “extreme” humanitarian crisis far worse than the one in Kosovo.

Look at what happened in Bosnia. The US Government went to Bosnia to teach President Slobodan Milosevic a lesson. They bombed the country leaving thousands of people homeless and hundreds of dead. Alienation from the mainstream transpires when Devils’ Food and Marble bodies are grouped and labeled – Osama Bin Laden. Psychological Operations propagandize minds. America has promoted High Idealized American Religious Standards – GOD BLESS AMERICA! Magnificent media-perpetrated Angel Food aesthetic characters have appended its psychological operations.

The Afghanistan and Iraq Wars started by the Bush Administration have shattered the world economy with oil prices reaching an all time high level. Semiological Analysis (the science of signs) is a media analysis technique used all the time by Washington. The George W. Bush Administration spent $1.62 billion on public relations propaganda contracts over two and a half years. Most of the money was spent by the Defense Department to recruit soldiers for the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq. It contracts media signs – Arab Terrorists, how the signs function – Arab Terrorists, and the “language” created by the signs which all point to the Arab Terrorist. The analysis technique bargains with the signifier (communicator) and the signified (target). Media signifiers can besiege citizens with mind control messages expressing mainstream Angel Food ad hoc attitudes and behaviors all in the name of Jesus! Psychological Operations convey and/or deny selected information used as indicators to its audiences. It influences emotions, motives and objective reasoning.

1950’s to early 1970’s – INDOCHINA: During US military involvement in Laos and other parts of Indochina, Air America flew opium and heroin throughout the area. Many GI's in Vietnam became drug addicts. A laboratory built at CIA headquarters in Northern Laos was used to refine heroin. After a decade of American military intervention, Southeast Asia became the source of 70 percent of the world's illicit opium and the major supplier of raw materials for America's heroin market.

1966-68 Operation Guatemala: In Guatemala alone, 8,000 people were slaughtered by Guatemalan soldiers under the direction of US Green Beret advisors; US pilots flew US planes on bombing missions. Paramilitary groups/death squads hunted down "subversives" in collaboration with the government, military, multinationals, and landowners. The main targets of this campaign, dubbed were the Central American Mayan people (Native Central Americans).

1970's GI Heroin Epidemic: The CIA denies being part of the epidemic, but there is evidence to support the charge the agency had something to do with the GI drug addictions. The strongest evidence comes from the Vietnam War Era when the CIA turned a blind eye to President Nguyen Van Thieu – a South Vietnamese leader, who was up to his eyeballs in heroin trafficking that, hooked thousands of American black GIs.

1968 Agency for International Development (AID): Between 1968 and 1972, "funds earmarked for population programs through legislation and obligated by AID amounted to more that $250 million." The main thrust of population control was sterilization. South America received the largest percentage of funding with the distribution of educational material, birth control pills, IUDs, and other pharmaceuticals developed by a profitable gene and biotechnology industry. Between 1965 and 1971, an estimated 1 million women in Brazil had been sterilized.

The US government has passed laws for the humane treatment of laboratory animals, but the same laws have not protected human beings used for medical experimentation. The foregoing lists just a diminutive few of the better-known medical and chemical deceptions that were performed and are still being performed by the Euro-American scientific world including sterilization, injections with contagious diseases and biochemical drugs, unlicensed vaccines, and psychoactive chemicals and drugs much like the tactics of eradication used in Auschwitz. America's urban areas are much like the Nazi Dachau Concentration Camps: "Democracy's Dachau."

I'm an invisible man, and it placed me in a hole – or showed me the hole I was in, if you will – and I reluctantly accepted the fact. What else could I have done? Once you get used to it, reality is as irresistible as a club, and I was clubbed into the cellar before I caught the hint. That is a lesson for history. You carry part of your sickness within you as an invisible man. You try to place it in the outside world. It comes upon you like that strange disease and that affects those black men whom you see turning slowly from black to albino, their pigment disappearing as under the radiation of some cruel invisible ray. You go along for years knowing something is wrong, and then suddenly you discover that you're as transparent as air, but you continue stupidly to live. But live you must, and you can either make passive love to your sickness or burn it out and go on to the next conflicting phase (Ellison, 572-75).

Wars are not won on the battlefield. Wars are won in the minds of the people. (Unknown)

References

- Awadu, Keidi Obi. LACARCE (Front-line News Service) 6 Jul 1996.
- Bogota, Ron Chepesiuk. "Are CIA's hands clean on drugs?" Columbia, Rock Hill, SC: The Herald - McClatchy Newspapes, Inc. 30 Jan 1997, p 11-A.
- Brint, Dillingham. "American Indian Women and I.H.S." Sterilization Practices, American Indian Journal (Jan 1997), p 28.
- Creation Ex Nihilo*, Vol 16 No. 1 Dec. 1993-Feb 1994, pp. 48-50.
- Creation Ex Nihilo*, Vol 14, No. 2, March - May 1992, pp. 16-18.
- Ellison, Ralph. Invisible Man, New York: Random House, 1980.
- Insight, "Bush Spends Heavily to Get Message Out," 27 Mar 2006.
- London Times* - May 11, 1987, The Bulletin of the World Health Organization - 1972 (Vol. 47, 259) The Congressional Record - (1 Jul 129).
- Mathis, Tony. "Massacre probe needed," Michigan Chronicle 21-27, Jul. 1999.

- McGee, Arthur R. "United Nations International Conference on Population and Development" New York: The Reporters Collective, 24, Jun 1994, 1+).
- Oh-Toh-Kin*. "500 Years of Indigenous Resistance," Vol. 1, No. 1 Winter/Spring 1992. (24 Feb 1997).
- Reader's Digest, America's Fascinating Indian Heritage, Plasantville NY: The Reader's Digest Assoc., Inc. 1978.
- Sullivan, Michael. "Governmentally Coerced Sterilization of Native American Women: A History of Governmentally Coerced Sterilization: The Plight of the Native American Woman." (DeFine University of Maine School of Law) 1 May 1997.
- Temkin-Greener, Helen. "Surgical Fertility Regulation Among Women on the Navajo Indian Reservation," American Journal of Public Health, (Apr 1981) 405.

Key Terms - Chapters 4 & 5

- | | |
|------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| ABC News 60, 65 | Clinton, William 65, 70 |
| Abdul, Paula 56 | Columbus Christopher, 60, 61, 79 |
| Afghanistan War 83, 84 | Curr, E. M. 81 |
| AIDS Virus Flow Chart 63, 63 | Dachau 85 |
| Algonquin 9 | Darwin, Charles 66 |
| Anasazi 79 | Diallo, Amadou 71 |
| Auschwitz 79, 82, 86 | Dubois, WEB 73 |
| Batista, Fulgencio 82 | Fair & Lovely Cream 55 |
| Blumenbach, Johann 66 | Goldman, Fred 65 |
| Bonaparte, Napoleon 60 | Goldman, Ronald 65 |
| Bosnia War 83 | Graves, Boyd Ed. 62, 63 |
| Brown, Denise 65 | Hamilton, Alexander 60 |
| Burkitt's Lymphoma 63 | Hitler, Adolf 79, 81 |
| Bush, George W. 84 | Hurricane Katrina 76, 77 |
| Bushmen 60 | IRA 82 |
| CCR5 Delta 32+ 62, 63 | Iran-Contra Affair (1986) 83 |
| CCR5 Delta 32- 62, 63 | Iraq War 71, 84 |
| CIA 5, 85, 86 | Jackson, Michael 56 |
| Cambodia 83 | |

Jefferson, Thomas 60, 70
Jennings, Peter 65
Johnson, Andrew 69
Jordan, Vernon, 70
Kennedy, John F. 70, 71
Kent State 83
King, Martin Luther, Jr. 60, 71
King, Rodney 71
Kosovo Crisis 83
Laden, Osama Bin 84
Lewinsky, Monica 69
Lynch, Willie 66
Madison, James 60
Micmac 70
Middle Passage 57
Milosevic, Slobodan 83
Mount Caucasus 66
Mourant, A. E. 81
NATO 70
Neanderthal 60
Nixon, Richard 70, 71, 82, 83
Reagan, Ronald 82
Simpson, Nicole 65
Simpson, Orenthal 64, 65, 66
Slave Codes 59
SmithKline Beechman 72
TBN 68
Thieu, Nguyen Van 85
Three-Fifths Compromise 70
VFC Program, 72, 73
Vietnam War 60, 83, 84
Washington, George 60, 70
Woods, Tiger 56
World War II 70

CHAPTER 6

THEOLOGY TETHERS: THE WHITEWASHED WHORING OF CHRISTIANITY

A large burly black man stands in the pew of a Christian Church holding a Service Hymnal in his hand. The church pews are filled with parishioners dressed in their Sunday's finest attire including manicured diamond studded fingernails and Italian made shoes. The mixture of expensive colognes fills the air. Reverend Pork Chop has called the Sunday worship service to order. At that moment, a male parishioner's tongue and larynx automatically start working overtime as the song director stands before the congregation.

The man's vocal cords tighten. A silk tie drapes over his Armoi suit and tightens like a noose around his neck. The reverberation from his larynx gets higher and higher, and his head bobs up and down. His diamond-studded ear reflects a light prism that would blind your eyes. His lips part and all you can see are his gold tooth's. Air is forced suddenly over his vocal cords, and the vibration produces the following words:

Whiter Than Snow (1872)

Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow, (Psalms 51). Now, where did snow come from as mentioned in the Old Testament?

(Note: There was snow at Mt. Hermon, Lebanon, in the Sinai, United Arab Emirates, and Simen Range, Ethiopia).

Lord Jesus, I long to be per-fect-ly whole; I want the for-ever to live in my soul; Break down ev-ery I-dol, cast out ev-ery foe;

Chorus

Now wash my, and I shall be whiter than snow; Whiter than snow, yes, whiter than snow; Now wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow (Nicholson, 428).

Note: Black skin is the foe because this black man “longs to be perfectly whole” –to be whiter than snow.” In Psalm 51, King David writes “Surely, I was sinful at birth, sinful from the time my mother conceived me. Surely you desire truth in the inner parts; you teach me wisdom in the inmost place. Cleanse me with hyssop, and I will be clean; wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.” The prophet Isaiah uses the phrase similarly when he stated, “Though your sins be as scarlet, they will be whiter than snow”. Here we go again with interpretations of Biblical verses.

The hymn was written in 1872 when blacks were considered 3/5's of a white person (Three-Fifths Compromise). Why was such a hymn written? Why would black Christian church parishioners sing the hymn? The preceding hymn is just a microscopic part of the format representing the saturating subliminal and racist tools that have been beating people “up side their head” of hundreds of years. White means pure, innocent, spotless, trustworthy, honorable, good, auspicious, and beneficent. The brainwashing racist tools have come in the form of words and actions producing superficial schisms in our US white super-imposed “brotherhood of country” and “stick it together” global world.

Common Sense Sacredness: Churchgoers are tethered in Caucasian European and American Theology hiding ancestral Black African Christendom History. The Theology Tether keeps churchgoers gagged and bound in the Caucasian Church of God not realizing the Roman Church brought them to slavery in the “name of Jesus.” Lily white Jesus hangs in the sanctuary and the congregation sings in unison: Oh wash me, and I will be whiter than snow. Ham’s black Egypt and Canaan (formerly modern Palestine and then Israel) have no significance because parishioners are caught up in a Caucasian “Sanctified Sham.” If the Theology Tethers were removed so the black images of Abraham, Moses, King Solomon, and Jesus were hanging in the sanctuaries, on the pulpits and printed on Bible end pages, screaming would ensue a “bloody execution of Christianity.”

The Genesis of Racism: Portugal initiated the movement of international expansion and claimed Africa, Asia, South America and the West Indies. The territories fell within the scope of the Roman Church (1455) giving the Church an imagined omnipotent authority to deliver infidel (atheist) people to servitude. In 1457, the Council of Cardinals met in Holland and sanctioned, as a righteous and progressive idea, the enslavement of black Africans for converting them to Christianity and for acquisition in the labor market as chattel property. This scheme speedily gained the sanctimonious blessing of the Pope and became a standard policy of the Roman Catholic Church later taking root in the Protestant Churches (Rogers, ix-xx).

Times Online (Oct 2005) reported the “Catholic Church no longer swears by truth of the Bible” The hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church published a teaching document instructing the faithful that some parts of the Bible are not actually true. The Catholic bishops of England, Wales and Scotland are warning their 5,000,000 worshippers, as well as others drawn to the study of scripture; they shouldn’t expect total accuracy from the Bible.

OH REALLY! The Roman Church reconstructed the Bible to fit the needs of Rome. Intolerance in America is used microscopically – meaning racism by whites has become so minute, nobody notices the day-after-day indoctrination. Christianity is a religious hodgepodge put together by the Council of Nicaea in AD 325. It was an endeavor to amalgamate the many religions of the Roman Empire into one. Its alleged writer wrote none of the gospels, and none of the NT text can be found in writings prior to the beginning of the second century. The Roman historian Tacitus wrote the Annals and Histories in AD 55 - AD 115. In his writings, he tells how Rome functioned in the 1st century. The Church of Rome (Book of Romans) took control of Christianity and most of the Church Fathers on whom we depend for our understanding of customs and history. The way we view the people of the Bible was carved out by Rome from the 1st to 3rd centuries AD.

The Romans and Greeks of that era called Africa by the name “Ethiopia” and sometimes “Melos” (short for melanin). Africa extended from modern day Asia and the Middle East to all of Africa and India. This information is crucial to understanding what information is included in the Bible. Israel was a part of Africa too! It was a colony of Egypt that is now the Sudan—Niger and Ethiopia—an origin of the Egyptian and source of the Nile River. It is currently known as Uganda, the center of modern Africa.

Christianity plagiarizes older myths and legends historicized to suit the Roman Catholic Church while combining the numerous religions that existed at the time (Krishna, Horus, Mithraism, Osirian, Isis, and many other mystery religions). You can believe if the religions have been termed “mystery,” the mysteries can all be linked back to Africa.

After the final destruction of Jerusalem and Judea by the Romans in 135 AD, the Jerusalem Church was taken over by non-Jews. From this destruction, Eusebius says: “In this way the city was closed to the Jewish Race and suffered the destruction of its former inhabitants. It was colonized by an alien race, and the Roman city which subsequently arose, changed its name in honor of the emperor then reigning” (S., Acharya 37-8).

Christianity emerged about AD 300. The Roman Empire became Christian, and Christianity became the Roman Empire. Gaius Aurelius Valerius Diocletianus, better known as Diocletian, assumed the throne of Emperor in AD 284, ending almost 50 years of anarchy, with over 25 men claiming the throne. In AD 312, Constantine invaded Rome. He held a rightful claim to being Emperor, and at that point regained his throne by defeating his enemy Maxentius. According to sources, Constantine used a Christian insignia he saw in a dream to adorn his men's shields. They won. He became the sole Emperor over the mighty Roman Empire.

Some sources believe Constantine was just a wily politician, and used Christianity to unify his empire, as opposed to suppressing something he perhaps saw as inevitable. Other sources believe that he had been truly converted, had acknowledged the Christian God as supreme and had determined to obey Him. Constantine went down in history as the first Christian monarch.

In AD 330, Constantine founded the new capital of the Roman Empire, known as Constantinople, (or New Rome), in the eastern half of the Empire. The division between the eastern and western Empires existed for hundreds of years. During the Roman Republic, the senate elected two consuls: one to command the army in the western area and one to head the army in the eastern empire. This started the decay of Rome, the old capital, which lasted past its sack in AD 410. New Rome was ostensibly and officially Christian.

Prior to Constantine's reign the Roman Empire started persecuting Christians. It was widely accepted and officially sanctioned by the infamous Emperor Nero in AD 54 - 68. The emperors opposed Christianity as disloyal and revolutionary. But the unity of the empire and the ease of communication throughout its parts had favored the spread of the new faith: persecution scattered the seeds more widely, forced on it a firm organization, and gave it martyr-heroes and a history.

Christianity taught those who were faithful in this world had no need for money because they would receive the kingdom of heaven. The religion had instant appeal to the lower classes. Christianity was both the catalyst and the result of the revitalization of the Roman Empire, under one god. In AD 313 Constantine issued an edict (The Edict of Milan) making Christianity the only lawful religion within the Empire.

The First Ecumenical Council of the Catholic Church was held in AD 325 on the heresy of Arius. As early as AD 320 or 321 St. Alexander, Bishop of Alexandria convoked a Council at Alexandria. More than one hundred bishops from Egypt and Libya attended. The purpose of the Council was to unify the competing cults under the "Catholic" Church controlled by Constantine and Rome. The gods of the other cults were subjugated under the new god and their titles were changed to "apostles" and "saints." Constantine was sole master of the Roman Empire (Constantine The Great AD 274-337).

THE BIBLE TAKES A HIT

Its purported author wrote none of the gospels Matthew, Mark, Luke, or John. Maricon was the publisher of the earliest New Testament Canon. There isn't any NT text to be found in writings prior to the beginning of the second century of the Common Era. The gospels are said to be priestly forgeries and were not heard until AD 150 or until Jesus had been dead nearly 120 years (Bronson Keeler: A Short History of the Bible).

The four gospels were unknown to the early Christian Fathers. Justin Martyr, the most eminent of the early Fathers, wrote: "The divinity of Christ demanded the use of these Gospels, had they existed in that time." He makes more than 300 quotations from the books of the OT and nearly 100 from the Apocryphal books of the NT, but none from the four Gospels. The names Matthew, Mark, Luke and John are never mentioned by the early Christian Church Fathers (S. Acharya, 25). There has never been any painting, engraving, and sculpture of other work of antiquity furnishing evidence or existence of these gospels. Even the Catholic Encyclopedia admits the NT has no foundation in history. No extant manuscript can be dated earlier than the 4th Century AD; and most were written later. The oldest manuscripts contradict one another.

What may account for the lack of the gospels existence was the burning of the Library of Alexandria by Constantine. Fifty thousand (50,000) manuscripts and books were destroyed. The Roman Church (Roman Empire) removed the ancient texts from view of its citizens. It can have argued nearly everything written concerning the gospels to the year 325 and all the copies of the gospels of the same period were lost or destroyed. Knowing that very few early Christian texts exist because the originals were destroyed or "retouched" under Emperor Anastasias (506 CE AD). He included revision of the Church fathers' works and can be termed "cataclysmic acts."

At the University of Alexandria in Egypt, there was an immense library founded by the Ptolemies (the last dynasty of independent Egypt from 331 - 30 BC). It was a gathering place for monks and Jesuits to study holy mysteries and inspired legends. The very first bishops were from Alexandria. It was the place where priests were educated and trained in the arts displayed 500,000 - 700,000 manuscripts collected from around the world. After the Council of Nicaea, Constantine ordered the destruction of the ancient texts. The Library was destroyed in AD 391. The Christian Emperor Theophilus I wanted to hide the truth about religion. The Christian conspirators went on a rampage destroying books, temples, statues, inscriptions and other traces of previous cultures, eventually leading to immense ignorance and the virtual illiteracy of Christianity.

THE GOSPEL OF LUKE

The Gospel of Luke is a compilation of dozens of 33 older manuscripts including the Gospel of the Lord. In using Maricon's Gospel, the Luke writers interpolated and removed textual matter to historicize the story and to Judaize Maricon's Jesus.

Example: Maricon's Gospel speaks of Jesus coming to Nazareth. Luke adds: "where he had been brought up." This phrase is missing from Maricon. It was a further attempt on Luke's part to make Jesus Jewish.

Example: "The Son of Man must suffer many things, and be put to death, and after three days rise again." Changed: Luke 9:33, a new passage is rendered: "The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised."

The Difference: The inclusion of elders and the chief priests and scribes represents an attempt to make the story seem as if it happened one time in history, as opposed to the recurring theme in a savior-god cult and mystery school indicated by Maricon.

It can be proved how passage after passage has been added to the earlier gospel, during manufacturing the later history. The mourning over Jerusalem (Luke xiii, 29-35) is taken verbatim from the 2nd Esdras (I. 28-33) without acknowledgement. The words previously uttered by the "Almighty Lord" are here assigned to Jesus as the original speaker (Massey, 19).

THE GOSPEL OF MARK (175 AD)

Mark has no genealogy and begins his story with John the Baptist, who was a hero of the Nazarenes/Mandaeans. The Gospels were changed to fit the circumstances, rather than recording history (S., Acharya 38). Mark was written in a style of language written in Rome by a Roman convert to Christianity whose first language was Latin and not Greek, Hebrew or Aramaic. The author of Mark was not a Palestinian Jew because he "betrays in 7:31 an ignorance of Palestinian geography."

Example: Mark 1:16: And passing along by the Sea of Galilee he saw Simon and Andrew. All agree, Mark added the Sea of Galilee because they are placed quite ungrammatically in the Greek syntax. Mark interpolated a reference to place into a report lacking it.

