Conversation between Bermunda and Ptaah from the Plejaren Federation and 'Billy' Eduard Albert Meier, BEAM

Seven Hundred and Fifty-Ninth Contact Friday, 6 November 2020, 21.20 h

Billy Welcome and greetings, Bermunda. You're here early today.

Bermunda Yes, I feel a need to see you, but I cannot stay long, for I still have some duties to attend to again. In order to come here, however, I have taken an hour's time off, but I must leave again in an hour at the latest. Besides, you know that Ptaah will also be coming here, which is why my private concern cannot take up much time.

Billy Yes, of course. Florena said that Ptaah will be here at 11pm. And if you're in a hurry, then we should see about getting to what's on your mind.

Bermunda Well, then ... ..

Billy ... .. How time flies, it is already after 10.10 pm. But I must say, Bermunda, that all your questions, as well as your motives and explanations, show me that these problems will always exist among people and will never end. So the same or similar problems exist among you Pleiaren as they do among the people of Earth in general, and therefore I think that ... .. but the whole thing does not have to be written when I call up our conversation. After all, it's nobody's business.

Bermunda Thank you. Then I will go now and say goodbye... ..

Billy Then ..., ok, goodbye.

22.32 h

Billy Hello, Ptaah, dear friend, there you are. You let me know that you want to talk about the Corona plague again today, because you still have some things to say about it. Actually, we wanted to refrain from it some time ago, but the whole thing made it necessary to say more about it, because the rulers are neither clever enough nor capable of doing everything necessary and right to get to the bottom of the plague and put an end to it.

Ptaah That is correct, but I want to say something again, according to which we really should not mention this thing any more, as we have already said once. Now, however, I have found a record in my father's annals, where he wrote under the date of Sunday, April 4, 1948, on the one hand the following.

Eduard, in the future you will continue to compose your own knowledge about all that we have fathomed together in events and happenings far into the distant future in prophecies and predictions and send them to the public media all over the world, as before with the help of your teachers, the priest and the professor. But this will change, as you have seen and know, in the next millennium. Everything will begin to change in just three decades, because, as you have seen in the future, a digital and electronic technology will emerge and will open up to you the possibility of using this new technology and, through it, spreading all your knowledge in a worldwide way.

Afterwards it is recorded that my father Sfath instructed you to write a letter to all governments and public media in Europe, which you then did on Saturday, July 7, 1949. Afterwards, however, you explored together with my father the next 6 decades from 1970 to 2030 and learned how, why and by what the viral corona plague will arise, in order to then become over the next decades further developing to the plague. This, my father wrote, would first arise in mild forms to mutate over time itself, as well as by researchers who were deliberately commissioned by Mao Zedong in agreement with the vengeful American ... under threat of death were forced to begin their evil work, as all this then also resulted. Why you want to conceal, however, the name of this man publicly, that I cannot understand, because he has died, as also Mao Zedong, before the revenge plan conceived by the two together could be realized, however, is fulfilled now, so to speak, posthumously for them, nevertheless, not as planned only in the USA, but worldwide. What is written now, however, further in my father's notes, so it emerges from it that in China, in a secret laboratory in the city of Guangzhou, a virus is created which would escape for the first time in the year 1976 as a result of a carelessness from a laboratory. This virus would mutate several times and remain undetected by all research until the new millennium, and then in the first three years of the new century it would cause the first recognizable outbreak of the disease, which would in turn undergo further mutation in a secret laboratory in a Chinese city called Wuhan, resulting in the formation of a new type of virus. This new virus, my father noted, would then be extremely contagious and would attack the cellular system of humans, as well as certain mammals and animals, as soon as it was released. And, he noted, at the beginning of 2019 there will be another mutation sequence, namely a laboratory accident, whereby the new dangerous virus will affect all laboratory workers, who will gradually die as a result of this infection and the resulting epidemic, but will still carry the disease. This would last from the month of January until December, before the deadly virus would be detected by chance in December 2019, but it would still take about 2 months before the relevant information would be published and the public.

