

Sexual Cyber Violence Among Girls and Young Women Globally: Current Trends and Strategies Needed for Prevention

The San Diego State University - UC San Diego Joint Doctoral Program in Global Health and the UC San Diego Center on Gender Equity and Health invite you to attend our satellite session at the 9th Annual CUGH Conference in New York City “Health Disparities: A Time for Action”

Our session will be led by:

Elizabeth Reed, ScD, MPH
Marissa Salazar, MA
Brittanie Bloom, MS
Ruvani Fonseka, MPH, MSW

This session will provide an overview of the various scenarios and health consequences of experiencing sexual cyber violence (SCV) and attendees will work together to:

Provide recommendations for increasing attention to SCV as a form of violence against women and girls

Identify components needed to develop interventions to reduce SCV

Identify the next steps in SCV research to better understand prevalence and consequences globally