Constantine consolidated his power and influence by making Greco-Roman Christianity the religion of the Roman Empire and eliminated the major controversies in the Greco-Roman Church concerning the question over the deity of Christ and the celebration of Easter. The bishops modified an existing creed to fit their purposes. Why do Greeks write so much New Testament material? These are people who never met Jesus. Why didn't those who met him face-to-face write the material? It was destroyed by the early church fathers. The Bible was transformed into a Pro-Roman Mystery Cult. James WAS "the Righteous One" of the Scrolls (or at least one of the last to hold the title). James was an ideological leader of the revolt. Due to the Church's reluctance to face the fact that Christ had brothers and sisters, the history regarding James has been obscured. Rome destroyed the Church of Jerusalem in an uprising against Rome. Isn't it an interesting coincidence that James (the just) and the community at Qumran disappeared about the same time?

The Nicene Creed takes elaborate care by repeating several redundancies to identify the Son with the Father rather than with the creation. The doctrine of the Trinity was declared to be the official doctrine of the Pauline Church. There were hundred or so Gospels in existence at that time. Four (4) were chosen as the official Gospels of the Church. The remaining Gospels written in Hebrew were destroyed. An edict was issued stating that anyone found in possession of an unauthorized Gospel would be put to death. This was the first organized attempt to remove all the records of Jesus' original teaching. When Jesus died, there was no Christianity. Christianity was fashioned by the Apostle Paul (Saul).

The Ebionites and Nazarenes (early Jewish Sects) were declared heretics. If you go to a dictionary and look up Ebion, it is a prefix of the word Ebionites. Jesus was a Nazarene? I found out some other things after doing a bit of research. The word "Nazareth" does not even exist historically or geographically. Recent research will tell you that there was a mistranslation in text. Mary was not a virgin. What about JESUS' brother James? Jesus had brothers and sisters, but the Catholic Church said that Mary remained a virgin throughout her life.

There is exploration of the linguistic methods used to document the relationship between black African languages and their sister languages in Africa and Asia written by Clyde A. Winters. John J. Jackson presents striking evidence that Indo-Europeans played a major role in the destruction of African centers of civilization.

He cites for example, the Romans partial destruction of the Library of Alexander and its later destruction by fanatical Christians in AD 389. Prof. Jackson also discussed the Romans burned down the Library of Carthage, which contained 50,000 volumes in 146 BC. In Spain Europeans destroyed the great libraries of the Moors. After the Council of Nicaea, the early church fathers destroyed Christian Texts. It wasn't until the Dead Sea Scrolls were discovered that some of the early church teachings came to light.

Along with Cheikh Anta Diop, Alex Darkwah also traces Ancient Egypt to geographical Africa. Darkwah proves Africans wrote the Bible even though your personal Bible may have pages laced with white Greek characters and linked to Europe even though Europe is not mentioned in the Bible. The main points of Darkwah's book are:

- ◆ Americans and Europeans assume that the Bible is about them, but the Bible is about my ancient ancestors and me...Alex Darkwah
- ◆ Jews see the Bible as a record of their history because the King James Bible is centered on the history of Israel.

- ◆ The Jewish people of Europe and America still carry African Tribal names. They carry the names of their ancestors who are Africans.
- ◆ The early Roman Catholic Church portrayed Jesus and his mother in the original black images of the Jewish people of that time (The Black Madonna). What African tribe were they from?
- ◆ The early Catholic Church is closer in time of Jews leaving Africa and going to Europe than the Renaissance Painters who painted Jesus white.
- ◆ Statistically, the Lemba people from Southeast Africa are more Jewish than European Jews. In a Lemba Clan known as the Buba Clan, 53 percent of the males carry the unique DNA signature of Jewish priests. Males from the Lemba Tribe carry a higher incidence of the Jewish priestly DNA signature than the European and American Jewish population.
- ◆ What Europe did not count on was that Africa would still know their past after European colonization and Imperialism.

Alex Darkwah is the author of The Africans Who Wrote the Bible. In his book, he states that ancient Egypt was geographically in Africa and so-called European experts do not know the Ancient Egyptian story because they are not familiar with African tribal names. They did not have the linguistic and cultural backgrounds to identify Egyptian names and have simply transposed the African names of people and places in Ancient Egyptian history into European languages to make it possible for them to claim expertise. Darkwah traces the ancient past of African tribes from the Middle East through Ancient Egypt to inner Africa.

Historians gave the fictitious names of Sumerians and Akkadians. The African Tribes were Ancient Egyptians.

A geneticist from Oxford University in London, England (1998) proved through DNA sequence the African Bantu-speaking Lemba Tribe of South Africa and Zimbabwe carry the same Y chromosome distinctive to the Cohanim, a hereditary set of Jewish priests scattered throughout Europe and America. Reports carry the headlines "DNA COULD PROVE JEWISH ANCESTRY OF AFRICAN TRIBE." While reading the article, it struck me as a "Freudian Slip" presented in the "European Slip/Slap Origin." The title should have read: DNA PROVES AFRICAN ANCESTRY OF BIBLICAL HEBREWS. The most thorough analysis yet of the divergence of sequences in human mitochondrial DNA has been carried out. The results support the view that modern humans originated in Africa. (Hedges, Blair S. "Human Evolution: A Start for Population Genomics," Nature 408, 652-653 7 December 2000).

There are still Jews in Uganda, Ghana, South Africa, Ethiopia, Zimbabwe, Mali, Sao Tome, Cape Verde, Morocco, and Tunisia, and they aren't converts like the white Jews of Europe and America. The Jews of Europe and America probably do not realize people with black skin colors and distant cultures are the original Jews. There are currently indigenous communities observing traditional Jewish rituals all over the continent of Africa. The slaves taken to North and South America were Hebrew. In the book Hebrewisms of West Africa (1930), Williams outlines parallels of cultural traits of the Ashanti Tribe to Hebraic influence dating back to legendary origin. It is easier to follow the original Jews (Hebrew) because Williams references Judaism through the slaves who were taken to Jamaica as opposed to those taken to the US. The slaves in the West Indies – Cuba and Puerto Rico and other Islands in the West Indies were not separated and sold-off as they were in the United States.

He outlines the African Ashanti Tribe's culture as endowed with proverbs, funeral customs, grave offerings, the Supreme Being "Nyame" – the Hebrew Yahweh, and all around Ashanti tribal customs are equivalent Hebrew meaning. The Supreme Being is the same as the Yahweh of the Old Testament.

The references used to write this book date to the early 1800's. These references alone open doors to what was truthfully written in that time era as opposed to current research that seems to hide material going back to Africa and the attempts to erase or hide history pertaining to the modern Jews of Africa and Europe?

Cheikh Anta Diop combines the research of linguistics, history and psychology to interpret the cultural unity of African people. There are three components in the genetic model: 1) common physical type, 2) common cultural patterns and 3) genetically related languages (Winters, 1989a). Diop has brought to bear all three of these components in his illumination of Kemetic Civilization (Diop 1974, 1977, 1978, 1991). There are striking resemblances between the ancient Egyptian language and Coptic and Pharonic Egyptian and African languages (Diagne, 1981; Diop, 1977; Obenga, 1988, 1992a, 1992b, 1993). Diop's major linguistic effort has been the classification of Black African and Egyptian Languages. Up until 1977 Diop's major area of interest was morphological and phonological similarities between Egyptian and Black African languages. Diop (1977, 77-84) explains many of his sound laws for the Egyptian - Black African connection.

He was a major proponent of the Dravidian-African relationship (Diop 1974, 116), and he illustrated the African substratum in Indo-European languages in relationship to cacuminal sounds and terms for social organization and culture (1974, 115). Diop (1978, 113) also recognized that in relation to Arabic words, after the suppression of the first consonant, there is often an African root. This is not surprising because Edward Blyden found evidence that the Arabic writing an African from the modern country created system we call Egypt. Winters (1985a, 1985d, 1989, 1991) also used Diop's method to confirm the unity between the African, Dravidian, Elamite, and Sumerian languages.

Publication of the Dead Sea Scrolls (15,000) papyrus documents discovered in the desert changed scholars' views on the Bible. The publication was completed after more than half a century of bitter squabbling, censorship and academic controversy. Fifty-four years after the first scrolls were found in a cave in Qumran on the northwestern shore of the Dead Sea, publication of all the scrolls and fragments were completed in 37 volumes. All but two have been published, and those two are being edited.

The scrolls have been studied and much was discovered about the way the Bible was written, including its discrepancies, contradictions and repetitions. The first five books Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy were ascribed to the same writer Moses, but the books still have many inconsistencies. The scrolls include several different editions of the books of Exodus and Numbers, and the Psalms. They revealed the Bible was not a rigidly fixed text but was edited and adjusted to make the text more relevant to its audience. It was not only the religious significance of the work the scrolls questioned but also its historical truth; the scrolls revealed that writers colored their accounts with their own prejudices.

Church fanatics suppressed Biblical History. In 1505 Pope Julius II commissioned Michelangelo to change images of the deity from black to white perpetuating paintings like da Vinci's Last Supper. In the 1600's King James feared an African disclosure would bring down conformist Caucasian History and the Caucasian Church established for Europe. The Greeks and Romans carried origins of ancient Egyptians to the King James Version of the Bible and bleached them "lily white." The suppression of blackness in Biblical Archaeology has led to a "Whitewashed Whoring" from the original black Hebrews to the current Mythical Ashkenazim white Jews.

In Arthur Koestler's book, The Thirteenth Tribe: The Khazar Empire and its Heritage Khazar Jews - The revelation of another Jewish hoax: Jews did not originate from Palestine! They are not "descendants" of the mythic Jews of the Bible! The fact that over 90 percent of those today calling themselves "Jews" are descendants of the Khazar people, originating from southern Russia. Jews from Eastern Europe and Western Asia were descended from Mongolians and other Asiatic peoples who had adopted Judaism as their "religion" over 1,000 years ago and had become know as "Jews."

The book traces the history of the ancient Khazar Empire, once a major power in Eastern Europe converted to Judaism in AD 740. The Jews of our times fall into two main divisions: Sephardim and Ashkenazim. The Kharzas migrated to Poland and formed the cradle of Western (Ashkenazim) Jewry. Modern Jewry is not of Palestinian but Caucasian origin. The mainstream of Jewish migrations did not flow from the Mediterranean across France and Germany to the east and then back again. The stream moved in a consistently westerly direction, from the Caucasus through the Ukraine into Poland and into Central Europe (pp 179-180). The Sephardim are descendants of the Jews who since antiquity had lived in Spain (Hebrew-Sephardi) until they were expelled at the end of the 15th Century and settled in the countries bordering the Mediterranean, the Balkans, and to a lesser extent in Western Europe. They were the Moors.

Ethiopia is mentioned in Genesis – Look for Europe in the Bible! The birthplace of Abraham was Ur (Cushite/Ethiopian, the Land of Shinar) Genesis 10:10. Ur was a city in the Ethiopian Kingdom of Nimrod. Canaan was the son of Ham who begat Sidon his first born and Heth and the Jebusites and the Amorites and the Girgashites (Genesis 10:15-16). The Jebusites were the same as Jerusalem (Joshua 15:8). Jesus was a Judean. Matthew (his disciple) was a Judean. They were from the Tribe of Judah and/or Ethiopians. Their language was Aramaic, or the language spoken by Ethiopians. If you look up Ethiopia in the Encyclopedia, the information given explains Ethiopians are Hamitic and Semitic in origin. You must know who Ham was to decipher the Ethiopians' race.

The word "Jew" (in Hebrew, "Yehudi") is derived from the name Judah. Originally, the term Yehudi referred specifically to members of the Tribe of Judah, as distinguished from the other tribes of Israel. However, after the death of King Solomon, the nation of Israel was split into two kingdoms: The Kingdom of Judah and the Kingdom of Israel (I Kings 12; II Chronicles 10). Haile Selassie can be directly traced to King Solomon – the ruler of Ethiopia (King of Kings) and the (Lion of Judah), placing him in the legendary line of King Solomon.

Cultural Christianity Contest: The world has been presented with a white Jesus from the Roman Empire when Augustus (31 BC - AD 14) was the emperor. The global world knows nothing about the bona fide Judean Jesus from the lineage of the Tribe of Judah, or Ethiopians who spoke Aramaic. The former Semitic language Aramaic was developed from the latter Semitic language Amharic spoken in Ethiopia and Eritrea today. Christ spoke Aramaic, Arabic and Amharic because of language locations in Jerusalem and other Middle Eastern cities that are now Addis Ababa, Cairo, Baghdad and Damascus.

In Greek schools of learning and philosophy Plato and Socrates helped to provide philosophy and mystical thought to Christianity borrowed from the ancient Egyptians. Originally the Bible was translated from Hebrew to Greek to Latin to English. In the eyes of the Romans, Africans had no substantial history. Africans were "heathens" who had to be converted to Christianity according to the Roman Church now headed by the POPE.

The New Testament was written in colloquial conversational Greek of the times. Greek was widespread as an international language in the Middle East and parts of North Africa and Europe after Alexander's Conquests in 4th Century BC. In conversational Greek, there were no upper or lower case letters used until the 9th Century. Everything was written in capital letters. There were no punctuation marks, no spaces between words, and no paragraphs. The division of chapter numbers in the Bible did not take place until about AD 1200, and verses were not added until 1557.

In 1382 Wycliffe translated an English version of the Bible from Latin. In 1604 King James commissioned six groups of scholars who translated the Authorized King James Version of the Bible. The original 1611 edition of the King James Version had many misprints and spelling mistakes that led to a second edition in 1613. Provided for Christianity in the modern world in which we live are what Greek philosophers and King James have given. We follow the herd to ensure soul salvation—just as sheep follow the leader of the herd to slaughter. The Bible was translated into English for a cultural European audience, and people study the Bible without knowing its cultural context. Christianity was first a Middle Eastern religion. Remember, the Middle East was once Africa. Europeans broke up Africa into the “Near East,” “Middle East,” and “Far East” to distinguish distances from Europe.

To question the Bible’s ancestral Black African Christendom History is probably like translating the Bible into cult language. There are many discrepancies in the Bible. Examples: The word “Jew” wasn’t used in the King James Version until publications after 1800. The word “Jew” does not appear in the Bible until the Book of Daniel. The Bible contains both Greek and Latin traditions denoting editorial differences. The New Testament contains discrepancies in The Last Supper, the death of Judas, and the nativity stories in Matthew and Mark. To say there are “Lost Books” and Apocryphal Books of the Bible leads one to question which books were really “inspired” by God, and which ones were inspired by King James and his translators.

Some verses are almost identical in Matthew and 2 Enoch (Enoch or Enos was the son of Seth and the grandson of Adam according to Genesis) leading to parallels and connections between the Gospels, Lost Books and Dead Sea Scrolls. The Gospels, for example were written between 35 and 70 years after the death of Jesus. This presents plenty of opportunity for distortion. The Gospels passed through a period of copying and general editorial tampering that lasted three to four centuries. It is only these edited and differing versions that have survived to modern times.

A person's makeup and state of mind is externalized only after internalizing what has been given to him. Indoctrination takes place within the human psyche. Whites are fed a white cultural Roman and Greek resemblance of Jesus. Blacks have also been fed a white cultural Roman and Greek resemblance of Jesus. Biblical scholars have studied, digested, and processed antiquity within a Caucasian Cultural Contest; therefore, the Bible we know encompasses the white Roman World and St. Paul.

Religious interpretations are liable to contradiction unless historical backgrounds are accessible for examination. You should be aware of how Black Antiquity has been annihilated. Just read the history books about Napoleon Bonaparte conquests of the late 18th and early 19th Centuries. Napoleon and his squad destroyed many artifacts of antiquity including shooting of the flat noses and big lips of the Sphinx. At the 1974 Cairo Symposium British and Egyptian officials prevented Cheikh Anta Diop from performing systematic and controlled melanin dosage tests on Egyptian mummies to determine their racial identity. Shortly after he developed the melanin dosage test, nearly all the mummies on exhibition the Cairo Museum vanished. There are many Shrines of the Black Madonna in Africa, Europe and Russia representing remnants of the original people who inhabited Ancient Palestine.

The antiquity of man and recorded history was Negroid until Europeans emerged and extended themselves into the broader world of Africa and Asia during the 15th and 16th centuries. Europe colonized black and brown mankind and conveniently rewrote history to show Europeans were the only creators of “civilization.” The cover-ups continued. Ancient Greece was not populated with all European looking people. There was no Europe in ancient times. In the Roman Empire, there was a Mediterranean World, a West and an East in the Latin- and Greek-speaking portions of the empire.

These events took place 700 years before the “fallacious Caucasian discovery” of America. Europeans referred to African Kings as Chiefs to avoid making them equal to European Kings. The European termed “Chiefs” could trace their lineage back thousands of years. Rome was nowhere to be seen on the map and sixteen centuries passed before Charlemagne (AD 743 - 814) ruled in Europe and Eghert (AD 802 - 839) became the first King of England. Seven hundred years still had to pass before the news rang out over the world of the discovery of America (Rogers, 28-9).

Even during the 17th century the notion the landmass south of the Mediterranean was an entity distinct from the landmass north of it had yet to be fully accepted. In 1656, the Geographer Royal of France described Africa as “a peninsula so large that it comprises the third part and most southerly part of our continent.” As slave trade got underway, some Europeans were claiming parts of Africa – especially Egypt – as an extension of their “continent” and “culture.” The land north and east of Europe was inhabited by “barbarians” (Rogers, 28-9).

In my few years of research, I have come up with a simple theory based on an elementary level hypotheses well founded to show Black Africa was WHITEWASHED. Euro-America still believes in a “White Origin of Mankind.” The King James's white Biblical characters have created the "thinking mode foundation" spurred using one of the most powerful tools of our times – "Whitewashed Christianity."

Christianity has been used like a chainsaw power tool throughout centuries. Not only was it used to disguise the origins of mankind but used to disguise the aims of Colonialism. Euro-America used a class struggle and private property to turn labor and land into a marketable commodity on a global scale.

It has caused Imperialism, an economic domination of one region or country by another over local resources in a manner advantageous to metropolitan (colonial) power at the expense of the local economy. Imperialism occurs through stages of imperialist development: military establishment of colonies and profit extraction. Foreign policy defends dictators in power and uses physical and economic force to prevent socialist governments.

By switching or substituting African names with Arabic and European names of people during antiquity, black Hamites, Cushite's, Hebrew, and Canaanites are no longer black Africans. The titles are forthwith full-blown Caucasian references. African History becomes the history of Arabs and Europeans in Africa, not the history of Africans. As Chancellor Williams outlines in Euro-America's guide to teaching "African History," the following eras and chapter arrangements are used in US and European textbooks:

- ◆ First Period African History: The fall of the Roman Empire to AD 700 and the Arab invasions.
- ◆ Second Period of African History: The period of "Islamic" Civilization, AD 700 to the coming of the Europeans in 1500.

- ◆ The European Period (1500 to 1960) is subdivided at 1880 to mark the period of colonialism.
- ◆ Note: There is no period of Black Civilization in black Africa. The pristine 4,000 years of Antiquity has been dropped into a septic tank.

By recording and referencing history in this manner it immediately eliminates 5,000 years of Black Civilization directly under the guise of "Arab-European History." Black artifacts, ecology and archaeology automatically become a study of Arab, Islamic and European Anthropology. Caucasian religious and scientific doctrines were calculated to revive (raised from the dead) a white rational reasoning realization. There are still writers and Bible theologians who label the findings a hoax if the hieroglyphics, linguistics and sculptures are Negroid.

Logically speaking, Africa, where the Garden of Eden was located and where the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers come together and was referred to as Ham's Africa and Ham's Egypt before World War II. Ham is the second born of Noah. The white Christian Church has defined Ham as the father of the Black Race. Sir Isaac Newton devised the Color Theory confirming there was no way to get black from white, but it was possible to get white from black. Scientifically speaking, whose theory is correct?

The ancient Egyptian language had a lack of vowels. Therefore, to translate ancient Egyptian into English was laborious and troublesome. Names were changed. Egyptologists obtained a lot of their information from the classical Greek writers, who paraphrased Egyptian names into their own language.

Currently, Egyptologists continue to use the Greek renditions when using Egyptian Terminology. Take, for example, Egypt's Fourth Dynasty, the pyramid builders, Khufwey, Khafre, and Menkaure who are better known by their Greek variations—Cheops, Chephre, and Mycerinus (Greenberg, ix). The Pyramids show Negroid features, noses and lips. Napoleon Bonaparte and his army tried to get rid of any traces of Negroid forerunners. He and his army shot off Negroid features in the 18th century.

The Book of Enoch is from Hamitic (Ethiopic) Authorship: The Book of Enoch is the earliest biblical record of antiquity and widely quoted throughout the King James Version of the Bible. The Book of Enoch was found among the Dead Sea Scrolls in the caves of the Qumran. Enoch was Noah's grandfather and Methuselah's father. Methuselah was the oldest man in the Bible living to be 969. Read the Book of Enoch, and it will become evident the entire Creation of Heaven and Earth depicted by King James and his translators have not been taught in America's churches. Why? Did King James and his translators use scheming to gain control and purposely hide Hamitic, Ethiopic authorship? This is just another saga in the white man's creation mode (Brown, Ronald K. BOOK OF ENOCH, San Antonio, Texas 78210).

