

Meribah

I hear You call my name and I follow
And everything I've ever known before I leave it all behind
In this dry and thirsty land I find nothing
And the waters of my soul begin to rise
And I cry to You and I cry to You
And You cast the Branch unto these waters
And I find a rest I've never known

At the waters of Meribah
There You test my soul
In the secret place of thunder
There You lead me to know You're Faithful

Faithful and Merciful are You
Filled with an abundance of Peace and Truth

I come into Your courts with thanksgiving
And I gaze upon Your Altar
And I'm ravaged by the sacrifice You gave
Oh my Heavenly Father
And as I gaze into this reflection
I see I'm not the man I'm supposed to be
And this fire in my soul begins to rise
Reveal Your Son in me reveal Your Son in me
And as You lay me upon this Altar
I find a rest I've never known

At the waters of Meribah
There You test my soul
In the secret place of thunder
There You lead me to know You're Faithful

Faithful and Merciful are You
Filled with an abundance of Peace and Truth

You come to me in the watches of the night
The Fire of Your Word burns down deep in this darkness
And as I'm drawn into Your Glorious Light
I begin to awake in Your likeness

The Word of the Lord lays low the mighty mountains
The Word of the Lord raises up the depths of the valleys
The Word of the Lord rules the raging of these seas
He who sits in the heavens laughs
Whose the shepherd who shall withstand Me
The Word of the Lord lays low the mighty mountains
The Word of the Lord raises up the depths of the valleys
The Word of the Lord rules the raging of these seas
He who sits in the heavens laughs
Whose the kingdom that shall withstand Me

And as You call me to Your table
In the presence of my enemies
In the beauties of holiness
You reveal Your Son in me
