

Nick Citro

Varsity Assistant Defensive Line

Entering his 20th season on the sidelines (first with the Golden Eagles), Coach Citro brings two decades of passion, leadership, and football expertise to the program. Originally from New Jersey, Citro graduated with honors from Montclair State University with a bachelor's degree. During his tenure at MSU, Citro served as the offensive line and special teams box coach for the Red Hawks earning two NJAC championships and two elite 8 appearances. As a graduate from Matawan High School, Citro went back to coach where the Huskies were able to capture the 2014 State Championship. Over the years, he has served in multiple roles including Head Coach, Special Teams Coordinator, Offensive Coordinator and Defensive Coordinator making him one of the most versatile and respected minds in high school football.

Under his guidance, the Palmetto Ridge Bears were able to break state records. As an offensive and defensive coordinator for Immokalee in '23, the Indians brought home a district championship. Throughout his career, Coach Citro has earned a reputation for his strategic mind, motivational style and relentless commitment to excellence. As he enters his 20th season, Coach Citro remains focused on building a culture rooted in accountability, toughness, and brotherhood while chasing championships and making a lasting impact on every player who wears the jersey.