The King James Version of the Bible starts with Genesis and the creation of Heaven and Earth. In Genesis 4:15, God orders Cain out of the Garden of Eden. Cain goes out from the presence of the LORD, and dwells in the Land of Nod on the east of Eden. There he knew his wife and conceived. "The Land of Nod" appears right there in the fourth chapter of Genesis. If Adam and Eve were the first two people on Earth, what was the Land of Nod? The word "Genesis" is be- rasheet in Hebrew, an African/Edenic language that Western philologists in the 18th century classified as part of the family of languages. Be-rasheet means “in the beginning” or in a time when God created all things (African Heritage Bible, 1).

Colonization and the Colored World: In textbooks written during the 1940's the world outside of Europe and America was referred to as “Colored.” Europe “ran a train” of Colonialism and Imperialism to the so-called “New World.” “Colonialism” describes the succession of large-scale permanent European settlements in areas of the world outside Europe. The advent started soon after Columbus's voyages at the end of the fifteenth century and became widespread from the seventeenth century to the fore. “Imperialism” is the political domination of nations or regions by a foreign power. After Columbus and the “discovery” of the “New World” in 1492, areas that were extensively colonized often became part of European empires. Europeans knew they had a different skin color from the inhabitants of other parts of the world. This led to the “European Conception” skin tone was essential to the identity of individuals and groups. Religious differences between peoples were once considered far more important than physical ones. Race in the modern sense of inherited physical attributes did not exist during or before the Middle Ages. Race classification is a recent construction that springs originally from the desire of Europeans to justify their attempts to dominate and subdue other peoples and cultures.

Colonialism became the bright idea for Caucasians to go into other Continents and take over. European Christianity became a teaching conqueror, tool and pacifier. It made the exploitation and controls an easier crushing avenue to the victimization of other races. Christianity taught the “Colored Races” of the world that suffering and being a martyr is of a beneficial experience in the eyes of God. Those less technologically developed societies were unable to successfully defend themselves against the Europeans mainly because of three issues: mysticism, primitivism, and tribalism (Willis, 57). Europeans were invited to come in and take control over land and resources.

The people of Europe and the Mediterranean in the late fifth and sixth centuries belonged to a shifting, wandering confederacy, who were never as homogenous as their names suggested. The confederations inherited the Western Roman Empire and left an indelible mark on the map of Europe. Some of the familiar names of countries and regions of modern times (France, Burgundy, Lombardy, England) owe much to the Germanic invaders who conquered them. In the English language, we speak of a person of “wanton destructiveness” as a ‘Vandal’ and equate ‘frankness’ with the right (enjoyed only by the Franks in Dark-Age Gaul) to speak one’s mind.

Anglo-Saxons or ‘Englisc’ (the name used amongst themselves to denote Angles, Saxons, Frisians and Jutes), were the people who conquered large parts of mainland Britain and whose descendants are the modern-day English. Other Germanic people included the Vandals who conquered North Africa, the Gepids, and the Suevi Lombards. History depends on the “ignorance of the masses” to write and editorialize what is currently printed and published.

To substantiate the Diaspora of Africa; Claude A. Winters proved the ancestors of the Dravidian and Manding speaking people appear to have left Africa at the same time around 2600 BC (Winters 1985c). These people founded civilizations in Europe, Elam, India and ancient China (1991a).

The most sacred icons of the Catholic Church are the Black Madonna and Christ child, which are found in Europe's most venerated shrines and cathedrals. The Egyptian Goddess Isis with her child Horus in her arms was the first Madonna and Child. They were renamed Mary and Jesus when Europe was forcibly Christianized. The worship of Isis and Horus was especially popular in ancient Rome. "Roman legions carried a figure of black Isis holding the black infant Horus all over Europe where shrines were established to her. When Christianity invaded Europe, these figures of the Black Isis holding the Black Horus were not destroyed but turned into figures of the Black Madonna and Child.

Today these symbols are still the holiest shrines in Catholic Europe" (Suzar, Blacked Out Through Whitewash). The icons are in France, Spain, and Czestochowa. There are Black Madonna's in Mexico, Costa Rica, and Ecuador. Whites have theories about the color of the Black Madonna's. They believe the dark skin color was due to chemical reactions in medieval paint, when it could not be explained by soot from furnaces and other kinds of aging.

The physical characteristics, culture, and linguistics of Sumerian, Elamite, Egypt, and Africa have been linked. Knowing the evidence, ask yourself how it all evolved into what we know today as "European-Arab Biblical History?" "Were all of the players in Biblical times and in the Bible white Jews and Gentiles and do these people embodying the history of antiquity?"

Expression changes, language is added and synchronized, then deleted and names are blended, expanded and hidden all in the feeble attempt to decentralize the African effect on the world and hide its roots. We are divided and therefore conquered. We are absorbed in the dominate culture of deceptions although we represent the dominant mankind on Earth.

African History is World History! (Ekowa)

References

- S., Acharya, The Christ Conspiracy: The Greatest Story Ever Sold, Kempton, IL, Adventures Unlimited Press, 1999.
- Asimov, Issac. The Roman Empire. Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1967.
- Bryce, James. The Holy Roman Empire. 4th ed. New York: MacMillan & Co., 1904.
- Gibbon, Edward. The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. 1787; rpt. New York: Washington Square Press, 1963.
- Greenberg, Gary. The Bible Myth: African origins of the Jewish People, Secaucus, NJ: Citadel Press Book, 1996.
- MacMullen, Ramsay. Christianizing The Roman Empire. Boston: Yale University Press, 1984.
- Rogers, J. A. World's Great Men of Color, Volume I, New York: Simon & Schuster, 1996.
- Rogers, J. A. World's Great Men of Color, Volume II, New York: Simon & Schuster, 1996.

Simmons, Burton. "A Time of Christianity and the Roman Empire: The Transition from Minority to Majority."

www.mark.furnival@btinternet.com

Williams, Chancellor. The Destruction of Black Civilization, Chicago: Third World Press, 1984.

Williams, Joseph J., Hebrewisms of West Africa, New York: Green & Company/Dial Press, 1930.

Willis, Jay Thomas. God or Barbarian, Hampton, VA: UB&US Communication Systems, 1998.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (Jan. 1979b). "Trade between East Africa and China", Afrikan Mwalimu, pp. 25-31.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1979c). "Manding Scripts in the New World", Journal of African Civilization 1, No. 1, pp. 61-97.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1980a). "The genetic unity of Dravidian and African languages and culture," Proceedings of the First International Symposium on Asian Studies", (PIISAS) 1979, Hong Kong: Asian Research Service.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1981a) "The Unity of African and Indian Agriculture", Journal of African Civilization 3, no.1, pp. 103-110.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad (1981c). "Further Thoughts on Japanese Dravidian Connection", Dravidian Language Association News 5, No 9, pp. 1-4.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (December 1981/ January 1982a) "Mexico's Black Heritage", The Black Collegian, pp. 76-84.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1983c). "Blacks in Ancient China, Part 1: The Founders of Xia and Shang", Journal of Black Studies 1, No2.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1983d). "Possible Relationship between the Manding and Japanese", Papers in Japanese Linguistics 9, pp. 151-158.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad Winters. (January 1984). "Magyar and Proto-Saharan Relationship", Fighter (Hungarian language Newspaper) Cleveland, Ohio, p.2.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1985d). "The genetic Unity between the Dravidian, Elamite, Manding and Sumerian Languages", Sixth ISAS ,1984, (Hong Kong: Asian Research Service) pp. 1413-1425.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1986c). "Dravidian Settlements in ancient Polynesia", India Past and Present 3, No. 2, pp. 225-241.

Winters, Clyde Ahmad. (1986e). "Dravidian and Magyar /Hungarian", International Journal of Dravidian Linguistics 15, No. 2.

CHAPTER 7

THE MILLENNIUM'S VANISHING MASTERS

This is a retort to White Nationalists and Adolf Hitler's Mein Kampf: Nation and Race (Volume One--Chapter XI) appearing as one of the books on the Aryan Nation's History and Western Philosophy Website...My Four and a Half Year Struggle against Lies Stupidity and Cowardice... Hitler Writes:

(The compulsion of captivity during slavery in the US made it possible to mate within the same species – but ...)

With satanic joy in his face, the white slave owner (LIKE OUR 3RD PRESIDENT THOMAS JEFFERSON) lurked in wait for the unsuspecting slave girl. It would not be the first time he defiled black women with his blood; thus, stealing her from her people. He ended up destroying the racial foundation of Caucasian people – not the people he set out to subjugate. With any rhyme there is a melody, but who gets the last jingle? He has been truly victorious one more time in wiping out his mere global existence and has delineated his numbers to 8 percent. Because of instituted cultural and political supremacy and conceived bastardization white people have become the new neoteric global dinkies.

To inflate the ego of people claiming white ancestry, European anthropologists have reached back in history to claim heir to the coal-black Ethiopian, the Black and Mulatto Egyptian, Black Arabs, Black Hindu, Negroid Polynesian, Australian Aborigine, Black Italian and Black Spanish Moors, not to mention some of the more famous people from Negroid antiquity – Aesop, Terence, Cleopatra, Mohammed, and Beethoven. During the seventh century, the Moors invaded Spain and Italy. The original Moors were black Africans. “Black-a-Moors” was the term used to refer to the original Moors, but “black” was dropped as Black Civilization was destroyed (Williams, 207). Moor became a code word for Negro. Benito Mussolini primed his people by telling them about a great Roman past. Hitler inflated the Germans psyche by referring to them as “Aryans” and claimed the ancient Egyptians were really (Teutons) Germanic (Rogers, 7).

Enormity is the word of measure to be used as he systematically pulls down the blood barriers. The white race, thanks to many people from the religious right, have become hated and hunted worldwide. The white man has problems traveling throughout the world because of the vibes and bribes he has created. His racial numbers have dwindled into near non-existence. Twenty years ago, Caucasians were looked upon as demigods. Today Caucasians are on the way to depletion. Depository!

The medium by which the world has been judged – the white man – is now falling into degradation. The laws he put on the books serve as preconditions for his own existence. Without Caucasians, there will be no “Caucasoid Conceptions” for world discern. Remember these words – Hitler writes... The idea is always conditioned by the presence of human beings; hence, these laws have created the precondition for one's very own existence....

Slave owners believed that it was quite all right for a slave master to go to the slave quarters every night to fornicate. Burning blacks at the stake and hanging necks from a noose were done through hate, but lust was the ruler in forced fornication. The only other white people who did not agree with his actions were the white wives left way up in the MASTER bedrooms of the "Big House." That may be one of the reasons for white women making mad dashes to "Black Quarters" now-a-days.

History repeats itself. Mankind has a way of evolving just as he did in the beginning of time. The world was black up until the 4th Glacial Epoch. Caucasians evolved from the Negroid Race as albinos and left to go to the North Continents where they lived in caves, (The Isis Papers, Welsing, Frances 1991). They returned as Vikings and Huns (barbarians). The same foreigners and/or barbarians caused the downfall of the Roman Empire and the formulation and birth of Christianity. The Vikings and Huns have a history dating from AD 17, whereas Negroid chronicles are dated and recorded from the beginning of time. Human evolvment has made a turn-around. Is it safe to say the world is "back to black"?

White women who are at childbearing age have a birth rate of 2.1 percent as compared to 6 percent for black women of Uganda. To replenish the white, race the birth rate for white women would have to be at least 2.5 percent per annum. The white man answers back angrily and says, "When two of same species mate, it causes a resistance in nature that produces a medium between the levels of the two parents." White women who have black children undergo "self-remorse." Talk shows, books, and movies have many plots that play out the social problems black children experience because white society cannot accept the children who have one white parent. The white parent becomes the "White Race Advocate" who wants the child to be labeled as "biracial," "multiracial" or any other label to conceal black ancestry. "Biracial" and "multiracial" also apply to people who are mixed with Asian or Indian ancestry. That way the child has – THE CAUCASIAN CONNECTION.

“White Race Advocates” let their birthrights pop to the surface and expose what has been entrenched in the psyche – a real case of “self-chastisement.” The preceding feeling befalls the white parent whose white race genes are shriveling. The half-white offspring must stand higher than the black parent but not as high as the Caucasian parent. Therefore, the child becomes multiracial – not black. It boosts the offspring to the “ingrained Caucasian superior level” of the white parent. It makes the black parent proud to have a superior offspring. That’s why they agree to the title.

The offspring will later succumb in the struggle against the higher level. This very situation was created during slavery because the offspring would become “house Niggers” (who felt closeness with the MASTER in his MASTER Bedroom). It opposed the “field Niggas” and in turn the “field Niggers” started hating the “house Niggas” for all the special privileges provided. We can also thank Willie Lynch for this theory.

Most Caucasians believe black/white mating is contrary to the will of Nature. Therefore, the Caucasian Theory supports the following: Having any amount of black blood still classifies blacks as “Niggas” – regardless of inherited white skin and blue eyes that might surface from ancestral Caucasian roots. It is also the reason for the new title “multiracial” devised by white mothers with black children. If whites blend with the dominant black gene, they sacrifice their own recessive nature.

The Aryans irritate: racial purity universally is valid in Nature. The fox is always a fox, the goose a goose, the tiger a tiger, etc., and the difference can lie at most in the varying measure of force, strength, intelligence, dexterity, endurance, etc. of the individual specimens. But you will never find a fox that in his inner attitude might, for example, show humanitarian tendencies toward geese, as similarly there is no cat with a friendly inclination toward mice.

Absoluteness, dominance and strength numerically predominate above the Caucasian's impotence. If both had the same possibility of preserving life and propagating, why has the recessive gene failed to multiply? Its current global status is at a minus and/or negative multiplicity. The impotency of the Caucasian Race and inability to multiply is being driven backwards. Global Caucasian citizens do not have a clue as to why they are no longer fertile. Fertility clinics are still prescribing drugs from giant pharmaceutical labs resulting in Caucasian multiple births—the answer to infertility.

The Bible tells what happens when man falls into disfavor with God. Genesis 29:30-35: To have children is a blessing. Not to be able to bear children is an affliction. Deuteronomy 7:15: Though shalt be blessed above all people: There shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle. The verses are repeated in Judges 13 and 1 Samuel 2:5. The Council of Conservative Citizens is a band of alleged Ku Klux Klansman disguised in business suits. They have direct ties to the US Senate and House of Representatives and other white nationalist groups. At this very moment, they are trying to correct the state of Global Blackness Affairs.

The Southern Baptists, Religious Right and Evangelicals are one of the same just as are the Republicans and Dixiecrats. The Dixiecrates are “breakaway segregationist Democrats.” The Republican Controlled Congress has had its way with Washington for the past 80 years. On March 4, 1913, Woodrow Wilson, the 28th president moved into the White House. That day in March President Wilson brought Jim Crow back to Washington.

The Dixiecrats were initially referred to as a splinter from the Democratic party in 1948. For over 100 years white Southerners had been Democrats. In 1948, the splinter party supported Strom Thurmond for US President. Over the next several decades the white south slowly re-aligned itself from the Democrats to Republicans. Ask yourself why? Kennedy, Johnson, Carter, Clinton—all presidents fought for Civil Rights. Reagan got in there some place in the middle and look what happened. He put his “Southern Strategy” in place.

Many of the political ideologies of the Dixiecrats have been so totally adopted by the Republicans these principles are now considered to be the core values of the modern Republican Party. The change started in 1972 with Richard Nixon’s “Southern Strategy.” There was a recon quest of the House of Representatives in 1994 by Newt Gingrich that reached ultimate pinnacle in 2000 with the election of George W. giving religiously motivated former Dixiecrats total control over all three branches of the federal government. (“Dixiecrat,” Wikipedia Encyclopedia).

The “Southern Strategy” cannot battle with Nature. The natural world has subjected the recessive gene to living conditions that have limited numbers. Fertility drugs, multiple births, and Viagra are not permitting the remainder to increase—even in promiscuously. Promiscuity currently prevails as white women “on the prowl” seek the “LARGER PENIS black men—jumping the color division to advance to zestful “Black Quarters.”

The International Committee for Monitoring Assisted Reproductive Technologies (ICMART) has reported an increase from 30,000 births in 1989 to 200,000 in 2002 from fertility treatments. Almost half of the techniques are performed in four countries—the United States, Germany, France and Britain. A report by Reuters touts three million babies have been born since the advent of in-vitro fertilization (IVF) 30 years ago (Reuters, 21 Jun 2006).

In the quest to save the dwindling Caucasian numbers, that means there are 100,000 more babies born per year because of fertility treatments. That is still well below replacement levels within Caucasian groups. With the immigration issue of Mexicans entering the US, they serve the dual purpose of being a buffer race that can supplement the dwindling white birth rate and help to maintain the status quo. According to the US Census, brown is just a temporary phase on the way to white. Once Mexicans cross the border, they have already been classified as Caucasian by our US government even though 40 percent has visible Negroid ancestry.

Nature is fashioning the neurotic and ruthless race choice according to strength and health. Just read the following research being done with a group of multi-ethnic children at Baylor College of Medicine. The Encyclopedia Britannica also outlines the fact of greater bone density present in African Americans so it just is not just an isolated research experiment. According to the research done by the college, “people of color” have more muscle and bone mass. Biology propagates that “people of color” are equipped with dominance in the gene pool.

In the second phase of a multi-ethnic body composition study of young children, researchers at the USDA/ARS Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine examined the genetic and environmental factors that influence growth. In a Multi-Ethnic Composition, more than 1,000 children participated in first part of CNRC Study. More than a thousand children, ages 3 to 18, took part in the first part of the study. Researchers found differences among ethnic groups in bone and muscle growth starting during the pre-puberty years, which was clear by age 12.

"African-American children were found to have higher muscle and bone mass than do Caucasians. We believe this might be a genetic difference and might help tell us why more whites than blacks suffer from osteoporosis later in life," said Kenneth J. Ellis, Ph.D., Professor of Pediatrics. "We found Caucasian children, in terms of bone and tissue mass," said Ellis. "Hispanics have a higher incidence of obesity and body fat." (<http://www.bcm.tmc.edu/baylormed/0997/.html>) Modified: Sep-26-1997)

African babies tend to be more advanced than European infants and US in sitting, walking, and running. In Uganda babies typically walk at 10 months as compared with 12 months in the US and 15 months in France (Papalia, Diane, et al (2003) Child Development: A Topical Development, 145-46).

Historical experience offers countless proofs of mating the recessive with the dominant gene. After thousands of years the recessive gene person has been wiped out resulting in a blow to white genetic make up. It shows with distinct clarity that in the mingling of Caucasian blood with "people of color," has resulted in the GLOBAL GRAND FINALE of Aryan/Caucasian people.

The Aryan Nation writes...The Germanic inhabitant of the American Continent, who has remained racially pure and unmixed, rose to be MASTER of the continent; he will remain the MASTER if he does not fall a victim to defilement of the blood. And as a sin this act is rewarded. When man attempts to rebel against the iron logic of Nature, he comes into struggle with the principles to which he himself owes his existence as a man, and this attack will lead to his own doom.

Man does not have the power to conquer Nature. As in anything, he has risen based on his knowledge of various laws and secrets of Nature. The white man has been Lord over living creatures of color that lack this knowledge. An idea cannot overcome the preconditions for the development and being of humanity, since the idea itself depends only on man. Therefore, the idea as such is always conditioned by the presence of human beings and hence of all the laws which created the precondition for their existence.

Caucasoid humans have changed the origin of civilization. They iterate: we have dabbled in racial engineering. We have been successful in wiping out mass numbers of American Aboriginal. We have classified and reclassified races of people. We have been successful in changing religious philosophies to meet the needs of the Caucasian Race. We are busy in our scientific labs trying to clone people with blue eyes, blonde hair and white skin. We have instituted biological germ warfare. In the last analysis, we have only mocked Nature because we are at the point of extinction.

We thought that distress, misfortune, and diseases were Nature's answer to the "colored man's demise." We as white men have misjudged and disregarded the racial laws; thus, forfeiting the happiness that was destined to be ours. We have thwarted the triumphal march of the Aryan Race—the best race and hence, also the precondition for all human progress. We are burdened with the sensibility of man, and now find ourselves in the animal realm of helpless misery.

Hitler writes: Thus, the road, which the Aryan had to take, was clearly marked out. As a conqueror, he subjected the lower beings and regulated their practical activity under his command, according to his will and for his aims. As soon as the subjected people began to raise themselves up and probably approached the conqueror in language, the sharp dividing wall between MASTER and SERVANT fell.

