Steadfast Steeds Mustang Sanctuary

Making Amazing Memories with America's Mustangs

Presents an accelerated leadership corporate seminar

A New Arena for experiential team building and impactful leadership development

🐾 Specially designed for business leaders and associates to experience accelerated learning in the arenas of team building, vision focusing, fatigue resiliency, and self-awareness within colleague & client relationships.

Provide your teams with an engaging, fun, and interactive process of learning and team member connections through safe horse-human interactions. While interacting with horses, individuals are able to identify and shift their limiting behaviors & group patterns that prohibit them from gaining traction toward their common vision, work satisfaction, personal resilience, and ministry purposes.

🐾 Why Horses? They are as brilliant in their bodies as we are in our brains. They bring an instant, non-judgmental, feedback mechanism for humans. During the encounter of noticing the horse's responses to the participant's directions, each individual discovers how to manage their reactions, communicate more effectively, and become more congruent and authentic with their actions. A remarkable boost of confidence is obtained from connecting with and directing a nine-hundred-pound animal while standing on the ground. Both, the humans and the horses, have voice and choice as to how they participate.

"The Discovering experience caused me to be aware of how my body's energy and non-verbal communications can really affect and shape my interactions with others" Megan 🐾 Participants experience how to increase their effectiveness for leading others, strengthen confidence, improve communications, conserve your energy, deepen self and group awareness.

🐾 Equine experiences may include – individual and group ground work near the horse, reflective grooming, or horse painting (yes, the horse is your canvas!)

No horse experience necessary

Our company had a great time and the applicable lessons are still sinking in. Thank you Tracy and Blaine for the environment of learning about each other and stretching us as a team to head in a common direction. We felt safe and encouraged by the horses. I would urge any company to expand their horizons with Steadfast Steeds. –Daryl. See video <http://www.steadfaststeeds.org/educate.html>

Your Facilitators: Tracy and Blaine Scott are the founding partners of Steadfast Steeds – a Sanctuary for formerly wild horses and accelerated leadership development in Glade Park, CO (30 min. scenic tour from downtown Grand Junction).

Tracy, aka “Gritty Horse Girl”, is a certified equine experiential learning coach, and approved facilitator. She has been involved with horses for 41 years. Tracy’s expertise in mustangs comes through extensive study and experience with wild and with socialized mustangs.

Blaine, aka “Mustang Minister”, is an ordained pastor and staff leader of 23 years. He now serves the community through The Sanctuary of Steadfast Steeds. His gifts of coaching and inter-generational family mediation help client groups to overcome fatigue and find solutions for the highest quality of work and family satisfaction.

Adding horse power to your leadership seminar in two sessions

Your group will begin indoors at The Sanctuary with learning and new vocabulary to empower your team. Then we’ll join up with a horse(s) in the outdoor discoverRing to put concepts into action through affirming and rewarding activities such as leading with clear intentions and presence so that a horse at liberty (no tack) chooses to follow you, brushing a horse at liberty without it walking away, and painting w/the horse as the living canvas. We’ll wrap up with reinforcing key concepts before departing.

Session two is a 2-hour session at your workplace the next day. The time frame is negotiable. It involves applying the prior day’s experiences and learnings to your team roles and business. Blaine will facilitate the reflection process in order to empower your intentions and help you practice present-moment mindful leadership in your daily environment.

What if someone has anxiety about being around horses? We coach participants to understand the wisdom of their whole experience and how to gain their personal power and choice while their anxiety or concerns are present. This in itself stretches leadership capabilities. No prior horse experience is necessary in this work. Safety precautions are presented and reviewed for each DiscoverRing session. Participants have a choice to put space between themselves and the horse, and no experience is forced.

P.S. the woman in the green shirt (above photo) was indeed very anxious prior to being near the horses. Later that day, she was the singular person in her group that accomplished leading the horse through a specific challenge course! Imagine how her confidence soared!
