

Invesa foundation spearheaded by Alessa Zaccagna and Andre Michalopoulos joined forces this year with Lesters and Kosta Kivetos from La Belle Province Restaurant in launching their Food for Tots Campaign with the English Montreal School Board (EMSB). After last year's success with sponsors, this year's goal is to provide up to 6 new schools in the Montreal area.

Proud sponsors can continue to supply a variety of food and snacks to support the school's special events and fundraising activities. The pilot project has targeted the following schools with sponsors for this year's campaign: Pierre de Coubertin, Holly Cross, Cedarcrest, Carlyle, St Monica's and Sinclair Laird.

The Invesa Foundation's vision is based on the philosophy that we can all help and reach out to the community through clients and individual organizations who are dedicated to social awareness. "Our beliefs stem in social responsibility and giving back to the community," said Mr. Andre Michalopoulos. It is with great pride that we encompass the lives of children by sharing and making a difference." For the second year Invesa was a proud collaborator at the annual EMSB/Generations Foundation Children's Holiday Charity Event on December 12 at James Lying High School. An event which not only caters to students at school but to their neighborhood.

Invesa is accustomed to building strong alliances with their sponsors like Lesters and La Belle Province who are giving back to the community. La Belle Province Restaurant is one Quebec's landmark in express food chains that has expanded across province and has become a cultural icon in Quebec. Lesters is one of Canada's largest meat companies and has had an excellent reputation for over 80 years. Led by third generation family members, the company continues the founders passion and dedication for the best quality products available. "Catering to our sponsors and clients needs while being sensitive to our environment sets solid ground for a promising future" is a belief both Andre Michalopoulos and Alessa Zaccagna stand on.

Yours truly,

Andre Michaels
