SOUTH AMERICA

Why book with the South America Tourism Office?

See beyond salsa, sombreros and tequila, Latin America is a feast for the senses with something for every kind of traveler, whether it's relaxing by the beautiful beaches of Brazil, trekking through the Amazon, admiring the wondrous glaciers of the Antarctic region or dancing to the rhythms of the samba, salsa or tango.

Our staff from South America has travelled extensively through both South and Central America and can offer a unique perspective on the diversity of attractions and destinations to be discovered.

SATO specializes in tailor making itineraries, using our knowledge to assist you in designing an experience of the continent that will meet your needs and cater for your interests. By providing tours on an independent basis, SATO can guarantee you will travel on the departure date you've selected (as we don't require minimum numbers before tours will definitely go ahead.) As we custom make travel packages, you can even come to one of our consultants with your wish-list and we can find the best way to structure the trip for you.

And travelling independently does not mean that you will be left on your own, as you will be assisted by our professional and reliable contacts on the ground, on hand to assist with their local knowledge and emergency contact numbers provided in all destinations for extra peace of mind.

SATO also offers Escorted Small Group Tours with a maximum of just 16 guests. We guarantee you will spend more time at iconic sites with unrivalled personalized service from an experienced Tour Conductor who oversees every single aspect of your journey.

We invite you to come and share our culture, customs and most importantly the warmth, spirit and friendliness of our people.

So when booking your next trip to South or Central America, 'talk to us, the locals!'

HOW TO USE THIS BROCHURE

- 1) Firstly look through our group tours and circuits: These itineraries offered in the first 24 pages will form a good starting point of the most popular places you can visit in this amazing continent. These tours are all suggested itineraries of what you can fit in within certain periods of time (2 weeks, 3 weeks, 30 days etc.)
- 2) Read further about particular tours in the relevant country pages. If you want to know a bit more detail about what there is to see in each country you will visit, have a glance over the descriptions from p. 30. Summaries and photos are available of some of the programs, packages, hotels and combinations that are possible in each country.
- 3) Choose your level of comfort for hotels and tours. Choose from the hotel grading offered (tourist, first class, deluxe class or boutique.) If you are unsure about these, you can discuss these with our consultants or you can specify what your overall budget is for the entire trip. Choose whether you would like to share your tours with other tourists (seat in coach) or have a private guide (exclusive for you and your group.)
- 4) Decide on your travel dates and duration. If you are unsure of the best times to travel, our consultants can assist you as climate and geography of the continent is quite varied.
- 5) Contact SATO to begin planning your ultimate South American experience.

HOTELS

We generally do not use accommodation that is considered less than a 3 star hotel and our properties all include private bathroom facilities. (In some less developed places, only 2 star hotels may be available but this is rare and even in these cases, they will have a private bathroom.)

Our philosophy is that location is paramount when you are staying in a city for a few nights, as being central to the attractions and restaurants makes a big difference to your experience. As safety is a concern for some of our clients, we can often suggest districts/suburbs they may find more appealing.

Prices of hotels within these categories will vary depending on service, location and reputation and we have many to choose from in each city

Tourist hotels (3 star)

Value hotels, clean and with a reasonable level of comfort with rooms that may vary in terms of size. Most have local or are operated by local chains and offer good location. Hotels have private bathrooms.

Tourist superior hotels (3.5)

Better hotels with extra benefits and are slightly better located than the standard tourist options. Others superior properties may once have been considered first class and have a high standard of facilities but may now be a little dated. These hotels will often fall between the categories of 3 and 4 stars in terms of price and standard.

First class hotels (4 star)

Good hotels with comfortable rooms and great facilities and service. A lot of these are new hotels or have been recently upgraded and strive to maintain the standard of their facilities.

Deluxe class hotels (5 star)

Excellent hotels, often leading properties in their respective cities, either based on world class design or cultural characteristics. These may be based on international or local chains whilst some may be leading smaller hotels. Ideal for travellers who like to travel in style and prefer a high level of comfort.

Boutique Hotels (BT)

Exclusive hotels with plenty of character, focused on design or special themes, often smaller in size in terms of rooms and offering exceptional service for a unique experience. Perfect for the discerning traveller after a truly memorable journey.

TOURS AND TRANSFERS

Local Guides

We prefer to use local English speaking guides to conduct your tours and believe you will get an extra insight into the local culture and character from the first hand experience that people living in these destinations can provide.

Transfers and tours will be conducted in a combination of private and seat in coach basis depending on location and cost.

Seat in coach service (SIB)

Seat in coach services are shared with other tourists from all over the world allowing you to mingle and meet other travellers. This kind of service is the more economical option as the cost is shared with other people and the numbers on any given tour will vary depending on the location and dates.

You will be led by qualified English speaking guides (unless otherwise specified or requested) and in some places, information may also be translated into other languages (such as Portuguese/French/Italian) depending on other nationalities present. Some other languages may also be requested at additional cost.

Private services

Private services are exclusive for you/your travelling companions which means you receive a higher level of personalised service from your guide. The departure time of private tours can be specified, their attention will be completely devoted to you and you can travel at your own pace within the allocated time.

*Please note that in some remote/more expensive regions, a private driver only service may be used to bring down the costs. This will be specified on our itineraries.

ARGENTINA

DIVERSE COUNTRY, AMAZING SCENERY

Comprising almost the entire southern half of South America, Argentina is a land of many regions; from sun drenched beaches and blue sea, to caps of polar ice, unscalable heights of mountain ranges, magnificent plains of the pampas and subtropical forests.

THE GREAT WATERS

In the humid subtropics, an area of red earth and magnificent jungle, lies Iguazu, 'great waters' in the Guarani language, one of the most beautiful natural wonders in the world. These great waters flow through the Iguazu National Park and onto the falls of the Mocona, the Pilcomayo National Park, El Palmar de Colon National Park, the Ibera Marshlands and the Chaqueñas Plains.

NORTH WEST WINE REGION

The high peaks are the home of the Aconcagua, 'stone sentinel', snow capped volcanoes, plateaus, dry gullies and deserts. Under brilliant blue skies, time stands still for the inhabitants of small villages and charming towns. In the heart of Argentina's wine country lies Mendoza, famed for its Malbecs.

THE PAMPAS

In the centre of Argentina is the region of the Great Plains—one of the most fertile areas of the country and where most of the nation's agriculture is located. To the south, the plains give way to small hills in Tandil and de la Ventana, and to the west lies Cordoba.

PATAGONIA

On the heights of the most beautiful mountains on earth, nature has created granite peaks and ice fields whose glacial tongues end in lakes of unrivalled beauty. National parks, mountains and forests make Patagonia an ideal place for adventure, hiking and trekking.

TREKKING EL CHALTEN

7 DAYS / 6 NIGHTS

The foothills of the Patagonian Andes offer wild beauty with the best highlights of Southern Patagonia, trekking to the Fitz Roy and Cerro Torre granite needles and the wilderness of Laguna del Desierto, one of the few places where you can still easily see the Patagonian deer or "huemul" and pristine mountain woodland surrounded by glaciers extending all the way to the Chilean border. This is definitely one of the best and most isolated treks you can do in this wild area of Patagonia.

Day 1: EL CALAFATE – EL CHALTEN (D) Transfer by regular bus to El Chalten, a small picturesque village at the foot of Fitzroy & Cerro Torre Massif. Check in at your hosteria.

Day 2: TREK TO FITZ ROY BASE CAMP (B, L) Drive to Rio Electrico to commence your trek. Climb to the East side of the mountain to view the Laguna de los Tres, with its zephyr blue colour. Fitzroy, 3405 in height, is considered one of the three most beautiful mountains on earth. Hike back to El Chalten (Daily walk 7 hrs).

Day 3: TREK TO CERRO TORRE BASE CAMP (B, L) Today we start close to the village, walking to Laguna (Lagoon) Capri and on to Lagunas Madre and Hija, then down the Fitz Roy river valley where we meet the trail which leads to the Cerro Torre base camp. The trail runs along beech forest, bogs and shrub land. From the camp, a short hike takes us to Laguna Torre, with the Grande glacier on its western side. It is common to see icebergs pushed by the wind on the shores of the lake. The thin and elegant 3128 metre peak of the Cerro Torre group and the Adela range in the background complete this spectacular view. Walk back to Chalten. (Daily walk 5hrs).

Day 4: LAGUNA DEL DESIERTO (B, L, D) We drive along Rio Las Vueltas to Laguna Desierto. Once at the southern tip of the the lake, we start an easy walk through a dense forest with mountain streams and panoramic views along the coastline of the lake. The scenery is breathtaking, with a unique view of the Fitzroy and Cerro Torre and a closer view of the Vespignani glacier. Half way around the lake we encounter the exclusive Aguas Arriba Lodge where we spend the next 2 nights. (Daily walk 3hrs).

Day 5: TREK TO THE CHILEAN BORDER (B, L, D) After breakfast we start a fantastic walk through the woods with several waterfalls along the way and streams to cross. Great wildlife can be seen on this wild area, even the elusive Huemul. Several points along the walk offer fantastic panoramas of this magnificent region of the Andes. We reach the Northern point of the lake where the border police is located. Continue to the Chilean border at Laguna Larga before trekking back to the lodge. (Daily walk 6hrs).

Day 6: RETURN TO EL CHALTEN (B, L) Afternoon walk to the Southern part of the lake for your transfer to El Chalten. Overnight.

Day 7: EL CHALTEN – EL CALAFATE (B) Morning bus to El Calafate.

Includes:

- Private & regular bus transportation
- 4 nights Accommodation at Hosteria
- 2 nights Accommodation at Aguas Arriba Lodge
- English speaking local guides
- Meals as per itinerary (B) Breakfast, (L) Lunch, (D) Dinner

CHILE

GREAT WINES, BREATHTAKING LANDSCAPES

Chile's long and narrow territory on the south western side of South America, stretches for 4,200 km between the Andes Mountains and the Pacific Ocean. Chile has a land area of 756,096 square km on the South American continent and another 125,000 square km in Antarctica. San Felix, San Ambrosio, Salas y Gomez, Easter Island, Juan Fernandez Island, and Diego Ramirez Islands are also part of the national territory.

THE NORTHERN REGION

The north of Chile is a landscape of solitary beaches, vast deserts and enormous, perfectly conical volcanoes, with picturesque Andean villages, ruins of Precolumbian cultures and abandoned mining towns.

The Atacama Desert, once a booming region for the extraction of nitrate, is today only a collection of ghost towns. However, it offers unique landscapes dominated by salt flats, hot springs and geysers.

THE CENTRAL REGION

The fertile central valley, pinched between the Andes and the Cordillera de la Costa (coastal range), is the agricultural heart of Chile, while the capital Santiago, home to over 5 million people, is far and away the economic and cultural heart of the nation. Santiago, with its European elegance and modern, innovative architecture is, at most, a two-hour drive from the coast and surrounded by the picturesque valleys that produce some of the world's leading wines.

Valparaiso, the country's main port, features steep streets set amongst rising hills and the neighbouring beachside city of Viña del Mar are located only a couple of hours away.

THE SOUTH AND LAKE DISTRICT

The lush territory south of Biobio River was the home of the Mapuche Indians who successfully resisted the Spanish conquest for 300 years. This region, the Lakes district is home to many National Parks. Colourful Puerto Montt, adorned with picturesque markets, is a base for many navigation excursions.

Puerto Varas, on the border of Lake Llanquihue, faces the Osorno Volcano, and is one of the cities en-route to the famous lake crossing to Bariloche.

PATAGONIA

This area offers one of the most beautiful landscapes in the world with untouched forests, snow capped mountains, Andean volcanoes and further inwards, torrential rivers flowing through valleys majestically into the plains of the pampas.

URUGUAY

INTERESTING CITIES, BEAUTIFUL BEACHES

Whilst smaller in landmass and with fewer tourist drawcards than its South American neighbours, Uruguay's accessibility, contrasting cities and a range of attractions set amongst a more relaxed atmosphere make it a worthy side trip for short or extended stays.

Situated just across the River Plate from Buenos Aires, tourists are drawn to the historically intriguing town of Colonia, the eclectic capital of Montevideo and the beautiful Atlantic beach resorts such as the exclusive Punta del Este.

MONTEVIDEO

The city was founded between 1726 and 1730 and the early European migration created a cosmopolitan atmosphere that still remains but without the bustle of a larger city. Located in the estuary of the River Plate and facing the South Atlantic Ocean, the capital has plenty to offer in the way of picturesque avenues and promenades, shopping centres and a wealth of restaurants.

As its name suggests, the town of Colonia was once a colony under control of both the Spanish and the Portuguese during different periods in history. The town is so historically well preserved, retaining most of its decorative buildings and lined with cobblestone streets, that it is considered a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Visit the streets of Santa Rita, San Gabriel, the Matriz church, the Bastion del Carmen, the famous Calle de los Suspiros (street of sighs) – which is often used for historical films - the Puerta del Campo and the Plaza Mayor 25 de Mayo.

The Peruvian Andes are arguably the most beautiful on the continent and the mountains are home to millions of highland Indians who still speak the ancient tongue of Quechua and maintain their traditional way of life.

The multiple layers of influence from a number of great civilisations make Peru a fascinating destination. You can wander around colonial cities that have preserved the legacy of the Spanish conquistadors, visit the ancient Incan capital of Cuzco, explore the lost city of Machu Picchu and ponder the enigma of the Nazca Lines.

CUZCO

Due to its position as the capital of the Inca dynasty, contemporary Cuzco, a city of 3200 metres above sea level, is a showcase of several different cultures: Pre-Inca, Inca, Colonial and Republican. Once an administrative, military and holy city, it is now the oldest inhabited city of the Americas.

Ruins, temples, churches and mansions make this a memorable destination, full of history and culture.

The Inca's most sacred building in Cuzco, the Korikancha Ruins (Temple of the Sun), today forms part of the Spanish church of Santo Domingo. Cuzco is the gateway to Machu Picchu (the legendary 'Lost City of the Incas'), the famed Sacred Valley of the Incas, to the Pisac and Ollantaytambo markets, the rainforests of Manu and Tambopata and to Lake Titicaca, birthplace of the Inca.

BOLIVIA

INDIGENOUS CULTURES, COLONIAL TREASURES

Bolivia is a landlocked country in the heart of South America bordered by Peru to the northwest, Brazil to the northeast, Paraguay to the southeast, Argentina to the south, and Chile to the west.

Sparsely populated and unspoiled by modern development, Bolivia is the most indigenous country on the continent, with more than 50% of the population maintaining traditional values and beliefs. From the high mountain lakes of Titicaca to the steamy lowland jungles, Bolivia is an exciting destination with enormous cultural wealth, beautiful Andean landscapes and the remnants of mysterious ancient civilisations.

In the northeast sits the Bolivian Amazon in the regions of Pando, Beni, Cochabamba, Santa Cruz and La Paz. The jungle is irrigated by many rivers that originate in the mountain ranges and flow down into the Amazon River. Whereas in Tarija to the southeast, savannahs and dry forests occupy the land.

ECUADOR

COLONIAL CITIES, ABUNDANT WILDLIFE

In contrast, the Pacific coast boasts beautiful beaches and glorious sunshine. The Amazon region invites you to delight in the magical lagoons and marvellous primal forest.

The Galapagos Islands, some 1,000 km off the coast in the Pacific Ocean, also belong to Ecuador. This isolated Archipelago, formed by volcanic eruptions, is a window into prehistory with an abundance of rare and unique species of plants and animals.

GALAPAGOS LAND EXPERIENCES

Located some 1000kms off the Pacific coast of Ecuador, the Galapagos Islands are made up of 13 main islands, 6 smaller islands and more than 40 tiny islets. Discovered in 1535, this archipelago inspired Charles Darwin's theory of 'Evolution of the Species' as the animals and plants have adapted to the geography of each island because of their isolation from the mainland. Due to the volcanic origin and location of the islands on the equator, the Galapagos Islands are constantly changing. Many volcanoes found here are still active.

BRAZIL

VIBRANT PEOPLE, EXCITING DESTINATION

Bordering every South American country except Ecuador and Chile, Brazil is a land of extremes. From its beautiful white sand beaches, to the dense rainforests of the Amazon. From the great wealth of its people, to levels of extreme poverty. Spirited and spontaneous, Brazilians always have time for a celebration whether it's soccer, Carnival, or a religious ceremony. Music fills the air and the samba is danced every day.

THE NORTH

If you are looking for an ecological adventure, the north of Brazil is the Amazon region, the world's largest biological reserve and home to one-third of the planet's living species. There are several jungle lodges to choose from which accommodate tourists offering comfort, security and a range of cruises that can be taken along this grand river.

THE NORTHEAST

South America's most beautiful beaches are popular all year around in this continuous summer climate. They range from the Canoa Quebrada Beach in Ceara through to Genipabu with its sand dunes in Rio Grande do Norte.

THE MIDWEST

From Brasilia, the nation's capital, with its bold architectural style to the Pantanal of Mato Grosso, this area is an isolated ecological sanctuary.

THE SOUTHEAST

Rio de Janeiro is a city of luxuriant greenery contrasted by modern buildings. The nation's best known city and home to Carnival, Rio is the city between the mountains and the sea. Stunning beaches in Angra dos Reis, Buzios and Cabo Frio, and the locals 'cariocas' are fun-loving, sensual and easy going.

THE SOUTH

As a result of the migration of Germans, Italians and Polish settlers, the south of Brazil has a distinct European influence. Further south lies one of the world's largest waterfalls - Iguazu Falls.

M/Y TUCANO

5 DAYS / 4 NIGHTS

This unique voyage endeavours to capture the spirit of the Amazon on two of its greatest rivers, the Rio Negro and the Amazon River. M/Y Tucano enables us to explore some of the most remote areas in the Amazon, hike through the rainforest, glide along narrow streams and visit local communities set along these magnificent rivers.

Early mornings we usually glide along quiet channels in our launches among giant rainforest trees draped with vines and orchids. The silence is broken only by the rustling of leaves by Squirrel monkeys feeding or by the occasional piercing shriek of a Screaming Piha bird. During the day we walk in the forest and sometimes visit a small community. Some nights we search for nocturnal creatures in our launches out in the star filled darkness.

MEXICO

AMAZING BEAUTY, ANCIENT CULTURES

Mexico is a blend of many cultures and landscapes – with sunshine, blue seas teeming with fish and coral, crystal-white beaches, lofty mountains and volcanoes, jungles full of exotic wildlife, collectable folk art and the breathtaking remains of ancient cultures. This is a destination with everything.

Mexicans have a variety of ancestry – Mestizos, a mix of European, Spanish and Indian, and the indigineous native American population which includes Nahua, Maya, Zapotecs, Mixtecs, Totonacs, Tarascos and Purepécha. There are also descendants of African slaves.

The ruins of the ancient Aztec and Mayan civilisations are abundant in Mexico. Many aspects of their culture still influence Mexican art today as seen in the colours and designs of murals at galleries throughout Mexico.

The music of the Mariachi is one of the most well known aspects of their culture and bands of them can often be seen busking in tourist areas.

Family and friends are very important to the Mexicans, as with most Latinos. Any excuse for a fiesta will result in a gathering with dancing until the early hours of the morning. Music and an abundance of great food are the key ingredients of any fiesta!

