Merry Beltaine (May Day) Everyone!

Well it seems that Spring has finally arrived (late, and a bit damp) but it's here. Talisman has been incredibly, blessedly busy this past month both in terms of product sales and readings. Lots of new products on the shelves, a new logo ("Spellcraft by Talisman") and more great stuff on the way ... but WOW ... the readings! I'm probably doing ten a day via skype, phone and in person (not to mention two in-house psychic parties held at the shop last month) – probably in response to the energies of the Cardinal Grand Cross and Saturn transit – all I can say is "WOW".

But I have to add, a solid 80% of the readings are NOT for intuitive advice or counseling. Rather, I am sitting down to cards that tell a similar story over and over ... unbearable work conditions, marriages, situations with grown children ... and something within has finally snapped (Ten of Wands, reversed) which is the straw that broke the camel's back. NO MORE! People are closing the doors to businesses (here at Chuck's Corner, Addie's Cottage is closing after 30 years of business, and the nail salon just closed its doors after two – suddenly and without warning). Alice, who owns Addie's, is a dear friend of mine for over 20 years – she told me she woke up two weeks ago and just said, "I can't do this anymore it just isn't fun and I don't want to be there" and boom – THAT'S the day she gave the landlord notice.

I am sitting with men and women who are filing for divorce after many years of marriage – or quitting wretched toxic jobs ... tired of limping along, they are done. And they are not coming to me for advice or to find out if they are making the right choice – they KNOW they are making the right choice just want to see it reflected in the cards as validation. And I have to say, throughout the month of April it has been there in plain view, every single time.

This isn't about suffering and misery – nor is it about feeling like a victim. This is about people sick and tired of feeling powerless and miserable and saying “I don’t care what it costs me, I am OUT – not playing this game anymore!” People are packing up, walking away from houses that are under water financially and moving South or West – anyplace offering an easier way of life and lower cost of living. And they are making these decisions overnight, it seems. Boom – they are done and GONE.

The people who ARE suffering, however, are the ones who aren’t there yet – still plodding along, dreading the start of each workday but showing up to collect that weekly paycheck ... or in sad marriages but hanging on because of the kids, the house, fear of the unknown – but living a lonely single life as a married person. Work. Home. Chores. TV. Bed. And begin again each morning ...back on the hamster wheel.

And FYI: The number one complaint of married women? Loneliness. Married men? Boredom.

My frustration, as a reader/intuitive counselor, is that I sit in front of the person I am reading and look at the cards and say something like “Okay, I see you are unhappy in your marriage – in fact, you are thinking about divorce although I don’t see you ready to do it yet. It appears your husband is (fill in the blank: a workaholic / alcoholic / unaffectionate / a bully / etc) but you have stayed in the marriage to keep your family intact. And while you have thought about divorce, you are not ready to leave yet. And now what? This isn’t about passing judgment, or telling someone to move forward – in fact, that is highly unethical for any intuitive as YOU are the writer of your life’s story and it is not our place to feed you your lines! And those who (say) have to - for the time being and that is exactly how they phrase it - remain in the bad job that provides the family’s health benefits; or are staying in the marriage because the very young children could be jeopardized by extended time alone with an addictive parent ... again, things change. And while waiting for change to occur, you can begin cleaning and clearing your home (basement, attic) removing the people you are not affixed to who are taking more than they give – divest yourself of ideologies and ways of acting/speaking which no longer serve you. Take a class, prepare your resume, investigate a new interest, create something, plant a garden, learn a new language on-line. Have a Plan B and a Plan C prepared as you look forward to various scenarios. It sounds cliché, but picture the life you WANT to have – where do you live? With whom do you live? What do you do all day? You can’t manifest a change that you cannot see! Remember that stuck does not have to mean stagnant. When water flows down the mountain it doesn’t usually flow in a straight line – it moves around the trees and rocks and hilly areas – but it keeps moving.

But I can assure you of this: Time marches on, whether we want to move forward or stay put. Children grow up, people get sick and die, we ourselves grow older. Today is the youngest you will ever be. And it is always going to be sad for me, when I have sat with someone for literally years hearing the same thing in each reading “no, I can’t do it now – can’t leave that job I will be vested in 8 more years – can’t leave the marriage I am not giving up my house – can’t tell my 33 year old to get off the couch and get a job or that he/she has to move out because I don’t want them living in a shelter or their car they might get in trouble ... can’t be with anyone but THIS one person and I’ll wait right here forever if I have to ...” and then one day they come into the shop, devastated, sit and tell me they have been let go from their job – their spouse filed for divorce – they found a lump in their breast - their kid was arrested – the house is in foreclosure. And I will tell you why this happens: Because once we wake up to our spiritual truth (and if you are coming into the shop with any regularity, chances are you have) reading, studying Reiki and energy work, reaching out to your angels/spirit guides, opening up to the Divine within and throughout ... the clock starts ticking. And you are not going to be allowed to go back to sleep, or continue to ignore whatever open wound you are nursing along because your Divine Father/Mother will not allow it. But you are NOT being punished – you are being freed!

