In the theme of the flow of nature, the participants are showing photos that inspired by natural pieces which showing us the environmental issues are globalised , and need to be put on concern. The exhibition is jointly organised by City, University of London and University of the Arts London Chinese Society (UALC SSA), supported and promoted by WWF UK. It aims to provide a better living around the world and raise environmental concerns in more people. Everything that we have, use and eat comes from the nature, including plants and animals, which balance the ecosystem of our planet and protecting it is our human duty as respect and gratitude sign.
