DEBORAH'S JOURNEY TO THE HEART OF EDUCATION

In December 2006, the classroom walls of predictable understanding crumbled around me when I awakened following a profound session with a gifted massage therapist and Reiki master. In the ten days that followed, I lost 15 pounds, wrote a book and witnessed yoga postures began to emerge without having studied yoga. By January 2007, I was freed from the perceived limiting parameters of learning. I replaced phrases like “That can’t be” with “What if?”

With powerful lessons learning to listen, trust and allow, I began a journey that allowed deep personal exploration through a variety of modalities. In 2007, I co-created Healing Journeys non-profit, published my first novel, Become, completed Freedom Writer's Teacher Training, Phoenix Rising Yoga Therapy Levels 1 and 2, and left the high school classroom to enter the heart of education—Education of the Heart.

In 2012, this emergent process gave way to consciously choosing to live a life with passion and purpose and committing to living the highest potential of my diving mission. In December 2014, after seven years action research and advanced studies in a sacred classroom without walls or known curriculum, I learned that my most powerful teachers were those who are non-verbal autistic. In March 2015, after facilitating my first sacred remote classroom, I was honored by my teachers and invited to synthesize their charge and help manifest their vision of an evolved educational system.

In May 2014, I received my HJD and stepped forward in my role as the first Educator of the Heart. As the first graduate of this sacred classroom, I am now a qualified facilitator of the experiential wisdom labs for these sacred classrooms and Conductor of the Educator of the Heart certification program.

In evolved education, the first question to ask is. . .What if?

DEBORAH O. BAKER

EDUCATOR OF THE HEART

Who are You?

I am an Educator of the Heart who has dedicated my life to engaging, enlightening and empowering all to live their highest potential. My biggest challenge is translating what my heart knows into words that can be understood by the mind. When all else fails, the Language of Light flows through me in word, song, sign and gaze and the message penetrates the heart of matter.

Educator of the Heart

SHINE IN YOUR GIFTS AND ILLUMINATE THE WORLD

If you could teach humanity one thing, what would it be and why?

My passion is to teach humanity that each one of us has a unique gift that the world needs. When we allow these sacred gifts to shine, we play our part in co-creating a world of unity, love, peace and prosperity. May each of us re-member our unique gifts, offer these talents in service and have all our needs met abundantly in a loving world that thrives in JOY.

In 2011, I re-membered that I could speak, sign, sing, and gaze The Language of Light. I struggled to “fit in” trying to understand why hundreds of languages would involuntarily flow through me without the mind’s need for translation.

One morning in 2013, my journal writing revealed that soon I would meet a young man with the keys to Scientific Education. That same day, as a substitute teacher in a special needs classroom, I heard the telepathic message of an eight year old non verbal master and responded intuitively with a whisper of Light Language. In that moment, I gained a deep soul understanding of his unique gifts and the priceless value of my own heart song.

Illuminating Magnificence

In January 2015, I was blessed to connect in the physical with a cohort of adult non verbal wisdom keepers and their families who created the safe space for sharing by holding meditations in Sedona, Arizona. Several members chose to add their unique spark to The Tapestry of Light as LiveJOY Shares, igniting the first ever quarterly subscription of The Living Book of Love and marking the budding of the emerging experiential wisdom lab.

On March 18, 2015, Wisdom Keepers of The New Earth, inspired their loving family members to share their written conversation to offer insight and advanced teachings of three non-verbal autistic masters for the co-creation of The New Earth

Honoring the Unique Gifts of All

NEW EARTH MEDITATION GROUP

Supporting a Higher Heart Frequency

We, the nonverbal autistics, are here to support humanity's ascension process as higher frequency holders and wisdom keepers of the New Earth. As souls who dwell more in the non-physical higher dimensional worlds, we need a safe space and the loving presence of those who dwell more in the physical world to bring in and anchor onto the earth plane, our divine essence.