Further my father noted in his annals that if the new virus becomes openly recognizable and this proves to be an extremely dangerous, deadly rampant epidemic, it can then already no longer be contained. He also noted that before the outbreak of the first recognizable epidemic shortly after the turn of the millennium-which probably meant SARS-the virus was not recognized as a special virus for more than two decades, even though this virus, which was the first to escape unnoticed from the secret laboratory in 1976, mixed unrecognized with the original so-called porcine influenza subtype H1N1 virus and was highly contagious.

he first appearance of this new virus, which was integrated into the influenza virus, continued to mutate together with influenza viruses without being perceived and thus not recognized by the earthly specialists, probably because such processes were unknown to them, which, according to our findings, is still the case today. As a result of the non-recognition of this mutative type of virus, all the years during which the virus underwent further mutations, only the corresponding influenza type was treated, as we were able to find out according to our research. This is what my father Sfath described in his notes on the one hand, while on the other hand he also stated that the disease itself mutates during the next two decades from its first release, so that the first open epidemic emerges shortly after the turn of the millennium. This, he noted, then mutates through further mutations and causes the beginning of a major epidemic from the beginning of 2019, which, however, will only become apparent in December 2019, then from the year 2020 very rapidly world-wide over the whole earth begins to spread, mutates further and becomes still more dangerous, whereby over long time many death victims would be demanded. so far once that, which is specified in my father annals, which you however be...

Billy It's okay, you don't have to say anything else about it.

Ptaah But ...

Billy No, really. On the one hand, the whole what you have called from the annals of Sfath, the entire earthly 'elite' of the physicians, virologists, epidemiologists, other scientific specialists and greats does not go into their arrogant and obdurate skull, because they have no knowledge of such mutation occurrences, consequently they will reject from the outset unthinkingly everything all around and represent it as phantasm. In particular it will be the virologists, epidemiologists and other related 'experts' who will oppose all that Sfath has written and you have now openly mentioned. And they will do this, because they consider themselves as omniscient and gods due to their corresponding scientific education and they can neither imagine, accept nor allow anything else than what corresponds to what is known, proven and learned so far as well as to their hypotheses. On the other hand they will not only reject the statements of Sfath and with it also everything what you have disclosed, but they will call you and me liars, falsifiers of the truth and slanderers of the truth, as all our traditional antagonists will do, as also all the stupid-demonic know-it-alls, querulous, lateral thinkers resp. non-thinkers, conspiracy theorists, all slanderers and otherwise stupid and crazy people who are inaccessible to the intellect and the reason.

And this whole thing also rubs off on the politicians, who faithfully hang on the lips of the virologists and epidemiologists etc., let themselves be guided by them and still support them in their delusion of their self-divinity mania. And unfortunately, this is also the case in Switzerland, where especially the majority of the governing people are conspicuous, namely the National Council and the Council of States, and in the highest place the Federal Council, and especially those women and men who stand out stupidly, clumsily and pompously, when they have or should have to inform the population in all necessities concerning the Corona epidemic. However, as a rule nothing clever comes out, but only inadequate and meaningless sham information, through which nothing concrete is explained, but only the population is irritated with big and stupid speeches, while these would-be representatives of the people try to make themselves ridiculous and brilliant.

As far as the majority of the Federal Council, the National Council and the Council of States are concerned, they are, as one could see in their TV appearances during the last months, believing in the virological and epidemiological super gods, who are the actual advisors of the rulers regarding the Corona epidemic, but they are the ones who effectively rule, because the rulers do what they are told to do by the 'gods'. And for it the government majority has a special flair, namely because they surround themselves due to own incapacity with government advisers, according to whose consultations then is governed by which just not the governors govern, but clearly seen just the advisers -, who are paid with tax money immensely expensively. All this just because the governors are also in bondage to these advisers and have themselves no own state guidance abilities. If we look at the whole of the minority's intellect and reason, together with the majority of the rulers of all kinds, it becomes clear that the minority has no chance whatsoever to bring to bear its reflections, conclusions, insights, evaluations, ideas, perceptions, opinions, knowledge, experience, point of view and intelligence. If the minority wants to rise up and put forward its rational and rational considerations, etc., then it is simply completely disregarded, considered to be imbecilic or simply shouted down and put out of action.

