Welcome Members and Guests to LLLN!

We have had a really exciting year with many new instructors and classes. Even though we take a break in the summer, the Fall season is replete with many new classes. We are also very excited about a Registration Blitz we are offering this term. If you are not presently a member but are interested in the Fall courses then you can pay $70 to join for the remainder of 2017 and all of 2018. That way you will be ready for the fun and interesting classes offered in the Winter Term.

To peak your interest, here are some of the new classes we will be offering this term:

- Reversing Type 2 Diabetes
- The Art of Basket Weaving
- Heritage Gold Mine Park
- Exploring My Beliefs and Values
- Grapevine Wreath: Make and Take
- Lever Farms & Carolina Pride Pastures
- Getting to Know the Lakelands
- Wolves in Sheep's Clothing
- Theology and Aging
- McCormick! Tour the MACK
- Gardening at Joe R. Adair
- Religious Celebrations in December
- Being Mortal
- Getting Comfortable with Guns
- What's Developing in Greenwood County
- The Living History Park
- DIY Beauty Hacks

There are many more so take a few minutes and peruse the catalogue. After you have decided on the classes you want to take please fill out and turn in the registration form. It is that simple!!!

Also check page 27 to see the Member benefits we have from some local businesses. And perhaps you may have a desire to become a Friend of LLLN. There are three levels of donors.

I hope you have a great summer and will sign up for some of the very interesting and exciting classes we have scheduled for the Fall term. When summer is over you will be looking for something to occupy your time and minds....LLLN Classes are the answer!

LLLN Board of Directors President

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Ready to Join LLLN?

Three easy steps to become a member:

1. Complete and sign the application at the end of this catalog.
2. Select the classes that interest you.
3. Mail or bring the form (with any applicable fee) to LLLN.
 - Mail to LLLN: PO Box 50701, Greenwood, SC 29649
 - Go to the new LLLN website <http://lakelandslin.org> and register online after July 28.

Fees

There is $50 per calendar year membership fee which gives you access to enroll in as many classes as you'd like. There is a standard charge of $5.00 charge per class. Some classes also have a materials fee or meal fee included.

Class Size

Class size is based on the type of class — lecture, hands-on, excursions, etc. Many of the classes list a minimum number of registrations or a maximum. Unless stated otherwise, the default minimum number of registered participants is five. If we do not meet the minimum prior to the registration deadline, the class may be cancelled.

Wait List Policy

If a course you have requested has filled to capacity prior to receipt of your registration, you will be notified and automatically placed on a waiting list for the course. Should space become available in the course, you will be contacted and given the opportunity to enroll. You will not be charged for the class until you are enrolled.

Registration Deadline

If there is no specific registration deadline listed, the default deadline is two weeks prior to the class. If space is available, members may register for additional courses at any time prior to the registration deadline. You may register for additional classes by either completing another registration form or emailing us at lakelandslin@lander.edu.

Guest Policy

Bringing guests to class is a great way to share the LLLN experience and we encourage you to do so. Once you are a registered LLLN member, you may obtain a guest voucher at the LLLN office for $15 per class session. A guest voucher must be confirmed in advance. It is good for one class meeting only, and it is contingent upon available space (secondary to member attendance). The voucher fee is in addition to any applicable class fee. To coordinate your guest's attendance, contact the LLLN office lakelandslin@lander.edu or 864-388-8989.

RELIGION

Exploring My Beliefs and Values

Course Number: 1009

Instructor: Bud Search

Three consecutive Mondays
October 2, 9, and 16
10:00 am—11:30 am

Minimum class size: 4
Maximum class size: 20

Fee: $5.00

Have you thought about how your beliefs extend into values that you act upon in your daily life? In this class, we will go on an exploration together. Through example and interactive discussion, our goal is for each attendee to identify their beliefs, understand the values that represent those beliefs, and learn how to incorporate these beliefs and values into every day actions.

Each week, attendees will focus on one of their own beliefs as Bud walks us through this exercise using three of his own selected beliefs as examples – God, Jesus’ miracles and teachings, and eternal life with the Holy Spirit.

Bring paper and a writing instrument for your own in-class exploration. You may need to do homework to complete your exercises each week.

