

Before a trial separation, we can help you get it down in writing. Be sure to thoroughly discuss all these details.

- Housing: Viable housing and support arrangements for both spouses and children should be made,
- Domestic violence: There must be no likelihood of physical violence on the part of one party toward the other or the children.
- Preservation of Property: Both parties must respect their fiduciary obligations to protect community property despite living separate and apart.