Look, life is like a roller coaster – full of ups and downs. No marriage is happy 100% of the time, no job is perfect and every family has its flaws. Luckily, our patrons and friends at Talisman are intelligent people who know this – who know the difference between giving a kid a quick smack on the ass and a beating that qualifies as child abuse. Or a single bad fight where some terrible things may have been said – and night after night of screaming abuse and broken dishes and holes punched in walls. Right? If your spouse just took a new job and has to travel and you are lonely – that is NOT the same as you having spent the past three years (or more) sitting downstairs every single night with the kids while he is alone upstairs playing video games until 2am! Or the husband whose wife complains about long work days and working weekends but continues to overspend the family budget as he tries frantically to prevent bankruptcy. Or how about the men who know their wife is having an affair but ignore it and keep going because if they file for divorce they will not see their children every day and they just can’t bear the thought of every other weekend and one day a week sleepovers?

This isn’t about judgment, either - sometimes that woman having an affair is married to a man who professes to loving his kids but is screaming obscenities at HER and she is just living for those few hours once a week of quiet intimacy with someone she knows won’t be hurling abuse. Or men who step out of their marriages because their wife is passed out drunk, high or loaded on prescription drugs every night. There are two sides to every story, folks. And only so much pain any one person can bear.

One thing is for certain: There is plenty of misery to go around.

And once again, it is not my place to tell anyone what to do, but I will say I have never once spoken with a business owner who closed down after years of desperately trying to keep it afloat who was unhappy with the decision to quit. Just the opposite – they have told me they felt liberated. Ditto the bad marriage – the only comment I have ever heard was wishing they had done it sooner ... all the wasted time.

Let me say it again: Today is the youngest you will ever be.

We do things a bit differently at Talisman. You pay our readers AFTER the reading is finished, and if you are not happy you don't pay. NO READER can read EVERYONE successfully and everyone who works at Talisman is aware of this fact. Know that it is acceptable after the first 5 minutes of a reading to say something like, "I'm sorry, what you are saying just isn't resonating with me. I would like to stop the reading now, but thank you for your time". If you do not hear something amazing in the first five minutes, or if it just isn't right ... don't expect a reading to get better as it goes on. Readings go off track for a number of reasons - but the point is, you shouldn't pay if you are not happy. Please, just be courteous and respectful. Complaints are rare because every reader has had to pass the "ultimate interview" ... they must sit and read ME (and I've been reading over 25 years myself) and tell me something about my past/personal life, my children, home, or business that they could not possibly have heard or learned someplace else. But every reader has their unique gift and their own style, it is NOT one size fits all. Personally, I don't think anyone should get a reading more than once every 6-8 weeks and prefer you allow at least 3 months between readings ... you don't want to become a psychoholic, right? I WILL discourage you from this behavior! My goal is to see people leave an "intuitive counseling session" (because that is really what we do) feeling validated, uplifted and hopeful regardless of the situation or challenges they may be facing. That is the true measure of a "good" reading!

Available by Appointment:

Talisman's readers are available for parties and events. You can pay by the hour or allow us to set up and have your guests/attendees pay individually. We do our best to be flexible and fairly priced. Our party rates are $60 an hour, plus gas/mileage OR guests can pay if they choose to get readings at $1/minute. Please make all scheduling arrangements through Laura at (203) 261-0047. We also book private parties at the shop, with readers of your choice. Just ask!

Reflexology Fridays with Mark: This ancient healing art uses hand/thumb pressure corresponding to the body systems. The practice stimulates/relaxes stress signals resulting in relaxation (who DOESN'T love having their feet rubbed?), pain reduction, and rejuvenation of tired feet -- helping you stand tall in the world! Come in after a hard week of work and treat yourself in Mark's chair ($30/30 minutes).

Numerology Reports: Many have been asking for books or information on Numerology. Numerology has been used for thousands of years to provide deep insights into one's personality, intimate relationships, and the important influences that affect one's daily life. Now, with the Numerology Report, you can examine your life in a unique way to take advantage of unexplored opportunities, confirm talents that in your heart you know are there, or simply to figure out where to go next. You'll see all the diverse parts of your personality and how they uniquely come together to make the person you are. Through this report, you'll be able to make the most of your life in a way that wasn't possible before. There are three different Numerology Reports available - each of these providing you even greater insights into your life as well as your romantic relationships. An explanation of all three reports can be emailed to you directly - just hit "reply" to this newsletter with a request. Cost per report: $15 emailed; $18.95 printed. Laura has her own numerology report as a sample, if you'd like to see it. :

Laura: I do special, in-depth readings by appointment. My 45+ minute private sessions include a chakra check up, a print out and review of your astrological natal chart, tarot and palm reading, and more! ($45). Call the shop for an appointment, as I schedule these when the shop is closed or after-hours. Yes, I still do $5 readings on Wednesday & Thursday but these are done in-between phone calls and waiting on patrons - you can't make an appointment, and I do get interrupted. These mini-readings usually last about 10-15 minutes. As long as there are no other scheduled readers in the shop (they drive in from a distance and it's just not fair to them) I am always happy to peek at someone's palm or throw a few cards, so don't hesitate to ask!