Location: Piedmont Technical College, Conference Center Room 209C

CULTURE AND TRAVEL

Life Changing Experiences – Way of St. James and Portuguese Route

Course Number: 106

Instructors: Jim Medford

Wednesday, October 18
10:00 am—11:30 am

Fee: $5.00

This presentation will highlight the rich history of The Way of St. James, also known as El Camino de Santiago. This is the pilgrimage to the shrine of the apostle St. James the Great in the Cathedral of Santiago de Compostela in northwestern Spain. Many follow its routes as a form of spiritual path or retreat for their spiritual growth.

The presenter will display a map of the route and pictures taken along the trail, talk about his experience along the way, the interesting people he met, and the weather conditions he experienced. He will describe how the spiritual journey has enriched and changed his life forever. He will also describe an average day hiking the Camino: typical types of food to eat and types of lodging options to choose from, as well as the preparation necessary to take this journey.

FINE ARTS

Woodturning 101: So you Want to be a Millionaire – Don't Take Up Woodturning

Course Number: 301
Instructor: Hal Taylor

Monday, November 6
1:30 pm—3:00 pm

Fee: $5.00

What is woodturning? Hal Taylor will answer this question by showing some tools of the trade, techniques, history, and examples through slides, video and discussion. He will also explain how the technique of turning wood on a lathe gives instant gratification by quickly transforming rough wood into a pleasing shape such as a bowl, platter or vase. His greatest pleasure, however, comes from going beyond the basic turned piece by enhancing and adorning it with color, texture, carving or piercing—creating a piece of wood art.

“When most people see a woodpile they see firewood. But when wood turners see a woodpile they begin to visualize the endless possibilities of works of art from large functional bowls and platters to small decorative ornaments. Each piece of wood is different, each turned piece is unique.”

The Art of Basket Weaving

Course Number: 324
Instructors: Patti Wicker and Sylvia Martin

Three consecutive Wednesdays:
September 13, 20, 27
9:00 am—12:00 pm

Maximum class size: 12

Registration deadline: August 18

Fee: $80.00 (includes all class materials and tools for three basket projects)

Basket weaving is an ancient craft that uses naturally grown materials and a few very simple tools. It is a great hobby that can add charm to your home and your own personal touch when you use the baskets you make as a gift. Now you can learn the art of basket weaving during this 3-week course. Each week we will learn and make a new, fun project. Projects include a round reed basket, a flat reed basket, and a wall hanging basket.

The fee covers all you will need for this class, including materials, spray bottles, bowls, and other tools.

McCormick! Tour the MACK and More

Course Number: 325
Instructor: Heather L. McNally

Thursday, October 19
9:30 am—12:00 pm

Maximum class size: 20

No fee.

The McCormick Arts Council, better known as the MACK, is a historic and cultural organization. It was formed by a local group of artists and craftspeople in 2005. Within its walls are a variety of changing artistic shows. It is housed within the Keturah Hotel which is on the National Register of Historic Places.

Heather McNally, Program Director, will be leading us on a tour of the MACK, as well as the Grist Mill and Depot - with presentations at each stop. This promises to be an informative and fun day with an enthusiastic staff dedicated to spreading the word and works in McCormick and surrounding areas. You will learn about cultural and artistic opportunities that you can take advantage of throughout the year.

We will have coffee at the MACK. Optionally, you may attend lunch at Fannie Kate's Country Inn. Reservations will be made for those who plan to attend. Individuals will be responsible for their order and payment.

Pickleball

Course Number: 405

Instructors: Dave Bailey and Jack Mason

Four consecutive Fridays
September 15, 22, 29, and October 6
10:00 am—11:30 am

Minimum class size: 6
Maximum class size: 16

Fee: $5.00

Pickleball is a paddle sport created for all ages and skill levels. The rules are simple and the game is easy for beginners to learn, but can develop into a quick, fast-paced and competitive game for experienced players.

Pickleball is a fun sport that combines many elements of tennis, badminton and ping-pong. It can be played indoors or outdoors on a badminton-sized court with a slightly modified tennis net. Players use a paddle and a plastic ball.

The first 30 minutes of each class will be spent learning the basics of the game and drills. Following this, members will play scrimmages on the courts.

Notes:

- Wear clothing that is comfortable, such as athletic shorts, sweatpants, polo shirts, t-shirts, or tennis apparel. Comfortable tennis shoes are also important. You may also want to wear a hat/visor or safety glasses.
- Paddles will be provided by Jack and you may choose to purchase one from him directly if you decide to continue to play.
- Players need to be able to run short distances and pivot on the court.

