

Texas Product Reid Harrison-Ducros Transferring to Duquesne

---

 247sports.com/high-school/texas/Article/Texas-Product-Reid-Harrison-Ducros-Transferring-to-Duquesne-113719401/

By Nick Walters Jan 14, 2018

Reid Harrison-Ducros at USA Football's International Bowl in 2016. (Photo: 247Sports)

Boise State transfer and Colleyville Heritage product Reid Harrison-Ducros is now a Duquesne Duke.

The Old Coach's Nick Walters broke the news Sunday night that Harrison-Ducros, former three-star recruit at Colleyville Heritage and one-time starter at Boise State, has accepted an offer to play for the Duquesne Dukes.

BREAKING: Former Boise State CB @rducros27 transfers to Duquesne.

 : <https://t.co/RK84k1LFR4>

 : @itsIBIFIRI

— Nick Walters (@NickWaltersTV) January 15, 2018

?

After playing in 10 games as a true freshman in 2016, Harrison-Ducros started at cornerback to begin his sophomore year. However, four games into the 2017 season he would lose his starting job to redshirt freshman Avery Williams.

After the corner left the Broncos on November 16, Reid's father Gary Harrison-Ducros expressed his family's appreciation for Boise State Football.

"This tears me up," Gary Harrison-Ducros told Idaho Press-Tribune. "We love everything about Boise, the faculty, geography, and oh my gosh the community and fans. However, Reid wants to be on the field and he believes he has to pursue that goal somewhere else."

A 6A Honorable Mention All-State Corner out of Colleyville Heritage in 2015, Harrison-Ducros finished his final season at Boise with 23 tackles, one tackle-for-loss, and three pass break-ups.

">247Sports