

ANGLE OF NO RETURN

The Angle of No Return refers to a position in which it would be awkward, difficult, or illogical to return to your starting position. In life, we make choices that we cannot take back. Instead we can choose to accept the choices we have made and move forward. List the choices you have made you wish you could take back. Then write a statement declaring your acceptance of each choice and declaring your intent to move on. Last, write the replacement choices you will make in the future.