Not only the virologists and epidemiologists are the great new gods, saints, stars and the government leaders or the actual rulers of the rulers in connection with and as a result of the Corona epidemic. also the belief in God and thus the false doctrines of the religions play a big role, because the majority of the Federal Council and National Council as well as the Council of States blindly believes: God will probably fix it, that the epidemic will end again and everything will be good, because God loves people. Consequently, the God barns, God houses, prayer temples and Ascension launching pads can, should and must also be kept open so that they fill up with believers for sermons and prayers and these can get infected en masse with the Corona virus, fall ill from it and possibly die. Every religion, every sect and every belief in an imaginary and therefore non-existent God, or otherwise in an alleged higher and over everything ruling and directing power, lives and exists on the one hand only from the stupidity which corresponds to nothing else than a non-thinking of the believing people. On the other hand, every religion, every sect and every belief in an imaginary and therefore non-existent God lives from the religion-given promise of lies, that God, the Lord, rewards the good behavior of the people in any case, if just diligently prayed to him resp. he himself or in Christianity his alleged son is worshipped and idolized. This, as God also then let mercy prevail, if diligently the house of God is visited, depending upon faith the pew is begged or the face is pressed into the dirt, and 'juicy' large sums as mite are 'donated' as often as possible, that the religious leaders of each kind at the expense of the believers 'healthy' and can lead a good life.

If we now look at all the things that have happened since the outbreak of the Corona plague from a normal, rational point of view and not from the point of view of delusions of faith, and if we eliminate all religious and sectarian compulsions of faith, then we can see the reality of reality and its truth, which prove frighteningly and clearly that all religious and sectarian delusions of faith and their promises are based on lies, false promises and slander. And this shows up particularly clearly since the beginning of the Corona plague until the present day, because since the beginning of the plague an eclipse of life spread for all people, contrary to the lie of faith that Immanuel alias 'Jesus' is supposed to have said: "I am the light of life", which he never said, but: "Truth alone is the light of life."

If in any religion or sect, which necessarily believes in a God, Son of God, in other deities and celestial rulers etc., their salvation promises are considered, then since the outbreak of the Corona plague the entire God faith delusion can be recognized particularly clearly. This namely, that the earthlings God faith delusion and just their faith-conformal behavior has brought up to now no protection against the Corona plague, offers no protection and will never offer a protection. This, as there has never been a protection against illness by a delusional fantasy figure, a God, God the Father, Creator and similar rationally degenerated imaginary fantasy creature in every religion or sect since time immemorial. Quite on the contrary: All God-believers were already since ancient times quite particularly guilty that deadly epidemics could spread and rampant and even millions of people died by it. This quite particularly because they indulged in their God delusion faith and provoked and spread thereby the epidemics themselves, which was not conscious to them however in their faith stupidity. What the God-believers did in this regard was that they gathered in the ascension launching pads and thereby infected each other with epidemic viruses. So they gathered in their so-called places of worship such as churches, temples, chapels, synagogues and mosques, etc., where, since time immemorial, as a result of the gathering together of God-believers, deadly viruses can spread particularly well and quickly, cause epidemics and thereby trigger epidemics as well as pandemics, which bring death, misery, suffering, sorrow and destruction.

The principles of the God delusion have not changed since ancient times up to the present time and will also continue to exist for a very long time and will still bring a lot of misfortune to the God believer world, but also all those who are committed to the real reality, truth as well as the understanding and the reason will be involved and will come to harm in the same way. So it will be by the stupidity of various irresponsible and incompetent directors above all the God believers that with the again forthcoming lockdowns, which will come in the next month and will last into the next year, as I have seen together with Sfath, the God barns will not be blocked in the long term, in order to eliminate these epidemic spreading hearths. But it will be unfortunately as ever, because the God delusionists, and these are the giant majority of the earth humanity, will not understand that there is no God, God the Father and no creator who protects or could protect it from the Corona plague. Therefore, people have always been helpless when relying on a non-existent God. And so helpless they are also today and will be also in the future. So also the God-believers will always be those people who will be affected the most and will suffer damage. This is especially because they, as believers in God, are out of touch with reality and truth and do not recognize the truth and do not acknowledge that no God will ever bring help, because they cannot understand that a God will never stand by them and will not help them, but that they themselves must be given this help. That is why the Corona plague hits the delusional believers much harder than other people who are turned towards reality and truth and are free from belief in God. But the fact is that inevitably, especially because of the delusion of God of the majority of mankind, until the end of this year only officially worldwide about 2 million people will die from the Corona plague and almost 80 million will fall ill and suffer late damages, but this will not be the end of the whole thing. The emergence and living through of fear of the future, insecurity of life, as well as suicide and anger, etc. will not contribute to the end of the Corona plague, because only reason and the right action can help to control the plague so far that it subsides and dissolves so far that it is no longer dangerous on a daily basis. However, the virus will never be eradicated, because it will remain underground like any other virus, and only as long as mankind itself is concerned about keeping it in exile. It still rages, however, and in the coming time all the more, because by the stupidity of the incompetent rulers absolutely carelessly was acted and will be acted further so. This in addition to the fact that  $\frac{1}{4}$  of the so-called civilized in reality uncivilized world population makes the whole thing even worse and will continue to make as well as deny the plague. Already some time ago a complete loss of control has emerged from the stupidity of the governing and the querulous masses, whereby the corona plague crisis is now swinging up to a height, which must be aligned only by prudent tough measures against a further spread and a further spreading. If this does not happen in the coming month and thereafter, the Corona death toll would become a final catastrophe and rise to 500 million.

