September Highlights:

Our first month back to school was quite a busy one. We have a ton of new faces and a lot of returning students, all of which we are very happy to have apart of our school. A side from regular school work, our students were welcomed back to school with staff hosting the annual Corn Roast and a special guest Allison Springer. Allison gave a motivational speech to our students on discovering their self worth. It was great to see students engaged and really taking in Allison's words of encouragement.

We are pleased to announce that as of Sept 29 we already have 17 potential graduates. We'd like to continue to see that number grow and encourage all our students to keep up the awesome progress you have made this past month.

Strathmore Co-op for donating the corn.

Chris Eagle Rib for the delicious stew

Denise for organizing Allison's visit.

Colleen for cooking the corn

Running Rabbit Children for offering your time to help cook & prepare for corn roast.

Roger Nelson for delivering the bread

Cobbs Bread for donating bread to our school.

Young Parent Program

Apipitskaatosi: Leaves fall month

September flew by so quickly and students have adjusted quickly to each other and the program. Our new parents and babies have settled into their routines. It is always a pleasure to see our new babies growing day by day.

We have a lot of modules handed in already, please keep up the good pace and stay focused. It is great to see our students reading novels outside their regular work. Read, Read, Read! It will take you far, fantastic job. We have started sharing circles and movement activities to promote health and wellness for the students which is beginning to create a sense of belonging and community within our school.

We will be have Money Mentors presenting a series of workshops on Financial Literacy for our funded students that will start Oct. 4, and continue for Oct. 11, Oct.18.

Our students were able to participate in the set up of our new school tipi and drumming lessons. Thank you to the volunteers that helped make that happen for our students.

Siksika Class

Colleen Sitting Eagle – Siksika Culture/Language Teacher (Liaison)

The student lessons for the month included learning Introductions to each other in the classroom and to our staff but mainly the proper way to greet our guests to the school, especially Elders. Proper protocol according to Siksika way of life was a topic covered for the female students. My goal is to present lessons that each student could and will use in daily living and for their future. Assignments include the lessons taught. The signing of Treaty 7 in 1877 was the topic during the week of the anniversary of the treaty signing (September 22).

In the upcoming months I will be concentrating on using the Siksika Language more in the classroom, in the school and most important at home. I ask if parents/guardians are fluent in the Siksika language speak to the student and encourage them to give it a serious try. I know promotion of any language leads to preserving the language. I do not discourage the student if they say any word wrong but correct them in a way that it is not belittling them. Sharing stories with them so they understand what is being taught to them helps in more ways than one.

I again ask that any parent(s)/guardian are more than welcome to send me ideas to include in my lessons and I will do my utmost to carry out any idea.

Blessings to you all and thank you for letting us be a part of these amazing students.
