Join Glenn Mitchell and Theresa Shay as Oasis Returns to the Southwest

July 29, 2018 - August 4, 2018

Ten years ago Oasis offered its first retreat at Ghost Ranch led by Sanford Alwine and Glenn Mitchell. Glenn has led three additional retreats in the years since. This year Glenn's wife Theresa joins him in providing leadership for the retreat. Theresa is Director of TriYoga of Central Pennsylvania and will be leading the group in gentle yoga and breath meditation. Group time will also include centering prayer, a regular rhythm of silence and sharing, and lots of opportunity for hiking and time in solitude and community in the unique high desert environment of Ghost Ranch. Our group will be housed on the main campus and will gather for our meetings in the courtyard of the lovely Agape Center.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Thomas Merton's visit in 1968 to Ghost Ranch and to the Christ in the Desert Monastery, a Benedictine desert community along the Chama River, about 15 miles from Ghost Ranch. Merton was deeply moved by the monastery and the way its chapel fit the canyon landscape. We will mark this anniversary with our own visit to Christ in the Desert, where we will join the brothers as they chant one of the hours of the day. On another day there will be opportunity to participate in a tour of Georgia O'Keeffe's home and studio in nearby Abiquiu or take a tour of the area around Ghost Ranch which inspired so many of her paintings and where she spent her summers. Other options include a trip to Taos Pueblo, the oldest continuously inhabited community in the United States, and alongside the pueblo a renown art community that first drew Georgia O'Keeffe to the southwest. Most of the retreat will be spent right at Ghost Ranch with its dramatic vistas and abundant possibilities for connecting with Creator Spirit, with creation and with the rich community that always forms on these retreats. Both the inner and the outer landscape will beckon those coming together for this week apart.