During slavery, white men gave up the purity of Aryan blood, therefore, losing the sojourn in the paradise, which they had made for themselves. They have become submerged in the racial mixture, and gradually, more and more, have lost cultural capacity, not only mentally but also physically. They have begun to resemble the subjected aborigines more than their own ancestors. The Aryans write: It behooves us that we must again reclassify people of “mixed blood” so that we will not lose our competitive racial edge. This act of reclassification is in direct opposition to the logic of Nature, but we must struggle with the principles to which we owe to the existence of man or this racial mixture will lead to our own doom.

Hitler writes: Race, however, does not lie in the language, but exclusively in the blood. A man can change his language without any trouble—that is, he can use another language; but in his new language he will express the old ideas; his inner nature is not changed. The Nigger who can speak a thousand languages and nevertheless remains a Nigger best shows this.

Mind over matter prevails. It must be re-irritated: No matter what shade of black skin surrounds the body, if the mind-set can be changed to believe the psychological makeup is white, the black skin cycles white. We have seen it throughout history and even in antiquity. The higher he climbs, the more alluring his WHITE RIGHT GOAL that had once promised him a rise from the veil of the past with feverish avidity. His keenest mindset sees the dream of world domination tangibly approaching in alignment with his now WHITE RIGHT BROTHER. And so, his sole effort is directed toward obtaining full possession of 'civil' rights and an equalization with whites. Clarence Thomas, Tiger "Negrito" Woods, and other noted Negroes are prime examples of "black skin cycling white."

Terms - Chapters 6 & 7

Abraham 106
 Aesop 121
 Augustus 109
 Aramaic 107
 Amharic 107

Aryan Nation 100, 128
 Ashanti Tribe 105
 Ashkenazim Jew 103
 Baylor College 126, 127
 Black Madonna 101, 110, 116
 Blyden, Edward 104
 Bonaparte, Napoleon 109
 Buda Clan 101, 102
 Bush, George W. 127
 Carter, Jimmie 125
 Charlemagne 110
 Cheops 113
 Chephre 113
 Cleopatra 121
 Clinton, William 125
 Cohanin 102
 Columbus, Christopher 114, 115

- Constantine 94, 95, 97, 99
 Council of Cardinals 91
 CCC 124
 CNRC 127
 Council of Nicaea 92, 96, 100
 Darkwah, Alex 101, 102
 da Vinci's Last Supper 105
 Dead Sea Scrolls 100, 104, 109
 Diocletian 93, 94
 Diop, Cheikh Anta 100, 101, 103,
 104, 110
 Dixiecrat 125
 Ebionites 100
 Edict of Milan 95
 Eghert 110
 Ellis, Kenneth J. 127
 Emperor Anastasias 97
 Emperor Theophilus I 97
 Englisc 116
 Enoch 109, 113
 Garden of Eden 112
 Geographer Royal of France 111
 Gepids 116
 Girgashites 106
 Gingrich, Newt 125
 Ham 106, 113
 Heth 126
 Hitler, Adolf 120, 129, 130
 Horus 93
 Mohammed, 122
 Moors 106, 121
 Mussolini, Benito 121
 Mycerinus, 113
 Nazarenes 98
 Emperor Nero 94
 Newton, Isaac, 114
 Nimrod 106
 Nixon, Richard 126
 Osirian 93
 Qumran 99, 104, 113, 114
 Pauline Church, 101
 Pope Julius II 105
 Huns 122
 ICMART 126
 Isis 93, 116
 Jackson, John J. 100
 Jebusites 106
 Jefferson, Thomas 120
 Jim Crow 125
 Justin Martyr 96
 Keeler, Bronson 96
 Kennedy, John F. 125
 Khazar Jews 106
 Khufwey, Khafre, Menkaure 113
 Koestler, Arthur 105
 Krishna 93
 Ku Klux Klan 124
 Land of Nod 114
 Land of Shinar 106
 Lemba 101, 102
 Library of Alexandria 96, 100
 Library of Carthage 100
 Lion of Judah 107
 Lombards 116
 Mandaeans 98
 Manding 116
 Maricon 95, 97, 98
 Maxentius 94
 Mein Kampf 120
 Methuselah 113
 Michelangelo 105

Ptolemies 96, 97
Selassie, Haile 107
Sephardim Jews 106
Sidon 106
Solomon 91, 107
Tacitus 92
Terence 121
Three-Fifths Compromise 90
Vikings 122
Welsing, Frances 122
Williams, Chancellor 122
Williams, Joseph J. 103
Wilson, Woodrow 125
Winters, Clyde A. 100, 103, 116
World War II 113
Wycliffe (1382) 108

CHAPTER 8

WARREN HARDING'S DEATH WARRANT—BLACKNESS

There is a contrast with America's past and present—death by blackness and death of the presidential office by stoogery. The fatality of imperialism continues. Of all the American presidents who died in office, none had more questions surrounding his sudden death than the 29th President, Warren G. Harding. The file is still missing and is one of history's most famous unsolved cases. Who killed Harding? US National leaders denied the rumors by Democrats that Harding came from African ancestry—his untimely demise—blackness.

Eighty years and 14 presidents later, George W. Bush's demise was the bottle of Jack. There are several articles recanting Bush's bout with the bottle, and his college major in "beer drinking." It took a group of Bible packing fundamentalists in West Texas to bring him to his Evangelical present. Bush took part in a Bible study group in 1985, after two decades of binge drinking. Bush has been known to make statements like, "God speaks through me." Bush believed God wanted him to run for president. Bush's victory in his second presidential term shocked the world. Bush was the most internationally unpopular American leader in decades. He came to the presidential office illegitimately, and the rest of the world was stunned to see him win again.

Warren G. Harding won the 1920 Election by a landslide. He was popular beyond belief. Just before his death he was dubbed: "corrupt, incompetent, spineless and lacking the ability to speak authoritatively about public questions.” To this day, I believe people in or connected to his administration because of his blackness wiped him out. Harding was assassinated.

When Warren Harding was elected in 1919, and it was discovered that he stood for women’s rights as well as standing up in the segregationist south and professing African American rights. And then Washington DC found out Harding was black. He had to be wiped out. During Woodrow Wilson’s tenure, Federal officials built separate structures to house black workers in Washington DC. Whites replaced most black diplomats. Numerous black federal officials in the South were removed from their posts; the local Washington police force and fire department stopped hiring blacks. Harding was dubbed most corrupt and inept. His popularity, like George W. Bush’s disappeared soon after he was elected to office.

In his first four years of office President Bush was christened one of our most “popular presidents.” How can one president be so incompetent and the other so extraordinary when Harding and Bush were involved in similar forms of corruptness? Bush uses a Propaganda Offensive when he can speak clearly enough for people to understand what he is trying to convey. During Harding’s Era technology was not developed enough to make the same “Big Bush Impact.” Blackness must be the answer to the mystery of his untimely death.

When the audience is lulled into believing something or doing something or supporting something – that otherwise would have been rejected is a Propaganda Offensive. The Bush Administration had their Republican Journalistic Sanctified Warriors busy developing messages and themes and making certain the media noticeably planted certain attitudes used the “proper ideas”. The Propaganda Offensive tactics included the Presidential Election of 2000, 9/11, and the State of the Economy. Bush & Co. made sure their audience received messages from a variety of sources that mutually reinforced one another – God Bless America!

Since the attack of the United States on September 11, 2001, President Bush’s popularity remained strong until his second term when it bottomed out at 30 percent. During his first term a Los Angeles Times Poll has the president’s job approval rating steady at 86 percent, while only one in ten disapproved. Almost the same share of Americans 83 percent approved of the way he handled the war in Afghanistan with 64 percent saying they strongly approved. Ministers of the evangelical movement form the core of the Republican Party (Dixiecrats). They have controlled Washington for almost a century.

The Enron Scandal has been called the sequel to Harding’s Teapot Dome Scandal. George W. Bush and Enron Oil and Gas were in business together in 1986 – when Ken Lay was head of Enron. Lay was named Enron chairman in February of that year. After the Enron affair began generating front-page headlines, Bush attempted to distance himself from Enron and Lay. The Enron-George W. Bush connection goes back further than the President has suggested. The Spectrum-Enron deal is either an odd historical coincidence or an indication there’s more to learn about the Bush-Enron association.

Look at how tyranny works. George W. Bush, Junior sold 60 percent of his stock in Harken Oil (Spectrum 7 was a subsidiary) in June 1990 for $848,560. Wasn’t that brilliant timing? Didn’t Martha Stewart end up in jail for “insider trading?" In August, Iraq invaded Kuwait and Harken's stock dropped 25 percent. Harken's internal financial advisers at Smith Barney issued a report in May warning of the company's deteriorating finances. Harken owed more than $150 million to banks and other creditors. Bush, Jr. was a member of the board and Harken's restructuring committee, which met in May and worked directly with the Smith Barney consultants. These are clear-cut indications of illegal insider trading. President Bush controlled the Securities and Exchange Commission. It investigated but chose not to press charges. Junior also violated another SEC rule. He was required to register his sale, as an insider trade by July 10, 1990, but didn't until March 1991, after the Gulf War was over. He was not punished or cited ("Bush Jr.'s Skelton Closet," <http://wwwrealchange.org/bushjr.htm#insidertrading>).

Bush said God made him attack Iraq. "God told me to strike at al Qaeda, and I struck them, and then he instructed me to strike at Saddam Hussein, which I did, and now I am determined to solve the problem in the Middle East. If you help me I will act, and if not, the elections will come and I will have to focus on them."

Harding got sick from Ptomaine Poisoning and collapsed after having violent convulsions. Some believe that Florence Harding, his wife, killed him. Before his death, Harding suffered numerous breakdowns and ended up in a Sanatorium in Battle Creek, Michigan. He was psychologically sick all right.

During Harding's time in office there were 183 lynchings of African-Americans. The Tulsa, Oklahoma Race Riots of 1921 left a total of 301 dead. This domestic terrorism event was more serious than the Oklahoma City Bombing of 1995, but America heard about this domestic terrorist attack 80 years after it happened. White people rioted after a botched lynching of a black man wrongfully accused of rape. Fifteen hundred (1,500) houses and businesses and 35 blocks in the Greenwood section of Tulsa known as the “Negro Wall Street” were destroyed.

Two days of violence and arson directed by whites against African American neighborhoods left hundreds of dead, hundreds injured, and more than 1500 African American homes and 600 businesses in shambles. In 1922, a filibuster in the US Senate killed a Federal Anti-Lynching Bill. Warren didn’t want to be found out and then lynched. That is where Warren G. fits in—fit in where you can get in—BE WHITE YOUNG MAN! GET ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE US. Certainly Bush & his Washington DC crew are using tactics more scandalous than Harding ever thought about to get over. Like Bush, Harding also lived a political illegitimacy—although Harding’s illegitimacy was a WHITE illegitimacy. Consider the following:

President George W. was selected and elected with a proven Political Illegitimacy: According to The Nation, Albert “Al” Gore beat George Bush by roughly 537,000 votes nationally, but also handily defeated him among legally cast votes in Florida. Bush will spend his term to counter his proven political illegitimacy. Before the much-misreported results of the Florida recount, the Administration gave every indication of being so addicted to secrecy that it would happily stretch the bounds of democratic accountability beyond their breaking point.

AL GORE WINS THE STATE OF FLORIDA declared the major television networks on November 7, 2001. Later that evening the networks retracted their call and placed Florida in the undecided camp. Voting machines in black communities did not work properly and black voters were intimidated by the police and in some instances prevented from voting. Americans think the 2000 Presidential Election in Florida came down to hanging chads on a handful of disputed ballots. When George Bush's brother Jeb's Secretary of State, Katherine Harris, hired a company with the excuse to empty the state's voter rolls of convicted felons. It resulted in the purge of mostly black voters while purposely deleting thousands of prospective Democratic voters with no criminal records from the rolls.

Operation Public Lockout: According to the Washington Post, this tendency was evident even pre-9/11 – for instance, when Dick Cheney refused repeated Congressional demands that he identifies the lobbyists crafting the Administration's multibillion-dollar giveaway to the oil and gas industry. Bush wants to shut down the free flow of information. Consider November's Executive Order 13233, which eviscerates the nation's access to its own history, effectively overturning the Presidential Records Act (PRA) of 1978 by Fiat. Current law insists that all presidential papers be declassified within twelve years, with an exception made for those whose publication could demonstrably affect our national security. Bush now wants to allow Presidents to refuse to declassify the decision-making process virtually forever.

Some think Harding was one of America's greatest presidents. Harding was the first Republican president to support the right of women to vote. The election of 1920 was the first presidential election in which women could vote. He was a leader in bringing about postwar economic development after WWI. He took responsibility and held government officials accountable. He is the first president to require budgets in all departments of the government - especially the War Department. There was much graft and corruption in defense spending, and Harding brought it under control with budgets.

In Harding's Teapot Dome Scandal - The US Navy's oil reserves were sold and turned over to private investors with a kickback to the Secretary of the Interior. There are many similarities to the recent Enron collapse. It was believed that the public should divest itself of real property and never compete with private enterprise. CNN reports that Energy giant Enron, which used to brag about becoming the world's biggest company, now holds the record for the country's biggest ever bankruptcy filing.

The media reports: Enron makes Whitewater look like peanuts - 4,500 employees out of work. Tens of thousands of investors watched their Enron stock sink suddenly from $83 per share to 26 cents, wiping out $60 billion of stockholder value. Eleven Thousand (11,000) employees invested 401K funds exclusively in Enron - and were forbidden by Enron's own rules from diversifying. Today they have no retirement plan at all.

It is hard to tell whether Enron is the house that Bush built, or Bush is the house that Enron built. Bush and friends were major players in Enron's corporate success. The political fortunes of George W. Bush seem to be linked to the rise and fall of Enron. Enron is the world's biggest corporate disaster. It can also be labeled the world's biggest cause of corporate criminality.

The Bush administration had Enron connections. Secretary of the Army Thomas White was a former high-ranking Enron executive, and Robert Zoellick, the US Trade Representative, was a paid member of Enron's Advisory Board. The Washington consulting firm run by Lawrence Lindsey, the White House's top economic advisor, worked for Enron. Other top officials included Karl Rove, Bush's chief political strategist and Lewis Libby, Vice President Dick Cheney's chief of staff, both owned huge chunks of Enron stock when they joined the Bush Administration. At the end of the first Bush Administration, Enron hired Chief of Staff James Baker and Commerce Secretary Robert Mosbacher. Ken Lay Chairman of Enron was George Bush's biggest campaign contributor. Ken Lay was the only energy executive to meet privately with VP Dick Cheney to help shape the administration's new energy policy. The Bush Whitehouse refused to help California solve its energy crisis, which were caused by Enron's suddenly inflating the price of electricity, forcing blackouts throughout the state. Bush refused to intervene to help consumers—wouldn't do anything to hurt his pal's big business.

Harding's presidency was one of total disrespect. Authors write: Harding's nomination and election proved the adage that anyone could become president. That way if the news of his blackness leaked out, he would go down in history as low man on the Totem Pole. This Negro couldn't be lynched like the other Negroes—not for public display. I believe that is why he was eliminated mysteriously—by poison.

Warren didn't want a legitimate child because the child might be born with black skin or curly hair; therefore, validating black ethnicity. Blacks were savages who lead an animal-like existence. The southern plantation was "a school constantly training and controlling pupils who were in a backward state of civilization." If Warren was poisoned by government officials, it was done under the auspicious of “proper discipline” by “The Star Strangled Banner.”

Woodrow Wilson was the 28th president of the US and a Dixiecrat (breakaway segregationist Democrats). When he was elected, Washington rang with happy Rebel Yells, while bands all over town played “Dixie.” The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, whose role it was to swear in the newly elected Southern president, was himself a former member of the Ku Klux Klan. The South ran the nation and Negroes should expect to be treated as a servile race. Wilson was pro-slavery and supporter of the Confederacy. After his election, he gave Washington the license to pursue its racial practices without concern about federal interference. He re-segregated Washington DC and employees in the White House. Black federal supervisors, along with most black diplomats, were replaced by whites; numerous black federal officials in the South were removed from their posts; the local Washington police force and fire department stopped hiring blacks (Freund).

Lynching during that era was common as a “Negro disposal method.” With the Dixiecrats in power in Washington, why wouldn’t Warren Harding end up “mysteriously dead” once he was found out to come from Negro ancestry? History has done much to ruin his credibility. He has been deemed, “America’s worst president.”

References

American Heritage “The Four Mysteries of Warren Harding.” (14 April 1963): 4-10, 81-86.

- Corn, David., "W's First Enron Connection: Update on the Bush-Enron Oil Deal," The Nation 4 Mar 2002.
- Ferrell, Robert H. The Strange Death of President Harding (University of Missouri Press) 1998.
- Francis, Russell. The Shadow of Blooming Groves (Warren G. Harding in his Times.
- Freund, Charles Paul., "Dixiecrats Triumphant: The secret history of Woodrow Wilson." Reason Magazine, March 2003.
- "http://www.pbs.org/jefferson/archives/documents/ih199641.html"
- Journal of Personality and Social Psychology*, 1997, Vol. 72, No. 5, 980-1001.
- Leonard S. Newman and Kimberley J. Duff, University of Illinois at Chicago. Notes on the "http://www.asis.com/zebra/JeffersonOnSlavery .html"
- Propaganda in Theory and Practice, www.Africa2000.com/PNDX/theory
- Reaney, Patricia., "Three million babies born after fertility treatment," Reuters, 21 Jun 2006.
- Rogers, J. A. Five Negro Presidents, 1965.
- Rogers, J. A. World's Great Men of Color, Volume 1 New York: Simon & Schuster, 1996.
- State of <http://www.lclark.edu/~invent/anthology/JeffersonNotes.html>" Notes on the State of Virginia, written in 1781.

CHAPTER 9

THE CAUCASIAN ORIGIN OF MANKIND

NOTE: Recorded European History documents a Caucasian connection to the origin of mankind with a direct line through Christianity. To prove the position, similar information may be presented in this chapter as was outlined in Chapter 6.

The Falasha Jews of Ethiopia are the only Jews in “modern day” Israel who can trace their Biblical roots. Keep in mind that modern day Israel was set up by the US and Britain in 1948. The original Jews remain in Africa. Everything came from Africa. It is the continent the rest of the world visited, colonized, and pillaged—its diamonds, gold, and other iron ores and most important—its people. Africa is being paid back with the implantation of the US “lab created” AIDS Virus and post-colonial political systems to trigger civil wars causing famine, disease, and social deprivation. Europe eats from Africa. It is easy to see the same thing starting to happen in Afghanistan, Iraq, and the rest of the Middle East under the guise of “war to implement democracy.” Those government leaders are being toppled so the US and Europe can put into place an “umbrella democracy” and embezzle the oil and other resources. The USA’S economic policy has a growing dependency on war to maintain full-employment.

Africans wrote the Bible about Africans. The Bible is not about Europe or Europeans. Europe was not in existence 6,000 years ago. Egypt wasn’t conquered by Rome until 300 BC. Where did the white people come from that you see lining the pages of your King James Holy Book? They appeared intentionally in the mindset of people who changed the color of history. King James translated the Bible. Did he also rewrite the Bible knowingly? Logical thinking is the process by which one uses reasoning consistently to conclude. It plainly makes sense. This process involves taking the important ideas, facts, and conclusions involved in a problem and arranging them in a chain-like progression so that it takes on meaning. To think logically is to think in steps. When talking about the “End Times” or “New World Order,” the public thinks the US is not mentioned in the Book of Revelation, but it is mentioned. The US is the “Political Babylon.” The US and Europe represent everything coming from Rome.

What happens when man falls into disfavor with God? Genesis 29:30-35: To have children is a blessing. Not to be able to bear children is an affliction. Deuteronomy 7:15: Though shalt be blessed above all people: There shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle. The verses are repeated in Judges 13 and 1 Samuel 2:5. Those who have transgressed against God cannot bear children to replenish the Earth. Statistically speaking the Caucasian Race amounts to eight (8) percent of the global population with white females of childbearing age representing two (2%) percent. The future of the white race is in the wombs of its reciprocating white women. The concept “reciprocate” means willing to duplicate. Caucasian children replication has become a barren issue. In case you hadn’t noticed, white women are running rampant, lusting after black men in massive numbers. Black men are still considered “Niggers” to white fathers but are “Mesmerizing Knights” to their white daughters who have dubbed black men as “remarkable.”

Two events helped to evoke the current force of fury and consummate the “White Jurisdiction Institute.” The first instance was Christianity, and the second European Colonization. Christianity evolved in Roman History (AD 400). Colonization evoked force during the 18th and 19th Centuries. The average person knows groups like the Aryan Nation, Council of Conservative Citizens and KKK are culprits of the “White Jurisdiction Reasoning Institute.” We have a nation of lobotomized brains disciplined to feel and think “Caucasian Outgrowth.” The groups are merely putting into sequence thoughts from our “National Think Tank,” the Average American. Both blacks/whites have been “brainwashed and lobotomized” to think and act identically logically c-r-a-z-y.

