

Donations to the Park Get the Project Rolling

BY THE CLAUDE PARKS
 COMMITTEE & CHRISTIANA
 MUSTION

The community of Claude is changing and thriving! Our little town has grown so much in the past five years with adding new businesses, making the square a place for people to WANT to stop and enjoy, and a community that families are moving to in the hopes of becoming a future MUSTANG with a sense of pride and fellowship! With all of that being said, a group of community members have come together to think through the most important aspect of our community- our children!

If you are a resident of Claude, you know that the heart of the town is located at the kids' baseball field and park. Spring is spent with kids and parents gathering around the baseball field and parents taking their children to the park to enjoy time outside. However, our park needs help. Our park needs you!

A committee has been created to start thinking through updating our local park. Committee members include the following: Stephanie Ashworth--Committee Chair; Sara Honea; Shenee Bichsel; Brianna Conrad; Kaillee Lewis; Rachel Sanders; and Kendra Sherrill.

So where are we in our process? "We have done a lot of research and pricing," shared Stephanie Ashworth. "Before you apply for grants or anything, you have to know what you want and how much it's going to cost. We have been doing a lot pre-planning. We want to develop one cohesive plan moving forward." As a group, we have identified and mapped out phases within the improvement Plan.

Step One: New park equipment- main structure.

Step Two: Swings and additional play equipment for different ages (thinking through children under 5). This includes updating what is already in place and/or purchasing new if need be.

Step Three: Future sidewalk and walking area.

Our next step is acquiring a piece of playground equipment that will be the main centerpiece for the playground area of Carroll Park. The playground area is north of the little league baseball field.

We have been talking with the City of Claude employees and there is a fund setup that is specifically allocated for this purchase and the growth of the public park-Carroll Park account. To help get us off to a good start, The Claude Treasure Chest made a sizeable donation of $2,000. "We were so excited and blessed to receive the Treasure Chest's donation," said Ashworth. "Their continued dedication to giving back to the community is truly to be admired. This gift will very soon be a tangible gift that the whole community can enjoy."

However, with buying new equipment the amount of money that is needed is still lacking. We hope to get our community members help with future fundraisers and donations. Any donation can be sent to the City of Claude- Carroll Park (Memo: New Park Equipment). Fundraising projects will be shared with the community SOON!

I know people have asked questions about what we are going to do in the future to keep the park safe and well-maintained. Ashworth says, "We have been in touch with the Sheriff's Office about our safety concerns. Part of our pre-planning has included quotes for better lighting which will make it harder for vandals to hide and increase safety. There is also a plan for a taller fence that would lock. We don't want the park to become a safe haven for bad behavior." The committee also realizes the importance of valuing the money, time, and investments the community has and will continue to make over the course of the park project.

Stay tuned to the newspaper and/or reach out to the Park Committee members for information to come! We are excited to get the ball rolling and start moving forward with creating a beautiful, fun place for our children to play!

Carroll Park is the community epicenter for fun and events such as the annual Community Easter Egg Hunt in addition to being a regular play hangout. photo courtesy of Stephanie Ashworth

We appreciate any and all feedback from our community in regards to the Carroll Park Improvement Plan. Please reach out to Stephanie Ashworth at sashworth1024@gmail.com. She will be sharing all information with committee members to listen to all feedback in order to create a place that our entire community can be proud of!

He was preceded in death by his parents; and daughter, Shana Butler.

Survivors include his wife of 57 years, Shirley June Butler, of the home; a daughter, Shelly Allen and husband Pat, of Canyon; a son, Kyle Butler and wife Desha, of Claude; and four grandchildren, Tiffany and Tyler Allen, and Addison and Breleigh Butler.

The family suggests memorials to Claude Fire Department.

1934 - 2019

Emily Gene Taylor Heckman, 85, of Claude passed away on Thursday, February 14, 2019 in Amarillo.

Services will be held on Sunday, February 17, 2019 at 3:00 pm at the Claude United Methodist Church. Rev. Dan Carter will be officiating. Burial will follow at the Goodnight Cemetery.

She was blessed to have four children, Vickie Jo Bailey, Buster Kirkland (married to Pam), Janie Burkhalter (married to Rick) and Mike Kirkland. In 1981 Emily married the love of her life Ray Heckman. They moved south of Claude where they built a house and lived there near the Palo Duro Canyon for many years. Their new blended family now included Ray's children Pat Arnold, Randy Heckman, and Sherri Shipman (married to Emil). Together they loved this blended family and were blessed with sixteen grandchildren and twenty-five great-grandchildren.

Emily was raised by a 4th generation ranch family in Lea County New Mexico. After graduating from Lovington she attended and graduated Cum Laude with a BBA in Computer Science from New Mexico State University. Upon graduation in 1970 she and her four children then relocated to Panhandle, TX where she was employed by Pantex as a Systems Analyst until her retirement.

She was very active in the community as a faithful member of the Claude United Methodist Church, teaching, serving and encouraging the shut-ins. Emily was an accomplished painter and served several offices in the Amarillo Fine Arts. She also served her beloved community by delivering Meals on Wheels, volunteering at the Treasure Chest and the Armstrong Co. Museum, as well as various other community activities.