Well, I have not forgotten to mention the so-called medical experts, because at the time of the Corona epidemic, they, too, have a great influence on those in power around the world, including here in Switzerland on the Council of States, the National Council and the Federal Council. In addition, the majority of these people have their heads filled with the knowledge or ignorance of other scientists, as well as with the dubious theories of strange researchers who act as economic representatives, some of whom criticise everything in a lowly intelligent way, although various National Councillors, Councillors of States and Federal Councillors blindly follow the recommendations of these so-called researchers, which has serious, malicious consequences.

Ptaah What you describe corresponds to everything that cannot be disputed, but which will be disputed by all [the] truth-opponents, know-it-all's and the irrational and intelligent-less, as well as by those of weak intelligentum, for whom the cultivation of healthy and logical thoughts is impossible as a consequence of their belief in a deity.

Billy Unfortunately, this will not change until the distant future. But what we should talk about now is the origin of the corona plague, because in this respect the experts are waffling all kinds of nonsense out into the world. It seems to me that this is like prehistory and palaeontology, where certain hypotheses are downright ridiculous, because the facts of reality are simply quite different from the imaginings.

Ptaah But we don't have [need] to talk about that. From our point of view, and according to our research, the first corona epidemic arose and was released as a result of carelessness as the first virus preform as early as the 1970s, but was then released again in 1981 from a laboratory in Guangzhou and began to spread.

Since then, according to our very precise counts, this form of epidemic has claimed around 14.71 million lives all over the world to date, although the entire sciences of medicine, virology and epidemiology, etc. have never recognised until today from what countless people have really died of. This old resp. first virus mutated further in the course of 2019 and turned into the well-known Covid19 resp. 'Coronavirus Disease-2019', which was before, for 4 decades, usually falsely, judged and treated as flu effect and other diseases, and from which nearly 15 million people died so far, whose disease was not recognised as a corona disease.

And what I still have to say about that, that relates to the fact that this death toll also includes the so-called dark figure of Corona disease deaths that have occurred since the officially recognised outbreak of Corona disease last year, that is in December 2019, up to 6 days ago on October, 31. And that this plague will slowly spread into a pandemic and will be rampant worldwide and will now claim millions of victims, that is what you two, my father Sfath and you, already found out about in 1949. And about this, after your letter of 7 July 1949, you wrote another letter only a few days later, on Sunday, 12 July 1949, which was then copied 1463 times by Father Zimmermann and sent all over the world, to all governments, radio stations and many authorities and organisations.

Billy Now that you say it, I remember. The Horatin and the Methodist sect also caught on to [became aware of] this and always scolded me for it when I passed by the sect's premises on my way in the Soli. But what I can say about what you have just mentioned is that, unfortunately, even today, with all the information we publish on the Internet - concerning the Corona plague and the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of Creational Energy, Teaching of Life' - it will be the case, as usual with the earthlings, that only a few will turn to it. There will only be a very few people who are devoted to the truth as well as to rationality and reason, who have been able to free themselves from the delusion of an imaginary God and will pay attention to everything, while the majority, who are addicted to the belief in God, prefer to hope that they will be helped by their diligent prayers and pleas to their non-existent God.

