News - Worthy - Stuff

Note to Facebook Users: For the longest time Cold Springs Golf and Country Club has been known as the "Best Kept Secret" in this area. In fact, this was once a point of pride. Now we would really like for people throughout the community to be aware of our existence, which will help us sell memberships.

Cold Springs has a Facebook page ... "Cold Springs Golf and Country Club" ... and we are making an effort to post information there that we think would be of interest to our members. The Board of Directors is asking our members who use Facebook to "follow" this page.

These postings will appear on your Facebook page. And, if you feel that it is appropriate we would like you to "share" pages that interest you. Doing so will mean the page will appear on your "friends" Facebook pages. This is all intended to get our name out in front of the public. If you want to join us in this effort, there are currently two Facebook pages. Please use the one that reads "Cold Springs Golf and Country Club" as opposed to "Cold Springs Golf & Country Club." That page is automatically created by Facebook, which we don't control.

Presidents Message – Brett Robinson

Greetings fellow members,

Summer is definitely here: long days, hot temperatures and grass growing so fast you can hear it. Cold beverages have never tasted so good. Back to school time is around the corner and the 12-person teams are winding down their matches.

On a personal note ... my baseball coaching days are now over. I am looking forward to my cost per round reducing drastically ... so much for the obvious signs of summer.

We are stepping up our efforts to reach out and attain new members via Facebook, T.V. commercials, word of mouth and our summer events centering around bands and music. Please talk us up to your neighbors, friends, relatives and co-workers. As the saying goes ... the more the merrier.

And here is how another saying goes .... many hands make light work. The more members we attract, the more resources we can count on to make our club the best it can be. We are golf's best kept secret in the foothills. Let's let a few more folks in on it so that we can continue to enjoy all that Cold Springs has to offer.

It's a great place to belong and enjoy all that the game of golf offers.

See you on the course.

From the Bar & Kitchen - Jen Bement

Well the heat is on here at Cold Springs

Music on the Greens is scheduled for Friday, Aug. 3, featuring the Big Trouble Band, one of the premier country variety bands in the Sacramento area. This group provides a variety of country, and rock and blues that you will want to get up and dance along with the music. We will be serving $5 nachos.

Please remember that the little ice/water machine in the bar is for water and ice only. If you need ice for your ice bags or small ice chest please ask the bartender and he or she will be more than happy to fill them up for you. When it's hot that poor little machine can only do so much to keep up.

The 9ers - Kathy Wynn

Our Niner of the Month for July was Ann Morris. Congratulations, Ann!

Our monthly tournament was held July 10. We played par points and the big winner was Connie Oetinger. Jeanne Perry took second, followed by Sherry Young and Laurie Waters, who tied for third. Iris Applebee and Linda Leake tied for fourth place. Congratulations to all.

Our monthly putting contest was held on the 17th. Sherry Young came in first with 15 putts, and finishing in a three-way tie with 16 putts were Linda Leake, Diane Bogdanas and Connie Oetinger. A portion of the entry fees will be contributed at the end of the year to Corena Green, which supports golf for young ladies 8-17 years old.

As for our Shot of the Day ... we had two this month. Both were chip-ins. Laurie Waters and Melinda Coats both holed their chips on No. 6, June 5.

Don't forget that our general meeting has been moved forward from Aug.14 to Aug. 7.

Stay cool!

I want to bring something to your attention this month that I believe is really cool ... but has not caught the attention of many people.

Because of that, it really is a story. Brittany Lincicome played in a PGA tour event. Yep, for the sixth time in history a female played in a PGA tour event and it hardly made a blip on the radar screen with the media.

I feel strongly this is the best kind of a feel good news story because it's just not earth-shattering news anymore. That to me is the cool part. Being the proud dad of two daughters who do play golf, I think it is really great that ladies can play a sport alongside a bunch of testosterone-filled dudes and we can think it is OK to do so. That's the story for me. It is OK and should be common for a sport to welcome all levels of competition so everyone can have a good time.

On a different level ... this one is connected to me because I am getting old ... here is another feel good story. Laura Davies shot her age. She didn't do it at her local club, but in a sanctioned LPGA tournament. Secret here ... one of my goals is to shoot my age someday and she did it in a major tournament. Again, really cool.

So why tell these stories? Well, because I believe golf is a wonderful game played by some of the finest people in society. We all live longer if we are engaged in something positive. This can be volunteering with juniors, hopefully junior golfers, or playing a sport that is truly a game for life.

