

What is the School District's Role in Supporting My Student's Success?

Local educational agencies (LEAs) are defined as school districts, that are responsible for the following actions:

- ♦ Plan and implement educational programs, activities, and procedures that involve parents/families, as required by Title I.
- ♦ Reserve 1% of Title I funds for parent/family engagement activities.
- ♦ Develop a parent/family engagement policy with the participation of parents/families.
- ♦ Provide opportunities for participation of parents/families with limited English proficiency, parents/families of migratory children and, when appropriate, in a language and format that they can understand.
- ♦ Conduct annual parent surveys and implement changes based upon the results of those surveys.
- ♦ Build capacity by providing early literacy and technology trainings that will help parents/families work with their children to improve academic achievement.

The Title I program offers a variety of services which may include: additional teachers and support staff, a variety of teaching methods and materials, smaller classes and additional training for staff.

Title I is a federally funded program under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA)

Qualifications for Title I

Schools qualify for funds based on economic need. All Long County Schools follow the School-Wide Title I program design.

Long County High School Vision

Long County Schools will be an exemplary system where all students are college and/or career ready.

Mission Statement

The Mission of Long County High School is to ensure a quality education for all students by providing a safe and effective learning environment where students have the opportunity to be challenged and academically successful.

What is Title I?

Title I is the largest federally funded program for elementary, middle, and high schools. Through Title I, money is given to school districts around the country based on the number of low-income families in each district. Each district uses Title I money for extra educational services for children in most need of academic help. The focus of the Title I program is to help all students meet the same high standards and expectations.

With Title I Programs:

- Children do better in school and feel better about themselves.
- Teachers understand the needs and concerns of the students, parents, and families.
- Parents/Families understand their child and can be more involved in their child's education.

Parents/ Families Can Get Involved

- ♦ Volunteer at school.
- ♦ Keep in touch with the school.
- ♦ Visit the school website.
- ♦ Decision Making: You can help make important decisions about your child's school by participating in school council meetings, stakeholder meetings, and Title I annual meetings.
- ♦ Assessments: There are several measures used to determine your child's progress toward meeting the standards. These include, standardized tests, benchmark assessments, and teacher-made tests. Results from standardized tests and interpretation of the results are distributed annually.
- ♦ Compact: Each school has a school/family compact that outlines how parents and school personnel will be responsible for supporting students.
- ♦ Participation: Parent activities, workshops, and trainings are developed around responses to the annual parent survey, as well as needs identified throughout the year.