Ptaah What you say – how do you always say - has a lot of substance [has a lot of sense to it]. But what you and my father Sfath have experienced together has shown you how inept, irresponsible and incompetent all state leaders worldwide will effectively be in the present time, and not only with regard to the raging corona plague crisis. That is one thing, and the other is that everything that has been discussed between us so far and also published on the Internet corresponds exactly to what you wrote back then and what was sent out into the world, but already back then brought no response whatsoever, as is this also now not officially the case. It is true, as we have noticed already for quite some time, that certain persons of various organisations and offices etc. - if I may say it in this way - take up these and those [bits and pieces of] important things from your and my explanations, statements and information and use them for their purposes, their office and for their personal advantage etc., but as a rule they are so submerged in craters of discouragement that they cannot stand by them and [meaning: and because of that] pass off everything they say, order or do as their own personal intelligentum.

Billy This is unfortunately the case, on the one hand, but on the other hand - and this is also possible - their un-courageous [cowardly/fainthearted] behaviour may also be due to pathological inhibitions.

Ptaah That may of course be the case, but as you always say, it is good if the important information that is given, brings benefit and success. This is exactly then, when it is a question of leading peoples, because especially in this respect it would, in principle, have been the duty of the leaders of all states to take the right steps already at the beginning of the Corona epidemic in order to prevent an epidemic and the following pandemic. However, in this matter, all the leaders of all the states on earth, have, as a result of their inability to lead, allowed the whole of the epidemic to become a crisis. They have not fulfilled their duty and will not do so in the near future, which will result in many more infected people and deaths worldwide, especially in the coming weeks. And this will be the case both in the United States of America, in Brazil and in South America, as well as in Europe, where the epidemic will claim a particularly large number of victims as a result of the irresponsibility, incompetence and lack of prudence of the leaders of the state and of the querulous part of the population, as you wrote in the aforementioned letter of 1949, which my father enclosed as a typewritten original in his annals, consequently [which means that] I do not have to translate it. I would like to mention in passing that I did not know that you already had a typewriter for writing at that time, but you needed one, because if you did all your work on prophecies and predictions....

Billy Sorry, you really couldn't have known that. Thanks to Father Zimmermann, I was able to learn how to use a typewriter. When I moved away from Büüli, I gave this machine to my old friend Ernst Meierhofer for safekeeping. He probably still has it today. Unfortunately, I haven't heard from him for a long time. But while I'm on the subject of listening, what can you tell me about the epidemic in Europe?

Ptaah The populations of Spain, Germany, Italy and Switzerland will be the main victims of the culpable, incompetent leaders of the state and the fallible part of the populace. At the moment, there are only a few intelligent and reasonable people in the state leaderships who are aware of the danger and the excesses of the Corona epidemic and who are therefore making an effort to do what is right and necessary, although they have to fight against the unreasonableness of many of their un-discerning fellow-employees and against the querulous part of the population. In Germany, only the man Söder stands out in this respect in Bavaria, and the man Kurz in Austria, while in your homeland, Switzerland, as in other European states, there are absolutely no state leaders who would be capable of doing their duty and taking the necessary measures against the pandemic and enforcing this in the willing and also in the querulous parts of the populations. As we observe, the Swiss leadership in particular stands out in a negative way, if I may say so with your way of speaking, because none of the men and women who have the duty of fighting the epidemic in this leadership are capable of their office, so they are neither able to recognize the necessary measures against the epidemic, to elaborate them [work them out], to adopt [take] them, to enforce them, nor to have them carried out.

Billy The whole imbecility of ordering short-term and only partial lock-downs for 1, 2 or 3 weeks in order to then relax everything again or lift it completely is already a state of idiocy, because in this way everything continues in the old style after the lock-down has been lifted and consequently the whole mess gets even worse. If, however, those in power lack the necessary intelligentum, which is still erroneously called 'intelligence' today, then those in front of the populations and peoples who are incapable cannot get to the crux of the matter, because they are neither accessible to logical thought processes nor can they foresee what inevitably emerges and results from certain actions and modes of behaviour.

And because those in government are so incompetent, they squander taxpayers' money on 'advisors' who are supposed to give them advice, but who in reality also suffer from a horrendous lack of intelligentum and consequently are also unable to think logically, nor are they foresighted or even able to think ahead.