Emily's husband Ray Heckman preceded her in death. Emily Gene Heckman went to be with her beloved Savior and Friend Jesus Christ on Valentine's Day.

The Claude ISD PTO recently bought two weather proof boxes as well as new sports balls, sand toys, and chalk for the playground. The students in K-6th grade have loved having these additions at recess time. We so appreciate the continued support of the the PTO and everything that they do for the school. If any community members would like to donate sports balls (basketballs, footballs, tennis balls, volleyballs, soccer balls), gently used baseball gloves, sand toys or sidewalk chalk, the students at Claude Elementary would welcome more! Donations can be made in the elementary office.

Lady Stangs Fall to Nazareth in Play-Off

BY ALYSSA HIGGS
STUDENT REPORTER

The Claude Lady Mustangs advanced to the playoffs. The playoffs are very difficult, and if a team loses, their basketball season is over.

To start their trip to state, the Lady 'Stangs faced the Higgins Coyotes. They played on February 12, 2019 at West Texas High School.

Shiloh Heck was the leader in points. She scored twenty-two points. Lanie Stapp had fourteen points. Aubrie Brannon had ten.

The Lady 'Stangs had a slow start with a first quarter score of 12-12 points. Wanting to pull ahead, the Stangs managed to twenty points in the second quarter, as well as keep Higgins to only scoring three points.

After half time, each quarter gave Higgins eleven more points. However, the Lady Mustangs scores eight in the third and sixteen in the fourth. Therefore, the Lady Mustangs won, 56-37.

After defeating the Higgin Coyotes, Claude had to play Nazareth for the Area title. However, Claude fell just a tad short.

The Lady 'Stangs came out with a fire, leading in the first quarter with a score of 10-7. They fell short of the victory with a score in Nazareth's favor, 58-21.

The Lady Mustangs had a great basketball season. They improved greatly and learned to work as a team. Their season is over, but the players are still in our community working to serve others.

KAY HENARD
CHAIR, ARMSTRONG CO MUSEUM
BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Western art from well-know artists is now on exhibit at the Art Gallery of Armstrong County Museum (ACM), 120 N. Trice St., in Claude. The art pieces are framed and ready for sale as well as reminiscent viewing.

Reata Gallery owned and operated by Vicki Sprouse of Canyon has provided this quality western art show. Some of the artists represented are Bill Owen, Wayne Baize, Dino Cornay, Robert "Shoofly" Shufelt, Terri Kelly Moyer, Tim Cox and more. Vicki says she "values the joy that many of the paintings bring to those who view them or purchase them. Sometimes a painting will remind the viewer of a childhood or family memory, or one of their favorite buckskins."

You can also find Reata Gallery art pieces at The Right Angle frame shop in Amarillo at 4123 West 34th. In addition, the website displays various pieces www.ReataGallery.com and contact information.

The appealing western art will be on display and for sale at ACM Art Gallery through April. The Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday, 12-4pm. Come by and enjoy the art and visit the local Museum.

Preventing Digital Damage: 4 Tips For Managing Your Child's Screen Time

The digital age has given new generations of parents something extra to worry about:

How much screen time is too much?

Physicians, teachers and psychologists generally agree that spending inordinate amounts of time immersed in computers, smartphones or social media can negatively impact a child's developing mind and body. A screen time study published recently in JAMA Pediatrics found a link between excessive screen time and later development milestones.

Other studies have associated digital overuse with teen depression, and the American Academy of Pediatrics has issued guidelines suggesting daily limits on screen time for different age groups.

"It's the responsibility of the parents to get control of this and guide their children, from a young age, on the positives and negatives of screen time," says Christine Kyriakakos Martin (www.youvegot-thisparenting.com), an early education expert and author of You've Got This! Keys To Effective Parenting For The Early Years.

"Parents can often think it's acceptable for a young child to spend a couple hours with an iPad, but the type of education the iPad game is providing isn't always the type of learning most needed at that stage."

How much screen time is too much? Martin has suggestions for how parents can manage screen time and decrease a child's risk for screen-related health or developmental problems:

Distinguish screen time from play time. Play is a fundamental learning tool for young children, but parents, Martin says, should not think of screens as toys for play time. "When screen time is limited and separated from other types of play, parents show their children the importance of setting boundaries, using their imaginations, and being active."

Get involved. Parents who engage with their children about on-screen activities can help them increase their communication skills and teach them how to navigate digital media. "Parents can talk with their children about the videos they watch and games they play like they would discuss characters and plotlines in a book," Martin says. "When there is parental engagement like this, a child's vocabulary and literacy skills develop and family communication gets stronger."

Make mealtimes

screen-free. "Eliminate screens from the meal table, including when you're out at a restaurant," Martin says. "While it can be tempting to pack the iPads to have some adult conversation while you're out to eat, doing this doesn't teach your children about manners, properly engaging in conversation, or being mindful of other patrons."