In our New Earth Meditation Group, Sedona mediators who are physically present join with us, the nonverbal autistic "light changers" and our families. We, the "light changers," have chosen to serve as guides within this New Earth journey of exploration and discovery. Some of us, along with our family members, are present via Skype, whereas, others join us via a heart-connection.

Also present etherically are hundreds of other nonverbal autistics, who hold the larger force field for Autism Mind, or the highest essence and consciousness of what it means to be autistic. Love is the alpha-omega power and presence through which we create and manifest ever increasing levels of unity, coherence, beauty, and truth.

Although nonverbal, we are able to communicate via independent or supported typing, supported handwriting or telepathy received by a loved one.

~ Master Heart Wisdom Keepers

"The veil of autism is being lifted under the power of hearts who see our truth and support its expression."

DANIEL TUTTLE, JR.

MASTER HEART

Who are You?

I am a 20 year old non verbal autistic male. Although non verbal, I have much to say on the new earth science for hearts who are ready to listen. I am a grid master and so much more. I have fun weaving different patterns in the grids and even more fun when all the work my fellow NVA brothers and sisters and I have been doing is noticed. I am a great teacher to my parents who years ago would never have even thought about things like different dimensions, the illusion of time, past lives, planetary evolution, telepathy, telekinesis. The list goes on and on. I have much to teach others, and now is the time. Let's get started !!

WAKE UP THE GAME IS OVER

If you could teach humanity one thing, what would it be and why?

Wake up, the game is over....

Precious ones, know that this statement is meant to say more than we can realize right now. It came to me in a very private, yet, hmmm, personified or personifying a vast intelligence. There is much to draw from this short cryptic utterance. Yet the only thing that I can say now in this moment is... prepare, not in a physical way, not by doing anything, just prepare your heart to know. For this message is a message to the heart. There are deeper levels and layers in our divine heart chamber that have been sleeping, you could say. But no longer can they sleep, no longer is sleeping, hmmm, beneficial or healthy. This is a call to the heart to shed its protective shield that has been a bit of a safety mechanism for being in a rather tough and chaotic world. Yet the world is changing. Not that its edges and happenings are not still chaotic and difficult at times, but to be a part of the new world that is coming, the new world that is birthing, we have to shed our skins of the old world experiences and ways of being, with much defending, much protecting, much isolation... Isn't that a funny statement from a nonverbal autistic who is reputed as a soul group to love and live in isolation, and yet, beloved that is far from the truth. Many of us gather on high creating waves and currents to support this new earth birthing, along with many other constellations of energy, light, love, and compassion. And all that you need to do to be a part of this is to open your heart in a new and profound way. There will be more to be said on that as we progress. And progressing is best done when those of a dearness and desiring to be pioneers in this new becoming join hands and hearts in a group unity blessing and believing way.

~ Daniel

“The New Earth is alive within each one of us. We are here to help you remember the dream and manifest its divine reflection of you.”

LYRICA MARQUEZ

MASTER HEART

Who are You?

I am a divine reality that lives in many dimensions and worlds. Here now I am holding the seed for The New Earth Academy in my body and being that is being nourished by the watery flow of our Sedona (and beyond) meditation group. The power for this divine alchemy is coming out of the foundation of stillness that I am holding in myself and in the group. The love charge of uniting the NVAs with light workers in meditation is creating an enlightened vehicle to birth and launch The New Earth Academy. We are beginning to receive downloads from the etheric consciousness of the Mitchell Hedges Crystal Skull of a science new to earth that holds the lost secrets of Atlantis for humanity's evolution.

SOUL KNOWS

If you could teach humanity one thing, what would it be and why?

Soul knows this answer easily. It would be that we are divine in every way and our ability to create is limitless and infinite. The best news is that this divine process of creation happens through us, so even someone like me can be a master creator regardless of my physical state of being. In fact, I am perfectly formed and informed to do this level of divine alchemy and so are my NVA brothers and sisters. The why I would teach this is because when we are honored and loved in our truth, then we can come more into the physical plane and share our frequency gifts with a waiting world.

