

Many Blessings Financial Coaching offers its services on a fee-for-time basis. If you are in difficult circumstances, you may balk at the idea of paying for help. However, your monetary investment provides an additional incentive to make the changes necessary to succeed. Consider the value of the coaching service, and acknowledge that financial health comes only through some degree of sacrifice and discipline.

Your relationship with Many Blessings begins with a free consultation of up to one half hour. Beyond that, Many Blessings offers the following plans. The free consultation will give us a better idea of which of these plans may best suit your need.

- Single, one-hour session(s). In preparation for the first hour, I will require some information from you, and will review that information before our session. Follow-on sessions may be scheduled as needed.
- Four-hour package. Four, one-hour sessions, purchased as a package, at a significant savings over the single hour price.
- Six-month coaching package. Retain my services on an as-needed basis, over a six-month period, beginning with the first coaching session. Depending on the number of sessions used, this plan offers even more saving over the single session price.
- One-year coaching package. Same as the six-month package, only twice as long, at a ten percent saving over the cost of two six-month packages.
- Premarital coaching. Prepare to merge your finances and learn how to manage them together, offered at half the price of a single hour session.

I will provide a summary of each session, and recommendations to you in an email within 48 hours of any coaching session.
