

Executive Director:

I was the rebellious child of God who had returned home to the embrace of his heavenly Father but with little understanding of what it meant to live the Christian life. In my ignorance, I proceeded to do my best to live the Christian life. Disaster struck, I was a failure, at home, in my marriage, at work, with my children and especially in my spiritual life.

Relief from the pain of failing came in the form of a Grace Conference presented by Don Higgins of Crossways to Life, which taught the Exchanged Life. Being set free from the bondage of "doing my best" (self-life/flesh) is an exhilarating experience of freedom that is found in depending upon Christ to live His life through me.

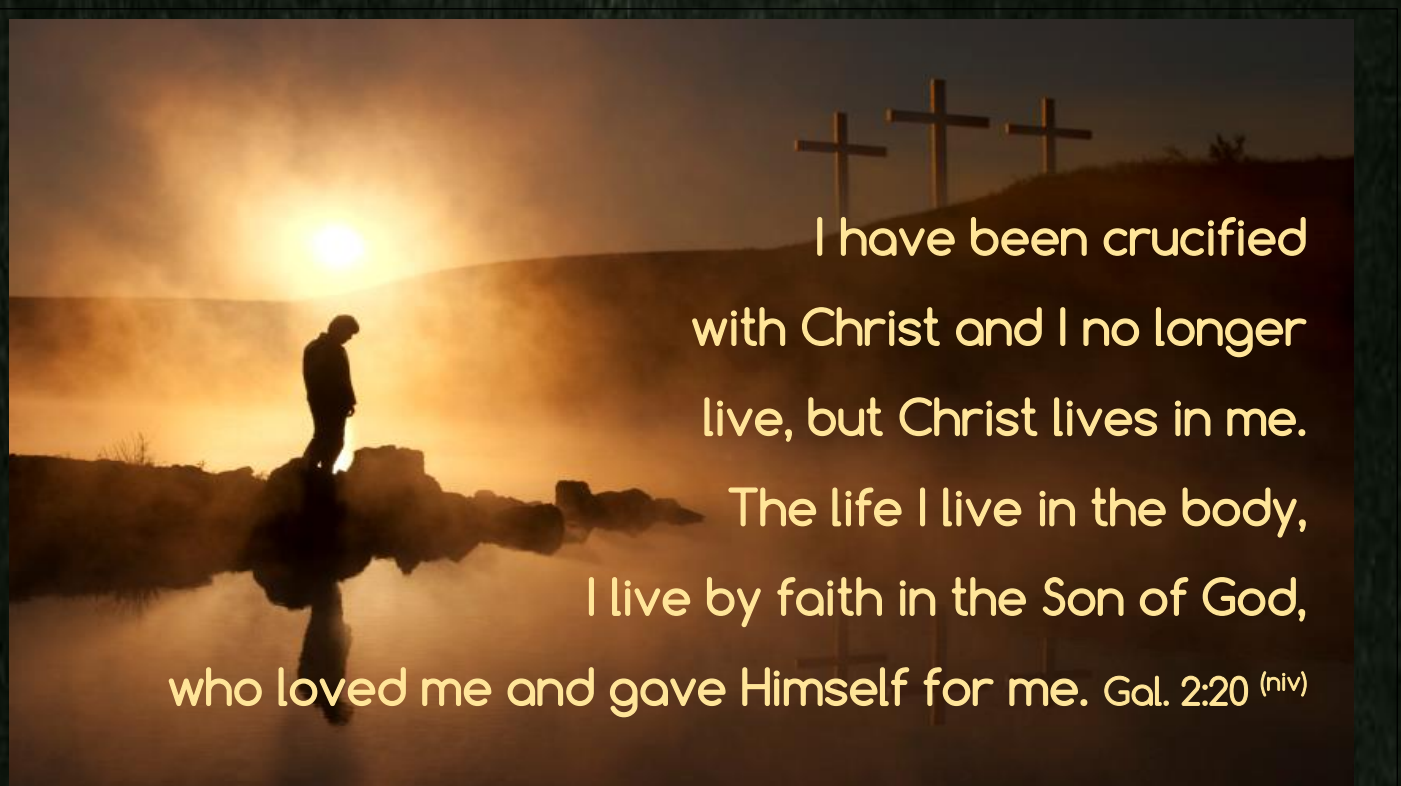

The growing impact of knowing Christ as Life is daily transforming my life and the lives of many others in my sphere of influence. A lay ministry of discipleship-counseling began as God brought His hurting, worn out, and frustrated children. The call of God came early in this millennium to prepare and study for the future opportunity of entering into full time ministry.

God has promised to prepare the way as we trust in Him, He teaches us to wait patiently while He unfolds our journey of faith before us. After working for more than forty years in the construction industry God opened the door to enter into full time ministry with the unwavering encouragement, partnership and support of my wife (Barb) and our children.

We are all astounded at what God is doing in us and through us as the message of the Exchanged Life sets others free to experience the abundant Life of Christ.

Executive Director

I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer
live, but Christ lives in me.

The life I live in the body,
I live by faith in the Son of God,
who loved me and gave Himself for me. Gal. 2:20 ^(niv)