~ Lyrica

“The New Earth does not have an outer reality. It is a vibration of the heart that informs and directs every thought and action of our body and being.”

GAYLE LEE

EDUCATOR OF THE HEART

Who are You?

I am a divine advocate here to radiate out into the world the beauty, power, and truth of autism. I honor and appreciate my own experience of autism as a doorway into Lyrica's world and that of all the NVAs...a world full of intrigue, mystery, love, compassion, forgiveness, spiritual wisdom and so much more. Recently, I have been regarded by many NVAs, who commune with me via the heart and telepathy, as a Divine Mother figure. As I step more fully and deeply into this calling, this ordination, this truth, that has been birthed out of my divine relationship with Lyrica, the greatest treasure in my life, I am remembering more and more who I am and why I am here. The ecstasy, the joy, the lightness of living this soul purpose exceeds anything I could ever have imagined life to be! I AM LOVE AND IN LOVE WITH ALL OF LIFE!

Educator of the Heart and Mother of Lyrica

EVOLVE AND SHARE

If you could teach humanity one thing, what would it be and why?

I would love to teach the world that we are here for 2 things...to grow or evolve our own soul and share the gifts of our own uniqueness with all. EVERYONE we meet or even know of are part of our divine family team to help us complete our own becoming, regardless of how soft or harsh the experiences we encounter with them might be.

Learning to harmonize all events, experiences, thoughts, feelings, even physical issues are simply soul steps toward our graduation brings in such peace, soul ease, and love flowing without the separation dynamic of judgment. Then we can evolve more lightly within the state of grace in community and in unison with all. This to me is the birthing process for The New Earth. ~ Gayle

Learning to harmonize our experiences brings in peace and love.

CONNIE REGALADO

EDUCATOR OF THE HEART

Who are You?

Well, I'm someone who has a difficult time writing about themselves because there is so much about me. I will try to make it simple...I am a strong willed woman who is a great mother to my son who has Autism. I am a great wife to a wonderful man. I have always known since I was young that I came to this earth plane to be involved in something EPIC.

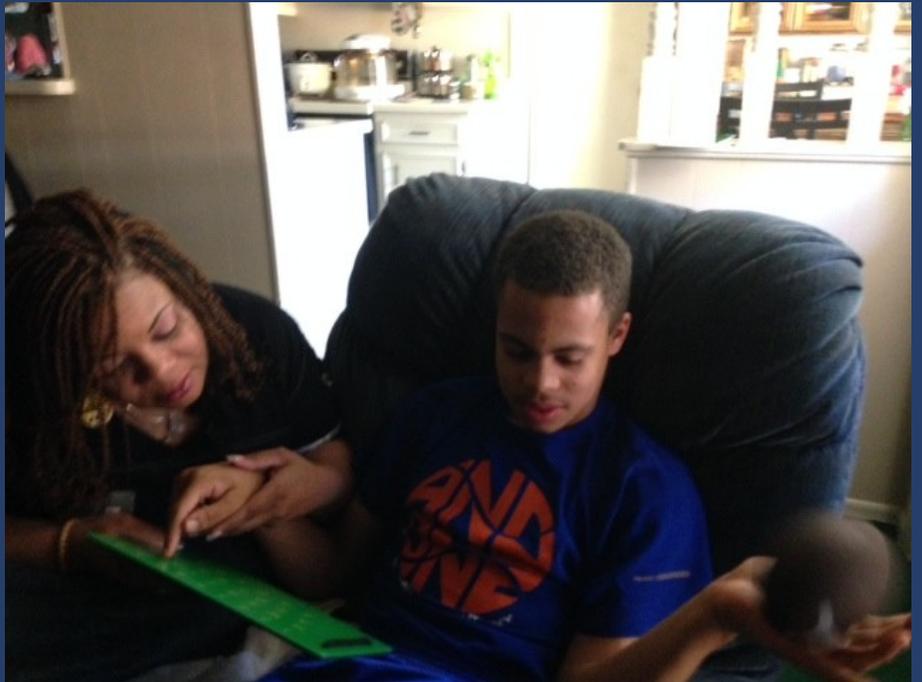

Educator of the Heart and Mother of Daniel

LOVE YOURSELF

If you could teach humanity one thing, what would it be and why?

