The Story of Ralph

As told by Ken Bena

Greetings from Ralph

For the newer CCC members who don't know who I am: In 1981, I became "The Thunder Bucket Award for Excellax Performance" as I proudly sit on a white "throne". Members accumulate NCCC points throughout the year and earn all those "look-alike" trophies for placing in the top 20. I am presented to that deserving member who tries so hard during the year, however places 21st in NCCC points.

Looks like "I" was the big winner when awarded to Pattie Bena at the 2014 Banquet! This is my 3rd time being in the Bena household and man, do they treat me well! They included me in their 3 week vacation to the Riviera Maya, trading in my throne for a lawn chair on the beach where I sipped tropical drinks and worked on my tan . . . looks great, right?

I hear the CCC calendar is filling up so I am anxious to see what's next!

Dear Gene,
I have a bone to pick with CCC. I am given to the person who finishes 21st in the points for racing and I would consider that an honor, but it seems it's not. I spent the last year in Lambert's closet and Ken Bena was going to leave me on his fireplace hearth sitting on the toilet.

Well, he can forget that! I stashed away in his neighbor's suitcase who is vacationing in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. As you can see in the enclosed photo, I'm sitting on the beach, sucking down a rum punch and enjoying life. I'm going to finish the year traveling the world and I'll keep you informed of where I am.

Next year, maybe you can award me to someone who appreciates me!!

Thanks,
Ralph

P.S. If you see Bena at the meeting, tell him where I am. (As if he cares)

What is the NCCC-Duntov Performance Award??

On page 10, our President, Jerry Koraleski, talks about our club winning this award in 2009. So what is it? According to the NCCC website, it is described as this:

Minimum qualifications for a club to be eligible are;

FLASHBACK!

Brainerd or Bust!

By Allen H. Sobl

It's 1991. Dave Hawks has raced his 1977 Corvette at Brainerd International Speedway for 10 consecutive years. He owns the IC class high speed autocross record at the track.

Dave somehow convinces Palmer and me that we should go to Brainerd. We get a Class III trailer hitch for our 1985 Chevy pickup, rent a U-Haul trailer with surge braking, and put BFGoodrich high speed T/A R1 tires on our '77 vette. We are off to the races!

Brainerd International is located in a beautiful wooded area in Minnesota, just beginning to suffer the encroachment of residential development. The track is nicely designed, with long straightaways and sweeping banked curves. We choose a spot among the trees, unload the vette, and register for the event. We see lots of serious racing machines, including several menacing looking Porsches. A young fellow named Doug Rippie is selling brake discs and pads out of a trailer.

Other Cornhuskers are at Brainerd too. Ron Bockerman has his yellow '69 coupe pulled by his familiar little rust colored van. Steve Walling has a silver and gray 1978 Anniversary vette. Patty Blackburn has Wally Wilson's C4 coupe. Wally's brother has a brutal 427 Sting Ray coupe.

It has been raining. Nothing much is going on while everyone waits for the track to dry, so Dave offers to show us the course. We get into his Ford pickup and proceed along the infield road, parallel to the track. We are approaching a bridge that spans the track near the entrance to the back straightaway. A rubber chicken is clearly visible, hanging from the middle of the bridge. Dave explains that the "chicken" is a famous marker. A driver approaching the bridge is advised to "aim for the chicken" as he exits the turn so as to line up perfectly with the straightaway.

Dave is explaining some of the finer points of driving Brainerd, especially how safe it is. Suddenly a bright red C4 appears beneath the bridge, passing directly beneath the chicken at breathtaking speed. Dave recognizes the car, and comments that the driver is probably just checking out the track.

Moments later, the C4 spins violently on the damp track, and plows headlong into the berm separating the track from the infield road. There is a thunderous crash and the air is filled with bits of red fiberglass. Dave and I bolt from the cab of the pickup to rescue the driver, but he is already getting out of the stricken vette to survey the damage by the time we arrive.

Sometime later, a wrecker is removing the vette from the course, and we get back into Dave's truck. To my astonishment, Dave resumes his turn-by-turn narrative as if nothing at all out of the ordinary had occurred! What a cool guy!

