Re: FOIA Request

Ms. Downer,

Pursuant to the state open records law 5 Ill. Comp. Stat. 140/1 to 140/11.5, I write to request access to and a copy of the following:

1. Records regarding the Lombard Police Department's acquisition of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays, including invoices, purchase orders, contracts, loan agreements, solicitation letters, and correspondence with companies providing the devices, and similar documents. In response to this request, please include records of all contracts, agreements, and communications;
2. Records regarding any arrangement or agreement between the Lombard Police Department and other state law enforcement agencies, other state governmental bodies and federal law enforcement agencies that is in regards and pertaining to the sharing the use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays, or any offers by the Lombard Police Department to share the use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays with other law enforcement agencies and other governmental bodies;
3. All requests by the Harris Corporation, Geofeedia, Inc. or any other corporation, or any state or federal agencies, to the Lombard Police Department to keep confidential any aspect of the Lombard Police Department's possession and use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays, including any non-disclosure agreements between the Lombard Police Department, the Harris Corporation, Geofeedia, Inc., or any other corporation, or any state or federal agencies, regarding the Lombard Police Department's possession and use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays;

4. Policies and guidelines of the governing use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays, including restrictions on when, where, how, and against whom they may be used, limitations on retention and use of collected data, guidance on when a warrant or other legal process must be obtained, and rules governing when the existence and use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays may be revealed to the public, criminal defendants, or judges;
5. Any communications or agreements between the Lombard Police Department and wireless service providers (including AT&T, T-Mobile, Verizon, Sprint Nextel, and U.S. Cellular) concerning use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays;
6. Any communications, licenses, or agreements between the Lombard Police Department and the Federal Communications Commission and with federal agencies;
7. Records reflecting the number of investigations in which cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays were used by the Lombard Police Department or in which cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays owned by the Lombard Police Department that were used, and the number of those investigations that have resulted in prosecutions;
8. Records reflecting a list of all cases, with docket numbers if available, in which cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays were used as part of the underlying investigation by the Lombard Police Department or in which cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays owned by the Lombard Police Department were used as part of the underlying investigation;
9. All applications submitted to state or federal courts for search warrants or orders authorizing use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays by the Lombard Police Department in criminal investigations or authorizing the use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays owned by the Lombard Police Department in criminal investigations, as well as any warrants or orders, denials of warrants or orders, and returns of warrants associated with those applications. If any responsive records are sealed, please provide documents sufficient to identify the court, date, and docket number for each sealed document;

10. All Lombard Police Department's policies guidelines, rules, practices, or legal analysis regarding the use of cell site simulators, X-ray vans, and surveillance enabled light bulbs, social media monitoring software, predictive policing software, closed circuit television cameras, and stingrays, which and that concern:
