

The Loft Literary Center is now offering classes in Rosemount!

Nationally known and respected, The Loft was founded in 1974 and is one of the largest centers of its kind. The Loft's mission is "to advance the artistic development of writers, foster a thriving literary community, and inspire a passion for literature."

Thursdays
September 19 –
October 24

6p.m.—8 p.m.

Steeple Center
14375 S. Robert Trail
Rosemount, MN

Register: www.loft.org/classes

Register now!

I Am a Poet: An Introduction to the Craft of Poetry

In this class, we'll spend time reading contemporary and classic poems from writers. Using their work as examples, we'll discuss some basic characteristics of contemporary poetry and engage in writing exercises that encourage using sensory detail as the heart of a poem.

Our reading of poems by these aforementioned poets will serve as a starting point for our writing as we learn aspects of craft. Finally, we'll consider a variety of ways that we might revise our draft poems outside of the class. Sessions will include a brief bit of time for sharing writing with others for feedback and support.

A $3 copy fee will be required for this class.

Teaching Artist: Lisa Higgs Kohler

Genre: Basics Adult

Open to All Levels

Six sessions

Cost: $210 Regular $189 Member $147 Low Income

A Partnership with Rosemount Area Arts Council
Loft Literary Center
Friends of Robert Trail Library

www.rosemountarts.com

www.loft.org

www.friendsoftrt.org