Opening and Closing Times

If you are new to the neighborhood and GHBC, or recently became aware of the rules, you may be wondering why there are strict opening and closing times. You may have noticed the exit gate open early in the morning and think, "What's the harm in taking a quick walk on the beach? There's no one here and it's so quiet." Yes, GHBC is peaceful early in the morning and the lure to partake is a strong one.

While a few Florida beaches are open 24/7, (like the large, public ones in Ft. Myers or Clearwater, e.g.), the majority have posted opening and closing times. Some may open at sunrise, others at a specific time. GHBC's official opening time is 9:00 a.m. Why? Because GHBC is open every day of the week, the maintenance crew needs a few hours every morning to clean up the beach and restrooms from the previous day. They start as early as 6:00 a.m. and often heavy machinery is involved.

GHBC officially closes at sunset, as the majority of Florida beaches do. That means as soon as the sun disappears below the horizon, it's time to be driving out. Yes, it's desirable to experience the coming twilight and squeeze a few more moments out of the day. However, there are no lights at the Beach and it gets dark quickly. The gate attendants want to ensure everyone is out before locking the gate...otherwise, your car is staying until the next day.

The goal is to ensure all members enjoy the Beach safely. Please. Respect the opening and closing times. Allow the maintenance crew to do their jobs on a people-free beach. Be packed and ready to leave immediately following sunset. The gate attendants and Board of Directors thank you.

Littering in the Canals

Please remember that any type of littering in the canals is considered a violation of the law. This includes grass clippings, tree and landscape debris, etc.

Please refer to Sec. 90-1. - Littering prohibited...Litter means garbage, rubbish, waste, trash, or debris. For the purposes of this section, this includes, but is not limited to: refuse; can; bottle; box; container; paper; leaflets; circulars; advertising material; tobacco product; tire; appliance; mechanical equipment or part; building or construction material; tool...decaying vegetative... yard waste, tree or landscape debris... (2) In or on any freshwater lake, river, canal, or stream or tidal or coastal water of the county. When any litter is dumped from a vessel, the operator or owner of the vessel, or both, shall be deemed in violation of this section; or (3) In or on any private property, unless prior consent of the owner has been given and unless such litter will not cause a public nuisance or be in violation of any other state or local law, rule, or regulation.

The rules are posted by the coffee station.

Are You Getting Updates from Management?

If you are not getting the weekly updates and other important emails that are being sent out from the Management Office, please make sure you complete the owner contact form and send it back to us. These emails include important items such as Association meetings, events, important items that affect the community, etc. If you need the form, please email me at clubhousemanager@gulflandingsassociation.com

Are You Picking Up After Your Pet?

Besides being unsightly and smelly, animal waste can be hazardous to the health of the children who play in the community and to other pets. One of the most common forms of disease transmission between dogs is through fecal matter. It is important to remember to immediately clean up after your pet. When walking your dog, take along a baggie with you or use the doggie stations around the community to pick up waste with and then dispose of it properly. Also, when walking your dog in

10 Steps to Manage Your Stress

Cutting back on the stress in your life may help you feel better, eat better and stick to an exercise plan, all of which can lower your risk for heart disease. But if you're too stressed to figure out how to get started, here are a few tips:

1. Eat and drink sensibly. Abusing alcohol and food may seem to reduce stress, but actually adds to it.
2. Assert yourself. You do not have to meet others' expectations or demands. It's OK to say "no." Remember, being assertive allows you to stand up for your rights and beliefs while respecting those of others.
3. Stop smoking or other bad habits. Aside from the obvious health risks of cigarettes, nicotine acts as a stimulant and brings on more stress symptoms. Give yourself the gift of dropping unhealthy habits.
4. Exercise regularly. Choose non-competitive exercise and set reasonable goals. Aerobic exercise has been shown to release endorphins (natural substances that help you feel better and maintain a positive attitude.)
5. Relax every day. Study and practice relaxation techniques. Choose from a variety of different techniques. Combine opposites — a time for deep relaxation and a time for aerobic exercise is a sure way to protect your body from the effects of stress.
6. Take responsibility. Control what you can and leave behind what you cannot control.
7. Reduce causes of stress. Many people find life is filled with too many demands and too little time. For the most part, these demands are ones we have chosen. Effective time management skills involve asking for help when appropriate, setting priorities, pacing yourself and taking time out for yourself.
8. Examine your values and live by them. The more your actions reflect your beliefs, the better you will feel, no matter how busy your life is.
9. Set realistic goals and expectations. It's OK, and healthy, to realize you cannot be 100 percent successful at everything at once.
10. Sell yourself to yourself. When you are feeling overwhelmed, remind yourself of what you do well. Have a healthy sense of self-esteem.

our community, remember times. Thank you for your contribution that it must be leashed at all operation!