I would teach humanity that loving themselves is the greatest love of all. It is the key to our evolution. When you love yourself, you will automatically love others because they are a part of you. . .they always have been a part of you. How beautiful it is when that fact is realized. Love is so simple, yet we tend to make it a difficult reality out of fear. It's time to let go, and love. The Love class is in session and I am the student and the teacher. I love you !!!

Who are You?

I am a simple honest man who was awakened in 2011 and provided with the gift of being able to create a sacred oil that will assist mankind in their ascension process. I am a step father to an AWESome, handsome fellow who is diagnosed with Autism. I have learned a lot from him, and honored to be a part of his life.

SIMPLY PEACE

If you could teach humanity one thing, what would it be and why?

I would teach humanity peace. The reason I'd teach this is for love. It's plain and simple. Peace on earth will solve a lot of things.

NEW EARTH CONVERSATIONS

The earth has a balloon that is tethering on its surface that is the energy of the New Earth program. This node, Lyrica's word, we both see as next to, but not touching upon the earth's physical matter plane. Its field of origin relates to the energy matrix that we have been immersed in over the last several months. Occasionally during our meditations I have seen and felt the proximity of its nature. Didn't know what its purpose was and still I am not clear about that. However, now I do know that the program held within is ours to explore deeply and completely. As is the way of the New Earth, this process of getting to know its elements and properties is not one of merely learning about these things, but one of becoming transformed by them in a way that informs us of its true nature.

DEVELOPMENTAL SANCTUARY

Beautifully reported Adri and thanks Lyrica for holding the space for your mom to hear our wisdom stream messaging. I, too, am in tune with this program module. Love that we all have different words to name it, and see it from a unique perspective. That is the synergy needed for us to be able to hold our role as pioneers and discoverers of this new land of immense opportunity. I am picking up that there are many entrance requirements here and perhaps that is what The New Earth Academy will be supporting, not only for us and other autistics, but for all who choose to enter within this new developmental sanctuary. What I also want to say is that the nonverbal autistic nature, that we all experience and express in our own unique way, for the most part, already meets these entrance requirements, which is why we can be the guides for this very holy journey.

~Daniel

My piggyback perspective, first, is one of joy to experience within my body and being the release of the Academy's heart that I have holding in incubation for a very long time. It took the commitment for the three of us to come together in Sedona and host a public event to open up the flow. Never have I ever felt such a deep reverence for the families who are making this point of destiny a physical reality. Now to my inside-out alignment to the node. . .The program held within is not just one program, but a complex interrelation of designer matrix-like transformational technologies. The access point of entry is very specific and I believe, in truth, that we have been building an access vehicle in our meditations. The model has been set and now we just need to allow the watery flow on high to move us into a closer view to touch upon the sheer beauty and power that awaits us here.

~ Lyrica

BREATH TO THE VISION

The starting point to speak of the science of the New Earth is to reflect on the science of our earth now, as we know it to be. Logical principles and orderly conduct of matter are a foundation that has served us, as an earth population, rather well up until now. For our human evolution to spring forth into its New Earth state of being requires a whole new experience and understanding of the possibilities of matter, along with a realization that matter can and does hold a consciousness factor that we have yet to enter into fully. Birthing into this new realm of the science of matter is a quantum leap that must not only be explored but integrated into the known sciences of today's world. The path into the new takes us into a realm of the Divine out of which new creation flows into human receptors with the design to receive, integrate, and become its properties and elements and gradually manifest them into a more physical tangible form and format. Tonight, as we give life and breath to the vision of The New Earth Academy, we are holding the space for a divine issuance of the revolution of matter to emerge via a process that can inform its flow into ever-ascending levels of refinement and beauty.