The Aryan Nation proclaims its mission: “The ongoing work of Jesus Christ, the re-gathering of “His people,” calling “His people” to a state for their nation to ring in “His Kingdom.” The Nation believes the white race first appeared on Earth when Adam, man of Genesis (father of the white race exclusively) turned rosy (red, ruddy) according the original Hebrew Language and is translated: “To show blood in the face; turn rosy.” Genesis 5:1). The definition ruddy (from the Earth) also goes back to Diop’s explanation of how Europeans described the ancient Egyptians as “dark red.” It is just another term for Colored/Negro.

Menelik II “King of Kings,” “Lion of Judah” (1923) can be traced to King Solomon in the Bible. The oldest royal family in Europe was the Bourbon, which dates to the Ninth Century AD. The next is the English, which goes back to William the Conqueror, who was born in 1028. The Menelis can be traced to Menelis I, son of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, or back to 930 BC between Menelik I and Menelis II, which stretches 2,793 years. Solomon’s lineage is traced in the Bible to Adam, which for those who accept the legend would give Menelik nearly 6,000 years of recorded ancestry (Rogers, 370).

Doesn't the foregoing philosophy sound like historians labeled the ancient Egyptians a "Race of dark red people" to disguise blackness to the Western part of the world? The invaders could not go back to Europe and America with the "Black Birthplace of Mankind Theory" when slavery was being staunchly put into place. White Americans think the same thoughts and have the same philosophies but do not speak the thoughts aloud—you know from whence your enemy surrounds.

Euro-American historians refer to "Aryans," not to be confused with the Aryan Nation as the Mediterranean Race i.e. the original man, although the Aryan Nation denies any resemblance to the present mixed-breed inhabitants (black/white) of the Mediterranean Basin. The Aryan Nation alleges to be part of the great race that built the pyramids of Egypt, knew the heavens and charted stars and created the deserted ruins in South Africa. Their claims are as shaky as they are quaky. Archeological remains and inscriptions to prove their theory are NON-EXISTENT.

The Aryan Nation's Affirmation: They were the Phoenicians, Carthaginians and Babylonians. But then turn-around and say: "These groups of people fell because of Negro women found in their tents in Africa." The 8 percenters are hard at work after recognizing they are on the brink of extinction. Caucasians have become victims of their own propaganda. They have built their foundation on white sand, and the little granules falling by the wayside are shaded black/brown.

Aryans, believe they are the original race of people labeled "Atlantean." Do some research and look up the word "Atlantean." It has occult connections. Muslims believe the "white man is the Devil." Lucifer means, "Light." Could there be something to that thought? The implication being made is the following: Caucasians cannot validate the rudiments of white civilization. It has been proven that civilization started in the great river valleys of Africa in the Fertile Crescent. It is also logical that the evolution of the white race started in Africa.

The Encyclopedia Britannica outlines the lack of or absence of historical sources to trace the process of Swedish Expansion and the Viking Era around AD 400—the land of the Aryans. The same is true for Denmark. The first trustworthy written evidence of a kingdom of Denmark belongs to the early Viking Period. Roman knowledge of this country is fragmentary and unreliable. The same is said for the other Scandinavian countries—THE LANDS THE ARYANS.

In my quest to trace pre-historic man to Europe, the following information surfaced. The original Indo-Europeans referred to as Aryans were nomads, who herded animals in the steppes north of the Black Sea, in what is now the Ukraine. Between 5,000 and 6,000 years ago the Aryans migrated into Europe on horseback and conquered a series of cultures. The Encyclopedia Britannica, one of Euro-America's own search engines, concurs with British historians.

Indo-Iranian languages make up a major branch of the Indo-European family of languages (Bower, 120+). The Singhalese Language is an Indo-European language of the Indo-Aryan family. Linguistics links the Iranian language to African languages. Iranian languages include the Arabic language. Arabic belongs to the Semitic Language group.

Semitic includes Ethiopic and Hebrew—people who lived in one of black Africa's greatest civilizations. The earliest surviving specimens of the language are brief inscriptions on rocks in Brahmi Letters dating from 200 BC. The most considerable amount of dated Aryan language dates to about AD 1000 (Encyclopedia Britannia, 567).

The Aryans propagate a semi-fictional (semi-means half-and-half) historical novel on the origins of the Aryan people. The Saga/fairy tale deals with the lives of the ancient Indo-Europeans about twenty thousand years ago who proudly called themselves the Aryans - The Noble Ones. They were the first Mazda Yasnis, the worshippers of Ahura Mazda: God in the ancient Aryan tongue of Avestan.

There are no archeological specimens of Caucasians from antiquity – just cave drawings. Cheikh Anta Diop and Chancellor Williams have researched proof of European civilization being a derivation of African achievement. They are not the only authors with this theory. There were no artifacts left behind or found by archeological digs. The Aryans claim to be extraterrestrial or existing outside of the Earth and universe. Volume I of the Saga vividly describes the Great Migration of the Aryan ancestors from their ancient homeland Airyanam Vaejo in the North Pole. The ancient ancestors drew inspiration from the sacred Scriptures of the Aryan Zoroastrians, in which the great journey is authenticated.

There were trials and tribulations that befell the ancient ancestors of mankind in their great journey to the South and the Southwest, towards Iran, India, Greece, Russia, Germany and the other nations of Europe. The Aryans display great heroism against the bitter cold and blizzards, the wild animals and the savage barbarians. Romance blooms among the young as they travel onwards to IRAN. The Aryans proclaim to be part of the root race “Atlantean” (Avestan).

Christianity was the first event to consummate the “White Jurisdiction Institute.” Constantine I was the Roman emperor who ruled during AD 306-337, built Constantinople, chartered Christian worship, and instituted Christianity as lawful. Christianity was established, and the Ecumenical Council decided which books were left in or out of the Holy Bible. The following words placed on the cross-denoting Christianity: “In Hoc Signo, Vinces” (meaning, “In this sign you will conquer”). Currently, the majority membership of Christian churches is non-white, and all are held in control concealed by the symbol of the cross.

The Christian Crusades were a series of military campaigns sanctioned by the Roman Catholic Pope during the 11th and 13th centuries. Originally, the Crusades were Roman Catholic Holy Wars to recapture Jerusalem and the Holy Land from the Muslims. The more things change, the more they stay the same! Is that what happened when Britain and the US set up a homeland for the modern-day Jews? Is that the reasoning instilled for the slaughter of Palestinians by modern day Israel – a repeat of the same thing? The religious fundamentalists claim the US and Britain are fighting a religious war (crusade) in the Middle East when it is no more than a war Euro-America created for global conquest.

The fury of a white supremacy dynamic was expressed in the form of Nazism. The dominant symbol used by this group in the supremacy system is the black swastika. The central element of the swastika is the cross. A spinning or whirling cross (cross in motion) gives the visual illusion of the swastika. Historically, the symbol of the swastika spurred whites to destroy. The cross is still the dominant symbol in religious practices of the supremacy system/culture.

Through "Caucasian racial engineering" some brown races have become hypothetically "white." If black and brown people have straight or wavy hair, they have been reclassified as "Caucasian." Therefore, the word Caucasian is continuously used to refer to dark skin (non-white) people with Negroid ancestry who have straight hair. It has increased the white race totals with a lopsided distribution numbering system. The system was designed to expand and extend white race counts that amount to 8 percent worldwide (UN Population, 1+).

The name "Israel" goes back in history to at least 13th century BC. It was once the name of the people in Canaan (Western Palestine) who were destroyed by the Egyptian Army under Pharaoh Merenpath. The name Moses originates from the Egyptian word ms, meaning "is born, as in Thutmose and Ramose." "Moses is an anglicized version of the Hellenized transliteration (i.e., mosis) of the original Egyptian" (Greenberg 188).

According to the Bible, Egypt was peopled by the offspring of Ham, ancestor of the blacks. "The descendants of Ham were Chus, Mesraim, Phut and Canaan. The descendants of Chus are Saba, Hevila, Sabatha, Regma and Sabathaca...Chus was the father of Nimrod; he was the first to be conqueror of the Earth. Mesraim became the father of Ludim, Anamin, Laabim, Nephthuhim, Phethrusim, Chasluhi. Canaan became the father of Sid, his first-born, and Heth (Diop 2).

Note: Mesraim still designates Egypt; Canaan, the entire coast of Palestine and Phoenicia; Senmar, which was probably the site from which Nimrod left for Western Asia, still indicates the Kingdom of Nubia. Canaan = Palestine = Israel. In Phoenicia, the Canaanites were descendants of Canaan. Canaan was the brother of Mesraim, the Egyptian, and Chus (Kush), the Ethiopian, sons of Ham (Diop, 107). Ham is the father of the Black Race according to King James and his Bible translators.

The term "Semite" originally came into being when Roman (white) soldiers sexually aggressed against African women. Another keen example of this aggression occurred during slavery when white males sexually aggressed themselves against African (black) females. When the Israelites leave black Egypt in the Exodus story, they walked out black but have been since "labeled and stamped" white people. The evolvment embarks. Semi means someone whose ancestry was of a black and white mixture; therefore, emerging black (since black is genetically dominant). The Ethiopian Language is Amharic and has Semitic origin. Semi-sweet chocolate is a good example of what "semi" means. The sweetness is there, but the pungency comes through.

The 18th Dynasty between (Abraham and Moses) were black in color but labeled and stamped "Dark Red Race" by the foreign invasions of Napoleon and his army in the 16th Century, and the English in the 19th Century. The American Aboriginal is also called "red men." The armies established the first modern contacts with the West. It was then Napoleon and his men shot off the flat noses and other Negro features of the Sphinx. The Great Pyramids display a profile of the Bantu African people. The Bantu people make up about 2/3 of the population of Africa, and inhabit the southern half of the continent (below the Sahara Desert). Bantu means unmixed Negroid people. The Bantu region stretches from Cameroon in the west to Kenya in the east and south to the bottom of the continent.

Cheikh Anta Diop unraveled the intertwined relationships connecting Egyptian dynasties to the Old Testament during the 1960's and 1970's. There are many current theological authors who have revealed the same concepts, but the following two stand out as having done a vast amount of research along the same lines. Gary Greenberg and Thomas Thompson examine archaeological records connecting Egyptian Dynasties to the Old Testament. Greenberg is a Jew who connects himself to African Origin.

English scholar Gerald Massey wrote extensively on the origins of Jewish ancient history and the relationship of the ancient Kemet people to the Old Testament during the late 1800's, but Massey's work was banned in much of the United States. He wrote extensively about Egyptian History between the Pharaohs of Akhenaten and Rameses II. The pre-dynastic chronology in Genesis (from the birth of Adam to the birth of Methuselah) is derived from the same source as Manetho's Chronology of the Egyptian Gods. Both are based on the Theban Doctrine of Creation. The Egyptian God "Yahweh" plays a central role in the story of Moses and Israel's beginnings (Greenberg 6). The Bible's seven days of Creation derived from Egyptian theology and the story of Noah's Flood revolves around Egyptian calendar cycles. The precise alignment between the genesis and Manetho Chronologies enables the resolve of almost every major chronological dispute about Egyptian Dynastic History prior to the 19th Dynasty. There is evidence dating the Book of Genesis to coincide with Egyptian Dynastic dates. The two chronologies were based on a common history (Greenberg, 282-3).

In Genesis 15:13 "Abraham's Inheritance" was a carrier of the blessing that descended from Shem and entered a covenant with God. Abraham found the land of Canaan inhabited by Hamitic people upon his arrival. Genesis 15:18 clearly reaffirms the boundaries of the land to be inherited by Abraham (Genesis 2:8-14) from the Nile to the Euphrates including the Garden of Eden and the Fertile Crescent. Genesis 15:19-21 lists the Hamitic Tribe people and nations who inhabited the region promised to Abraham in Genesis 15:1-21.

The Cushite's of Mesopotamia were Ethiopians (Judges 3:3-10). Cushite's were Edenites from the Land of Eden. The Sudanese are synonymous with Watusi and Zulu, 400 years from 1846-1446 BC. The Cushite's of Mesopotamia are identical with Ethiopians. Until the 4th Glacial Epoch, flat-nosed Negroes were the only humans (Diop, 67-8). There is archaeological evidence includes Semitic Languages which are closely related to African Languages and are spoken in Syria, Palestine and related to Berber, Libyan, ancient Egyptian and Coptic Cushite (Greenberg pp. 110-111). The earliest human bones have been found in Ethiopia. Twenty years ago, South Africa was the only place in the world where the bones found allowed scientists to reconstitute the genealogical tree of mankind uninterruptedly from its beginning until today.

The civilization of Canaan can be traced to Paleolithic times. Skeletons of Neanderthal type man can be traced directly to the (Hottentot/Bushman) dated about 30,000 BC and discovered in caves near Mt. Carmel and the Sea of Galilee. The Bushmen left the first engraved rough drawings on rocks and carved limestone figurines representing monstrously fat pregnant women. Aurignacian tools have been found in France, Italy, and Spain, Java, Siberia, and China. Practically everyone agrees that until the 4th Glacial Epoch, flat-nosed Negroid were the only humans. It was probably not until the fourth glaciation, which lasted 100,000 years. The differentiation of the Negroid Race into distinct races occurred following a long period of adaptation.

Open your Bible to Leviticus. Chapter 13 deals with the issue of leprosy and skin turning white. Verse 4 describes a man's flesh with a bright spot of white in the skin. If the hair has not turned white, a priest can help him turn the plague around so that it is somewhat dark. Verse 10 talks of the rising of white in the skin, and the hair turning white. It is then that a priest will pronounce him unclean. Is this when the black man turns white? Was this a form of Albinism? Albinos occur in all races of mankind and in all animal groups. The Albion tic condition arises from a distinct hereditary interference with the normal function of melanocytes (www.noah.com).

The same physical Albino attributes in children of black/brown races were taboo in Biblical times. In Biblical times people with albinism were banished or thrown out and forced to live in colonies just as people with leprosoaria (Hansen's Disease) lived in the Gillis W. Long Leprosy Hospital in Carville, Louisiana. Because the disease is now considered rare, the hospital closed just at the turn of the new millennium. The Biblical black race believed God was delivering judgment on a family with albinism and the individual with albinism was cursed or in the embodiment of sin.

White-skinned people came into existence thousands of years ago as the Albino mutant offspring of black-skinned mothers and fathers in Africa. A sizable number of these black parents produced, rejected and then cast out of the community their genetic defective albino offspring to live away from the normal black skin-pigmented population. There were colonies of albinos formed which eventually migrated northward to Europe, to escape the intensity of the equatorial sun of the Southern hemisphere. The Albino colonies produced more and more Albinos until there was an Albino (white) Race (Welsing, 23).

According to The South African Institute for Medical Research in review – Journal of South African Science, there is a High Frequency of Albinism in Africa. “Albinism provides more clues to early African history to complement the lessons of language,” provides more clues to early African history. The Department of Human Genetics at the SAIMR is currently involved with numerous research projects, most related to human genetic disorders and population origins – one of these, ‘Albinism in African peoples’ having received particular attention because it offers new insights into the historical movement of peoples in sub-Saharan Africa.

The albinism syndrome shows parallels with sickle cell anemia. The carrier of the sickle cell mutation is at an advantage in regions where malaria is hyperendemic, which includes large areas of Africa. About one in 35 southern African blacks is a carrier of an albinism mutation, a surprisingly high prevalence for a genetic disorder where the homozygote is at a survival disadvantage. It is postulated that the albinism carrier may be at an advantage, possibly also with malaria as the selective agent. It has been suggested that mosquitoes are less likely to alight and take blood from a lighter-skinned person and thus the albinism carrier may be at an advantage over darker-skinned people. The testing of this hypothesis is opening a new line of research into malaria studies, which may yet show some other selective agent may be responsible for the high frequency of albinism in Africa.

The Finnish, Swedish, and Danish people are “as white as pure driven snow” with blonde hair that is almost white. The two groups of people show strong evidence they could be a composition of the Albinic/white Race that moved northward. White European geneticists have validated that the union of two albinos will produce children that are affected with albinism. The parents of albinos are often consanguineous since it increases the likelihood that both will possess the same gene. The albionotic condition creates an extreme sensitivity of eyes and skin to the sunlight. There was a migration of the African Albinos northward to what the world recognizes as Europe. During the Biblical times, Europe was part of Africa. In modern times Europeans, themselves designated and divided Africa into the regions of the “Middle East,” “Far East” and “Near East.” The regions were divided according to the distance from Europe.

The Scandinavian countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, and Finland make up the Nordic people. Nordic traits include long slim bodies, long oval faces, white alabaster skin, straight blond hair, and blue or gray eyes. Nordic people have thick yellow-white eyebrows, and facial hair. The Nordic traits clearly distinguish and identify Albino traits or visa versa – take your pick.

- ◆ The Cushite’s of Mesopotamia were Ethiopians (Judges 3:3-10). Cushite’s were Edenites from the Land of Eden. Until the 4th Glacial Epoch, flat-nosed Negroes were the only humans (Diop, 67-8).
- ◆ The Egyptian God “Yahweh” plays a central role in the story of Moses and Israel’s beginnings (Greenberg 6). The Bible's seven days of Creation was derived from Egyptian theology, and the story of Noah's Flood revolves around Egyptian calendar cycles.

- ◆ The name "Israel" goes back in history to 13th century BC. It was once the name of Canaan (Western Palestine). They were destroyed by the Egyptian Army under Pharaoh Merenpath. The name Moses actually originates from the Egyptian word ms, meaning "is born," as in Thutmose and Ramose." "Moses is an anglicized version of the Hellenized transliteration (i.e., mosis) of the original Egyptian (Greenberg 188).
- ◆ In Phoenicia, the Canaanites were descendants of Canaan. Canaan was the brother of Mesraim, the Egyptian, and Chus (Kush), the Ethiopian, sons of Ham (Diop, 107).
- ◆ The Sudanese is synonymous with Watusi and Zulu - 400 years from 1846-1446 BC. The Cushite's of Mesopotamia are synonymous with Ethiopians.
- ◆ Constantine I was the Roman emperor who ruled during AD 306-337, built Constantinople, chartered Christian worship, and instituted Christianity as lawful. Christianity was established, and the Ecumenical Council decided which books of the Bible were left in or out of the Holy Bible.
- ◆ "Caucasian racial engineering" has caused some brown races to become hypothetically "white." If black and brown people have straight hair, they have been reclassified as "Caucasian." The word Caucasian is continuously used to refer to dark skin (non-white) people who have straight hair.

- ◆ During the French invasion off Africa, Napoleon and his men shot of the flat noses and other Negro features of the Sphinx. The Great Pyramid displays a profile of the Bantu African people.
- ◆ Theologians have connected archaeological records to Egyptian Dynasties and the Old Testament. English scholar Gerald Massey wrote extensively on the origins of Jewish ancient history and the relationship of the ancient Kemet people to the Old Testament during the late 1800's, but Massey's work was banned in much of the United States as was Diop's African Origin of Civilization.

References

- Diop, Cheikh Anta. The African Origin of Civilization. Chicago: Lawrence Hill Books, 1974.
- Encyclopedia Britannica. Chicago: Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc. 1976.
- Greenberg, Gary. The Bible Myth: The African Origins of the Jewish People. Secaucus, NJ: Carol Publishing Group, 1996.
- Rogers, J. A. World's Great Men of Color Volume I, New York: Simon & Schuster, 1996.
- Thompson, Thomas L. The Mythic Past: Biblical Archaeology and the Myth of Isr.
- Welsing, Frances Cress. The Isis Papers, Chicago: Third World Press, 1991.