Symptoms of Celiac Disease

Gluten-free diets have garnered substantial attention over the last decade-plus. Perhaps nowhere is the rise of gluten-free diets more evident than at local grocery stores, many of which now devote entire sections to gluten-free products.

Some may swear by gluten-free foods, but medical experts note that gluten-free diets are only necessary and beneficial to people with Celiac disease. Celiac disease is an autoimmune disorder in which the ingestion of gluten leads to damage in the small intestine. The Celiac Disease Foundation® notes that the disease affects roughly one in 100 people across the globe and even estimates that 2.5 million Americans are currently undiagnosed and at-risk for long-term health complications.

The CDF notes that people are not helpless against Celiac disease. In fact, the CDF, which disseminates information through a free mailing list, recommends men and women stay informed about the disease, seek immediate care if they suspect they have the disease and learn the symptoms of the disease, which vary between children and adults. Parents who suspect their children have Celiac disease can look for these common symptoms:

- abdominal bloating and pain
- chronic diarrhea
- vomiting
- constipation
- pale, foul-smelling, or fatty stool
- weight loss
- fatigue

- irritability and behavioral issues
- dental enamel defects of the permanent teeth
- delayed growth and puberty
- short stature
- failure to thrive
- Attention Deficit

Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)

Adults are less likely than children to experience digestive symptoms indicative of Celiac disease. For instance, the CDF notes that only one-third of adults who are ultimately diagnosed with Celiac experience diarrhea. These symptoms are more likely to appear in adults with Celiac disease:

- unexplained iron-deficiency anemia
- fatigue
- bone or joint pain
- arthritis
- osteoporosis or osteopenia (bone loss)
- liver and biliary tract disorders (transaminitis, fatty liver, primary sclerosing cholangitis, etc.)

What is gluten

Gluten-free foods are now more widely available than ever before, but unless they adhere to gluten-free diets, consumers may not know just what gluten is and why some people need to avoid it. According to the Celiac Disease Foundation, gluten is the general name for the proteins found in wheat, rye, barley, and the hybrid grain triticale, which is produced by crossing wheat and rye. Many foods and beverages, including breads, soups, beer, and cereals, contain gluten. However, the CDF notes that many foods also are naturally gluten-free. What's more, many naturally gluten-free foods are very nutritious. These foods include fruits, vegetables, fish and seafood, dairy, beans, legumes, and nuts. And while it may seem as though people advised to avoid gluten must therefore remove grains and other starches from their diets, that's not the case. In fact, the CDF lists a number of naturally gluten-free grains and starch-containing foods on its website (www.celiac.org). For example, rice, cassava, corn, soy, potato, quinoa, nut flours, and millet are just a handful of the naturally gluten-free grains and starches that people who must avoid gluten can eat without fear of aggravating their conditions.

History of Halloween

Halloween is a popular holiday that takes place on October 31. In the United States and Canada, children dress in costumes and go trick-or-treating. Many people carve jack-o'-lanterns out of pumpkins. Halloween parties for children feature fortunetelling, mock haunted houses, scary stories, and games, such as bobbing for apples. People decorate their houses and yards with images of ghosts, skeletons, witches, black cats, bats, and other symbols of Halloween. Many communities across the United States also hold parades and other celebrations for Halloween.

Halloween developed from an ancient pagan festival celebrated by Celtic people over 2,000 years ago in the area that is now the United Kingdom, Ireland, and northwestern France. The festival was called Samhain (pronounced SOW eh-n), which means "summer's end." The festival marked the beginning of the dark winter season and was celebrated around November 1. In the 800's, the Christian church established a new holiday, All Saints' Day, on this date. All Saints' Day was also called All Hallows'. Hallow means saint, or one who is holy. The evening before All Hallows' was known as All Hallows' Eve, or as it came to be abbreviated, All Hallow e'en. This name was eventually shortened to Halloween.