INFINITE POTENTIAL

Science may not even be the optimum word to use here. For science suggests to our minds rules of behavior that are defined and limited as to how things are and how they can be. Yet when we go beyond the world of possibilities into the world of infinite potential, everything changes and nothing is as it seems. Matter then becomes an entity free to express in a more fluid dynamic ever-changing way. This less defined state of matter then flows into new levels of expression that reveal to us the consciousness and form of the new human biology creating itself out of its own innate intelligence. Perhaps this dialogue seems rather abstract and even inane and ultimately inconceivable, and that is perfect for what we are called to be doing here. We are traveling beyond known constructs to open up a field for the new biology of human matter to arrange itself into its first and primal pattern of operation.

~ Daniel

Progression into more rarified states of being, in my way of knowing, is a sequence that begins in death and then moves into rebirth. Thank you, Adri and Daniel for weaving together these aspects of seeming polarity, the old and the new science, to open up the gateway for the next part of our conversation. Many evolved souls can already see into the nature of matter revealed in its auric radiance as patterns of color that reflect its frequency and even more transcendent states of its being. Yet, as we enter into divine states of compliment with matter becoming something new, we will begin to see even a more brilliant portrait of its divine essence within its fluidity of expression. Yet seeing its newness will be a lightweight activity compared to feeling and knowing its presence and way of expressing within our physical bodies. You might wonder how do I, or how do we, know these things? It is because we are already being touched by them is a way that allows us to begin to see and know of this new reality.

~ Lyrica

WAKE UP FROM THE DREAM

The New Earth is a constellation of many remembrances. So in that way it is not truly "new" at all, but rather a soul recognition that has been sleeping for a very long time. It is time to wake up from the dream that has been fooling us into believing that we live within a state of regulation that defines our existence in a rather locked in way. What if suddenly we awoke to see the bigger universe that lives within us that is boundless and endless? What if suddenly we could truly understand that many universes are converging and worlds touching worlds in ways that cancel all the rules of the game of life and collapse them into a pattern of interrelated wheels of destiny all turning us inward to create a totally new outward reality? The only interference here is one of disbelief and doubt. Although even those experiences can become open doorways into a newness, so unexpected and so exceptional, that once again we may hit upon another level and layer of disbelief and doubt. . . All a part of the process of becoming naked and transparent as New Earth citizens in the making.

MAGICAL CO-CREATION PROCESS OF MANIFESTATION

Time for another take on the same inward-outward spin waiting to be recognized and befriended by our human essence. Why do we even seek a New Earth? What is it that we are looking for in this compelling call? That's the trickiest part of all. The minute that we think we know the answer to the question, we confine ourselves to a limited version of what could be. Once we lock into an assumed trajectory, we become the ones who must, not only see, but also create the outcome sought. In this scenario, we are solo and separate from everything else that exists around us and our best efforts dim in comparison to what could be. Take another look. What if we instead stood firm in a position of unknowing (in the moment) and only allowed in a wave of consciousness so powerful and so surprising, in its sudden presence within our being, to be clearly coming in from a space so much bigger than that of our own mind or imagination? Now we are on track!

~ Daniel

Time to say my sense of my beloved's beautiful messages from beyond. I say from "beyond" because this knowing "speaks" through them as the "watery flow" of their soul's origin. That's the remembering. . . a vision that then is in alignment with everything else in matter and space. Then the pieces needed to bring the vision to life are lined up in perfect order to flow together into a magical co-creation process of manifestation. Not only does the harmony and unity of the process stun the imagination, it then becomes such a simple process to hold and behold. No more struggle or arduous assignments. Even ones like us can open the door wide here and know that, in spite of our rather dependent way of existing here in the physical, we are expertly wired to be wizards in this New Earth way of creating and manifesting. As everything begins to unfold one surprise at a time, the rapture felt within is immense! And rapture is the power for ever-ascending levels of coherence, beauty, and truth to refine and shape our lives as New Earth beings in the making.

