Product Recommendation

Kuranda Dog Beds

Kuranda Dog Beds are made of easily cleaned materials that truly stand the test of time. There are three different options for material: an open mesh vinyl fabric that is perfect for air flow during hot weather and allowing water to seep through, a 40 oz vinyl that repels water and dries easily, and a fast drying Cordura Nylon. They also have a UV resistant finish on the frame that reduces fading when they are kept outside for long periods of time. Personally, I often use these dog beds as a way of training the "place" command, and have had very positive results with this method. Overall, if you are looking for a high quality, long lasting dog bed, I highly recommend looking into this brand.

Flower

Flower is an active and fun-loving puppy who loves other dogs and snuggling with her humans! She has lots of energy and is still learning boundaries, but is smart and catches on fast. A typical pit mix, she is an epic cuddler! She is crate trained, (mostly) potty trained, and is working on manners. All our adopters get a free session with one of our amazing training partners to start their relationship off right! Flower needs a home where she will continue to get training and attention, and preferably has another dog she can get some of her energy out with.

There are a record number of dogs and cats being abandoned, and they need as many foster homes as possible.

Foster Information

These are 100% not a necessary thing to have in your life, but I do like them! Especially if you are someone who has people pet sit while you are traveling or working, these can make life a little easier with your pet sitter. No need to leave a note with the amount of food each dog needs, they are already measured out this way. They are also just cute in general and are sold through a small business Etsy shop, which I am always looking to support while I am shopping.

Ada

My name is Ada, I am a 1 Year old red coonhound. I currently weigh about 50 lbs, and I am pretty close to full grown. I love people and other dogs although my foster mom keeps telling me 'I'm a bit much' for some friends. My favorite activities are bird watching, trail walks, zoomies with my puppy friends and playing ball. I am very food motivated. True to my hound breed I have endless energy and like to make my strong opinions known by howling on occasion. I am very smart, I already know my name, how to come when I'm called, sit, kennel trained and I am fully potty trained. I am looking for a human who will be able to keep up with my energy to keep me from finding trouble. I will also need ongoing training and socialization to help me grow up to be a wonderful