MEXICO CITY

Before Christopher Columbus set sail for the New World, the valley of Mexico was already a bustling centre of commerce. The longest continuously inhabited city in the Western hemisphere, Mexico City is also one of the largest cities in the world. Once called Tenochtitlan, the Aztec capital city was built on an island in a shallow lake. The Spanish crown, led by Hernan Cortes, conquered the Aztec empire in 1521. It was not until the early 19th century however that Mexico began its long, hard quest for independence – which it won in 1821.

Mexico City spreads out over 200km. The Zocalo, or central plaza, is the world's largest square and the city's historic district. The vast history of the city can be explored through the district's museums, hotels, cathedrals and public buildings.

GUATEMALA

ASTOUNDING RUINS, TROPICAL FORESTS

Set amongst breathtaking mountain scenery, Guatemala is a country with a colourful history and friendly people. The designs and colours seen in the artwork and clothes of Guatemalans reflect their friendly, easygoing nature. Certain designs on clothing items represent the wearer's village or region, and can also have magical or religious meanings.

For those interested in learning about Mayan history, Guatemala is a fantastic destination to see first hand the works of the ancient Mayans. With a history stretching back over 4000 years, the Mayans and their predecessors left behind many ruins, one of the most famous being Tikal. Set in the jungle, the spectacular pyramids of Tikal are a sight to behold. Towering pyramids rise out of the jungle's green canopy, and you can hear the sounds of the jungle made by the nearby abundant wildlife as you hike towards this amazing site.

If it's lakes and mountains that you're interested in, a few days on the shores of Lake Atitlan would be perfect. This large lake, with three large extinct volcanoes towering above, gives you the chance to soak in thermal springs, visit the local villages and their markets, trek in the surrounds, or even get your scuba-diving certificate! No visit to Guatemala is complete without a visit to the colourful market of Chichicastenango. This amazing market blends traditional Indian life and their ancient beliefs by selling beautifully embroidered blouses and skirts, tablecloths and blankets.

FALKLAND ISLANDS, SOUTH GEORGIA & ANTARCTICA

19 DAYS / 18 NIGHTS

AKADEMIK IOFFE

This is our most far-reaching polar expedition itinerary and includes visits to three different locations. The sub-Antarctic Falkland Islands and the island of South Georgia are home to a proliferation of unique wildlife and birdlife. There are penguin rookeries with more than 100,000 nesting birds and the beaches are covered in fur seals and elephant seals. Seabirds, including many of the albatross species call these islands home, nesting and raising their young in this wild and remote environment. Both locations feature a fascinating history and stunning scenery. To the south lies Antarctica – the frozen continent and our final destination on this remarkable voyage. Icebergs in all shapes and sizes fill the waters, and yet more unique wildlife can be found living in sizable colonies. The waters are full of life and we frequently encounter whales including humpback, minke and orca.

Day 1: USHUAIA (D) Embark on your expedition ship, Akademik Ioffe. Welcome cocktail & dinner.

Day 2: AKADEMIK IOFFE CRUISE (B, L, D) At sea towards Falkland Islands. Hundreds of seabirds, including wandering albatross and giant petrels will join us on this journey.

Day 3 - 4: FALKLAND ISLANDS (B, L, D) Zodiac excursions to the West Falkland archipelago, home to many seabirds such as the blackbrowed albatross. See the Magellanic penguins, rockhoppers, oystercatchers, geese and the striated caracara. Visit Stanley, with its charming streets of brightly coloured houses, and learn of its rich history.

Day 5 - 6: AT SEA (B, L, D) Navigation to South Georgia.

Day 7 - 9: SOUTH GEORGIA (B, L, D) Explore South Georgia, an island of deep bays and rocky outcrops. Explore around Elsehul Bay, where large numbers of fur seals and the much larger elephant seal will line the dark sand beaches. The scenery is spectacular and the snowy peaks of the island make us pause to consider the incredible feat of mountaineering when Shackleton and his exhausted companions traversed the island from the wild south coast in 1916. Visit to several old whaling stations including Leith, Husvik and Stromness.