Dave Hawks was the first (and only) Cornhusker to reach #1 in NCCC competition (1985). He passed away in 2013 after a long struggle with cancer.

Vette Talk with Cody

by Cody Jantz

Spring is in the air and Corvette season is upon us! There are a few things that you need to do to make sure that your Corvette is road ready.

Item 1: Battery – Corvettes, start your engines! ... and nothing happens?!? A very common problem this time of year is the dreaded dead or low charged battery. I receive many calls about no start Corvettes this time of year. The most common problem is the fact that the battery is dead and has no juice. If your C5 or C6 Corvette has sat in the garage all winter without having the battery charged or checked, it is very likely that the car won't start or that the engine just isn't receiving enough juice to fire properly. GM states that the battery will move to a low charge or dead state if the Corvette is not started over the course of 28 days. Instead of running out and getting a new battery, you just need to charge the battery. A common mistake is not charging the battery long enough; it needs to charge for at least one hour or more.

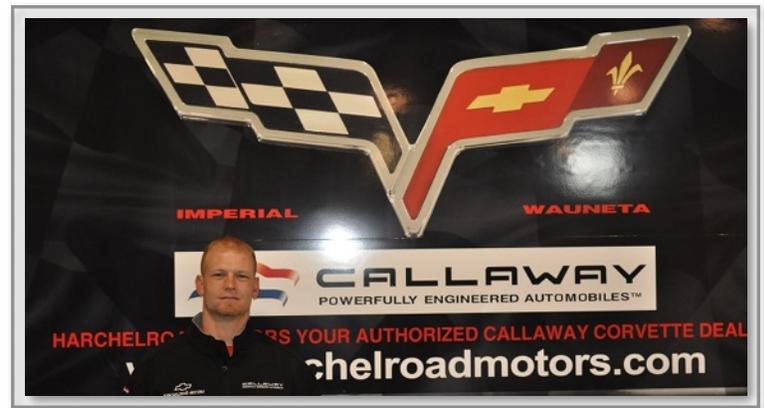

Solution: Get a Battery Tender – There are many battery tenders on the market, but there is only one that our parts specialists recommend: the CTEK 3300 12-Volt Smart Battery Charger for only $89.99. It trickle charges at a low rate and requires at minimum one hour of charging time. This will save you from having to buy a new battery every year. The great thing about our recommended battery tender is that it can be used to charge batteries in boats, 4-wheelers, lawn mowers, motorcycles, snowmobiles, and tractors.

After the battery is charged and the car has been started, you will need to reset the windows (if you own a C6). To do this, roll both side windows down and hold for 5 seconds, then roll them up and hold for 5 seconds. Both windows have to be done at the same time for them to be reset. You will also have to redo your radio presets, as the computer has lost power due to the low or dead battery.

Item 2: Tire Pressure – Properly inflated tires can lead to the most enjoyable drive in your Corvette. Did you know that over inflated and under inflated tires lead to poor fuel mileage, bad ride, and poor handling? Proper tire pressure isn't hard to do right, especially with in-tire pressure sensors. It is recommended that you follow the tire pressure specs found on the side of your Corvette's tire. If you are unsure, you can call me or check the recommended pressures on the driver's door.

You can fill your tires with one of two options: air or nitrogen. We recommend you fill your tires with nitrogen. Tires filled with nitrogen tend to have less tire pressure change during driving months or warmer months. However, they will lose more pressure over the winter or as your car sits cold.

Item 3: Wheel Alignment - The last item you need to pay attention to is your Corvette's wheel alignment. It pays to get the alignment checked often. The C6 suspension will settle when it sits for long periods of time.

Solution: Schedule an Alignment Check – Harchelroad Motors is well prepared to check your Corvette's alignment. If it does need to be aligned, I will properly walk through each step to ensure your Corvette drives perfectly. This may require further parts or labor including tire balancing and road forcing, among other items. After this, your Corvette will be road ready.

It will be spring before you know, especially since the nice weather has already begun. I run specials each month of the year for specific Corvette services. Call to find out this month's special.