Key Terms – Chapters 8 & 9

- 4th Glacial Epoch 153 - 157
 9-11 135, 138
 Akhenaten 152
 Al Qaeda 136
 Aryan Nation 145 - 148
 Atlantean 151, 152
 Abraham 151, 152, 153
 Baker, James 140
 Bonaparte, Napoleon 151, 152
 Bush George W. 134 - 140
 Bush, Jeb 138
 CCC 145
 Cheney, Richard 138, 140
 Christian Crusades 149
 Chus (Kush) 150, 151
 Constantine I 149
 Diop, Cheikh Anta 145, 149, 152,
 157, 158
 Dixiecrats 135, 141
 Enron 135, 139, 140
 Falasha Jews 143
 Federal Anti-Lynching Bill 137
 Gillis W. Long Leprosy Hospital
 155
 Gore, Al 137, 138
 Greenberg, Gary 152
 Hansen's Disease 155
 Harding, Florence 136
 Harken Oil Company 135, 136
 Harris, Katherine 138
 Hottentot/Bushman 154
 Hussein, Saddam 136
 King Solomon 145, 146
 KKK 141, 145
 Lay, Ken 135, 140
 Libby, Lewis (Scooter) 140
 Lindsey, Laurence, 141, 142
 Lion of Judah 145
 Massey, Gerald 152, 159
 Menelik II 145, 146
 Menelis I, 145, 146
 Mesraim 150, 151
 Methuselah 152
 Neanderthal 154
 Oklahoma City Bombing 136,
 137
 Paleolithic 154
 Pharaoh Merenpath 150, 157
 Phut 150, 151
 Queen of Sheba 146
 Rameses II 152
 Rove, Karl, 142
 Sea of Galilee 154
 Stewart, Martha 136
 Teapot Dome Scandal 139
 Thompson, Thomas 136, 137, 152
 Tulsa OK Race Riots, (1921) 137
 Viking 147
Washington Post 138
 White, Thomas 140
 William the Conqueror 145
 Williams, Chancellor 148, 149
 Wilson, Woodrow 134, 141
 World War I 139
 Zoellick, Robert 140
 Zoroastrians 149

CHAPTER 10

BIOLOGICAL ASSIMILATION & GLOBAL RACIAL CLEANSING

Th has been estimated there are as many as 50 million people who could be classified as African American but are passing for “European stemmed Caucasian.” The classification would literally double the number of Americans with African ancestry on the records. According to our US Census, Hispanics outnumber African Americans as the largest ethnic group in the US. That information is clearly misleading. Forty percent (40) of Hispanics in the US are visibly from African ancestry. The actualization: one-quarter of the American population has Negroid ancestry, which has absorbed itself into the labeled “Caucasian population.” The Euro-American community is no longer homogeneously white. Society as we know it should be titled White Mythology. Scientists find themselves in a quandary and must be weary after c-r-e-a-t-i-n-g daily visionaries for media display. The United States, Canada, Europe, and Australia are still predominantly white—a legacy from their squatters. Those parts of the globe provide a nostalgic longing by whites for a white homogeneous global world—for whites by whites.

The new millennium brought with it a new world order. The global world is no longer homogeneously white as you have been led to believe. There was a “changing of the guards” while America was busy painting its inhabitants white. You probably didn’t notice because people with Negroid stock were busy changing their racial classification. While African Americans were proving to white America they were at least part white. A series of events at the end of the millennium spelled out white global annihilation. The incidences that follow are minute examples of image manipulation.

As President George W. Bush addressed the UN Secretary General Kofi Annan in 2002, he looked around the room as the camera panned mostly black and brown faces. That got my attention. My thoughts go back to Jesse Jackson as he negotiated the release of three US prisoners of the War in Kosovo (1999) and initiated the signing of a cease-fire in the bloody seven-year war in Sierra Leone.

The Secretary of State, Colin Powell, addressed the UN Security Council regarding Iraq and its disarmament obligations under Resolution 1441. Whites can no longer travel or speak freely at the global level. George W. Bush needed Powell for the appearance of relevancy on the "World Stage," just as he needed Condoleezza Rice as his ventriloquist dummy.

President Bush said to Brazil's President Fernando Henrique Cardoso: "You have blacks, too?" Condoleezza Rice, Secretary of State, had become President Bush's solitary capacity for sensible verbal communication. While most African Americans were outraged by his comments, the white community never knew nor probably cared because they live in the 8% Pod. Most whites believe the only people with Negroid ancestry live in Africa and the United States. Runoko Rashidi makes the statement that the largest black population outside of the US is in India. According to WHITE RIGHT, Black History started with slavery in the US—Brainwash No Think! The white mind-set is the Caucasian residue of supposed superiority. NO THINK—by whites for whites.

In 1942 the US, along with 26 other nations, signed a joint declaration subscribing to the Atlantic Charter (United Nations). Fifty-eight (58) years later when the UN decided the US was out-of-line and shouldn't intervene in the Gulf, Bosnian and Iraq Wars, it became evident the US had "lost it." The UN and other world leaders had smacked the US alias— "Super Global Cop." Washington is convinced reality is whatever they say it is. The realism: America has been reading too many US History books.

There were questions about the legality of the US-UK war on Iraq starting in 2003. The UN Secretary General stated that the use of force without Council endorsement would "not be in conformity with the Charter." Many legal experts described the US-UK attack on Iraq as an act of aggression violating International Law with violations of the Geneva Conventions and responsibilities as an occupying power.

Remember the Clarence Thomas Senate Hearings of 1991? The 1990's Era witnessed a "panic attack" on the "Big Black Penis." The American media whored African-American men to validate an all-around proof of black men sexual derogations. Clarence was at the top of the apex with education and position and christened all time "sexual harasser." Michael Jackson was the ultimate entertainer turned child molester and pedophile, endowed "dinky" or "dinkily" of the crew. OJ Simpson was hailed: "white woman abuser and murderer." Mike Tyson was dubbed "illiterate rapist." Dennis Rodman was nicknamed "clown prince."

America learned that black men were all-around large penis dicks regardless of their positions in American life. The proof presented to America resulted in white women running to accept black more vs. white less. The large penis CAUTIONS caused their women to want what they were not getting.

The definition of a holocaust depends on who has won the battle, writing the history books and making the movies. The original Biblical Jews were of African Edenic Ancestry.

Africans are the indigenous native Hebrews. When God said: “Ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so, will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing; fear not” (Zechariah 8:13). He was talking about “black Abraham and black Moses” and their descendents. The Falasha Jews of Ethiopia are directly related to David and Bathsheba (Gen 10:6-7) by their son Solomon.

Abyssinia is the starting point and was an extensive territory in East Africa that is known today as Ethiopia. In ancient times Ethiopia extended over vast domains in both Africa and Asia. Classical historians and geographers called the whole region from India to Egypt, both countries inclusive by the name of Ethiopia. They regarded all the dark-skinned and black people who inhabited it as Ethiopia. (History of Ethiopia, Vol. I., Preface, by Sir EA Wallis Budge) “Homer and Herodotus call all the peoples of the Sudan, Egypt, Arabia, Palestine and Western Asia and India by the name of Ethiopians.” (Ibid, p. 2) Herodotus wrote in his celebrated History both the Western Ethiopians, who lived in Africa, and the Eastern Ethiopians who dwelled in India, were black in complexion, but the Africans had kinky hair, while the Indians were straight haired. (The aboriginal black inhabitants of India are generally referred to as the Dravidians.) “The Ethiopians occupied all the south coasts of both Asia and Africa.”

The “Dawn of History” as we know it was in Sumer, Egypt in 5000 BC. Framework of the ancient Israelite Religion was 2000 BC. Ancient history and modern day Bible scholars agree the Children of Israel were Negroid. Read ancient maps and globe locations. King James and his translators were troubled by what they found and decided not to tell the world of their unraveled evidence—the lack of historical evidence regarding the origin of white mankind?

In Acts 7:6-7...And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should be in them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years. 7: And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.

BEFORE BIBLICAL HISTORY THE PYGMIES APPEARED ON EARTH

In ADDIS ABABA Ethiopia, scientists discovered the skull of a small human ancestor that could be a missing link between the extinct Homo erectus and modern man. The hominid cranium is believed to be between 500,000 and 250,000 years old according to the Gona Paleo-Anthropological Research Project. Homo erectus, an ancestor of modern Homo sapiens, died out 100,000 to 200,000 years ago. Homo erectus left Africa about 2 million years ago and spread across Asia from Georgia in the Caucasus to China and Indonesia. Pygmies, small human ancestors, are the oldest race on the planet. Pygmies have always been depicted as dwarfs with large heads; Negro features, close, curly hair, and sometimes armed with lances. Aristotle believed in their existence and characterized the Pygmies as a race of men with small stature inhabiting the marshes of Upper Egypt towards the sources of the Nile. Pygmies were found sculptured on the tombs at Sakkarah – referred to the 5th Dynasty of Egypt, 3366 BC.

Various writers have localized Pygmies in different portions of the Earth's surface. Pliny mentions dwarfed races in both Asia and Africa. Ctesias, a century after Herodotus, wrote of a race of Pygmies in the heart of India. Relics of a Pygmy nations existed in Sicily and Sardinia, i.e. along the high road between Pleistocene Africa and Europe. A dwarf Negroid Race existed in northern Europe and resulted in the traditional tales of elves, goblins, gnomes and fairies. Where do you think the Stonehenge came from—the original Druids? The existing pygmy ethnic groups may be subdivided into two main groups or sub-races: (a) the African pygmies Negrillos, (b) the Asiatic pygmies Negritos. The Negroid element was widespread throughout Malaysia, Indo-oceanic Asia, extending from New Guinea up to the Persian Gulf, and from the Malay Archipelago to Japan.

The Negritos peopled Australia. The Australia Aborigines refer to themselves as black. People who look at them see their coal black skin and refer to them as black, but Aborigines, who are black in color, have been classified as Caucasian by physical anthropologists. The primitive Quaternary type of man with prominent bridges, low brain cap, chinless lower jaw, etc. is classified as (Homo primigenius or primitive one) and was distinguished as a separate species from Homo sapiens when white anthropologists were developing racial classifications during the 19th century. Research and investigation of Aboriginal Australian skulls showed the same peculiarities found in Homo primigenius. Logically, Aborigines were reclassified as Caucasian so white men could lay claim to the line of “original man.”

The Olmecs were the first inhabitants of Ancient Central and South America. Their civilization existed from 1500 BC to about 300 AD. The first pyramid to ever appear in the Americas was built by the Olmecs. The Olmec were the Nubians of Ancient Uganda located in Northeast Central Africa. A thousand years before the Continental Drift they arrived in the Americas. Before sails were invented Africans could sail the waters by using the Guinea and Canary tides and currents of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Abu Bakari II, a member of the Mali Tribe arrived in the Americas 300 years before Christopher Columbus set sail. The Nuwbuns (Olmec) are known as the builders of colossal bay salt heads. The Colossal Heads were discovered/exposed in 1862 and again in AD 1938 by Dr. Mathew Serling outside the City of Tres Zapoes (in the jungles of Vera Cruz) in the Gulf of Mexico. The heads are 20 tons each and measure 7-8 feet tall. The headgear and appearance are very like the Rameses (Egyptian Pharaohs) Army who built the pyramids at Giza and Nubia 100 BC. The heads have ear and lip plugs and nose rings.

The similarities between Olmec and West African civilization include racial, religious and pyramid building similarities, as well as the similarities in their alphabets and scripts and both cultures spoke the identical Mende Language. The language was once widespread in the Sahara and was spread as far East as Dravidian India in prehistoric times and the South Pacific.

American Indians are the product of two races the Nuwbuns (Olmec) and the Chinese (Mongoloid). The original people of Asia were African or Negroid in stock. They can be found in the first Chinese civilization called the Shang Dynasty. In the 4th Century some of these descendants landed on the shores of what is today called California. The explorer who led them was a Buddhist monk named Hsu Shen (Shang Dynasty AD 459).

They lived and mixed among the (Olmecs) Nuwbun and produced what Columbus called "American Indians." The Olmec gave them the lower land (South America), which became known as Amexem another word for Hsu Shen, Ho Shen and the name of Mexico. This mixture produced the original American Indians with slanted or epicanthic folds around their eyes, shovel teeth, hollow hair, dark skin and dark eyes. The Natives were classified as "red skins." That is the very same wording used by Caucasian anthropologists who classified the Egyptians as “dark red-skinned” rather than black/brown.

The 8 percent Euro-Americans continue to use psychological and biological assimilation maneuvers towards the dominant to instigate the Mother of all campaigns and combat their very own extinction. They are using a racially cleansing detergent to wash the Negroid out of Negroid – by white for white.

Universally, Caucasians have used the stratagem for centuries to purge the blackness factor. Racial cleansing procedures have taken place in Africa, Spain, Italy, the Middle East, Australia, South America, the Oceanic Islands and the Caribbean Islands. Between the years 1995 - 2015 the population of the US and other developed Western regions will increase by 120 million. The population of less developed regions will increase by 1,727 million. Forty-five percent (45%) Western Africa’s population in under the age of 15 (child bearing age) even with the threat AIDS (Cline, 1+) (United Nations Population Information, 1+).

According to the Washington Quarterly version of the Pentagon Study, AIDS may be the factor most likely to affect future population size and distribution, since it occurs mainly in those regions expected to account for most of the world’s future population growth. AIDS could do in Africa what decades of Western world family planning efforts failed to do – that’s end the population explosion in places like Africa and Vietnam.

In Nigeria childbirth rates, equal 6.3 per female. The rate is 4.5 times higher than the combined European nations of Russia, Denmark, Germany, Hungary and Austria. Caucasian females worldwide have childbirth rates of less than two percent (2%). In 1990, the average childbirth rate for women in Haiti was 7.0 per female (Population Reference Bureau, 1+). Nigeria is expected to double in size by 2010, triple by 2024 and quadruple by 2035 adding 312 million people to the world's population in 50 years. By the year 2035 Nigeria is expected to surpass both the United States and the Soviet Union to become the third largest country in the world. Within 30 years Kenya, Ethiopia, Zaire, Tanzania and South Africa will be among the world's 25 largest countries.

Citation of Sub-Human Example: Body Snatching and the Australian Aborigines: Classify them as subhuman. Evolution and Racism: In the late 1800's and early 1900's many in the scientific community viewed non-Caucasian races as evolutionary ancestors, human subspecies, or not quite human. Because of this thinking, humans of certain races were treated like laboratory specimens. The Smithsonian Institution in Washington DC holds the remains of 15,000 individuals of various races.

Ten thousand (10,000) Australian Aborigines were shipped to a British museum to determine if they were the "missing link." Some of the leading evolutionists of the day, including anatomist Sir Richard Owen, anthropologist Arthur Keith and Charles Darwin wanted samples. Museums were interested in bones, fresh samples, and pickled Aboriginal brains. Edward Ramsey, curator of the Australian Museum in Sydney (1874-1894), published a museum booklet that appeared to describe Aborigines as "Australian animals." It also gave instructions on how to rob graves and plug bullet wounds in freshly killed "specimens." He complained in the 1880s that a Queensland Law to stop slaughtering Aborigines was affecting his supply.

Amalie Dietrich, a German evolutionist (nicknamed the 'Angel of Black Death') came to Australia and asked that Aborigines to be shot for specimens, so their skin could be stuffed and mounted. "She shortly returned home with her specimens." "A new South Wales missionary was a horrified witness to the slaughter by mounted police of a group of Aboriginal men, women and children. Forty-five heads were then boiled down and the best 10 skulls were packed off for overseas." (The above quotes and paraphrases are from Creation ex nihilo, Vol 14, No. 2, March - May 1992, pg. 17).

Give them a chance to cleanse the blackness through reclassification: In Australia the twentieth-century official state policy and practice forcibly transferred children from Aboriginal families to white families with the express intention they cease being Aboriginal. As a biological solution to Aboriginal extinction, the government practiced child removal – “breeding the ‘half castes’ with white,” and “dismantling” or reclassifying everyone regarded as less than “full-blood” until 1970. The intent was to await the “natural” death of the “full-blood” people and to socially engineer the disappearance, forever, of all those “natives of Aboriginal origin.” This practice has a strange similarity to blacks in the US being classified as “multiracial.”

In 1905, WE Roth, the Chief Protector of Aborigines in Queensland, ruled that the “social status of half-caste children” had to be raised. “In the future, all such infants taken from the camps should be brought up as white children (41). In 1909, CF Gale, the Chief Protector in Western Australia, wrote: Neville had a “three-point” plan: first, the “full-bloods” would die out; second, take “half-castes” away from their mothers; third, control marriages among “half-castes” and so encourage intermarriage with the white community. Neville established Sister Kate’s Orphanage in 1933, on the guiding principle that the good Sister took in those whose “lightness of color” could lead them to assimilation and intermarriage.

The National Inquiry into the “separation” of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children from their families, published in 1997, summarizes the situation. Between one in three and one in ten indigenous children were forcibly removed from their families and communities in the period from approximately 1910 until 1970" (51). Note: Anthropologists have classified black Australian Aborigines as "Caucasian.

In America, white families adopt black children because there is a shortage of white children. The cross-racial adoption often amounts to black biological and/or psychological absorption and then disappearance inside the "racial closet." White people want to adopt black children who are mulatto because they can see a trace of their biological traits within the Negroid stock. If the situation was turned around, black people could not adopt white children. Can you see approved assimilation from white to black—for whites by blacks?

Scurry to whiteness like research lab animals—test tube whiteness: current research shows that in Australia many people did not acknowledge their Aboriginality in the 1996 census. They cited fears of what would be done with the figures or sheer antipathy to all "white systems." The Aboriginal population is closer to 450,000, perhaps 2.5 percent of the total population rather than the 1.5 percent of the total population or 300,000 as Australia quotes.

US Census workers can't add but sure know how to subtract—elementary is the process if you realize what's happening. Black race counts numbered 18-22 million in the 1960 US Census. The 2000 US Census utilized the calculated guess method of estimation to tally numbers. Black race counts were estimated at 30-33 million. The black birth rate is 1.3 percent above the national white birth rate of 1 percent per year (Peterson 1+) (Population Reference Bureau, 1+).

There was a 10 percent African-American under count in the 2000 Census. Black women from Puerto Rico, Panamanian, and Cuba were counted as Hispanics. We all know that in 1808 there were 3,650,000 African slaves delivered to Latin America compared to 1,000,000 delivered to the US (Ploski, 1-3) (Walvin, 63). Remember, before slaves were delivered, African ancestry was already present from the Olmecs and Moors from Spain who invaded Mexico. Result: In 1990 there was a 66 percent under count of black Americans. The documented 30-33 million should have been 55-70 million black Americans.

There is a day-to-day psyche implantation process. The conditioning will psychologically bluff a nation of white mothers with black children and some blacks sucking on sponges as the white polish oozes. The US is giving blacks a choice to become Pseudo white or multiracial. Population Policy Planning: Anthropologists currently recite how important it is to realize that skin pigmentation no longer denotes racial classification. Most African-Americans (80 percent) have an admixture of American Aboriginal. Historically, authors of US History books narrate that Native Americans hid escaping slaves, and Native Americans and blacks lived together and cohabited. What US History books have failed to record in history are the Negritic beginnings of the Indigenous people?

Psychological studies done in the US two decades ago proved the disastrous impact of widespread racism on children of African descent. In 1939 Kenneth and Mamie Clark conducted psychological studies of self-image and self-evaluation. Black children were given a choice to choose between black and white dolls. Sixty-seven (67%) percent of the black children chose white dolls. The children said that the black dolls "looked bad." In 1985—five decades later Derek and Darlene Hopson did the same experiment and found similar results. This time 65 percent of the black children in one test all believed a doll with white skin was good and pretty – a measure of the “self-hatred” instilled by social attitudes so prevalent as to be taken for granted (Frazier & Warner, pp 1+).

Beloved (1998) starring Oprah Winfrey and Danny Glover was an excellent movie. It immediately provided the viewer with a first-class trauma for the “psychological slavery mind-set” and its effect on African Americans of that era who were in bondage. Without hesitation, Beloved helped substantiate and define the mindset of present-day people with Negroid stock. Contemporary mind-set – “We don’t know anything about slavery.” That’s why very few people went to see the movie Beloved, and it was deemed a “flop.” “We weren’t part of that era.” “Slavery was something that happened on those plantation movies about the South.”

Sethe (Winfrey) displayed psychosis—life in the shadow of madness with flashbacks and metaphysical images. Most blacks suffer from the same illness. Blacks have a major loss of contact with shared US views of reality and themselves. They would never admit that they are still being classified as “Negroes among the Americans.” The delusions prevail—act white—Gee Whiz—Cool man! Live white, praise white, look white, and we will be accepted by mainstream America as not really “black.” Blacks suffer from hallucinations that “lily white” is God’s “the chosen ones.” “My grandmother had that Indian Hair.” “My mamma was half white.” The hair is blonde or weaved, and the eyes are contact blue/green eyes.

Disturbed is the definition for personality disorganizations by processes of thought, speech, memory, and actions—a break with reality. White women remain the key for black men to be delivered from second-class to the top of the “White Sphere.” White women support their men. White women understand and will provide for me. White women are alabaster with straight hair, thin noses; small lips—the definition of beautiful and wonderful and exquisitely white—even though recessive. “It’s okay if she fights to have my children reclassified once they grow up, and she comes to the realization that she isn’t accepted by her family and neither are my children.” “If they are considered bi-racial or multiracial, they might have a chance.” This “hate thyself schizophrenia” has turned us into a group suffering from silly bizarre behavior.

White people have science backing them up. They are free to diagnose the causes of schizophrenia as an unsolved riddle. Environment or a disturbed family environment may cause mental illness. Whites even have treatments for the illness—tranquilizers, hospitalization, and all types of mental health programs.

African-Americans have no help from their “hate thyself phobia” because they don’t understand why. Whites just don’t care, and why should they care? Blacks have treatments in the form of reclassification, white women relief, blonde weaves and red/blonde hair dyes, bleaching creams, and denial that we are like those other black people. We feel as if we now fit-in. Just look in a mirror and reality will hit you. The reflection is still black.

