Stacy Hickox holds the position of Associate Professor in the School of Human Resources & Labor Relations at Michigan State University (MSU). Stacy's current research focuses on addressing barriers to employment faced by various groups, including people with disabilities and ex-offenders. Her latest article focuses specifically on the duty of employers to accommodate employees with psychiatric disabilities. She also serves on the Michigan Disability Empowerment Coalition (MiDEC) Advisory Council.

Stacy practiced law in the area of disability law at Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service prior to coming to SHRLR. Ms. Hickox also taught for several years at MSU's law school, including courses in employment law, civil rights, and disability law.

Stacy received her Bachelor's degree from the School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University and received her law degree from the University of Pennsylvania.
