

European RoHS Directive Compliance Declaration

European directive 2011/65/EU, Restriction of the use of Hazardous Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment (RoHS), came into effect on 8 June 2011. The RoHS directive restricts the use of substances in products placed on the market in the European Economic Area (EEA). The directive restricts the following substances:

Restricted Substance	Maximum Threshold Limit
Cadmium and its compounds	100 ppm (0.01 weight %)
Mercury and its compounds	1000 ppm (0.1 weight %)
Hexavalent Chromium and its compounds	1000 ppm (0.1 weight %)
Lead and its compounds	1000 ppm (0.1 weight %)
Polybrominated biphenyls (PBB)	1000 ppm (0.1 weight %)
Polybrominated diphenyl ethers (PBDE)	1000 ppm (0.1 weight %)
Decabromine diphenyl ether (DECA BDE)	1000 ppm (0.1 weight %)

Terrasat Communications has taken actions necessary to bring all current products and accessories into compliance with the RoHS directive and procedures are in place to ensure ongoing compliance. Full text of the directive is available at this link:

The following specific actions have been taken to bring Terrasat Communications products into compliance:

- 1) Identification of product components containing restricted substances,
- 2) Selection and certification of replacement parts for components containing restricted substances,
- 3) Documentation of replacement components in all manufacturing and procurement documents and procedures,
- 4) Procurement and use of compliant components,
- 5) Implementation of procedures to verify that components received are compliant and obtained from approved vendors,
- 6) Documentation and labeling to provide means of determining compliance after products enter the markets.

Terrasat Communications is fully committed to responsible manufacturing practices that preserve the environment. In addition, human health and safety are regarded as corporate priorities in the conduct of manufacturing operations. Compliance with the European RoHS directive is, therefore, consistent with the policies and commitments of Terrasat Communications.
