

Dan Luisi

Dan Luisi, the Head Baseball Coach at Holy Trinity High School will be joining our staff for the 2020 season. It's been 9 years since he transitioned from a player to a coach and 6 seasons coaching and recruiting in College Baseball (Farmingdale State College 2011, Post University 2012-2013, Stony Brook University 2014-2016).

Luisi has trained, coached and mentored players at all levels. He brings a unique and applicable approach to hitting, with the main focus on the proper movements and body control that is necessary to get off your best swing. Specializing in Infield training, Coach has trained some of the best infielders on Long Island. He specializes in molding his training approach to a player's agility and athleticism. Footwork, quickness, arm strength and glove training are all strong components to Luisi's idea of what the elite infielder looks like.

Coaching Experience

2011 Farmingdale State College (Skyline Conference Assistant Coach- Hitting & Infield)

2012 & 2013 Post University Assistant Coach- Hitting & Team Defense; Manager for the New York Atlantics (ACBL)

2014-2016 Stony Brook University Assistant Coach Hitting & Team Defense

2015-2017 Hamptons Collegiate Baseball League Head Coach of the Westhampton Aviators (2015 Champions- Most wins in 3 year stretch in league history)

2016-2019 Holy Trinity High School Head Coach

After graduating from Holy Trinity High School, Luisi continued his baseball career at Post University (CACC), where he played from 2007-2010. The three-time captain was a first-team All-Conference and first-team All-Region middle infielder. At Post, he rewrote the record books and currently owns all-time records in four offensive categories. Most recognizable is his all-time hits record, shattering the previous mark by over 40 hits. Off the diamond, Luisi was named the Male Student-Athlete of the Year in 2010.
