

Press Release: Journal Record-by Brian Brus
November 14, 2017

Chelsea Bradshaw, right, helps Ben Pelley assist a customer at Citizens Bank of Edmond in Edmond. (Photo by Brent Fuchs)

OKLAHOMA CITY – If enough businesses in Oklahoma do something similar to Citizens Bank of Edmond’s new financial services package, the state Legislature’s difficulty raising money for teachers’ pay will be moot, said Christy Hays, founder of Oklahomans for Teachers.

Citizens is about to roll out a teachers group banking plan that features a signature $100 cash reward that can be used for classroom supplies. Other elements that would interest any consumer, not just teachers, include good rates for certificates of deposit and mortgage discounts.

For the full story, please go to www.journalrecord.com