Day 10 - 12: TOWARDS ANTARCTICA & ELEPHANT ISLAND (B, L, D) Weather and ice will dictate our crossing of the Scotia Sea from South Georgia to Antarctica, leading us perhaps to the South Orkney Islands or Elephant Island.

Day 13 - 16: SOUTH SHETLAND ISLANDS, ANTARCTIC MAINLAND (B, L, D) Around 97 kilometres off the coast of the Antarctic mainland we find the South Shetland Island chain. Possible landing sites could include King George Island, Half Moon Island, Yankee Harbour or Hannah Point. (Weather permitting).

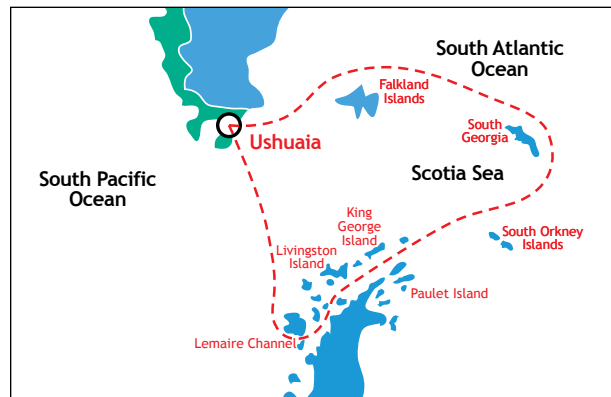

Day 17 - 18: DRAKE PASSAGE (B, L, D) After several busy days of exploration along the Antarctic Peninsula, it's time to return to South America.

Day 19: END OF CRUISE (B) Arrive in Ushuaia.

Alternatively AKADEMIK SERGEY & VAVILOV operate the same itineraries on different dates. Contact us for availability.

Includes:

- Accommodation in selected cabin
- Zodiac excursions
- Wet weather gear
- Meals as per itinerary (B = Breakfast, L = Lunch, D = Dinner)

USEFUL INFO

HANDY TIPS FROM US, THE LOCALS!

TIPPING

As it is everywhere else, tipping is optional, however, it is a customary practise in Latin America. It is common to tip providers such as guides, porters, drivers, waiters, baggage handlers and anyone else who goes out of his or her way to help you. Tipping guideline per person: $5/half day, $10/ full day tour for guides and $2/half day, $5/ full day tour for drivers. $1 per bag for bellboys. A 10-15% service charge is usually included in restaurant bills, but an additional 5% can be added for good service.

PASSPORTS & VISA

All travellers require a valid passport with sufficient pages (approx 6) with a minimum validity of 6 months from the date of completion of travel. Australian passport holders do not require visa for entry into Ecuador, Bolivia, Uruguay, Colombia nor Peru. A visa is required to enter Brazil and must be organised prior to departing Australia. There is a reciprocity fee in Chile (USD117 approx) and Argentina (USD100 approx). Chile's fee is payable locally on arrival at the international airport. Argentina's fee is payable online and must be organized prior to departing Australia. Visit the following website: <https://dnm.provincianet.com.ar/Login>. This information is correct at the time of printing but always subject to change. Please double check requirements for all countries you will be visiting prior to departure.

ALTITUDE SICKNESS

Some South American cities such as Cuzco, La Paz and Quito are situated at an altitude of 2850 meters above sea level or higher. At these altitudes, the lack of oxygen affects most people to some extent until they become acclimatised. Mild symptoms include headache, lethargy, dizziness, difficulty in sleeping and loss of appetite. It is recommended that you rest in your hotel on the first day of arrival into this city to assist in acclimatization.

LANGUAGE

Spanish is spoken in most of South America, with the exception of Brazil where Portuguese is the national language. Generally, in the capital cities and popular tourist areas, some English is spoken; however in remote areas it is unlikely there will be many people who speak English.

CURRENCY

As each South American country has its own currency, it is wise to take the majority of your spending money in USD. However, taking Debit Cards with your own money is also a good idea, as most major cities have ATM Access, giving you the opportunity to withdraw in the local currency.
