Implementation Science for Global Health: Building Research Capacity

Friday, April 17, 2020
8:00am – 12:00pm
Location: Columbia 3

This satellite will help create a platform for interactive discussion to explore and refine implementation science methods in a global context, and ultimately allow for an initial draft/outline of an article to be developed for publication based on the learning from the session.

Registration is Required:
https://go.usa.gov/xpz5c

Hosted by the Fogarty International Center, NIH in collaboration with the University of Washington