A message from Gavin Campbell, Intertek-PSI's Global Sr. Vice President of Building & Construction:

At Intertek, we Bring Quality & Safety to Life, and a key part of our services is related to safety testing, inspection and certification of diverse businesses, and their respective supply chain, within the global economy. As such, Intertek operations are categorized as essential services, and many governments are encouraging businesses, such as ours, to continue their operations during this time of uncertainty. Accordingly, unless mandated, all Intertek locations will remain open and operational.

As part of Intertek's commitment, we want to reassure our clients that we are taking all precautions to maintain the highest standards of our facilities as we are all currently faced with an ever evolving CoVid-19 situation.
