

Profile OKFA'18

Profile of Members of Open Knowledge for All 2018

November of 2018

Profile OKFA'18

Profile of Members of Open Knowledge for All 2018

Sanjog Dev

Currently, the vice president of OKFA (Open Knowledge for All) an open sources development and advocating organization in Nepal working in collaborative partnership with several international organizations like Wikimedia Foundation among others. Sanjog Dev has served as founding secretary of Buddha Harmony Foundation, Treasurer of Dev Sewa Samiti and Honorary member of Thakodevi Jogendrabhagat Sewa Trust.

Socially active and committed individual, Dev, considers Setubandh Campaign as a turning point in his life in which he travelled to 56 destinations in Nepal and the bordering India for over two years surveying, learning and bridging hearts and minds of people to come together for each other for harmony, development and envisioning a new future together.

With dynamic interests and working field, at 26, he has run a dairy, a trading company, and has worked in collaboration with youths internationally and of over eighteen districts home at times of emergency for the country be it during flood and earthquake relief or political tension. With the bureaucracy for the organizational developments and partnership for TJST, and with the political leadership, churning of minds, for envisioning a sustainable future identifying the fault lines of the country.

His education life has taken several turns, completing his school as a head boy in Kathmandu, wanting to peruse engineering went to Rajasthan for IIT preparation courses and later dropped out of high school in West Bengal with aspirations to become a film maker. He took several private tutors and trainings with the camera and on web development in the field of IT, designing and developing the websites for his organizations and selected projects.

Robust, daring risk taker, ever growing, pretty much self-taught and bookaholic is presently, focused in Rajbiraj, Saptati, his hometown, bringing about positive change with OKFA and other organizations, which he terms as “getting organized in Saptari”

~Sanjog Dev

Robust, daring risk taker, ever growing, pretty much self-taught and bookaholic is presently, focused in Rajbiraj, Saptati, his hometown, bringing about positive change with OKFA and other organizations, which he terms as “getting organized in Saptari”