Cody Jantz is Performance Shop Manager/Technician at Harchelroad Motors in Imperial, NE. He is an ASE Certified technician with extensive training in Corvette maintenance. Call Cody to schedule your appointment and the parts department to purchase your battery tender. You may reach both by calling 308-882-4295 or toll free 888-727-9737. Cody will answer technical questions about Corvettes by e-mail if you send them to corvette1@harchelroadmotors.com.

What the Heck is Road Forcing?

by Allen H. Sohl

You're driving your Vette on a long, straight, smooth stretch of highway. Your speed is creeping up, maybe a little too high. Somewhere around 75 mph you feel or hear an unpleasant front-end vibration. Conventional wisdom says your front wheels/tires are out of balance.

You take your Vette to a tire store to have the wheels/tires balanced. The technician adds or removes weights until each wheel is balanced; that is, until the wheel spins without perceptible vibration over the entire driving speed range.

A few days later you are out on the road again. You are again approaching 75 mph, and the vibration is still there! How can this be? The problem may be something called "radial force variation" (RFV). As your car moves along, each tire is compressed at the point of contact with the road, and of course the point of contact is continuously moving around the tire. If the tire were perfectly round, and the force required to compress the tire were the same at all points of contact, there would be no vertical vibration at any speed. However, due to various manufacturing limitations, tires are not perfect. The tire is harder (more difficult to compress) at some spots than others. Each "hard spot" momentarily produces a vertical force on the axle as the tire rolls along. The vibration you feel is the result of the continuously changing upward force, which is called "radial force variation" (and applies to all tires, not just radial ply tires). Tire manufacturers check for excessive RFV on new tires, but until recently the equipment required to measure RFV was too expensive for most tire shops.

A conventional dynamic wheel-balancing machine compensates for varying centrifugal force by adding weights at the proper locations on or near the rim, but it cannot detect RFV because the tire is not being deformed by contact with the road. The Hunter Road Force Touch GSP9700 is a more sophisticated machine that can simulate road contact by pressing a roller against the tire while it is rotating. This technique, known as "road forcing," enables the technician to measure RFV and locate the major "hard spots" on the tire.

Since the wheel is not perfectly round, the balancing machine can also measure the "runout," which is the variation in radius (distance from the rim to the hub). The effect of RFV can sometimes be reduced substantially by dismounting the tire and remounting it with the "hard spot" at the point on the rim closest to the hub. This is a time-consuming process that increases the cost of balancing with no assurance of success, but it may save you the cost of tire replacement.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Jerry Koraleski

After the February General Meeting, and reflecting on the Officer reports, I must say we have a terrific BOD that is committed to putting on another great year. When you see them give them the thumbs up.

2014 will bring a new meaning to CCC fun. There will be challenges I'm sure. One thing is for sure, we will have "Something for Everyone". The schedule is packed with events and more in the planning stages. With the loss of our traditional Summer Festival on Labor Day Weekend this presents a unique challenge for Dave our Summer Festival Chairman.

The newsletter is back on track, and what a great job Gina has done. She would love to hear from you about new and exciting adventures with your Corvette. The website is now being updated. A lot of the updates are behind the scenes. The website should be your first stop for all CCC information, both competitive and social.

If you were at the February General Meeting I made mention of a plan to help local people who are in need. We are a fortunate people with a big heart. In 2009 we received the well deserved Duntov award. One aspect of the award is supporting a Charity. I would like to take the next step and help support these local groups. This is a voluntary effort to collect can or dry goods. A basket will be available at the door to place your donations in. Every month, one of the four local programs will be the recipient of our donations.

CCC you're the best

Dear Gene,

I had a wonderful time in Mexico. I stayed there after Bena's neighbors went back home. I hooked up with some college students from Italy and we took a bus to Mexico City and stayed for a couple of weeks. We had so much fun together, they invited me to go back to Europe with them. They are going to back-pack around the whole summer until they go back to school in the fall. WHOOPEE!!

