

A Local Path to Affordable Therapy

High quality psychotherapy has become painfully unaffordable for many lower and middle income individuals, families and couples in this country. We are working to change that.

Open Path connects individuals, families, and couples with licensed mental health professionals in your community who deliver affordable, high quality, in-office psychotherapy.

Here's how it works:

- 1 Search our online directory to find a local therapist (or one who will meet with you online)
- 2 After you choose your therapist, submit a one-time, lifetime membership fee of $49 to Open Path.
- 3 Arrange to meet with your therapist for rates that fall between $30 and $50 a session.