Navigate These Driver Assistance Apps

It is never a good idea to use smartphones or other devices while behind the wheel. In fact, distracted driving is a key risk factor for automotive accidents. However, certain smartphone applications and features can make road trips and other excursions easier, safer and more enjoyable — provided these apps are used before getting in the car, when safely pulled over, or in the hands of a passenger.

Make a pitstop

Drivers may not know where to pull off the highway when they need a mid-trip snack or a restroom run. iExit enables you to see all upcoming exits on a particular roadway (when location services are turned on) and which amenities are accessible at each exit. The app also tells drivers which way to go if they need to find gas stations or restaurants. Icons indicating food, fuel, hospitals, and even banks/ATM machines are included to indicate what's available at the exit.

GULF HARBORS YACHT CLUB

In July, the GUARDIAN ad LITEM FOUNDATION was the recipient of $1500.00 from the Gulf Harbors Yacht Club. The women's auxiliary of GHYC, The Anchorettes, hosted this fundraising event. The evening provided plenty of entertainment and Chef David prepared an array of delectable food enjoyed throughout the evening.

Gulf Harbors Yacht Club is proud to support the community and this very worthy foundation. Amy Foster, executive director of the GUARDIAN ad LITEM FOUNDATION, has already noted several deserving programs that will benefit from this donation. The organization helps guardians to provide for the social, emotional, educational, and health needs for children who have been removed from their homes through no fault of their own.

Supporting the youth of our community is a focal point for GHYC. Each year, local high school graduates are selected to receive a scholarship to be applied to the college of their choice. Pace Center for Girls, Fostering Hope and the Foster Kids Closet have all been past recipients of donations from the members of Gulf Harbors Yacht Club and the hard working women of the Anchorettes. We look forward to supporting other deserving organizations in the future.

GHYC Annual Scholarship Golf Tournament is October 20th!

Come Play with Us!

You are cordially invited to participate in the 2018 GHYC Golf Tournament to benefit the Scholarship Fund — our largest "FUN"draiser of the year! Here's your chance have a great time with great people, all for a great cause! For more information about the tournament and how you can participate and make a difference, contact Peter Cox at 727-849-4559.

BINGO is back on the 3rd Wednesday each month, starting on October 17th when we compete with one another for cash prizes! Guests are welcome! See below for more information on how you can come and play!

Save the Dates! The Gulf Harbors Boat Parades will be held Saturday, December 1st (North Channel) and on Saturday December 8th (South Channel) this year. Why not join both parades and help us entertain the whole community?

All skippers are requested to meet at GHYC prior to the

provide Bluetooth-enabled alerts when you're close by.

Fill 'er up

Exclusively for locating fuel stations, GasBuddy also helps drivers compare gas prices so they can save money if they so desire. When fuel costs can make or break a trip, this app will keep your tank and wallet full.

Gain performance data

To keep track of vehicle performance, use Dynolicious Classic. While this app's not free, it's less expensive than a visit to a service station. Dynolicious relies on an iPhone's built-in accelerometers to gauge lateral and longitudinal acceleration and horsepower.

Get trusted repairs

It is important to find a trusted mechanic who will fix a problem for a reasonable price. Repair Pal is an app that has already culled quotes and reviews from nearby mechanics to simplify comparison shopping.

Navigation made easy

Smartphones already feature built-in map apps that offer navigation and directions, such as those offered by Google and Apple. But Waze is a community-driven app that provides real-time updates to traffic situations, gas prices, law enforcement sightings, and alternative routes to avoid delays.

No more lost cars

Finding that elusive parking spot can be challenging. When you finally grab a space in a parking garage or on city streets, you want to make sure you can find your way back there easily. Enter Honk, an app that can mark your vehicle's location with a GPS pin. You can also make text or verbal notes indicating position or how much time you have on a parking meter, as well as use the app to find businesses nearby. Various apps can be assets to drivers, helping them to save both money and time.

parade to receive their boat parade number, final parade route and last minutes instructions. The boats will depart from the dock area at 6 p.m. All North Channel parade participants are invited to join us at the Gulf Harbors Yacht Club afterwards at the Club. There will be awards, and delicious food and drinks available for purchase following the parade. The Parade Route and more information will be in next month's newsletter.