DIY Beauty Hacks Using Pantry and Kitchen Staples

Course Number: 409

Instructor: Debi Bailey

Friday, September 29
2:00 pm—3:15 am

Maximum class size: 16

Fee: $11.00—includes materials

The best thing about having a kitchen stocked full of healthy food is that the food can also double up as amazing natural beauty products. Plus many beauty treatments can be created using staples already in your pantry.

Join your fellow LLLN members in a fun class as we discover these Do It Yourself (DIY) beauty hacks that are the perfect way to treat yourself with some natural love. We will explore treatments for the face, oral care, hands, feet, hair, and full body. This will be a hands-on class, so be ready to try seven of them in class!

Notes:

- Please bring a washcloth and a headband to pull your hair from your face. Dress appropriately to be ready for treatments of your face, hands, and feet.
- All of the ingredients we will use are generally allergen free; however, please notify your class host if you have any food allergies.

Natural Healing through Reflexology

Course Number: 412

Instructor: Candy Roper

Monday, October 16

2:00 pm—3:30 pm

Fee: $5.00

Take some of the mystery out of what reflexology is and how it works. Reflexology is an alternative medicine involving the application of pressure to specific areas of the feet, hands and ears to effect physical change to the body. It was practiced as early as 2330 B.C. by the Egyptian culture. As with massage therapy, reflexology can lower stress, increase immune function, boost mental health and wellness, manage pain, and improve physical fitness. See a firsthand demonstration of reflexology in action.

Lunch 'n' Learn over Mushrooms

Course Number: 416

Instructors: Susan Bender and Karen Berni

Tuesday, October 10

12:00 pm—1:30 pm

Minimum class size: 8

Maximum class size: 10

Fee: $15.00

Learn about the world of mushrooms and understand the benefits of fresh and dehydrated mushrooms from “The Mushroom Lady.” Mushrooms are filled with nutrients, including vitamin B and minerals such as selenium, copper, and potassium, making them a nutritious addition to your diet. Part of your learning experience will be a tasting experience with a delightful lunch made with mushrooms prepared by the proprietor of the Bernibrooks Inn, which is the charming, magical, and whimsical Bed and Breakfast where this class will be held.

Location: Bernibrooks Inn, Abbeville

Wolves in Sheep's Clothing – A Closer Look at the Human Immune System

Course Number: 418

Instructor: Dr. Anna Blenda

Tuesday, October 17

1:00 pm—2:00 pm

Minimum class size: 10

Maximum class size: 40

Fee: $5.00

The human immune system is able to distinguish between an extremely large number of various pathogens. Our body makes a large number of different proteins called antibodies to fight numerous foreign substances called antigens. To prevent auto-immune (self) attack, our bodies avoid making antibodies against self-antigens normally found on our own cells.

Some of the bacteria, including the pathogenic ones, cover themselves with the structures that resemble the human self-antigens. In this way, these bacteria can hide themselves from being detected and attacked by human antibodies. These bacteria can be compared to the ‘wolves in the sheep’s clothing’. Dr. Sean Stowell from Emory University together with his colleagues has been investigating the antimicrobial properties of the human proteins called galectins. Galectins have a unique ability to selectively bind and kill those bacteria that may try to disguise themselves. Galectins could potentially be used as a new type of antibiotic to treat infections without killing all the bacteria in the body. This talk will present galectins as an example of how the human immune system deals with the problem of “molecular mimicry”.

Increasing Our Resilience as We Age: Evidenced-based Practices and Benefits

Course Number: 423

Instructor: Kathy Porath

Two consecutive Thursdays

November 2 and 9

1:30 pm—3:00 pm

Maximum class size: 15

Fee: $5.00

Research shows a pattern of individual characteristics associated with resilience and successful adaptation to change. Health-related resiliency training programs include the practices and benefits, of seeking meaning in life and enhancing personal resilience. As we adapt to age-related changes and face difficult situations, such as loss and illness, these practices that support our mind, body, and spiritual connections can be incorporated into everyday life. Participants will have the opportunity to experience resilient-building practices, including mindfulness meditation, as we explore and enjoy the benefits they can have on your health.

