

Privacy/Confidentiality Notice

NW Hope-Net does not sell, trade, or give client information out to 3rd party marketing companies, nor any other potential 3rd party solicitation organizations. Your information will never be sold or given to any organization for marketing purposes.

However, it should be plainly understood that by making any request for services through NW Hope-Net, you (the potential client) automatically indicate your voluntary consent for NW Hope-Net to share any and all information contained in your request for services (including any material(s) you have provided to support your request) with our partner churches and/or social service organizations, as we deem necessary in order to reasonably verify, coordinate, and respond to your request for assistance. You further agree that NW Hope-Net, its staff and volunteers, may verify the facts of your request for services in order that we may be able to determine the extent, legitimacy and duration of your need.

As a potential client of NW Hope-Net, you certify that any information you provide in the course of submitting an application for services will be true and correct to the best of your knowledge, and you authorize NW Hope-Net to verify your circumstances. In the case of digital submission of an application, you understand that by entering your name on that application, you are leaving your electronic signature. You agree that a digital signature is as binding as your physical autograph.

No request for services can be processed without agreement to these parameters.
