Adult Sunday Education in October-November:
GREAT FIGURES OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

Sessions are built around video presentations by Dr. Amy-Jill Levine, Professor of New Testament studies at Vanderbilt University Divinity School. Dr. Levine offers talks that are lively, understandable and engaging. Each video lasts around 30 minutes, and the remainder of the session will be used for questions and conversation. Sessions will be led by Pastor Donna Smith. Come join us at 10:30 in the main sanctuary!

October 8 "The New Testament" Why do we engage in academic study of the New Testament? How were the "great figures" selected for this series? We will discuss the historical background of the New Testament, and some common misperceptions about the New Testament and the figures we believe we know well.

October 15 "John the Baptist" From the stories of his unique birth to his relationship to Jesus to his death at the hands of Herod Antipas, who is John and what is his message to us? There will also be a consideration of how John has been represented in modern media.

October 22 "The Virgin Mary" From the Magnificat to modern apparitions, Mary's role in the history of the Christian Church is huge. We will consider the traditions as well as Luther's view of Mary.

October 29 "Peter" Galilean fisherman, first leader of the Jerusalem church, legendary martyr – and the first Pope? We will examine the traditions of Peter and the ways he is viewed by modern Christians.

November 5 "Mary Magdalene" Called "The Apostle to the Apostles," Mary Magdalene is a figure buried over the centuries under layers of legend, misunderstanding and artistic and literary interpretations. What do we really know about this woman who is the only witness to the resurrection mentioned in all the Gospels?

November 12 "Paul, the Hero of Acts" From a persecutor of the early church to his work as the Christian church's greatest missionary, Saul/ Paul has had an enormous impact on the Christian faith. In this session we focus on Paul's portrayal in the Book of Acts, with clues about his character that can be drawn from his letters.

IF YOU ARE IN NEED OF PASTORAL CARE:

Pastor Jersild visits hospitalized and homebound members of our congregation on a regular basis, and is available at all times to meet with you. Monday is his designated day off, but he is always available in case of emergency. If you know of anyone who is hospitalized or who needs help, please let Pastor Seth know by calling him on his cell phone (255-2118) or at church (469-7422).

Imagination is the highest kite one can fly. ---Lauren Bacall

The lesson was about courtesy and good manners. To end it, Nichole leads the children through their song, "Two little magic words open any door with ease. One little word is 'thanks.' The other little word is 'please.' Later, the group waits while Nichole tries to open a cupboard to get art supplies. She turns the handle several times, tugging and pulling. "I can't imagine why this door won't open. We'll have to get some help with it," she tells the children. "Teacher," little Maggie asks, "Why don't you try the two magic words?"

You add magic to learning and imagination to living making childhood the wonderful time it should be.

STEWARDSHIP

Prince Of Peace Lutheran Church

“Help! I am burned out, depleted, and empty!” There is nothing left to give, no get-up-and-go. Where once there was a fountain of energy and a never ending stream of enthusiasm and ideas, there is nothing but barren ground and solid rock. Unfortunately this phenomenon is all too common in our churches, affecting both clergy and laity alike. Causes may vary. Jesus touches on some as he addresses his disciples.

They must have hung on Jesus’ every word. They watched him heal a paralytic, a mute, and a hemorrhaging woman. He even brought a little girl back to life. Who wouldn’t want to be part of his ministry? When Jesus shared their mission field with them, I am sure they were filled with excitement and anxiety. Then we read how Jesus warns the disciples against the pressures that will threaten them.

Disciples put in hours of work, have high expectations and only the purest intentions, but are not necessarily met with open arms. Few see the fruit of their labor, resulting in burn out. To this our Lord replies: Do not fear; you are doing a good job. Do not fear; you are valuable. Do not fear; you are loved and righteous.

Read: Ezekiel 3:16-27; Ephesians 2:1-10; Matthew 10:24-33, 40-42

Prayer: Gracious Lord, thank you for encouraging us when we feel most exhausted. Amen.

Dear Members of Prince of Peace,

This long overdue letter is to say thank you for your support of our ministry. We really appreciate your faithful support of us through your prayers and financial giving over the last several years.

We are doing well here in Papua New Guinea. Jonathan is currently the Chief Pilot in our Aviation department. While this job does require a lot of time spent with paperwork, emails, and meetings, he is able to continue flying while in the Chief Pilot role. Even after being here in PNG for 19 years now, he has not lost his love for flying and getting to know the people he flies, both nationals and other ex-pats.

Jonathan is looking forward to some time in the US in September where he will be attending the Aviation Technical Conference at JAARS in Waxhaw, NC. He will be representing our PNG branch at the conference. While he's in the US, he'll have the opportunity to spend some time with Nathan and Julia both before and after the conference. I know it will be good for Nathan and Julia to see immediate family again.

I stay plenty busy with my various roles. Even with only two children at home now, their schedules are full, so keeping up with their schedules is part of what I do. Taking care of the home and family is a full-time job here. Cooking from scratch keeps me in the kitchen a lot as does trying to get laundry dry in-between rain showers. I've been so thankful for Skype and Messenger as we've been able to keep in regular touch with Nathan and Julia. It's not the same as seeing them in person, but it's nice to hear from them regularly.

I also stay very busy as a substitute teacher at the primary school here on our center (grades Preschool through 5). I love going into all the classrooms and getting to know all of the kids. We have a great school here with teachers who love their students and wonderful students who are happy to be here. I've also taken on the role of Student Representative Council (SRC) Advisor at our secondary campus (grades 6-12). I did this last year with another adult advisor, but this year it is just me. It does make for a more busy time for me, but I enjoy the job and love working with the students who are on the SRC.

Nathan and Julia are back at Concordia University Wisconsin in Mequon for their second year of university. They were able to spend their summer break in Waxhaw, NC, staying with Jonathan's mom. They both had jobs for the summer, which was really nice, and they both really enjoyed their work. Nathan is taking lots of theological classes in preparation for moving on to a mission aviation school next school year. Julia is continuing with classes to prepare her to become an elementary school teacher and she is very much enjoying what she's learning. They both are involved in the same choir on campus and have fun doing that together.

Leah is into full swing on her senior year of high school! I can't believe she's already in her last year of school here. She is staying busy, as she likes to be. She's enjoying her classes (even her harder AP classes), is involved in both band (trumpet) and choir, is the secretary again this year for the SRC, is the band leader for a Soul Purpose band (a worship time for high school students), and spends lots of time outside of school with her classmates as they all make those last memories together before they are literally spread around the world after graduation next year.

Rachel is in eighth grade this year, the top of the middle school. She stays busy with school work and plays percussion in the middle school band. She also has joined a junior high Soul Purpose band and plays keyboard for that. Rachel is an avid reader and when she's not doing homework or hanging out with friends, we can find her tucked away in her room reading her latest favorite book. Rachel is not looking forward to being the only child left in the house next year after Leah head off to college and she is already starting to process that.

As you can see, we are alive and well and very busy. We feel just as strongly now about our call to work in PNG as we did when we first arrived here 19 years ago. You have been a big part of keeping us here in PNG doing this work and we thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your faithful support.

We hope to come and see many of you when we return to the US next year for a one year furlough.

Love in Christ,

Carrie Federwitz