Being Mortal—Medicine and What Happens in the End

Course Number: 487

Instructor: Michael Douglas

Four consecutive Wednesdays
October 25, Nov 1, 8, and 15
10:00 am—11:30 am

Minimum class size: 6

Maximum class size: 12

Fee: $5.00

Mike Douglas is the facilitator for a discussion on the book, “Being Mortal: Medicine and What Matters in the End” by Atul Gawande, MD. The author of the book is a practicing surgeon and professor at Harvard Medical School and Harvard School of Public Health. In this book, he reveals the struggles of his profession when it comes to the realities of aging and death. Being Mortal shows us how the ultimate goal is not a good death but a good life – all the way to the very end. This book is wise and deeply moving – not just about dying and the limits of medicine but about living to the last with autonomy, dignity, and joy.

Attendees need a copy of the book “Being Mortal: Medicine and What Matters in the End.” Amazon is a good and relatively inexpensive source for this book. Greenwood County Library system has two hardbound copies, and one or more ebooks. Mike will contact you prior to the class to let you know what portion you need to read before the first session.

HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT

Celebrating the Life and Accomplishments of Dr. Benjamin E. Mays

Course Number: 527

Instructor: Chris Thomas

Thursday, September 21
9:30 am—11:30 am

Maximum class size: 50

No fee

Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, Greenwood’s most famous and distinguished son, was a monumental figure in American history. He was an advisor to Presidents Kennedy, Johnson, and Carter, and a close friend of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The project to restore and interpret the Benjamin E. Mays home is now complete. The site highlights the contributions of Dr. Mays to the dialogue about education and race in the United States and is a key focal point of understanding the struggle for civil rights in the American South.

During our tour we will visit Dr. Mays’ house, walk the grounds, visit the one-room school house, and end in the barn where the museum is located. You’ll see first-hand how life would have been around 1900 and experience how African-American sharecroppers lived.

Please arrive at the museum by 9:45 a.m. so our tour can begin promptly at 10:00 a.m. Our tour will include a film and last approximately 1 ½ hours. All walking will be done on level ground and ramps are provided to enter all areas except the school house.

Optionally, bring a picnic lunch and following the tour you are invited to eat on the picnic benches under a nearby, stately oak tree. Dress for outdoor and indoor touring. There is no fee, but you may wish to leave a donation to the museum.

Location: Mays House Museum, Greenwood

The Living History Park

Course Number: 549

Instructor: Lynn Thompson

Thursday, September 28
10:45 am—2:00 pm

Minimum class size: 15

Maximum class size: 50

Fee: $25.00 for educational tour and lunch

Like many small towns and communities across America, North Augusta was on the brink of losing its distinctive character to the forces of commerce and enterprise. The Olde Towne Preservation Association came into being in 1991 to help preserve the heritage and character of a slice of North Augusta. It developed the Living History Park where we can witness history firsthand through exhibits and demonstrations of colonial life. This 7.5 acre park with natural springs provides hands-on educational experiences into the history of the area. The Park was designed so the community could enjoy a passive greenway atmosphere reminiscent of the 18th century – representing North Augusta and surrounding areas of the 1716–1785 period during which it played a vital role in the development of South Carolina and Georgia (colonies at the time) through the Indian Trade.

Please arrive by 10:45 a.m. so we can get everyone parked, assembled, and signed in. Our tour will begin promptly at 11:00 a.m. We will enjoy the Gardens at North Augusta, Walking Trail, Herbal Garden and the upper part of the park, before a stop at the barn. A wonderful buffet luncheon will be served at the barn allowing time for discussion and rest. Following lunch, the tour will continue through the remaining park and buildings. Along the tour, expect to meet volunteers in period clothing and character, bringing the 1700s alive for our experience. Wear comfortable clothing. Since we will be touring inside and outside, you may want to dress in layers.

Forgotten Patriots and Founding Mothers

Course Number: 550

Instructor: KrisAnne Hall

Tuesday, November 7

1:00 pm—5:00 pm

Minimum class size: 15

Maximum class size: 50

Registration deadline: October 20

Fee: $10.00—includes refreshments

The Forgotten Patriots: So many gave so much and there were leaders that we don't know and voices that still go unheard. In this session, we will be reunited with a few essential founders that we have forgotten, or perhaps whom have never even been introduced. The student will be inspired by these patriots, amazed by their bravery and deeds, and even a bit angry that we have failed to remember and celebrate these essential men and women and their sacrifices.

Founding Mothers: The founding women of our nation carried themselves with dignity and strength; believing with their hearts and souls the value of Liberty was worthy of their families' sacrifice. These were women of principle, of courage, and of great resolve, willing to sacrifice all so that their children could be free. Many will recognize the men for their contributions, but true history will reveal that the wives of these men were just as important to the battle for freedom.