We flew to New York City and decided to lay-over for a few days. Wow, what a place! Since they don't have a lot of money, we mostly walked around and "people watched". (Boy, there are a lot of weirdo's in New York!) The enclosed picture shows me at Times Square eating a real NY pretzel. Man was it good!!

I'll keep in touch and let you know where I visit.

Thanks,

Ralph

P.S. Remember, next year don't put me with another dud like Bena.

Dear Gene,

We arrived in Paris last week and are having a BLAST. One of my friends, Luigi, met a beautiful French girl at a little cafe. She has a French poodle named Fi-Fi who I like a lot. OOH-LA-LA!!

Luigi and I are going to stay here for awhile and the rest of the group are moving on. We'll meet them later.

I've got to go now because Fi-Fi just showed up. I think she's going to give me a  - OOPS - I meant a bone!

Au Revoir,
Ralph

GOVERNOR'S REPORT

Gary Brisbois

Just wanted to update you on some of the topics covered at the Governors' meeting in St. Louis. First off I would like to encourage you to get a permanent number for the West Region, even if you don't race. This is how we fund the West Region scholarships. The deadline for the application for the NCCC scholarships is April 26th. Forms are on the NCCC website. The same forms are used for the West Region application for scholarships. The scholarships are available to children and grandchildren of NCCC members.

The West Region Banquet is in Cedar Rapids. The deadline to submit registration is March 13th. This is a good time to meet up with friends from other clubs. CCC members will be recognized for their participation in the competition program for 2013.

Don't forget to sign up for National Convention, August 25-29 in Savannah, Georgia. Registration prices go up the 1st of April so if you are thinking about going now is a good time to sign up.

NCCC donated $5000 dollars to the National Corvette Museum to help with restoration. The insurance covers repairs to the building but does not cover filling in the hole. It will be up to Corvette enthusiasts to assist the Museum with this expense. GM has volunteered to restore the cars that fell into the pit so that expense is covered for the Museum.

I have been busy contacting other governors to line up sanctions for this year's competition. We are holding a driving school on May 3rd for those of you that would like to come out and see what this "autocross stuff" is all about. This is a good opportunity to try something new. Also, it will give you seasoned drivers a chance to warm up a bit before the real competition gets underway. We also are holding a training session for setting up an autocross course if you want to try your hand at that. Following the driving school we will hold 4 sanctioned events. This will all take place at 125th & I. The flyer will be available on the West Region website shortly. We will also have 7 sanctioned events the following day. This should be a fun time for everyone.

The RCD's stated that they had spent a good deal of time on the rulebook changes last year so that will be the starting point for this year. This will include the consolidation of classes, changes to requirements for flyers, age limits for passengers in low speed events. I will have more information on this as the year progresses.

Keep 'em shining!

Dear Gene,

Luigi and I left France. We found out the girl and Fi-Fi were two-timing us with an English sot and his bull dog. Well, that's life.

We met back up with our group in Switzerland. As you can see from the photo, we're hiking in the Alps.

What a blast! I really think the Swiss chicks dig my "Leder Hosen", if you know what I mean.

I finally called Bena and he told me the club wants me to come back for Summer Festival. You can count on it! It feels good to be wanted. He promised that for the rest of the year, he would take me with him to CCC events. Gotta go.

Yodel-lay-hee-hoo,

Ralph

Marie announced that Dick Mason's mother passed away. Members Nick and Felicia Wessel are expecting their second child. There are 347 general members and 8 social members.

Jayne Reit, Secretary, thanked Pattie Bena and Cheryl Sondyj for the great job they did as secretaries in the previous years. She is taking orders for shirts, etc. Twelve shirts are needed to place an order. She is also selling window decals, small for $6.00 and large for $8.00. Please see sizes at the table in the back of the room.

Tom Horeis, Treasurer, Budget for 2014 is based on the club obtaining an additional 15 new members during the year. The net income budgeted for Summer Festival was decreased about $1000.00 this year because the event at this point is scheduled for the July 4th weekend. This may limit the amount of participation due to it being a family get together weekend. There will be more money for charities this year. The club is going to buy a new computer this year to run the racing. The budget is a guide for the Board of Directors and the club to use. We gave away $12,899 for Toys for Tots, kidney families, Christmas candy and scholarships. Erv Gunderson made a motion to accept the budget and Ray Harris seconded the motion.