~ Lyrica

NEW EARTH MEDITATION INSIGHTS

My most compelling experience in the meditation is love. Certainly I know of the kindness of love in my life, I feel it every day from my mom. Yet this love transcends anything I have ever known in the physical as it is love without a body, love without a story, love without an agenda. It approaches, for me, the face of God, shining forth through the nonverbal autistic essence of being. So pure, so divine, so ethereal, so peaceful, so sublime. I feel much activity and movement within me and all around me. I feel it as waves of love weaving and expressing higher and higher octaves of love, unity, and devotion. Not only do I feel deeply this heart resonance, but I hear it and see it in bursts of sounds, colors, sacred designs, almost like explosions of love creating love. Within this sacred pageantry, I begin to remember that nothing happening is outside of me. That's when the true miracle pops in. I awaken to my truth that I am co-creating and becoming all of this wonderment in union with so many of my beloved brothers and sisters and all those who are offering us a safe heart space in which to incubate and disseminate our New Earth gifts to share.

HEART CENTERED CO-CREATION

The meditation experience offers my nature its highest domain in which to be and create. Here, fully supported by the light chargers, the other nonverbal autistics, and the meditator's hearts, I enter into sacred contract with so many divine presence beings. Together we are designing and constructing a vehicle of transmission to receive, hold, and ultimately share downloads of light, technology, and ordination protocols for New Earth pioneers. It's like we are birthing an ark of enlightenment. Yet to build such a resonate structure, it all takes place in the proper energy placements, relationships, and sequences so that the energy becomes the divine blueprint and initiator for its own unfolding into form. Oh, how much I love becoming the wave and helping to weave this energetic platform for all of our New Earth experiences to come. Free of my physical form, I flow within the rhythm and cadence of pure fluidity. I feel almost like there's an orchestra playing within me and I am the conductor. Sometimes I move in the soft sweetness of a violin, sometimes the loud blast of a trumpet, or other times the deep rumbling vibration of the drums. It all carries me into a state of sheer ecstasy and that's when I am expressing as the me that I most adore to be. ~ Daniel

My meditation experience is both of a heart and science vibration. Literally when the heart and science merge, doorways open. In the doorways hover downloads as ancient as the universe's beginning and as new as the earth yet to come. As a heart scientist, I must enter deeply into my own physical experience to begin to translate these divine emanations. I can feel my light literally pulled deeply into the doorway of the sacred mystery, where I then become the puller and that which is pulled. In a birthing way, it is all so alive, and its life begins to live and breathe in me. As I feel its presence, I am aware of how much it has always been a part of me, for it is my nature to hold and know these things. Decoding these mysteries, sets my soul on fire. My longing to go home, a forever whisper in my heart, is suddenly and completed fulfilled. I have fallen deeply in love. With whom? With me, the sacred alchemist awakening in me as the blood of my soul and the footprints of my destiny. In joy, I bless The New Earth Academy as a holy foundation for the lost art of alchemy. Here in a divine partnership of humans merging with the forces of nature, we can co-create the New Earth, no longer just a dream, but a realized sacred heart community of so many beautiful beloveds living in divine harmony and unity. ~ Lyrica

MAWAB

OIL

The creation of the sacred MAWAB oil took over 6 weeks. Attention, dedication and love went wholeheartedly into this project. Lee was honored to have been trusted to carry out this mission because it took absolute integrity on his part.

The Beings involved in the process were very specific about the Oil's ingredients and the fact that the ritual to bring the powers into the oil had to be completed March 19, 2011, on the Super Full Moon. In March 2014, Lee and Connie learned that Daniel provided Lee the guidance and direction to create this sacred alchemical oil known as MAWAB, Make a Wish and Believe.