Astrology Corner

By Alethea Hunt, Astrologer

April may have been one of the most astrologically challenging months we've had, but things do start to slowly improve as we make it through May - though we shouldn't expect an overnight turnaround because there are still a few more items on the astrological docket to clear before we can ease into summer. We begin this month with Venus' hot rush into Aries – combine this with the fact that Mars is still in Libra and we'll have a Mars/Venus mutual reception in play for the majority of May. What this means is Mars & Venus energies will intermingle all month long, so it will be very important to pay attention to ACTIONS in relationships. Not words, but deeds – it's what we're doing or not doing that makes or breaks things now. Words don't mean much if there's no follow-through; actions speak for themselves for good or ill. I don't think this will be an easy time for relationships overall (not that there's been an easy time in recent memory, LOL!) because Mars & Venus are both in the signs of their detriment, meaning they're hard-up to function in a beneficial manner as a general default. This energetic interplay CAN work, but it's a lot trickier to make it so & requires a lot of awareness – particularly around the 2nd & 3rd weeks of May when Venus clashes with the dissipating remnants of April's Cardinal Cross. For more details on this energetic backdrop, you can also see my recent blog post.

Mercury is in Gemini for most of May, and though the conversation does flow as a result, we do have to watch for white lies or outright deception around the 9th-11th when it approaches a square to Neptune. Avoid any wheeling-and-dealing these days if you can, and be wary of double-talk or sob stories. Any gossip you hear through the grapevine from or about siblings, neighbors, or even co-workers should be taken with a grain of salt, as facts are likely to be distorted. On the plus side, this is a great energy to channel toward writing fiction, poetry, or music because it stimulates the imaginative side of our minds. For best results don't addle the brain with substances – sit in solitude, in meditation, or in prayer and you may be surprised at what gets communicated through your subconscious/intuition/spirit guides. It may even be a good time to consider keeping a dream journal for this very reason. If you need to do some persuasive speaking at this time, infusing your conversation with plenty of empathy and letting your audience know that you can put yourself in their shoes elicits the best dialog. This same energy signature will be echoed again by the Gemini New Moon on the 28th as it also squares Neptune, so be aware of the trickier sides to this energy while capitalizing on the positive facets for maximum effect. A Full Scorpio Moon occurs on the 14th and can be a tough lunation that may involve exorcising relationship or financial demons, or - at the very least - getting handle on them courtesy of this Moon's close proximity to Saturn. Controlling our debts or indebtedness to others may be a big theme due the Taurus/Scorpio polarity in play, because Pluto's square to Venus on this day can represent a dangling of the purse strings. This Moon can also arouse feelings of jealousy or possessiveness that need to be managed where relationships are concerned, so def don't indulge any inclination to keep tabs on a partner via spying on them. If our trust is that shaky, it's probably a sign that things are too FUBAR to even work with - intimacy issues can arise at this lunation and doing something that further degrades structural integrity is a surefire way to repel someone we love. Know that emotions run deep now, and if we're to fortify intimacy in any relationship we have to feel safe!

We do start getting a few things going for us at this point – a healing Grand Trine in the Water element forms between Jupiter, Saturn, & asteroid Chiron. This influence can serve as a salve for emotions that may have been battered around in recent months – there's a way to spiritualize any pain or hardship we've encountered so that it can be transcended. This is also a very shamanic energy that favors things like the vision quest and/or a connection to nature that facilitates a sense of Oneness – if you're not able to find a shaman to work with, at the very least make an effort to get out into nature because it will improve your emotional state greatly. This energy represents a blending of the earthly and spiritual worlds, and a many a great healing transformation has been precipitated by some form of crisis. If April was a rough month for you, try and see any suffering encountered as just this sort of healing crisis. Sometimes when things break down, we're actually being prepared for a time where we will use what we've learned through our trials and errors to help others. After this, we do get some lovely communication aspects over Memorial Day weekend that will be just fine for socializing and/or initiating conversations geared toward a reconciliation of some kind. If you want to smooth things over with somebody, this is the time to get dialog going because it's an agreeable energy that can help people forgive & forget - or at least kiss & make up. The only tricky aspects to navigate will be Neptune's inconjunct to Mars in Libra and simultaneous square to the Gemini Sun – booze is a wildcard as to whether it helps or hinders the communication/peacemaking process. While a little judiciously applied alcohol can help grease up those "forgive & forget" mechanisms to get them rolling, it can also lube up anger and cause it to slip out inappropriately. The square to the Gemini Sun suggests it's more inclined to impair communication – especially between siblings, kin, & neighbors. I would try to initiate any talks BEFORE the consumption of any "adult beverages" and see how it goes, then decide whether or not burying the hatchet over a beer is going to be an effective plan of attack!