But to return one more time to the pandemic: If all the government bubble-heads around the world, all the government 'council' no-brainers (lit. "hollow heads") and blockheads (lit. "wooden heads") had done the right thing from the very beginning, when the epidemic broke out and grew into an epidemic, then no pandemic would have arisen, but the whole thing could have run its course within a short time of 2 to 3 months. This way, [the] up to now countless people would not have been infected by the epidemic and would not have died from it, and then the epidemic would not have begun to spread and claim many thousands of human lives, as it will now be the case from this month [November 2020] onwards. Many people have become depressed as a result of the epidemic, just as suicides have increased greatly, but this is officially denied. In addition, it is claimed that the spread of the epidemic will not increase any further, but exactly the opposite will be the case, especially here in Europe, as I have observed together with Sfath. In the future, the whole thing will increase enormously, and now even more so with mass infections and fatalities, which will drive the whole thing up into the millions. As I have seen with Sfath in the future, since the effective first emergence of the precursor of the plague some 40 years ago, it has continued to mutate and evolve, as it did in laboratories, to break out last December as the Corona plague.

If it had not been for all this and if it had not finally come about as a Corona plague, it would never have come about that the stupid rulers would have come up with the crazy idea of irresponsibly incurring enormous national debts in order to provide emergency aid monies to companies, corporations, sports, entertainment and all kinds of other enterprises and organisations, etc. . This, as otherwise no debts would have come about in the populations and businesses, enterprises etc. and would not continue to accumulate from now on. Due to the incompetence of those in government, however, I know this from the time with Sfath, when we together ... well, you know, so I don't have to say anything more about it. This fact, however, cannot simply be eliminated, because the whole thing in this respect will escalate this month until December to such an extent that it will effectively crack in the woodwork of various banks themselves, because taxpayers' money will be squandered on government loans, which in turn will put the states into enormous debt. And the taxpayers will then have to pay for these debts, which is not enough, because the descendants of today's taxpayers will also have to pay, and after them their descendants, and after them their six descendants [7 generations of descendants], and so on. If, however, imbeciles squat in the governments who have no clue about governing, then it is not surprising that the senseless creation of national debt by the incompetent government will drive up the mountains of national debt to such an extent that one fine day a collapse will occur, as can also happen, let us say, with earthly mankind if it copulates itself into its own downfall and thereby exterminates itself, as it has often done since time immemorial. This is unfortunately the case with the earthlings, because from time immemorial, despite enormous self-generated and natural catastrophes, they have not become wiser or more modest, which is still the case today.

Even if it is said that 'through harm one becomes wise', this does not apply to humanity, especially not to the great majority that has fallen prey to a delusion of God. This 'through harm one becomes wise' can effectively only be understood and thus implemented by a few people in whom the intellectum necessarily functions properly and well, but unfortunately this is obviously not the case with the majority of earthlings.

Ptaah With that you are not exactly making friends, even if it is as you say.

Billy Neither do I want to, because I just want to tell the truth. And if a person recognises this as such, then he knows that it is effectively as I say, because then his intelligentum is so far developed that he also uses it. Therefore, I do not have to make an effort to be hypocritical and to make friends when I tell the truth. But if some intend to or do hate me, then that is their beer, which they must drink themselves or leave it to rot, for I cannot drink it for them

Ptaah You do always find a word to explain something in some way, well ....

Billy That's [a] good [thing] for me, because I'm ... well, I'm glad if we don't have to talk about it anymore, because the whole thing wouldn't do any good anyway. This applies also to the epidemic, because talking about it will not bring it to an end, but only by doing the right thing. You and I know what must be done, but no one will listen to us, that is certain. What needs to be done falls on the deaf ears and dulled senses of those in government, just as it does to that lowly intelligent  $\frac{1}{4}$  of the population that prefers to pray to a non-existent God and pleads pointlessly for help rather than take matters into its own hands, think for themselves and do the right thing, whereby they also demonstrate stupidly, emulate inciting anarchist rabble, as well as lateral thinkers, conspiracy theorists and know-it-all's and morons, as well as others who are alienated from the truth and the world.

Ptaah Yes, with that you say what I also think. But now, Eduard, there is this matter ... which we must discuss. ... However, silence must now be maintained about this.
