SCORING

Ridden Challenges with two judges - Judges must stand separately and judge with no consultation amongst them. At the conclusion of the workouts the two judges mark their first, second and third choices on a preferential judging slip and hand it to the steward. Results are tallied based on a point system from both judges, winners will then be announced.

Halter - Two Judges score via electronic scoresheet (this is done electronically to avoid mistakes).. The two judges must not come together. The Horses with the highest score will be awarded as Diamond Champion, Ruby Champion and Emerald Champion

The horse with the highest number of points from each section will be awarded High Point, with the next score being awarded High Point runner up. The two judges will continue to stand separately until the scorers have determined that there is no equality. Where the allocation of points brings about a tie, the following steps must occur:

- a) If there is an equality of points by any 2 horses (if 2 way tie refer to part f) then it must go back to the judges to decide.
- b) This is to be done by writing down the numbers of the horses on equal points on separate pieces of paper and the ringmaster/chief steward is to request the judges mark their preferences accordingly.
- c) These pieces of paper are to be retained with the original scoring sheets.
- d) If a clear placing cannot be achieved using this method then and only then will the judges be brought together to come to a decision.
- e) If the judges are brought together to decide then the chief steward is to be present during discussions.
- f) In the event of 2 horses being tied then the judges may confer to decide on the winner and runner-up