We will take a 30-minute break between the two sessions to stretch and have refreshments. KrisAnne will have copies of her book and DVDs for sale and she is happy to sign them upon purchase.

Heritage Gold Mine Park

Course Number: 551

Instructor: Dave Gray

Tuesday, September 19

9:30 am—12:00 pm

Minimum class size: 8

Maximum class size: 15

Registration deadline: August 29

Fee: $8.25 (includes park entrance and panning material)

This gold mine is an area of 19th century mining operations, and was one of the most important mining sites in the state. The mine was struck in 1852 by William Dorn, who excavated nearly one million dollars in gold before the vein was exhausted. Dorn used enslaved African Americans to excavate the dirt and employed several types of mills to process the gold. Dorn became wealthy, but lost much after the Civil War. Now the Heritage Gold Mine offers folks guided or self-guided tours, and even an opportunity to really pan for gold!

Included in fee:

- Tour the Mines – approx. 45-60 minutes
- Pan for gold – receive instruction, ½ gallon bucket of crushed rock and natural, local gold – keep what you find

Notes:

- You can pan for Gemstones for an additional $5 per bucket, which you would purchase at the mine on your own.
- A picnic area is available if you choose to pack your own lunch. There is also a fast food outlet available within walking distance.
- Most areas of the park are accessible by wheelchair, but there are some places where the incline is substantial. The mine tunnel is not wheelchair accessible.
- Wear comfortable clothing and shoes – you may want to wear layers as the mine may be cool. Hand sanitizer use after panning is encouraged. Panning area has a high roof and open sides, sand floor. Do not apply oils or hand lotion prior to panning.

Location: Heritage Gold Mine Park, McCormick, SC

How to Purchase Your Retirement Home

Course Number: 609

Instructor: Debbie Crow

Thursday, September 14
1:30 pm—3:00 pm

Maximum class size: 20

Fee: $5.00

This class will be helpful for people who are trying to decide whether or not it is time to move. We will discuss suggestions on how to work through the process along with a simple, easy-to-read, checklist of ideas on how to sell your current home and select a retirement home that will meet your current and future needs. The class will help provide attendees insight into where to move, what to move, and how to keep this very challenging task simple.

Gardening at Joe R. Adair Outdoor Education Center

Course Number: 636

Instructor: Connie Daniels

Friday, October 20
9:45 am—3:00 pm

Minimum class size: 10
Maximum class size: 25

Registration deadline: September 29
Fee: $5.00

Our day at the Joe R. Adair Outdoor Education Center will include an overview lesson on vegetable gardening, some hands-on planting of cold weather vegetables in the Adair Garden, kitchen vermicomposting, a lesson on healthy soils for life, and a nature hike.

Arrive by 9:45 a.m. so we can begin our class promptly at 10:00 a.m. There will be two hours of instruction, a 45-minute break for lunch, and then two more hours of instruction.

The Joe R Adair Outdoor Education Center opened in 1996. Since that time, thousands of students have experienced hands on education at the Center. Nestled in a wooded area, the Center features 8.24 acres of mature hardwoods, colorful wild flora, and a winding creek. The Center also includes a classroom building, an amphitheater, nature trails, picnic area, a Native American area, and an 1800's log cabin site in a pioneer setting.

Notes:

- In the case of inclement weather, we will substitute presentations on watershed and landfill Enviroscaapes in place of planting vegetables and the nature hike.
- Bring your own packed lunch and dress appropriately for both outdoor and indoor activities. You may want to bring your own gardening gloves if you prefer to have them.

Location: Joe R. Adair Outdoor Center, Laurens

What's Developing in the Greenwood County Area?

Course Number: 696

Instructor: Charlie Barrineau and Debbie Crow

Thursday, November 2
10:00 am—11:30 am

Fee: $5.00

In recent years, we have seen good things happening in Greenwood county and the surrounding areas. What happens really affects everything from our local economy, our quality of life, and the prices that we can expect to get for our homes when and if we decide to downsize. Seniors need to stay aware of what is happening in and around the areas that they live.

Have you seen buildings being erected and wondered what was going on? Has your knowledge been gleaned at morning coffee with the neighbor, only to find out later that the rumor spread was inaccurate? Have you in turn conveyed that information to your other friends and then felt like you have to hide your head in the sand? Attend this fun, fast-paced class to learn what is really developing in Greenwood and the surrounding areas.