Logical thinking brings the average person to a realization the original man was black. Just read the Old Testament of the King James Bible to determine how the white man originated (Leviticus – Chapter 13:2). The admixtures of black/white can also be logically proven. It has taken hundreds of years for the white scientist to run a sham on the general populace proving that black skin, brown skin, frizzy hair, curly hair, flat and broad noses, protruded (prognathism) foreheads, and wide spaces between the incisors are traits of the Caucasian Man—Read the research available to you.

(Psalm 83:4-5) Come and let us cut them off from being a nation that the name of Israel will be no more in remembrance. Slave masters made sure blacks in America had no national identity. Even though black Americans were imported from Africa, the continent was never used as an honorable word. Africa was always the "dark continent" or "land of savages." Surnames were replaced with "Darkie" and "Nigger." All terms used as a substitution for true nationality or origin. The loss of nationality is a curse. (Exodus 1:8-22)

We are in a struggle against the recessive white gene pool to retain the title "original man" from the dominant gene pool before it is altered. Physical anthropologists are busy reclassifying the Global black/brown races making them Caucasian. It will be an all-out battle to fight the "racial closet." Caucasians were named for the Caucasus Mountain Range that straddles Russia and Georgia. Steadfast is the key.

References

- Brand-Williams, Oralandar. Detroit News, 16 Jun 1997.
Creation Ex Nihilo, Vol 16, No. 1 Dec 1993-Feb 1994, pp. 48-50.
Creation Ex Nihilo, Vol 14, No. 2 Mar - May 1992, pp. 16-18.
 James, Charlie. "Jefferson's help us slip out of America's racial closet," The Times, 11 Aug 1999.

(The Incredible Pentagon Report: What it says about AIDS & BAOBAB Press, Vol. 4, No. 14).

"PYGMY." LoveToKnow 1911 Online Encyclopedia. 2004
<http://46.1911encyclopedia.org/P/PY/PYGYMY.htm>

Teklu, Dagnachew., "Ethiopia Skull at Least 250,000 Years Old,"
Associated Press (25 Mar 2006).

We the People, "Yamasee Native Americans: Pure Blood, Full Blood, Mixed Blood, What's the Difference?" March 1999, (p 1+).

CHAPTER 11

THE ARSENALS OF MASS ANNIHILATION

To maintain implied global superiority has to be a real “mother f%#&er” existence. When the magical process of white superiority fails, frustration and anger start to increase. Mainstream America, the last global “superpower,” cringes as carnage is strewn across the “Main 48.” The followers are blaming the leaders for everything that goes wrong including “killing sprees” –shoot it out at the OK Corral—mainstream America. The followers continue to remain tightly knit despite the internal combustion and explosion. We are in the “midst of a mental white man mania.” The US is reaping the impairment of the “angry white male” who has been given the term “Sudden Murderer” by psychologists.

The white male reeks of fanatical views that he is the “mostest” credible and “bestest” authentic persuading the enemy to trust him –although he remains the enemy. He is the “Super Power Global Cop.” If something isn’t right according to “Super’s” eyesight, he merely flies a jet fighter plane over top of a country and bombs. White males have been able to inform and inspire those already in agreement with them and their views through a process of repetition created by the Founding Framers of the US Constitution – the road map rules of “Power Play” for the white male. The Constitution was written for white males. The 19th Amendment had not been passed, and blacks were considered three-fifths (3/5) of a person.

African slaves became an inferior breed, subhuman – reduced to refuse (waste). Slaves were used in the form of forced labor, trapped, concentrated, and automated by psychological and physical brutality. Many slaves failed to foresee the outcome and ingested the inborn learned helplessness. Some slaves longed to be a replication of the “Chosen Ones” –Master White Race. They loved their Masters because they could bask in his “Reflected White Glory," which in turn enhanced delusional power. It created a reciprocal attachment necessary for physical survival by enhancing "Massive Master Power." This attachment was necessary for the formation of psycho-political symbiosis.

Some slaves needed the Master to feel protected and safe, while other slaves loved their Masters to the point of sacrificing their lives to protect and idolize him. Others were more sensible and followed not from love or belief, but from fear of being deprived, excluded or killed. Regardless of motive, there was psychological self-destruction on the part of the slave.

Slaves were a symbol of strength for "ordained white masters." The more slaves he had on the plantation, the stronger he felt. In America, the holdings were called Plantations. In Nazi Germany Adolf Hitler referred to his holdings as Concentration Camps. The ever-present fight for survival, our most primary biological urge, created a paradoxical situation turning slaves into mechanical men. Life was reduced to the first biological law, win or be defeated. It contributed to the brutalization of slave life, turning it into a fight for survival.

Whites were on separate sides of the fields during slavery. "Black Servitude" was viewed as a practical system to control and exploit labor. The Caucasian became the "all-wise creator" who found a physiological basis for temperamental and intellectual differences. The argument: The visible difference in black skin pigmentation also extended to the membranes, muscles, tendons, and to all the fluids and secretions.

Whites of the 19th Century felt Negroes and Caucasians belonged in separate species. White men became obsessed with racial superficialities. Passed down from former generations whites currently feel that all people of color are barbarians who should be subjected to rigid discipline and severe controls to preserve white civilization. The Southern plantation was “a school constantly training and controlling pupils who were in the backward state of civilization” (Stampp, 11). Mainstream America still ingests psychologically the “mentality of being white” and the entitlements inherited because of white skin color.

The US is magnanimous, wise, and unconquerable. Americans were lead to believe in the 1950’s, 1960’s, and 1970’s the Nation was powerful enough to protect all free nations from Communist aggression on planet Earth. America still finds the need to prove itself psychologically as a global power. The battles and revolutions in which America has been engaged display an exact pattern. America has beat up and bullied small countries—some the size of Connecticut. The psychological ploys have always been for its citizens to see more when there was less.

In my lifetime, I started to think about the many wars and revolutions in which the US has been involved. “Success feeds the appetite of aggression,” blurted Richard Nixon. Nixon visited Cuba in 1954 and praised competence of the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship, but the CIA overthrew the democratic government in Guatemala. Washington grew obsessed with the expropriation of American property in Cuba. The free world was confronted by a premeditated plan of Chinese expansion, and North Vietnam was the spearhead. With the militant aggression of Asian Communism at its headquarters in Peking, China, the US claimed a “threat to world peace” and the Vietnam War was declared.

In 1969 Nixon initiated secret B-52 raids over Cambodia. He said it was to “clean out major enemy sanctuaries.” The invasion of Cambodia set off the most widespread and intense college protests in American history. In 1970 soldiers in Vietnam were wearing peace symbols and refusing to go into combat. The use of marijuana was common, and 10 - 15 percent of the troops were addicted to heroin.

“Fragging” – the use of fragmentation grenades to kill unpopular officers was a common occurrence (Blum, et al, 775). On May 4, 1970, four students were killed and 10 wounded by National guardsmen at Kent State University in Ohio as they protested the war. In the Iran-Contra Affair of 1986 the US used covert action to change policies and regimes in other countries.

Mass Murderers: The television news cameras have rented space in the black community. When there is a homicide in the black community, it usually is reported by the media as a routine and common occurrence. When there were mass shootings near the end of the Millennium at the Federal Building in Oklahoma City, Columbine High School in Littleton, Colorado, and schools in Paducah, Kentucky and Atlanta, Georgia the shootings become abnormalities. National news programs tore apart and dissected the irregular/random behavior.

It took 80 years for the Tulsa, Oklahoma Race Riots (1921) to be divulged to the American public. The public heard instantly of the Oklahoma City bombing incident. White people rioted after a botched lynching of a black man wrongfully accused of rape in. It was the worst single act of US domestic terrorism. Fifteen hundred (1,500) houses and businesses and 35 blocks in the Greenwood section of Tulsa known as the “Negro Wall Street” were destroyed.

Taylor Tash was a model student in school and was described by those who knew him as quiet, gentle, and a man who loved people. A coworker described Taylor as “someone who was easy going and could be pushed around.” One day

Taylor exploded without warning. Two weeks after he was suspended from his job, he returned to work, determined to get even with his supervisor. He ended up killing his Supervisor and five co-workers before taking his own life.

The psychology books describe Tash as a "Sudden Murderer." A sudden murder is a National newsworthy object simply who has been projected in society as a "law abiding" white male who seems to be an unlikely candidate for violence. Research suggests that "Sudden White Murderers" explode into violence because they are shy, restrained, and inexpressive. Their attacks were triggered by a minor irritation or frustration and reflects years of unexpressed feelings of anger. They feel cheated or betrayed are doing what is necessary to remedy the situation to maintain their manhood (Coon, 434).

"Somebody during mania will take risky behavior." When you are talking about "mass killings, you are talking about white males." They have a white male entitlement dysfunction. They think they own people. That's why they take everybody out with them. Either they kill themselves or commit suicide by proxy. They set themselves up to be killed by the police. The middle-class white male has no sense of accountability for his behavior. Example: blacks usually seek out the individual. When whites went after Saddam Hussein, they wiped out innocent people. Whites are beginning to feel the stress of finding out they don't have all the freedoms they thought they had (Muhammad, 3+).

The birth of AIDS was in a US laboratory: On April 4, 1969, Richard Nixon was personally present at the historical event when the American scientists discovered the mechanism of life. Microbiologists from the US created the so-called ethnic cancer, whose viruses are capable of penetrating into human DNA and controlling it. On June 9 that same year the Pentagon informed the Congress the US possessed the means to curb the unprecedented growth of population in the Third World countries.

The result of that discovery was the law signed by the US President in 1970 on the stabilization of the planet's population. These events had spurred the creation of a new synthetic human virus, which is now known as the AIDS the (Special Virus Program) lasted for 15 years and cost American taxpayers 550 million dollars. By the time the program was completed, the Pentagon had already 60 thousand liters of that deadly virus in its secret storage facilities.

Annihilation of the Biblical Hebrew: The Talmud is a European document used to solidify the false heritage of the German Jew. It is what the Book of Mormon is to the Mormons. It takes precedence over the Bible and is the commentary of different Rabbis over the centuries. It may have started out innocent but now promotes racism.

By the 2nd and 3rd centuries after the destruction of the Temple and the dispersion of the original peoples— (Africans) into the land of their fathers, the Greeks, Romans (Europeans) took to writing and re-writing scripture. This is where the Talmud came into being. By the 6th century Christianity and Judaism was essentially European. After that the Turks, Germans, English added to the confusion.

Most of today's Jews in Palestine aren't descended from Abraham. The Falasha Jews of Ethiopia are related to David and Bathsheba the daughter of Kush (Gen 10:6-7) by their son Solomon. Unfortunately, Christianity fell in Ethiopia and Haile Selassie obscured the true faith of Ethiopians who were Jews. Most of the Ethiopians who are not Falasha, adopted the Coptic or Easter Orthodox faith, as did Selassie. The Falasha are said to be from the tribe of Dan, which is impossible since they are from the stock of Judah, but the Ashkenazi's did not admit Jewry and assigned the Tribe of Dan to the Falasha.

From the book the Kebrä Nagast, one of the holy books that Rome refused to Canonize into the Bible, Solomon is shown in a dream that the glory of Israel was fading and that he should give his new son Menelek the Ark of the Covenant and a priesthood to carry on the traditions of Judaism in the land of his fathers (Kush) Ethiopia. That is one of the reasons the Ashkenazi Jews (Jews of Europe) went to get the Falasha from Ethiopia and bring them to Palestine (modern day Israel set up by the US and England in 1948) so they would have a claim on the original heritage and the Ark.

Ashkenazi Jews are not the physical descendants of the biblical Hebrews. Over 90 percent of those today calling themselves “Jews” are descendants of the Khazar people, originating from southern Russia. Jews from Eastern Europe and Western Asia were descended from Mongolians and other Asiatic peoples and had adopted Judaism as their “religion” over 1,000 years ago. The ancient Khazar Empire—once a major power in Eastern Europe that converted to Judaism in AD 740. The Kharzas migrated to Poland and formed the cradle of Western (Ashkenazim) Jewry. Modern Jewry is not of Palestinian but Caucasian origin.

There are two distinct groups of Jews living in Palestine. The Sephardic Jews are from the Middle East and North Africa; the Ashkenazim (singular, Ashkenazi) Jews from Eastern Europe. The Sephardic is the oldest group and are the Jews described in the Bible. They are blood relatives to the Arabs. According to history, the Ashkenazim Jews came into existence about 1200 years ago.

Annihilation of Racial Groups: The 2000 Election is over and done. We still know that 80,000 maybe as many as 100,000 black voters were not allowed to vote in Florida because of Bush's Racial Coup d'etat. That is how Al Gore lost. Are we being erased as a group visibly! Racially!!!

Without a Security Council resolution, the Iraq War was clearly a violation of International Law, as the UN pointed out. At the same time, Israel is in violation of, at a very conservative count, over 30 resolutions, pertaining among other things to the very substantive issue of the continuing illegal occupation of another people, along with violations of the Fourth Geneva Convention through steady encroachment and effective annexation of land. The US War on Iraq is itself the most fundamental violation of International Law. In the language coined at the Nuremberg Trials, it is a crime against peace. Former Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson, chief US prosecutor at the first Nuremberg Trial, called waging aggressive war "the supreme international crime differing only from other war crimes in that it contains within itself the accumulated evil of the whole."

The media keeps making an issue of the fact that Hispanics/Latinos are now more numerous than blacks in the US...The fact is 40 percent of those people who call themselves Latinos are in fact of African descent! But we know that Hispanics/Latinos were once classified as white in America as are Egyptians...Afro-Brazilian activist Abdias do Nascimento thinks its a fallacy to call Brazil a Latino country because the Afro-Brazilians make up anywhere between 44 and 59 percent of the Brazilian population. According to a study by the United Nations, Brazil is a 72 percent black country! It all depends on what you call black!

Ninety-Six percent (96%) of all African slaves were sent to South America and the Caribbean compared to only 4 percent sent to the US. As a matter of fact, Brazil received 38 percent (more than one-third) of ALL African slaves sent to the New World! Brazil was also the last country to abolish slavery (1888).

The average citizen sees no immediate need to “defend race because America and Europe do not see the looming annihilation.” They live in a “lily white vacuum” that invites all the “browns” to join. In fact, whites have shifting allegiances and identify outside defined groups as needs arise or interests are threatened. You can believe whites will re-associate with their racial group if placed under outside pressure to do so.

What the AAA will not say is that the global biological reality has authenticated a black/brown world. The overlapping genes have created a non-white reality. There is no longer a definition for race because it is now considered a “social construct.” Anthropologists have become victims of their own propaganda and refuse to categorize genes that are void of WHITE.

References

- Barton, Paul, Black Civilizations of Ancient America (Muu-Lan), Mexico (XI): Gigantic stone head of Negritic African during the Olmec (Xi) Civilization, Race and History (2006), http://www.raceandhistory.com/historicalviews/ancient_america.htm
- Blum, John M., McFeely, et al. The National Experience, San Diego: Harcourt Brace Jovanovich Publishers, 1989.

Coon, Dennis. Introduction to Psychology, New York: West Publishing Company, 1986.

Detroit Chronicle, "Tulsa race commission seeks healing for riot victims," 23-29, Jun 1999.

Muhammad, Corey and Muhammad, Saeed. "Shooting spree another indicator of problems in the mainstream," The Final Call, 10 Aug 1999.

Key Terms – Chapters 10, 11

AAA 185

Annan, Kofi 162

Ashkenazi Jew 183, 184

Bakari, Abu II 167

Batista, Fulgencio 179, 180

Beloved (1998) 173

Bathsheba 164, 188

Bush, George W. 162, 184

Cardoso, Fernando H 162

CIA 179, 180

Clark, Kenneth & Mamie 172, 173

Colombine HS 180

Columbus, Christopher 167

Ctesias 165, 166

Dravidians 164

Darwin, Charles 169

Dietrich, Amalie 169, 170

Druids 166

Falasha Jews 164, 183, 184

Gale, CF 170

- Glover, Danny 173
 Gore, Al 183
 Herodotus 165, 166
 Hitler, Adolf 178
 Hopson, Derke & Darlene 172, 173
 Iran-Contra Affair 180
 Iraq War 162, 163, 183, 184
 Jackson, Jesse 162
 Jackson, Michael 163
 Jackson, Robert 184
Kebrā Nagast 183
 Keith, Arthur 169
 Kent State 180
 King David 164
 King Solomon 164, 183
 Mende Language 167
 Menelek 183
 Moors 172
 Negro Wall Street 180, 181
 Nixon, Richard 179, 180
 Nuremberg Trials 184
 Nuwbuns 166 - 168
 OK City Bombing 180
 Olmecs 166 - 168, 172
 Powell, Colin 163
 Rameses 167
 Ramsey, Edward 170
 Rashidi, Runoko 162
 Rice, Condoleezza 162
 Rodman, Dennis, 163
 Roth, WE 170
 Sakkarah 165, 166
 Selassie, Haile 183
 Sephardic Jew 184
 Shang Dynasty 167
 Serling, Mathew 167
 Shen, Ho 167
 Shen, Hsu 167
 Sister Kate's Orphanage 170, 171
 Smithsonian Institute 169
 Special Virus Program 182
 Stonehenge 166
 Thomas, Clarence 163
 Tyson, Mike 163
 Vietnam War 180
 War in Kosovo (1999) 162
Washington Quarterly 168
 Winfrey, Oprah 173

CONCLUSION

Imagine what it would be like if you were confined within the walls of a pod where no other Nations existed on the face of the Earth but white European countries, parts of Australia and North America. “Great and wonderful” echoes and affirms the constant chest thumping—nobody else subsists. God blesses you. That gives you a license to do whatever you want. Woe to the other 270 odd US unrecognized hoards of brown faceless Nations.

White Global Identity Scene 101. It has come down to the basic citation of Population Reference Bureau Statistics. It's so elementary, my dear Watson, that even anthropologists seem dazed from the shock of having to present daily visionaries of white people for media display. Overlapping gene pools have created a non-white reality. While people of color have come to the realization they are inconvenient counter-examples to America and Europe's central doctrines – trigger-happy – shoot to kill policies, they realize full well how whites overreact, and then target people who do not look the way they look.

When the “shoot-to-kill-in-order-to-protect policy” is over, and another person of color has fallen, the 8 percenters stare into the cameras and “express regret.” The investigation following the “Fallen Enemy Combatant Policy” cures the whole situation and reassures the public everything is just fine now. Police departments across the US and Europe do what they believe necessary to protect the lives of the white brotherhood. Shootings are an indication of nervousness, panic, and anxiety whites fear because they are fighting for survival.

Everybody should take a course in logic. Reasoning is the process of drawing conclusions from facts. For the reasoning to be sound, conclusions must follow inevitably from facts to which they are drawn. When a person reasons, it is natural to regard reasoning as producing several separate arguments aimed at supporting different conclusions. A person could then see the rhetoric and the images precipitating down through the atmosphere into corporeal reality. Maybe our resident anthropologists, do the same thing in perverse; play God to make Caucasians from people with African ancestry.

President George W. Bush granted himself the power to declare anyone on Earth—including any US citizen—an “enemy combatant,” for any reason he sees fit. He thinks it is for global power, but is it Euro-American preservation? He can render torture, imprison for life, put out a hit and have a person killed, all without charges, with no burden of proof, standards of evidence, legislative oversight, appeal, judicial process whatsoever except those that he himself deigns to construct, with whatever limitations he cares to impose. He can never be prosecuted for any order he issues, however criminal; in the new American system laid out by Bush’s legal minions, the Commander is sacrosanct and/or holy, beyond the reach of any law or constitution.

Trapped in the “white race” 8%-pod, most Americans are oblivious to what’s happening in the world outside their own isolated neighborhood. White Americanism—or “our way of life” struggles against the faceless hordes of Muslim savages parading across Continents to destroy the world through the coined term of “terrorism.” Most white Americans operate daily in a dazed and confused state. The US and Europe have made it a “Global badge of honor” to be just like them! Jump on the bandwagon to become “white like us,” they say class-collaboration. There is an American obsession with “white benevolence” at the center of the US opinionated imaginary.

A 27-year-old Brazilian slain by police in a London subway was shot eight times at point blank range, seven times in the head and once in the neck. One police source as stated that he was shot so many times the face was beyond recognition. He was the victim of an officially sanctioned policy of state. Under the guise of war against terror, police secretly adopted the shoot-to-kill policy. “There is only one sure way to stop a suicide bomber determined to fulfill his mission: destroy his brain instantly, utterly.”

The 8% Pod: Euro-Americans are unable to coexist with Global Civilization as it now exists. The allegory of a rat being backed into a corner and fighting for survival is a great description of what is going on with the 8 percenters. The President tried to justify the recess appointment of his representatives to the UN, but little does anybody realize, "It just doesn't matter." The US is outnumbered within the UN Delegation. It doesn't matter if UN Representative John Bolton or Howdy Doody are delegates representing the US. Bolton will be lost in the nameless horde of brown faces representing the 270 odd US unrecognized nations of the global world. You know, Howdy Doody probably has more global recognition than John Bolton.

