A place at the lake

Our Elite model is as spacious as you can make a pre-fab outdoor structure. It can include a second floor made doubly useful with added dormers and gables. Our structures are an ideal lifestyle addition for home, hobby, retreat or utility. When it's an Elite, it's so much more than a shed.

So well built, you can build a rustic cabin with our larger units

Our unusually generous sheds are really more of an out-building, as a farmer might say. These structures are designed to add to your lifestyle in whatever ways you decide, because they are larger, better built and much more durable than your basic utility shed. We've taken outdoor structures to a whole new level.

*"My new workshop is just great.
I love it."*

Leisure

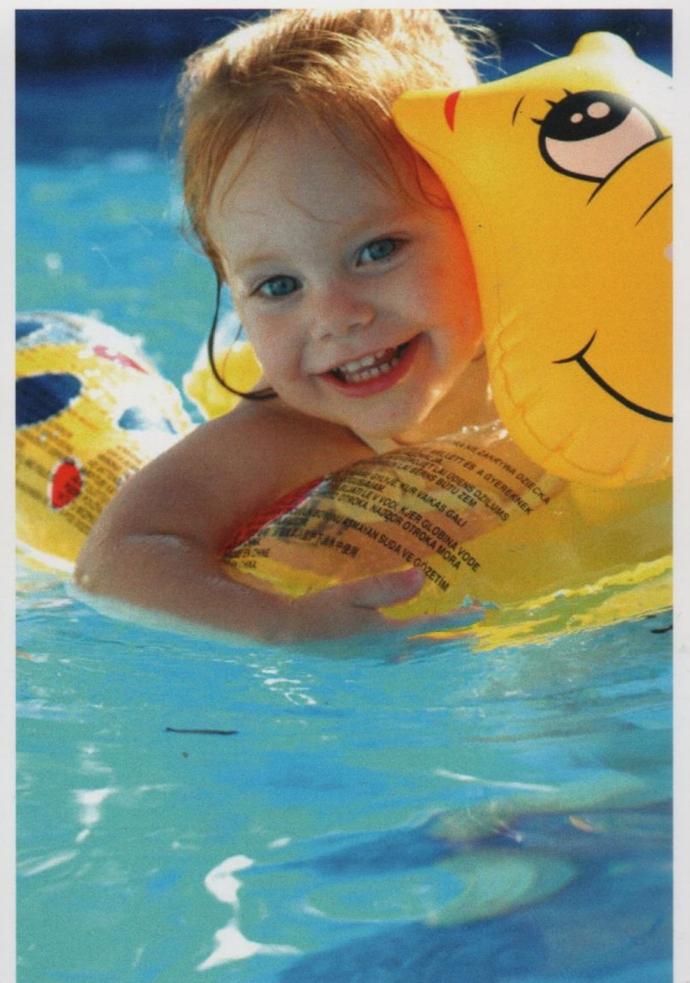

With the right foundation, many of our customers have built a new barn, sized just about right for a horse or two. Plenty of room for tack, feed and other supplies. Other folks add a garage with our larger units, and the second floor adds a great place to store things. It's almost like having an extra attic, complete with wide, sturdy stairs. Yes, a two-story shed! You've got to see it to believe it.

Poolside or just 'out back,' these outdoor structures add new dimensions of lifestyle enjoyment.

If you're spending more time at home these days, why not invest in something you can enjoy for decades to come. Our outdoor structures are made with the latest in ultra low maintenance materials, including composite materials used in the best homes.

Whatever your lifestyle, extra outdoor living space is always a plus. Some people make their structure cozy with insulation, some even add a water line for added convenience. Why stop there? An electrical connection opens whole new worlds of potential uses.

"Family times are even more fun with our new poolhouse."

24' x 24' Garage

"Our new garage looks like it was built right on our site to match our home. No one would ever call this a shed!"

Extra space on your property is actually pretty easy to come by. Just let us show you how added utility – like having a detached garage – can add value to your home while making it so much more enjoyable.

"We love having a place for everything. It just makes life a lot simpler."

Everyone has stuff. Lawn and garden equipment and tools are just the beginning. Now you can have a place to really get organized with tools, materials, lawn and garden supplies and so much more. Just think. The next time you're looking for that pruning saw you'll know exactly where it is.

12' x 20' Poolhouse

Think of the ways your lifestyle can be enhanced with a poolhouse or other outdoor structure where you can relax and get away from it all. Read, nap, enjoy simply spending time in the quiet outdoors the way you always intended to.

"Our new poolhouse makes our pool more than just an amusement park for the kids. Now it's a place for us too."