Set a good example. It will be harder for a child to disengage from screens if his or her parents are consistently looking down at their own phones or tablets. "Remember," Martin says, "your children learn from your example. If they see you spending a lot of time with your face in front of a screen, they'll also want to use technology at the same time. Try your best to save your time on social media for your lunch break, during nap time, or after your children have gone to bed."

"Learning how to use screens, verbally communicate or socially interact will have a positive impact on language skills, relationships and overall health," Martin says. "Spending time with their parents, learning through play is what young children need and want."

Senior Spotlight

The Senior Spotlight was created to celebrate the graduating students of Claude High School and today is one the best; McKay Wilkerson. McKay and her family have lived in Claude for the past nine years. McKay loves her English class, Mrs. Shelley Thornton, spaghetti, and the Texas Rangers.

After graduating McKay plans to attend Amarillo College, then onto West Texas A&M. She plans getting her degree in computer information systems. While attending Claude High School McKay has been involved in band, softball, cheerleading, student council, FFA and yearbook. Out of all the memories McKay has made her favorite is "getting the sweepstakes trophy and getting to go to state for our brass ensemble.

In her free time McKay likes to hang out with friends and listen to music. For her role model McKay stated that her Aunt Perri is hers. "She always was happy and that pushes me to be a better person." McKay will miss "Her best friends" after graduating. McKay has been a constant source of leadership and pride during her days as a Claude Mustang. She is surely going on to do amazing things.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Katherine G. Johnson: The Human Computer

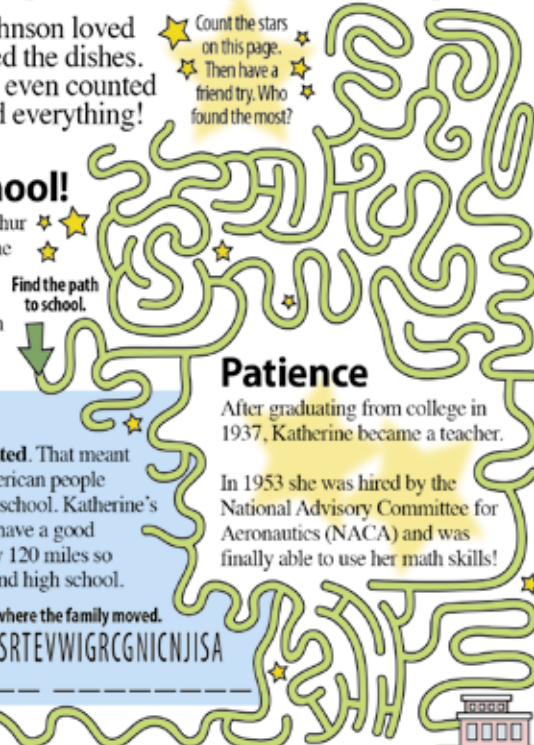

As a child, Katherine Johnson loved to count. She counted the dishes. She counted the steps. She even counted stones. She simply counted everything!

Count the stars on this page. Then have a friend try. Who found the most?

Let Me Go to School!

Katherine was born in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia. She was the youngest of four children and she couldn't wait to join her siblings at school! She used to follow them as they walked to school.

Find the path to school.

Hard Work

Katherine said it was hard work to be good at math and her other subjects. And work hard she did. She skipped two grades in elementary school, and went on to get degrees in mathematics and French.

Determination

Katherine's community was segregated. That meant there were many places African-American people couldn't go, including the local high school. Katherine's parents were so determined that she have a good education that they moved the family 120 miles so Katherine and her siblings could attend high school.

Patience

After graduating from college in 1937, Katherine became a teacher. In 1953 she was hired by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) and was finally able to use her math skills!

Curiosity

Because of her intelligence, curiosity, and positive attitude, Katherine was asked to work on many different projects. When NACA turned its attention to space flight, it changed its name to NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration).

Katherine was asked to work on the complicated math problems that would establish the flight path for the spacecraft that would take the first American into space and back in 1961. Use the code to discover his name.

The Human Computer

In 1953, computers were not as good as they are today and mathematicians, who were called "computers," did the math needed for flight research.

Count the Numbers

Take one page of the newspaper and circle all of the numbers you can find. Then, count the number of numbers! What do the different numbers show?

Persistence

Replace the missing words. When Katherine was _____ at NASA, women were not allowed in the spaceflight meetings. She kept _____ if she could go, even asking if there was a _____ against it. Her persistence paid off and she was finally invited to attend all _____.

Over time, even though electronic _____ took on more work at NASA, Johnson remained highly valued for her accuracy. She performed calculations for John Glenn's successful orbits _____.

around Earth in Friendship 7 in 1962, as well as the Apollo 11 and 13 flights to the _____.

Working on these manned flight paths was stressful. Katherine knew that if her calculations were off by even a few feet or seconds, the astronauts might not make it _____!

Humility

Katherine won many awards and made history for the space program, for women's rights and for racial equality. But she always remained humble. She quoted her father. Replace the vowels to find out what her father would tell her.

"Y__ AR_ AS G__D
AS _NYB_DY. B_T
Y__ 'RE N_ B_TT_R."
