

Derek Woods

Varsity Wide Receivers

Coach Woods begins his second year coaching Naples High football as the varsity wide receivers coach. He attended Concordia University Wisconsin where he played on their perfect 10-0 season football team. He received his B.A.S. in Supervision and Management from Florida Southwestern State College. He began his coaching career at St. John Neumann High School as the co-offensive coordinator, quarterback coach, linebacker coach, and head JV coach. He coached spring football at Palmetto Ridge High School. The next fall Coach Woods accepted a position to coach wide receivers at Beloit College. The following year he coached safeties at North Park University. At Northern Illinois University he was the quality control coach and assisted with linebackers when they won their sixth straight MAC West title and played Boise State in the Poinsettia Bowl. Coach Woods, a Naples native, moved back to his hometown and coached at Lely High School as the co-defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. He and his high school sweetheart, Kimberly, will soon celebrate their fourth wedding anniversary.