We as golfers get it so let's invite our non-golfing friends to come visit us or just get involved in the game. Many people are frustrated by a sport that CANNOT be mastered...EVER! I personally like the challenge. Some days I have it ... and some days I don't.

But, the worst day golfing is better than a day doing nothing.

Let's all tell our friends!

Last note: take a look at the picture below. That smiling young man is our Douglass with his bronze medal from the National Special Olympics in Seattle, Washington. What a proud moment indeed!

Pro-Shots – Brian Fuentes

Want to enjoy golf again? Want to hit medium and short irons into par-4 greens again? Want to be able to reach medium-length par-5s in two and stand over an eagle putt one more time?

The PGA of America suggested that by playing from forward tees, amateur golfers have the chance to play the course at the same relative distance as a touring professional would over 18 holes. With more golfers hitting approach shots with 6- or 7-irons instead of hybrids and long irons, the chance for enjoyment is increased.

A course that measures 6,700 yards for amateurs is equivalent to one that is 8,100 yards for the typical PGA Tour player.

“All of us deeply involved in the game constantly encourage golfers of all skill levels to play the proper tees, but too often they want to bite off as much of the golf course as they can. What ends up suffering is their scorecard and their overall enjoyment.”

Talkin Turf - Doug Jeffrey

Well, July definitely brought higher summer temperatures and the usual summer stress to the golf course. Our areas of predominately annual bluegrass surviving on poor soil are more stressed out than other areas of rye and Bermuda grasses.

Unfortunately the nut sedge grows more aggressively than anything on the course. We can mow or string trim it down one day and it will grow out again in a couple days.

Fairway aeration is finally completed after a delayed start and we were able to spread fertilizer on the fairways afterward. For the most part, they are holding up so far and showing no significant summer disease stress.

The quarter-inch coring aeration we completed at the end of June has been beneficial. There have been some issues with greens building too much thatch and causing a scalping effect when we mowed. Having reliable equipment to verti-cut greens to control thatch has been a bit of a challenge.

We also need to get back into a light sanding routine. There was an issue with a sprinkler head clogging with clam shells on the No. 15 green that caused some problems.

On those days when the temperature reaches well over 100, we may be running syringe cycles through the greens and fairways just to cool down the surface of the turf. There have been no major problems with irrigation output, except that the flow of water coming into our dam on the creek is slowing. We have had no power issues with the pumps so far.

We did have one problem with a clogged filter on the lower pump. We had to shut it down but the upper pump could not handle the total output and it shut down before most of the programmed irrigation was completed.

Completing the fairway aeration was our main focus last month as well as keeping up with the heat and maintenance work, especially bunker edging and detail grass trimming to stay ahead of all the warm-season grass growth.

Any extra time we had was spent on cleaning up all the tree work that was done. Hopefully now we can get busy on the sprinkler heads that need to be moved or raised. We also have been loaned a skid-steer trencher that we will be putting to use on a number of different projects.

18ers - Liz Kane

The heat is on but it's not stopping the 18ers, who are, as I write this, are competing in the 18-hole club championship ... three grueling days. The low gross and second low gross winners in the open flight earned berths in the 2019 WGANC Champion of Champions.

We also have a large group of intrepid seniors competing in their flight. The tournament's last day, Tuesday, July 31, was especially a test of perseverance. Not only was the heat "turned on," smoke from all the horrible fires blanketed our area. Congratulations to our winners!!

Open flight

Champion: Low gross, Patty Mitchell, 246

Low net champ: Carol Yates, 211

Second low gross: Heidi Caldwell, 275 (Heidi lost the tip of a finger in a freak accident a few weeks ago, but still managed to play and place.)

Senior flight

Champion: Low gross, Jerri Arens, 271

Low net champ: Helen Glenn, 208

Second low gross: Karen Beckman, 273

Co-captain Carol Yates hosted a successful guest day July 17. Befitting the month, the theme was red, white and blue. Twenty-eight Cold Springs members and guests competed and enjoyed lunch afterward.

Several teams tied for first with a 129 score. After breaking ties, the team of Kathy Goldman, Lisa Woods, Kathy Ulibarri and Betty Campbell was first, followed by Carol Yates, Jeanette Vine, Amanda Vine-Hall and Leslie Davis, and Ellen Page, Rosemary Authier, Julie Cleveland and E. Yoon in third.

Guest Kat Andrade was closest to the hole at 7 feet.