In America, there are three types of racial cleansing. The first is "Colored" mass murder. The second is simulation--claiming white authenticity--with black ethnicity. The third is symbiosis or codependency, sucking up white.

Random has become the Euro-American standard. The media reports that random mass shootings and hate crimes have just recently surfaced. America is horrified at such random occurrences; therefore, needing licensed psychiatrists and psychologists to analyze the random incidences so that citizens can understand the random American bizarre behavior. Are the hate crimes random or a result of an overflow of pent up emotions from the "National Think Tank" -- "The Average American?"

Mainstream America still ingests psychologically the "mentality of being white" and the entitlements inherited because of white skin color. White skin color and/or European origin are an immediate exemption from racial oppression. The onset of stress occurs when a person with white skin finds out he does not have all the freedoms he thought he had. The granules, which were once all white, are now heavily peppered. The following statistics must be stifling to those who were once in charge.

Statistically speaking, the Caucasian Race amounts to 6 - 8% percent of the global population. White females of childbearing age represent only two (2%) percent of the global population. The future of the white race is in the wombs of its reciprocating white women who have been running to the black side in number hordes. Reciprocate used in this instance means to share in the duplication of Caucasian children.

The Aryan Nation proclaims their mission "the ongoing work of Jesus Christ, the re-gathering of His people, calling His people to a state for their nation to ring in His Kingdom." The Nation believes that the White Race first appeared on Earth when Adam, man of Genesis (father of the White Race exclusively) turned rosy (red) in the original Hebrew language and is translated: "To show blood in the face; turn rosy." Genesis 5:1).

The Encyclopedia Britannica outlines the lack of or absence of historical sources to trace the process of Swedish Expansion and the Viking Era around AD 400--the land of the Aryans. The same is true for Denmark. It is written-- the first trustworthy written evidence of a kingdom of Denmark belongs to the early Viking Period. Roman knowledge of this country is also fragmentary and unreliable. The same is said for the other Scandinavian countries-- THE LAND OF THE ARYANS.

Why do we cringe when slavery is being discussed? There is a recorded Negroid antiquity history. The same is not true for Caucasians. It is because the discussion of slavery is a discussion of race. Most black Americans do not want to be categorized as "black Americans" but fail to realize consciously that we remain "Negroes among the Americans." Full Blood--Half Blood--

What's the difference the American Aboriginal bellow! The difference is made when a white mother has black children and cannot accept psychologically what she has done. She inherently assumes her white birthright to proclaim that her children are not black. They are many races. Is that why one-quarter of all blacks in America have physically crossed the color line to pass for white?

Nazi Germany's atrocities have been played to the theatrical hilt. "The Great Holocaust" is the theatrical topic being given to the brutalities committed against humankind during the 1930's and 1940's while "America's Auschwitz" remains a non-existent entity. There continues to be human experimentation and deaths equated to people of color by Euro-America. The American Aboriginal (Native American) equates Christopher Columbus to Adolf Hitler, but the US hasn't embellished that "Hitler Concept" and still celebrates Columbus Day the second Monday of October.

Before 1986 there was no such thing as convicting a White person for committing a crime against a black person. Until 1986 lawyers routinely bounced prospective jurors purely based on race. The US Supreme Court ruled that blacks and members of other "cognizable groups" could not be pre-emptively purged (Close, 28). Because of the divergent experiences whites find police testimony credible; whereas, blacks may not.

Anthropology during the 15th to the 18th Centuries was the forerunners of modern anthropologists. During these centuries anthropologists wrote treatises/lengthy papers trying to explain the origin and distribution of the races, languages, and cultures that were brought in the European consciousness by world exploration. By the 18th Century some philosophers were viewing groups like the American Indians as living in a state of nature, uncorrupted by civilization, while another school viewed native peoples as the remnants of people who had fallen from a state of civilization into savagery.

Aborigine Australians are considered the primitive “Quaternary” type of mankind. They have physical characteristics of “Primitive Mankind” – prominent bridges, low braincap, chinless lower jaw, etc. (Homo Primigenius). Aborigine Australians have chocolate brown skin; broad noses, frizzy hair, and medium stature making them look like Pygmy Africans. Euro-American Physical Anthropologists have classified them as Caucasian. We all know that the whole stratagem is to recapture the Caucasian Race as the “original man.” The inside story holds many arguments, documented by anthropologists and made into theories. Who can dispute the “chocolate brown” people with frizzy hair any other way but WHITE?

The Genesis of Racism: Because Portugal initiated the movement of international expansion it claimed all territories (Africa, Asia, South America and the West Indies) because they fell within the scope of the Roman Church of 1455 authorizing infidel (atheist) people to servitude. In 1457, the Council of Cardinals met in Holland and sanctioned, as a righteous and progressive idea, the enslavement of black Africans for their conversion to Christianity and for acquisition in the labor market as chattel property. This scheme speedily gained the sanctimonious blessing of the Pope and became a standard policy of the Roman Catholic Church and later germinated to the Protestant Churches (Rogers ix-xx).

In 1656, the Geographer Royal of France described Africa as “a peninsula so large that it comprises the third part, and this the most southerly of our continent.” As slave trade got underway, some Europeans were claiming parts of Africa, especially Egypt, as an extension of their “continent” and “culture.” To the north and east of Europe were inhabited by “barbarians” of whom the civilized world knew almost nothing (Rogers, 28-9).

By recording and referencing history in this manner it immediately eliminates 4,000 years of Black Civilization directly under the guise of “Arab-European History.” Black artifacts, ecology and archaeology automatically become a study of Arab, Islamic and European Anthropology. Caucasian religious and scientific doctrines were calculated to revive (raise from the dead) a white rational reasoning realization. There are still writers and Bible theologians who label the findings a hoax if the hieroglyphics, linguistics and sculptures are Negroid.

In textbooks written during the 1940’s the world outside of Europe and America was referred to as “Colored.” Europe “ran a train” of Colonialism and Imperialism to the so-called “New World.” “Colonialism” describes the succession of large-scale permanent European settlement in areas of the world outside Europe. The advent started soon after Columbus’s voyages at the end of the 15th Century and became widespread from the 17th Century on. “Imperialism” is the political domination of nations or regions by a foreign power. After Columbus and the “discovery” of the “New World” in 1492, areas that were extensively colonized often became part of European empires. There were many territories that were politically assimilated without colonization.

History repeats itself. Mankind has a way of evolving just as he did in the beginning of time. The world was black up until the 4th Glacial Epoch. Then Whites evolved from black and went to the North Continents to live in caves. They returned as Vikings, Huns, etc. (barbarians). These same foreigners and/or barbarians caused the downfall of the Roman Empire and the formulation and birth of Christianity. The Vikings and Huns have a history dating from AD 17;

whereas, Negroid chronicles are dated and recorded from the beginning of time. Human evolvment has made a turn-around. Is it safe to say that the world is "back to black?"

Caucasians believe in the Holy King James Bible that was REVISED and translated from ancient Hebrew text (Egyptian History) by Caucasians. The Bible teaches that mankind is above animals, unless the Aryans are saying they are on the same level as beasts.

Absoluteness, dominance and strength predominate numerically over the impotent. If both have the same possibility of preserving life and propagating, then why has the recessive gene has failed to multiply and is currently at a minus or negative? In the end the impotency of the Caucasian Race and inability to multiply has been inevitably driven into the background. Global Caucasian citizens do not have a clue as to why they are no longer fertile. Fertility clinics are still prescribing drugs from the giant pharmaceutical labs as they pump out fertility drugs for Caucasian multiple births.

The Bible tells what happens when man falls into disfavor with God. Genesis 29:30-35: To have children is a blessing. Not to be able to bear children is an affliction. Deuteronomy 7:15: Though shalt be blessed above all people: There shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle. The verses are repeated in Judges 13 and 1 Samuel 2:5. That is why the Council of Conservative Citizens "a band of alleged Ku Klux Klansman disguised in business suits," with direct ties to the US Senate and House of Representatives with other white nationalist groups are at this moment trying to correct this state of ~Global Blackness Affairs. ~

African-American children were found to have higher muscle and bone mass than do Caucasians. The genetic difference might help tell why more whites than blacks suffer from osteoporosis later in life. Hispanic and Caucasian children, in terms of bone and tissue mass, were almost identical. Hispanics did have a higher incidence of obesity and a higher percentage of body fat.

The Aryan Nation writes.... The Germanic inhabitant of the American continent, who has remained racially pure and unmixed, rose to be MASTER of the continent; he will remain the MASTER if he does not fall a victim to defilement of the blood. When man attempts to rebel against the iron logic of Nature, he comes into struggle with the principles to which he himself owes his existence as a man, and this attack will lead to his own doom.

The white male reeks of fanatical views. He feels he is the “mostest” credible and “bestest” authentic who can persuade the enemy to trust him, although we know he remains the enemy. He is the “Super Power Global Cop.” If something isn’t right according to his eyesight, he merely flies a plane over top of the country and bombs it. White males have been able to inform and inspire those already in agreement with him and his views through a process of repetition created by the Founding Framers of the US Constitution, the road map rules of “Power Play” for the white male. Remember: The Constitution was written for white males. Blacks were considered three-fifths (3/5) of a person – Check out the Three Fifths Compromise.

Beloved (1998) starring Oprah Winfrey and Danny Glover was an excellent movie. It immediately provided the viewer with a first-class trauma of the “psychological slavery mindset” and its effect on African Americans of that era who were in bondage. Without hesitation, Beloved helped substantiate and define the mindset of present-day people with Negroid stock. Sethe (Winfrey) displayed a psychosis – life in the shadow of madness with flashbacks and metaphysical images. Most blacks suffer from the same illness. Blacks have a major loss of contact with shared US views of reality and themselves.

The Euro-American community is no longer homogeneously White. Society as we know it should be titled White Mythology. Scientists find themselves in a quandary and must be weary after c-r-e-a-t-i-n-g daily visionaries for media display. The United States, Canada, Europe, and Australia are still predominantly white – a legacy from their squatters. Those parts of the globe provide a nostalgic longing by whites for a white homogeneous global world – for whites by whites.

It has been estimated that there are as many as 50 million people who could be classified as African Americans who are passing for European American. It would literally double the size of African Americans numerically. The actualization: one-quarter of the American population has Negroid ancestry, which has absorbed itself into the population.

African ancestry is being absorbed into the white European population through a racial cleansing process. Census Bureau Paints America White: The “White-American Concept” of how people look with Negroid ancestry has become distorted. White Americans have been told that curly hair, tan skin, broad noses and spaces between the two front teeth are Caucasian traits. White America thinks that all black Americans look like the Bantu’s of Africa. Latinos in America are “African ancestry-absorption-prime-examples.” Latinos and other African-descended US minorities openly refuse a “black” identity because the US considers Latinos white. The US evangelizes white racial “purity.” White anthropologists have continually reclassified people to fill up the color bin with Whites – whose numbers have dwindled.

- ◆ Most “white” Americans are obsessed with “white racial purity.”
- ◆ Most white Americans think that all blacks should look like the Bantu’s of Africa.
- ◆ Light-skinned blacks can “pass for” Indians, Italians, Arabs and Greeks because of the darkness of their skin. And why? Ask yourself! It is because Indians, Italians, Arabs, and Greeks have African ancestry.

People who are Italian, Spanish, Arab and Greek have been reclassified as “white.” Think logically! Why are these “so-called white” ethnic groups so dark? Could it be because of their geographical closeness to Africa and their ancestors’ intermixture with Caucasians? Or did the hot sun bake the white skin black as white anthropologists proclaim? In Spain and Italy there was the invasion of the Moors i.e. black Egyptians. The Moors occupied southern Spain for 8 centuries from 710 to 1492 AD. This gives rise to a famous quote from Simon Bolivar, (a mulatto who was often held in contempt by “pure blooded” Spaniards: “We are no longer European just as Spain is no longer European, because of its African blood, character and institutions.”) African ancestry is part of the mix. OH! The Author forgot. Egyptians are classified as white.

Some observers estimate that over 70 percent of the Cubans inside Cuba are of African descent. Both the Cuban government, analysts at the US State Department, and the CIA state the number is 63 percent. Did you know that Cuba was a black nation? It is once you leave Havana. In Miami, some estimate that over 97 percent of Cubans are of Spanish origin. At the very least, 85 percent of them describe themselves as being White in a recent survey. The term Spanish Cuban tends to hide the fact that Spaniards have a strong African heritage.

One of the first things children in Mexico, Central America, the Caribbean or South America learn in school is that their ancestors built magnificent pyramids, equal to those in Egypt. It is an even greater thrill for them to learn that their ancestors were great scientists and astronomers who built observatories and invented the mathematical concept of zero. But when these children migrate to the United States, something phenomenal happens: despite their distinct indigenous, nonwhite ancestry, the US government suddenly considers most of them white. In the 2000 Census, half of all Latino households checked off "white" as their racial category. The other half checked the "other" or nonwhite categories. Interestingly, of the 10 million people who checked the "other" category in 2000, 98 percent also checked off "Hispanic" as their ethnic identity. The Bureau erroneously assumes that the nearly 10 million Latinos who chose "other" are white and was simply confused by a complex questionnaire (For Hispanics, race "goes beyond" skin color, Genaro C. Armas Dec. 14, 2004).

Note: At one time, the Census categorized Mexicans as Asians. At another time, a Mexican was considered a race in and of itself. Some check white due to a racial inferiority complex; simply choose to identify themselves as "white," out of a sense of shame.

Just at the turn of the century America watched the custody battle of 6-year-old Cuban born Elian Gonzalez. He was one of three survivors of a failed journey from Cuba to America in which his mother died. When his father in Cuba and the government of Fidel Castro demanded his return, his Miami relatives launched a fight to keep him in the US.

The Cuban Adjustment Act (1966) allows Cubans to apply for permanent residency after one year, while other groups may face longer waiting periods. This is a Federal law and not an INS policy. The “wet foot/dry foot” immigration policy allows Cubans to remain in the United States if they manage to reach land, while Haitians and others usually are returned to their homelands regardless of whether they touch shore or are captured at sea.

Two months after the Gonzalez story, an overloaded fishing boat with more than 400 Haitians aboard was turned away from the south Florida coast. Its passengers were transferred to Coast Guard cutters and quickly sent back to Haiti with no questions asked. Several people reportedly died on the journey.

After the refugees were returned, the authorities learned that a pregnant woman taken off the boat in Miami for medical treatment had been separated from her two children. The children were sent back with another relative to Haiti. The separation—coming as INS officials touted their goal of family reunification in the Elian Gonzalez case. INS officials decided to grant the two Haitian children a “humanitarian parole” of 90 days and reunite them with their mother, at least while her petition for political asylum is considered.

Caucasians will not be outnumbered. If America’s racial cleansing methods work, we will all be reclassified as “white Negroes.” We will wake up one day and be “WHITE.”

The white man sees power in armies, cannons, battleships, submarines, airplanes and poison gas. But mine asserts that power lies in reason, resolution, and truth. No matter how long the tyrant endures, he will be the loser at the end.

(Khalil Gibran)

References

- Jones, Alberto (Dr.) West Indian Welfare Society: Guantanamo, Cuba. (Oct 99).
- Nelson, William Javier, "Latinos and their Escape Hatches," Interracial Voice, 1998.
- Stuckert, R.P. "African Ancestry of the White Population." Ohio Journal of Science 58, No. 4 (1958): 155-160.
- Pressley, Sue Anne. "Miami Immigrants Say Case Highlights Bias in US Policies," Washington Post Staff Writer, 15 Jan 2000, P A03.

AFTERTHOUGHT

NIGGER

NEGRO-BLACK-AFRICAN AMERICAN-COLORED NEGROID-CAUCASIAN-WHITE

The word “Nigger” is used to stress a derogatory title, operative to the “Great American Nigger Designation.” It must also be noted that 40 years ago all people of the world who were brown in color were referred to as “Colored.” Currently the “Colored Races” have been reclassified as Caucasian to stop “Caucasian Elimination Eradication.” Read between the lines and translate the code words.

Black Americans still have a problem when referring to themselves as African American, black, Negro and Negroid but do not hesitate to call one another “Nigger.” The Continent of Africa carries negative undertones assigned by European Colonialists. The Tarzan Movies of the 1950’s helped to reinforce negativism of Africa and African people in the US as children watched the movies on Saturday afternoons. African Americans will tell you in a minute that they aren’t Africans. “My skin is not black – so don’t refer to me as black, but “You’re my Nigger!!!” Multiracial is becoming more widely used among black Americans who want to downplay Negroid ancestry.

The term “states rights” is no more than a code word for white supremacy – just as the term “Dixiecrat.” States had the right to impose segregation during the 1950’s and 1960’s just as South Carolina has the right as a state to use the Confederate Flag as the state flag. The justification: the flag is a way of honoring South Carolina's heritage. Whites have used benign code words on the surface. Blacks are survivors of a dichotomy world and have been able to "read between the lines." Average Americans fail to see the cancer of the codes. Nigger is a code word. "Colored Race" is a code word changed to "Caucasian" by physical anthropologists that see whites disappearing. Multiracial is a relatively new code word.

The code word Neger (Nigger) was found earlier in Northern England in 1587, and Negre in Middle French (early 1600's). Both Neger and Negre come from Negro, Spanish and Portuguese for the color black, which comes from the Latin Niger, also meaning the color black.

The following definitions of code words for blackness come from Alison Hamilton who wrote Nigger Please (Milligan Books, 1996). It suggests the source of nigger is the "beautiful blackness" of the Nigretai or Nigretes, nomadic tribes in Libya before 800 BC. Their name, Bernal States, "came from the Semitic Root (water to flow into sand) which was the origin of the toponymns Gar, Ger, Nagar and Niger, the River Niger that flowed east away from the Atlantic into the desert." Thus, the Latin Niger may indeed be connected to the Niger River and to the later Negro.

The word Negro was used as an adjective and slowly became a negative, degrading designation for Africans replacing the term "Moor." Webster tells its readers Moors are Caucasian in its continuing effort to disguise the Negroid ancestry of Spanish, Italian, and some Irish. Moor is a code word. The title "Negro" was first used in relation to African people tracing back to 1443, when Portuguese explorers went down the coast of Africa, past the Senegal River to Guinea, where they began trafficking African people as slaves. By 1555 (after the first slaves were brought to London), Negro was adopted by the English as a term for Africans and other people of color. Negro became the new code word.

In the late 1950's, Richard B. Moore, author and founder of the Frederick Douglass Book Center in Harlem, formed the Committee to present the Truth About the Name "Negro." The Committee developed a resolution to adopt the terms African and Afro-American, and they petitioned the press to drop the usage of Negro. Moore published his book, The Name "Negro:" Its Origin and Evil Use in 1960 (UBUS Communication Systems, Inc., 1992).

Negro, black, nigger, and negress were unacceptable, Moore expounded because the Europeans used the labels denoting savagery, immorality, and distinct inferiority and used the words to designate Africans. According to Moore, Europeans also reserved the word "black" as a label for identifying Africans. The Black Power movement, beginning with Stockley Carmichael in 1966, successfully rallied for black as the preferred term of identity. James Brown's, Say It Loud--I'm Black, and I'm Proud (1968) were also instrumental in the "Black Pride Movement." Some would argue that the designation of black still represents a European-based (negative) construct.

Late in the last Millennium the Merriam-Webster Dictionary staff of lexicographers decided that the entry of "Nigger" in its dictionary would be changed after protests from the NAACP. Their staff decided that the word Nigger would no longer be synonymous with African-Americans. The decision.... It is noted that "nigger" is a racial slur and not what African-Americans themselves are. Subsequent definitions included: "a member of any dark-skinned race" and "a member of a socially disadvantaged class of persons."

However, the Merriam-Webster Staff of "experienced and professional lexicographers" continue to defend their prior definition saying the practice has been to list what was concluded to be the oldest definition of a word--instead of the most commonly accepted definition--first in their dictionary. The primary entry was changed to— “a slang term used primarily as a derogatory and racially demeaning reference to a black person.”

The Merriam-Webster Dictionary constitutes the core of the English language. The dictionary has been publishing the derogatory title “Nigger” is synonymous with Negroid Race—for over 150 years. Take for instance the title “white race.” The white race was named ‘Caucasian’ by its inventor Johann Blumenbach in 1776 because he thought the Chechens are the most beautiful race of people on Earth. Blumenbach has been credited as the first thinker to arrange “races” in a hierarchy of superior/inferior groups.

The dictionary will not change the primary definition of “Caucasian.” At one time Caucasian meant only those people who originated from Europe near the Caucasus Mountains but now includes the “Colored” Races that physical anthropologists have catalogued as Caucasian to stop white eradication from the face of the Earth. The Merriam-Webster Dictionary defines white as.... free from spot or blemish; pure; innocent. The definition proclaims the white man as innocent, pure and truthful. Caucasian means beautiful! Nigger has been synonymous with the Negroid Race for the past 150 years. In everybody’s mind black still means Nigger!