Gary Brisbois, Governor, is going to attend the Governor's meeting in St. Louis. They are focusing on insurance and racing this year. March 29th is the West Region Banquet in Cedar Rapids, Iowa this year. The 13th of March is the deadline for registering if you would like to attend. West Region racing information regarding permanent numbers are found on the WR website. The money is used for scholarships. The rules on the website are current for this year.

Gene Gau, Competition Director, said that the Swap Meet will be March 2nd, 6 people are needed and he has those people already. World of Wheels theme is "The Blues Brother's Present the C7." Thursday, March 27th, they move in. No help is needed at this time for the move in. He is looking for volunteers for Saturday and Sunday. If you contact Gene, he can get free tickets to get in.

May 3rd is the autocross school/course design. Two classes are available. The time is 8:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. It will be held rain or shine. This is a shortened version from last year. You will be able to practice autocross. There will be 4 low speeds in the afternoon and 7 low speeds on Sunday. These are to be held at 122nd and I in Omaha. Hy-Vee will be catering. May 17th, there will be 7 low speeds and on May 18th, there will also be 7 low speeds at Southeast Community College in Lincoln. June 21st, will be 7 low speeds and also another 7 low speeds on June 22nd. Drag racing will be on either September 20th or September 27th, but this is not confirmed yet, more information to follow. Gene will let us know at a later date regarding any car shows. MAM update: The manager is now part owner and it is fully operational. It is the same as last year only better!

Jon Manz, Public Relations Director, everything is looking good. You can apply for the scholarship program, please check the website for more information.

Jayne, Social Director, The melodrama, has enough people for one night which was Friday, the 28th of February. You should be there by 6:45 at Sokal Hall on South 13th Street. You are asked to wear black pants with white shirts. There is a free meal after the show. March 15th is the St. Patrick's Day Parade. Meet at Clancy's at 114th and Dodge at 9 a.m. We will be directed to the route after that. There is going to be a social at Clancy's afterwards. April 12th, will be Mexican Dominos with desserts instead of the chili cook off. Further information to follow. May and June are not set up yet.

The newsletter has been entered into the National Competition. He needs tech info for the newsletter, so if you have any, please send it to him!

Kevin Reit, Vice President, gave out the awards of people who were unable to attend the Award's Banquet. Pat Swift and Sandy Swift each had 3rd place tied for activities. For racing, Kathy Gau was in 6th Place and Gene Gau was in 7th place. The rules committee will be held this Thursday and will be presented at the next CCC meeting in March.

Exact times are not known but he will let us know what time to be there. There will be plenty of room for the cars. There will be no fee for us and we can make a donation. CCC AND OMAHA AUTORAMAS THROUGH THE YEARS

By Jake Cartwright

Baker Enterprises was the go-to place for the big spring and fall car shows in Omaha in the 60s through the 80s. Called MIDWEST AUTORAMAS, The shows were at the Civic Auditorium and would have over two hundred vehicles in display. There were few radical show cars brought in those years. Angel hair and white sand was the favorite display material.

The show staged a beauty contest every year to elect a queen of the show with many attendants.

The girls would spend their days talking to all the entrants and conning us up for votes. You can imagine how much fun we had with the beauty contestants! The queen would hand out all the trophies On a big stage set up on the main floor and the gutsy winners would plant a big kiss on her while collecting his big three foot trophy for first place. We would actually dress in a sport coat and tie for the award presentation!

members would sneak in and hang out the whole weekend and party. It was a great way to meet girls!

There were few stock Vettes in our club at the time, most had chrome engines, custom paint and wheels, side exhausts (Hooker side exhausts were big then) We all had to cut out the wheel wells to get the big meats under them.

Times change, Mr. Baker is long gone. There are hundreds of beautiful rides in the giant Century Link Center. The "big Guns" show up now, cost thousands of dollars.

displays alone $50.00 to enter your car so people can pay $8.00 to look at it. Plaques awarded instead of trophies and handed out in an upstairs room.