Location: Piedmont Technical College, Conference Center, Rm 209C

NATURE AND ENVIRONMENT

Lever Farms and Carolina Pride Pastures

Course Number: 821

Instructors: Alicia Holbrook and Lynette Lever

Thursday, October 12
9:30 am—2:30 pm

Minimum class size: 10

Fee: $21.00 (includes tour, gift, and light lunch)

Join us for a tour of two different farms in Pomaria, SC.

Lever Farms is a family farm where we grow good things for you. Pre-picked or U-pick pumpkins are available at the farm. Fall field trips include a wagon ride, maze and farm animals. The wagon ride takes you over the farm past the farm animals, through the peach orchard and strawberry field, and by our beehives. We stop along the ride to talk about the importance of each of these on our farm. This is a two-hour tour. All guests will receive a small pumpkin.

Carolina Pride Pastures is an alpaca farm featuring Huacaya alpacas. The farm specializes in farm tours, educational seminars, fleece sales, and alpaca fertilizer. The tour is one hour and 15 minutes. A light lunch is provided prior to the tour.

All activities are outdoors. Wear close-toed shoes that can get dirty as conditions may be muddy. Dress in layers to allow for adjustments of comfort level by adding or removing clothing.

Location: Lever Farms and Carolina Pride Pastures—Pomaria, SC.

SKILLS AND HOBBIES

Gun Training - Get Comfortable with Guns

Course Number: 3016

Instructor: Terry Ledford

Three consecutive Fridays:
October 27, November 3 and 10
10:00 am—12:00 pm

Maximum class size: 30

Fee: $5.00

Come get comfortable with guns! It is important that gun owners understand how to handle and care for their gun - as well as be familiar with firing their weapon.

This three-part course will cover gun safety, South Carolina gun laws, and basic gun handling. It begins with a two-part classroom lecture and gun familiarization segment that progresses from handling an unloaded weapon through loading, unloading, safety, cleaning, and storage. You'll learn the nomenclature and become familiar with firearms and best gun practices.

The third class will be held at the firing range in Abbeville. It will give participants an opportunity to handle their own handgun while knowledgeable staff observes and assists. Attendees will fire their gun from progressive distances so that they become familiar with their own gun.

Do not bring a weapon to the first two sessions. For the third session held at the gun range in Abbeville, please bring a handgun (not a snub-nose), at least 50 rounds of ammunition, hearing protectors, eye protection/glasses, ball cap, holster/belt, and wear comfortable clothing.

Location:

- On October 27 and November 3, class is at Piedmont Technical College, Conference Center, Room 222C
- On November 10, class will be held at the firing range in Abbeville

VOLUNTEERING - THERE IS AN AREA OF SERVICE TO MATCH EVERY INTEREST!

People entering an LLLN class for the first time often comment on the vibrant energy they encounter among the members they talk to, as well as their interest in the many "course offerings." Academic classes, the arts, lectures, day excursions, special events, interactive programs, and more, contribute to that vibrant energy. Behind-the-scenes, LLLN volunteers—members like you—are collaborating and creating those offerings, which brings them a sense of community and great satisfaction in giving back to an organization focused on giving so much to them.

Active members are the creative lifeblood of Lakelands Lifelong Learning Network. They are involved in every aspect of LLLN operations to provide the many classes, lectures, events, and programs to you. We invite you to join us – check the areas in which you have an interest or would like to know more about.

It is part of LLLN's fundraising plan. By contributing to LLLN, you are helping to ensure continued high-quality educational options for our growing membership. It is an opportunity to help us sustain a thriving lifelong learning program of excellence in the Lakelands.

Why become a Friend of LLLN?

With your help we can: Keep our fees low, continue the accessibility to a wide range of quality classes, maintain the office and the quality of our programming, cover essential expenditures such as printing, member outreach expenses, and necessary member related insurances, expand into communities that may not have the resources for lifelong learning, and be prepared for emergency operating expenses. You may also want to consider making a contribution to LLLN in memory of family members or friends, to honor someone special in your life, or to mark a special occasion. In such cases, LLLN will send a written note to the appropriate parties, acknowledging the contribution.

There are three categories of donors:

- Council—aggregate contribution of $250 or more during the calendar year
- Society—aggregate contribution between $100 and $249 during the calendar year
- Circle—aggregate contribution between $50 and $99 during the calendar year
