

JACQUELINE KURTH

Realtor® Jacqueline Kurth is a licensed broker with more than 20 years of real estate experience. She has achieved high-profile status as one of the nation's top 10 agents and as the leading salesperson in Orange County's elite retirement community of Laguna Woods Village. Her credentials as a Certified Residential Specialist (CRS) and Senior Real Estate Specialist (SRES) qualify her to deliver the highest caliber of service to diverse clients throughout Southern California.

This California native and longtime resident of Orange County recently returned to her former home in the vibrant community of Palm Desert, a place for which she has a special fondness. "I lived here in my 20s," she explains, "and my grandparents lived here from the late '60s all the way until they passed away.

It's changed a lot since then — the area has really grown. It used to be more of a seasonal community, but now people stay around all year. So many people from LA and Orange County have second homes here and spend their weekends relaxing and playing golf. I still have family in the area, and I love it. I'm here for the long run!"

The region's 123 golf courses and year-round sunshine attract golfers from around the world, and Jacqueline is delighted to help golf enthusiasts find their ideal place to live and play in the desert. She enjoys a robust marketing partnership with Desert Willow Golf Resort in Palm Desert. "I'm proud to be affiliated with the course and their patrons, and I'm excited to meet and work with them!"

AT HOME IN THE DESERT

Although Jacqueline is not yet a champion golfer, she is an avid tennis player, and she enjoys the friendly competition in her home community of Desert Falls. "This area is also a big draw for tennis players, and Indian Wells hosts one of the largest professional tennis tournaments in the world, the BNP Paribas Open."

Jacqueline also loves that real estate allows her the flexibility to give time to worthy community organizations. Since her return to the desert, she has begun volunteering at McCallum Theatre and Carol's Kitchen.

While Jacqueline has a special gift for helping seniors navigate the real estate process, she is well-equipped to help people buy or sell a home at every stage of life. From military families, to move-up buyers, to right-sizing seniors, Jacqueline is ready with the professional knowledge and compassion to move every transaction forward to a seamless close of escrow.

Honesty, reliability and personal care are all hallmarks of Jacqueline's service, as many of her clients have expressed in their heartfelt five-star Zillow reviews. A recent homebuyer said this about Jacqueline: "Jackie is an intelligent and sensitive person who would be a wise choice for anyone wishing to purchase or sell a property. She listens to one's desires and concerns and addresses them individually and completely. She is knowledgeable and very thorough as it relates to the details connected to each property sale."

Another commented: "Buying a home is always stressful on so many levels, but working with Jackie makes it so much easier and worry free. She is always very patient, kind, cheerful, and understanding. Jackie is very knowledgeable and answered all our questions. We are very grateful to Jackie and we will recommend her to everyone."

An experienced and knowledgeable professional, Jacqueline is known best for her caring approach to real estate and her gift for listening to what people really want and need. "I love working with people," she says, "and I give 105 percent or more on every deal — period."