The WORD OF WHEELS is March 27-30. Plan on coming down, support the club and see our "Blues Brothers" display. CCC has always won an award for our displays and we are out to show the other clubs how to do it.

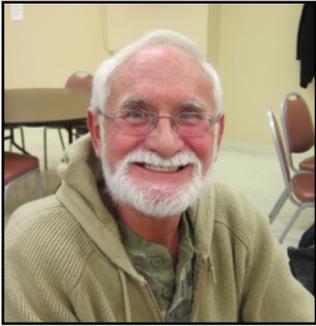

CCC had a display

every year. One of the biggest was 1972. We had 10 Vettes surrounding a cutaway Vette on a turntable, and a cutaway 427 engine . A member of our club was regional manager for GM at the time and arranged for the awsum display. We always tried to reserve the main floor because the lighting was terrible in the lower level. The show had little control at the entry door and a bunch of us active

My Opinion

by Jake Cartwright

I was watching the Barrett Jackson auction on TV in January and I was blown away by the prices paid for vintage Corvettes. Several split window coupes sold for over $100,000. One 67 L-88 sold for $3,500.00! Any Vette with fuel injection, or a big block was selling for $50,000 plus. But now a new trend has been forming. Buyers are paying as much or more for Resto-mod Vettes than some of the stock ones. As an example a red 62 resto-mod Vette sold for $180,000! (a resto-mod Vette looks basically stock on the outside, but has been updated with the DNA of a new car, safer brakes, suspension, engines, etc.) In the past it would ruin the value of a Vette to modify it, but now prices are comparable.

Buyers are realizing that all you can do with the vintage Vettes is an occasional car show or a leisurely cruise on a cool Sunday morning. Air conditioning was available from 1963 on, but don't expect to use it much in a mid year on a hot summer day, they would overheat. Forget about a parade! Old Vettes need constant care; points need adjusting, leaky valve covers, lousy drum brakes on the pre 65s, leaking master cylinders on 65-82s, bias ply tires, etc. The vacuum wipers on the old Vettes will quit when you most need them in the rain, when stepping on the gas! And of course 3600 rpm at 60mph will drink lots of premium fuel. And then there is fuel injection! it was simple in design but complex in tuning for reliability.

Updating an older body with disc brakes, late model fuel injection engines, sound proofing and air conditioning makes a ride that you can take anywhere and still turn heads. Body kits are now available for newer Vettes that have the look of most of the classic styles from the past with all the comforts of a new Vette.

I have owned every series of Corvette throughout the years and have seen the progress with every generation to the pinnacle that they are today. I worry about what will happen to the vintage Corvettes in the future when we are too old to enjoy them and the younger generation will have grown up with little interest in them.

As an example, look at what the stock cars from the teens and Twenties are selling for now, and where are they? Granted there are a few wealthy collectors that have them on display in their private collections.

Corvettes from the 80s through present are bargains and excellent drivers, nothing beats cruising in your Vette on a beautiful spring day, windows down, top off.

Remember the old Schlitz commercial "You only go around once" Life is short, get them out and enjoy!

Old Car Council Swap Meet Results:

YES, we made it. We passed the 100,000 pounds and the $100,000 goals.

Even though the weather was about as cold as it could be, we had enough collection for the food bank to pass our goal.

The total pounds collected was 2,775 pounds of food and $3,447.69 in cash.

That brings us to a total of 102,590 lbs. and $100,752 since we started collection 20 years ago.

I could not be more proud of what we have accomplished in our food bank collections.

Thanks for all who helped out to make the swap meet a success despite the weather.

All of our vendors were inside and comfortable and the buyer turnout was also impressive for the weather conditions.

I have invited the Food Bank to our March 19th Car Council meeting here in Lincoln.

See you there.

Thanks again
Roger Neemann

He would like the Bena's to focus on paragraph 2 of his open letter and kindly remind them that they started this obsession of travel by taking him to Mexico in the first place. Ralph also requested that the membership do periodic safety checks on him as he fears being locked in a closet.
